VOL. XXXI NO. 173 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO FRIDAY JULY 29 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Station was Burned Troops Asked for

Niagara Falls, July 28. — The Grand Trunk, because of the burning of cars at Fort Erie, and the station at Amagara this morning, Superintendent C. S. Cunningham, said today, had called on the officials at Ottawa, for militia to guard the company's property along the Niagara frontier.

The situation here has not changed. There have been no disorders here, though the 25 deputies sworn by Sheriff Foley, of Niagara county, are still on duty in the yards of the New York Central on the American side of the river. It is believed that the presence of troops at this time will greatly excite the strikers, and may lead to further violence.

ACUTE AT BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 28.—The Grand Trunk waiting room and station at Amagari, just outside of Bridgeburg Ont., was destroyed by fire this morning. The work was evidently that of an incendiary, and it is believed that strike sympathisers are responsible. The station, a small structure, was burned to the ground.

The strike situation has taken an acute form in the vicinity of Buffalo within the past 24 hours. The strikers have been active in many ways, and as a result traffic is again tied up more completely than ever.

Last night strikers or strike sympathisers made the blockade on the Buffalo and Goderich division more effective by burning two freight cars and a caboose of a freight train on the main line at Bridgeburg. Later a delegation called at the home of Yardmaster H. G. Foster, at Bridgeburg, and told him that if he did not immediately leave town he would be shot. Hints were also made of larger explosions. In the face of these demonstrations and threats, Mr. Foster fearing that his house would be blown up and some members of his family killed, moved his household effects over to this city about 11 o'clock.

Railroad men say fully 1,500 cars of freight are laying in the yards of the different roads here awaiting delivery to the Grand Trunk. Only one freight train of 17 cars was received from Canada yesterday, and no attempt was made to send traffic into Canada.

Million Dollar Deal to give West Canada Fresh Dainties

Outright Purchase of Big Winnipeg Organization by W. J. Mooney. Will Result in Dominion-Wide Improvement in Baking and Candy Industry.

Tremendous influx of settlers into Canada, extraordinary demands from distant sections for fresh bakery and candy dainties of high grade and the necessity for a revision of trade conditions have brought about a big industrial deal, involving an outlay of $1,000,000, which has just been consummated by W. J. Mooney of Stratford, Ont., in the outright purchase of Foley Brothers, Larson & Company's entire organization, the largest in Western Canada, for the purpose of merging it with the Mooney Biscuit and Candy Company.

This far-reaching move brings the bulk of Canada's production in the baking and candy industry under a single organization.

Announcement of the purchase and impending consolidation were made to-day by officials of the newly formed organization. The merger will take effect immediately, the Winnipeg plant of Foley Brothers being placed completely under the supervision of W. C. Mooney, who formerly superintended the operations of the Stratford plant of the Mooney Biscuit & Candy Company.

Rapid and economical delivery of good products will be effected by the move, it being considered an absolute necessity in the face of trade conditions which have been brought about by the invasion of thousands of settlers and the growing demand for Mooney products fresh from the ovens.

The organization will be under the supervision of W. J. Mooney and W. C. Mooney, the former assuming complete managerial duties of the Stratford plant.

It has been pointed out by officials of the organization that the demand for Mooney products from Western Canada had been growing at such a rapid rate that greater facilities were needed to take care of the business in a satisfactory manner to comply with the Mooney policy of fresh goods for the trade.

Under conditions previous to the consolidation from two to three weeks time was necessary to reach some of the outlaying districts within the large trade circle over which control was exercised by the organization. With the plant at Winnipeg running at full blast, it is now possible for the organization to supply with case large demands for goods at less than a day's notice, so that the demands for Western and Northwestern Canada for fresh dainties from the famous Mooney plants will be complied with in a gratifying manner.

Additional land adjacent to the Winnipeg factory has already been purchased with the certainty in view that large extensions will be necessary to take care of the increasing necessity for larger productions.

With the announcement of the merger comes the news that the new organization will make an extensive trade invasion into Western Canada, where the many alluring features of the famous Mooney products will be prominently set forth by an advertising campaign ever promulgated by a like industry.

The idea of this advertising campaign will be to acquaint the public of that section with the deliciousness and freshness of the delicacies which the name Mooney had made famous in Canada. The Western invasion means that the entire Dominion will be blanketed by the trade development of the new organization and the sterling business methods that in years past have been the property of the Mooney Company, will be promulgated into the new territory in the same manner that the organization has gone into other territories with a view to intelligently telling Canadian homes of the goodness of Mooney products.

Improvements in methods of producing fresh dainties will also be brought about by the merger, this being made possible by the development of Mooney processes and general improvements in the industry.

W. J. Mooney in an interview said: "This consolidation of the largest concern in Western Canada with the Mooney Company, I believe, is a long step in the work of Canadian development and the benefits to the parts of the Dominion in which the new organization does business will be felt in no uncertain manner. It means quicker delivery of the Mooney products to all points within a wide circle and means, eventually a far-reaching stride in the development of the industry, generally.

"The placing of W. C. Mooney in charge of the Winnipeg plant is evidence of the earnestness of our intention to greatly improve industrial conditions in the section into which we have just gone. Mr. Mooney will have entire charge and the results which will come from his efforts can best be forecasted from the exceptional work that achieved the place reached by this company in the commercial world.

"As to the invasion of Western Canada, a large advertising campaign will be the initial move, undoubtedly, although plans have, as yet, not been materially shaped so that we can foretell just what will result. We look forward to an astonishing success as a result of the consolidation for, with a suitable product that is constantly in demand wherever introduced, there is little opportunity for any other than steps forward by earnest men working together."

Americans are Not Returning to States

Winnipeg, July 28.—J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration, last night absolutely denied the statement that Americans have been returning to the United States in large numbers.

He wired to all border points as to truth of the statement and inspectors at all places say the tales are false.

Mr. Walker says 164 persons is all that have returned.

W. J. White, supt. of immigration, for Canada, in the United States, says that it is absolutely untrue. He says that there has never been such immigration to Canada, 105,000 crossing the line this year.

STRIKE LEADERS MET MR. HAYS WAS NO OFFER OF SURRENDER

STATEMENTS FROM MONTREAL HEAD OFFICES NOT A FAIR PRESENTATION OF FACTS.

Leaders Met Mr. Hays Simply to See What Barriers Stood Between the Two Parties and a Settlement.

Montreal, July 28.—The rebuff with which Charles M. Hays greeted the proposals of peace presented to him yesterday by President Lee and President Garretson, of the striking Brotherhoods, was the severest blow yet administered to the arbitration program. It now resolves into an endurance warfare between strikers and company unless some unexpected elements fill the breach.

It is stated that the approachement which the company partially described in a statement issued last night, was on a widely different basis of understanding than the Grand Trunk officials choose to indicate. The representatives of the strikers did not come to the president for any other definite purpose than to learn for themselves and the men what barriers actually stood in the way of settlement, and to, possibly, concede a portion of their demands to secure peace.

NO OFFER OF SURRENDER.

The rock upon which Mr. Hays and Messrs. Lee and Garretson finally split was the re-employment of all those now on strike. The Grand Trunk President flatly refused, and the other parties to the argument left his office. There are good grounds for accepting the statement of Mr. Lee, Mr. Garretson and Mr. Murdock, the representatives of the men that there was no offer to surrender the strikers' case holus bolus, and no proposition that the men should go back under old wage conditions, pensions and so forth.

The feeling of confidence in the ranks of the strikers, the undenying position of their leaders and the fair way in which their cause is progressing leads you the belief that no such crawling settlement as the company reported was actually proposed

WHAT TOOK PLACE.

When the strike leader had recovered from his indignation over the Grand Trunk version of the conference, he proceeded:

"Garretson and Lee met Hays at my request to ascertain if the situation was understood by the officials of the railway company and to learn if any fair and equitable basis of settlement could be arrived at. Our starting point in any possible agreement was to insist that all our men on strike should be given their old positions. Failing that, a consideration of any basis of peace would be out of the question. Mr. Hays and Mr. Fitzhugh were present for the railway company, while we had Mr. Lee, Mr. Garretson, Mr. Maloney, chairman of the Ottawa division, and Mr. Kelly, chairman of the Eastern division. Mr. Hays turned down flatly the stipulation that in the event of strikers and company attempting a settlement, employment must be assured the men who went out, and there the conference ended."

"Then it was not a scheme of surrender?" the reporter queried.

"Absolutely no," Mr. Murdock declared.

"Was arbitration discussed?"

"Indirectly, but of course Mr. Hays' attitude put a damper on it."

PRESIDENT GARRETSON.

Mr. A. B. Garretson, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, who was present at the conference, said to a press representative just before leaving for Toronto last night

"We laid before Mr. Hays our favorable attitude toward a friendly and honorable settlement, and also laid before him emphatically the union's preparedness for a struggle to the end. We made few suggestions as to the means of settlement, but we assured him that our regard for the public welfare was solely responsible for our coming to him. We presented our case as plainly and accurately as possible, and left with him to consider. No offer was made by us, and no hint of surrender given. A contrary statement is a misrepresentation.

Vatican and Madrid Near Breaking Point

Madrid, July 28.—El Liberal, one of the leading Madrid papers, declares today that the Vatican has addressed a curt note, practically amounting to an ultimatum, to the Spanish Government, stating that it will be impossible to continue negotiations for modifying the Concordat unless Spain postpones or withdraws his recent laws regulating the State Church.

These laws are far more liberal to the non-Catholic organizations than the old laws and have proven offensive to the Catholic leaders.

A cabinet meeting has been called to discuss the situation. El Liberal understands that the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican will be immediately recalled, and that the Papal Nuncio at Madrid will be given his passports.

CRIPPEN ABOARD THE MONTROSE

WORD BY WIRELESS THIS AFTERNOON FROM STEAMER COMING TO CANADA.

All Doubt at an End.—Sensational Chase Across Ocean Will Wind Up With His Capture.

Montreal, July 28. — A wireless message to the Montreal Star this afternoon from the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose, via Point Amour, 62 miles below Quebec, saying: "Crippen is on board."

Quebec, July 28.—Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard, has won out the race across the Atlantic, and he will arrive at Rimouski many hours before the Montrose, on which Dr. Crippen and his companion are supposed to have shipped on their voyage to this country. The White Star Dominion Liner Laurentic, on which the English detective crossed the ocean, passed Belle Isle, 731 miles below Quebec, at five o'clock this morning, while up to noon today no news had been received from the Montrose.

The first news that was heard from the Laurentic came by the wireless at a late hour last night, announcing that at 4.15 yesterday afternoon the White Star Dominion Steamer was 216 miles east of Belle Isle.

This morning Captain Hayes of the Laurentic sent a Marconigram to the company's office here, saying briefly that his ship was 200 miles east of Belle Isle at 4.15 p.m. All well.

NOTHING ABOUT DEW.

He made not the slightest allusion to the fact that Inspector Dew is on board, and he did not say whether or not his ship has communicated at sea with the Montrose. This latter steamer, however, is expected to come into touch with the mainland by wireless early this afternoon, and news is being anxiously looked for.

It is not exaggerating now to say that Quebec is the focus upon which is now centered the attention of the whole world, and already a good number of reporters from many Canadian and American papers have gathered here, while others have left for Rimouski, where they hope to be on the scene when the Montrose is intercepted.

Should Be Compulsory Arbitration, Says The Hon. M. E. Bernier

Hon. M. E. Bernier of the Railway Commission, was here yesterday, and said that he did not expect that the commission would have anything to do with the settlement of the strike. It could not act unless complaints were made to it that the Grand Trunk was not handling its business properly. In an interview he stated that in his opinion there ought to be some alteration in the law providing for compulsory arbitration in a case of this kind and there should be a provision compelling the disputants to accept the findings of an arbitration board.

TO TAKE DRASTIC MEASURES.

Telegrams were sent out this morning to men on all parts of the road, that looked now as if the fight was to be a struggle to the finish, and if there is no settlement in sight by tomorrow or by Saturday at the very least, the strikers propose to take drastic measures to force the fighting.

STRAIGHT TALK AT LONDON.

London, July 27.—Vice-President Dodge of Cleveland, of the Grand Lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen addressed an immense gathering of the Grand Trunk men who are out on strike, in their hall yesterday afternoon. Several hundred strikers from London, St. Thomas, and points throughout the than pleased with the situation. We are in far better shape at the end of ten days than we were at the end of two days. Everywhere the men are standing firm, and I find them just as determined here as anywhere. We are asking nothing unreasonable. All we want is the same wages and condition that forty-six other railroads are giving their men. The Grand Trunk will have to come to it.

"If it were not for pride they would do it now and call the strike off. It is costing Mr. Hays more now every week than would pay the increases asked for in ten years. Mr. Brownlee and other G.T.R. officials would like to see rioting and violence, but this is the first strike in twenty years in which they won't see it.

"As far as the men are concerned there has been nothing of that sort and there will not be. If Mr. Hays and Mr. Brownlee could look into the faces of the men all over the country and see their determination they would see that some are suffering from cold feet.

"Mr. Hays cannot figure what this strike is going to cross the Grand Trunk. There are people all over the country who will never respect it as before. I am told that Mr. Hays said that the men would never go out, and that if they did, when they saw the first train running they would all go back. None of the men are going back. We have every reason to be satisfied with the progress we are making. Mr. Brownlee says the strike is broken, yet he cannot run the trains, and it is only because of the good engineers that serious, very serious accidents and wrecks have not occurred before now

Beheaded His Wife Then Tried to Suicide

New York, July 28.—A dispatch notice served upon him by his landlord lying upon the table before him, Abraham Roth, a tailor, living on the fourth floor of a tenement at 94 Rivington street, in the presence of his five crying children, almost beheaded his wife with a bread knife early today and then cut his own throat. The woman leaped from a window and fell upon a fire escape on the second floor upon which a number of persons were sleeping. She died an hour later. Roth has little chance of recovering.

LEET TONIGHT.

Will Deal With Three Licenses That Were Granted for Three Months.

The License Commissioners will meet tonight to deal with the licenses that were extended three months when the last reduction was made.

Mr. Arthur Rountree, who had a three months' extension of store license, must close up tight on Saturday night.

The repairs ordered to Long's Hotel, have apparently not been made.

Mr. R. J. Munro has gone to considerable expense in undertaking the improvements to the Munro House, ordered by the commissioners. These improvements are all but complete.

The Little Windsor Hotel has been improved in accordance with the commissioners' demands.

The license of the Snowdon House, which was also extended for the same length of time has been transferred to Mr. R. Goltip, and he is now in possession, and Mr. J. B. Larocque, who secured the license of the New Oxford Hotel on Simcoe street, has remodelled and improved the premises.

Debate Bitter on the King's Oath

London, July 28.—"I do solemnly, sincerely, in the presence of God profess, testify, and declare that I am a faithful Protestant, and I will according to the true intent of the enactments to secure the Protestant succession to the Throne of my realm, uphold and maintain said enactments to the best of my power."

The King's accession declaration, as amended by an amendment to the declaration bill yesterday, now stands as above. The bill passed its second reading in the House of Commons last night without a division. An amendment for the rejection of the bill, moved by T. C. R. Agar-Cornwall, was defeated by 410 votes to 84. There was a bitter fight in the House, while anti-Catholic societies filled the streets in the vicinity of Parliament with sandwichmen bearing placards which read: "No Popery."

THE CHIMES FUND.

Many Subscriptions Received Recently—May Reach the $5,000 Mark.

The Times is pleased to note that the fund for the chimes to be installed in St. John's church tower, is still being contributed to in a generous manner that augers well for the $5000 mark being reached.

Numerous substantial subscriptions have been received the past week or two, by the treasurer, Mr. J. C. Wainwright. The subscription list is now a little over $4,000, of which $1,650 has been received.

Correspondence has been going on with firms in the United States, England and Germany, with a view to getting the best possible sort of chimes.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

That May Refer to Pollution of Water From City Sewage.

Mr. R. W. Bell of the Provincial Board of Health, has received a letter regarding the pollution of water, apparently in the vicinity of Peterborough, and replies to his correspondent as follows:

Dear Sir.—I have just found your letter of July 23rd, on my return home this morning re the pollution of water around and about Peterborough. You ask the question, "has not the Provincial Board authority to act in this until the local Board of Health and country to notify them?" Now, how is this department to know that such is taking place unless somebody notifies us? However, I may further say that you do not state definitely enough where the pollution is taking place, city of Peterborough or below, or Do you refer to anything above the who are supposed to be the guilty parties?

A complaint should be first made to the local Board of Health of the municipality wherein the trouble occurs, and if they neglect or refuse to be submitted to this board.

If it is possible you refer to the pollution caused by the sewage of the city, which I infer may possibly be the case from your remark asking how are farmers to get recourse? I would then suggest that a direct complaint be made from those in the municipality affected further down the stream, to this board, pointing out the direct injurious effects of the pollution, and I am sure the Board will be quite willing to deal with the matter.

Yours truly,

R. W. BELL,
Acting Chief Health Officer of Ontario.

A Sail Down the Otonabee River

The man, be he a millionaire, or minus-the-money, who wants a day's enjoyable outing, with scenic attractions unrivalled, and air laden with ozone which stimulates like "Piper-see" or "G. H. Mumm," need not spend hundreds of dollars in a long trip.

Yesterday a member of The Times staff, took a trip to Gore's Landing, Rice Lake, per the Otonabee Navigation Company's good ship, "Water Lily." From the moment the steamer left Wolfe street wharf until she tied up there at night on return, every moment spent on board was fraught with enjoyment. Captain Copperwaite and crew seemed to vie with one another in trying to make things agreeable to those aboard. The trip down the river is too well known to our readers to require a detailed description. Still yesterday the fleecy clouds impelled by a tonic breeding breeze sufficed to cool the air, otherwise too warm from the golden shafts of a July sun. Every portion of the river passed by those aboard the Water Lily revealed another scene of rural beauty. Children clapped their hands and screamed with delight as flocks of geese would hurriedly scramble over the river's bosom shorewards; their elders would learnedly discuss ornithology as to whether it was a heron or a crane that hastily left its perch on a half submerged log; again, interest would be awakened by a huge mud-turtle squatting on a log, or a flight of red-winged black birds soaring aloft from the verdancy of the reeds. Canoes burdened by sunburnt youths, Acres of golden or snow-white water lillies, and mile after mile of the river's banks, shaded by noble trees with interlacing wild grape vines are passed, only to open another vista of nature in her summer attire. For the first few miles, at intervals, one passes the tents of those on pleasure bent. Crops are being cut, the sturdy farmer is seen at his work, but ever, one's thoughts on the grand Otonabee trip are necessarily diverted from the sordid cares of humdrum city life and brought nearer to nature.

Hats Immersed Amidst Amusement.

Yesterday evening as the good ship "Water Lily" came to, or rather tried to come to port, on her return voyage from Gore's Landing at Jubilee Point she had a trifle too much momentum and passed the wharf by some sixty feet. The mate, a veteran in inland water navigation annoyed by the steamer passing her hook in this way, got a rope out to fling back to a man on the end of the dock passed by. With a vigorous yell, "Here you are Jimmy, get the loop round that post," the cable was hurled shorewards. Unfortunately in his desire to save time and trouble, one of those unforseen and seemily decreed by fate accidents occurred. The mate's hog was entwined in the noose and the steamboat official was instantly dragged not "to a watery grave," but to a mighty wet mess of weeds in water over four feet deep. The mariner, with a smile, that did credit to his diplomacy, scrambled to shore and wrung a few gallons of Otonabee river out of his unmentionables.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If in Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following. Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhil, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak, there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers. 25c. per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

STRAINED WRIST AND ANKLE.

Pain for Ten Days, Relief Was Gained Instantly By Applying

NERVILINE.

One of the most soul-distressing accidents that can befall one is a bad ankle or wrist sprain. "If I had only known of 'Nerviline' earlier, I could have saved myself an enormous amount of pain, and many agonizing nights of sleeplessness." Thus writes P. P. Quinn, a young farmer living near Brockville. "I tumbled from a barn floor and sprained my right ankle and left wrist. They swelled rapidly and caused excruciating pains. It was not convenient to go to the city, and the TESTIMONIAL hay loft to the NO. 4266. nearest physician was useless. When I got Nerviline relief came quickly. It took down the swelling, relieved the pain, and gave me wonderful comfort.

"I can recommend Nerviline for strains, bruises, swellings, muscular pains and sore back. I have proved it a sure cure in such cases."

Think what it might some day mean to you to have right in your home ready for an accident or emergency sickness, a bottle or two of Nerviline. Get it today, 25c., or five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

DEFECTIVE EDUCATION.

It is stated that of the 20,000 pupils who endeavored to pass in the recent examination throughout Ontario for entrance to high schools, less than fifty per cent. succeeded. The reason given for this drop far below former years is that the arithmetic paper was set in such a peculiar way that it required more than the average intelligence to answer it. In one town all the candidates failed.

This is a more serious affair than at first appears. A pupil who was well-equipped in every other branch, who secured a pass and who would have got sufficient marks in arithmetic in all likelihood had he been given a reasonable opportunity, must spend another year before being able to advance, and because some pedagogue with more smartness than sound sense drew papers that could not be answered.

The purpose of education is not to make men and women offensively "clever," but to prepare them for the battles of life. This purpose is not served when examination papers are so difficult that less than half of those who write secure a pass. The Department of Education should take steps to rectify the deplorable condition so that the same record will not be made another year.

When the stomach fails to perform its functions, the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys conject ed causing numerous diseases. The stomach and liver must be restored to a healthy condition and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets can be depended upon to do it. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by all dealers.

A GREAT FUTURE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his speech at Fort William made the declaration that "the time will come when a million bushels will be grown in the West." These large round figures are almost beyond imagination, but yet they only represent what Canada will be doing in years to come. The land is there, the people are going there, the output is growing enormously every year and when a million Westerners are located with eight million acres under plough, the amount produced annually may be estimated at 100,000,000 bushels. When there are fifteen millions of people with eighty million acres under cultivation there would be grown the billion bushels prophesied.

By the time this output is reached the total population of Canada can be reasonably placed at 25,000,000 souls.

These figures seem magical but are they in view of the way Canada is growing.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for a case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous gravels and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Leiserman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 90 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold supplies. The Director of the United States Mint further said:—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 20 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a mule would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets like into the earth, each bringing up a considerable quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

TOLD BY THE TEA.
Personal Character Indicated by the Kind One Drinks.

Did it ever occur to you that character could be told by the kind of tea one drinks? I have been selling tea for more than 25 years, writes a dealer, and during that time I have been also studying human nature. It has often come to my mind that the tea one drinks has an influence or is influenced by the traits of character of the drinker.

The users of the old reliable Chinese tea known as Oolong are generally of steady, even-minded ways, that know what is what and are satisfied with the substantial things of life and not much given to idle frivolities; people who can be depended on to do about what is right, to say what they mean and mean what they say. Those who use the Oolong with a little green mixed in it to tone it up can almost be put in the same class.

Those using the green teas known as Japanese or Gunpowder are not to be taken seriously; apt to be untruthful and hot-headed; people to be cautious of in all dealing.

English Breakfast seems to be favored by those who are never satisfied with anything—persons thick and unresponsive to favors, often injuring their best friends by their grouchiness.

Ceylon and India teas are affected by faddists, who are willing to drink most any kind if it is considered the proper caper, if it has the "they say" label; ready to change off to the next new brand that appears if they hear that "they say" it is the tea to drink.

The Young Hyson that our forefathers used almost exclusively, though not much used now in this section, is a sharp tea, and might be said to sharpen the tongues, if not the wits, of the users.

Those who do not use tea at all I would class as of a selfish disposition, not caring for the niceties or enjoyments of life nor looking with favor on those who do, a sort of "dog-in-the-manger" kind if people.

Curious Cossack Customs.

Many queer customs and usages are prevalent among the Cossacks of the Don. No man changes his clothing on a Monday. If he did it is believed that he would suffer from a severe skin disease. On Thursday no fat or flesh must be pickled or corned. If any one neglected this the meat would be full of worms in a fortnight. Wool is not spun on a holiday, else the cattle will sicken and die. A hen is always given an uneven number of eggs to hatch, never an even number. Bones left from a dinner at a funeral are thrown into the river, else the dead will appear to the living in fearful shape. And at the same meal no one dare cut bread. It must always be broken.

His Latest Request.

There is a clever lad who will get his living in this world. For playing truant maternal authority cut off his supper. Casting one fond look at the anthracene of his existence, he paused at the door to say:

"Mother, I am going to die, and when I am no more I wish the doctor to cut me open and look at my stomach."

The maternal heart was filled with awful forebodings, and the maternal voice asked what he meant.

"I wish it to be known," he answered, "that I died of starvation."

This was enough. The small boy was triumphant and retired to his little bed gorged to repletion.

The Mississippi at St. Paul.

At St. Paul the Mississippi River is at its best as regards scenery. The approach to the city is made through stretches dotted with beautiful islands, and below this is a succession of bluffs that put the Hudson Palisades to shame. About St. Paul and between it and Minneapolis the banks are magnificent with wooded high shores, broken in places by Minnehaha Creek, where enters the river after tumbling over rocks, making Minnehaha falls. At another place it is entered by the Minnesota river. At the confluence of the rivers is situated Fort Snelling, the early Indian fort built in 1821, and now an army post.

Disillusionment.

When a person's dress and bearing are striking it is natural to expect that voice and conversation will be in keeping. Nevertheless it does not always turn out so.

A man standing on the street corner, waiting for his car, saw two very pretty and tastefully dressed girls approaching from opposite directions. Their smiling faces showed that they were acquaintances, and as they came nearer the observant man prepared to hear gracefully expressed greetings and well-bred tones of voice.

What he heard, in a chirping, birdlike treble, was this: "Wot you chawin', May?"

Unrecognized.

There came a knock at the door. The man of the house answered it. "Good morning, sir," said the caller. "Don't you want"—

"I don't want anything!" snapped the man of the house, slamming the door in his face. "Ding these peddlers!"

It was a fateful mistake.

The stranger had come to make him an offer for his house and lot, which he was trying to sell.

Opportunity had knocked at his door [illegible]

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or insider nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—those weak and faltering inside nerves. This no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

They were well received by the minister. They outlined what they wanted in a lengthy statement submitted to the minister, namely, a department of scientific research along the line of poultry diseases, financial assistance in certain improvements, and that A. Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

VOL. XXXI NO. 173 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY JULY 30 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Negroes Tried to Bathe with Whites

New York, July 29.—An attempt was made to lynch two negroes at Coney Island today because the negroes wanted to bathe in the ocean with the white men and women. Bryant Teal and Frank Davis, the negroes, had narrow escapes.

They slipped into bathing suits during the heat of the day and went to the pier. About sixty white men and women were in the water at the time. An outcry against the presence of the negroes was raised by someone.

DAVIS WAS GRABBED.

Several men grabbed Davis, who is slight of build, and pulled him out into deep water. They did not know that he could swim, and their object seemed to be to drown him.

Davis was pulled beyond his depth but he proved a good swimmer and he saved himself by striking out and away from the whits who seemed to want his life. He made a wide detour, got to shore, and ran for cover.

In the meanytime, Teal, who stands six feet high, and is of powerful build, had gotten ashore and taken to flight under a hail of stones. The crowd took after him, but he escaped.

KILLING BIG GAME OUT OF SEASON.

Indians' Rights in this Regard—Unorganized Territory No Longer to go Unchallenged.

Fort William, July 30.—Whether the Indians of this part of Ontario will continue to enjoy their long unchallenged privilege of killing big game out of season, depends largely upon the result of an agitation started by one of the red men themselves.

Contrary to all precedent, local authorities took it upon themselves last spring to restrain Indians from shooting moose during the closed season. During May and June Simon Pesassi, the full-blooded Indian constable on the Mission reservation near here, made no less than half a dozen arrests for violations of the game law, and he secured a conviction in each case.

Matters were breaking fine for Simon until George Horrigan, of Port Arthur, was appointed acting Indian agent some weeks ago.

During the progress of a case before him this morning, in which Pesassi charged a man of his own race with slaughtering a moose out of season, Mr. Horrigan gave it as his opinion that Indians had, under the old Robinson treaty, a perfect right to kill big game in unorganized territory at any time of the year.

Upon being informed that the case would be postponed indefinitely, the Indian constable accused Mr. Horrigan of combatting his efforts.

The case will be left in abeyance pending an opinion from the Governor-General which will be applied for by Mr. Horrigan and Crown Attorney Langworthy.

A HANDSOME STEAMER.

Orillia Times.—The splendid new steamer Otonabee, came in from Peterborough last evening, over the Trent Canal route. The Otonabee is the largest boat on the Trent Valley Canal system, and is capable of carrying six hundred people. It has a double engine of 120 h.p. and twin screw, is electric lighted, and well equipped in every particular. A large party were on board, among them Judge Harding, of Lindsay, and Mr. G. C. Wainwright, manager Bank of Ottawa, Peterborough. By special arrangement the boat will run a moonlight excursion this (Thursday) evening, leaving the town dock at 8 p.m., calling at Park Wharf. Returning will arrive at 10.30. This excursion on such a fine boat should be well patronized.

IRISH HOME COMING.

50,000 Irish-Americans to Visit the "Auld Sod."

New York, July 30.—Among the saloon passengers sailing for Queenstown today on the White Star liner Arabic are Francis J. Kilkenny, president, and Joseph D. Sullivan, secretary of the Irish Homes-Going Association, the men who have developed the "back to Ireland" movement. They are going over to inspect the results of their efforts, the success of which has already been made evident by the departure from New York so far this summer of over 25,000 Irish-Americans on a pilgrimage to the old country. Prior to their departure today Messrs. Kilkenny and Sullivan ventured the prediction that before the summer is over more than 50,000 natives of Ireland who have found prosperous homes in America will revisit the land of their birth. It is hoped that the movement originated in the United States will spread around the world, and that the well-to-do Irish of all lands will make pilgrimages to the mother country with the idea of investing money for the mutual benefits of themselves and the old home folks. With the investment of American capital in Irish industries will also come the introduction of American methods and machinery. If this idea becomes a reality as we told wealth will pour into the Emerald Isle, and the wonders it will perform are a matter that only the future can tell.

WIRELESS GIVES DETAILS OF THE MOST REMARKABLE CHASE IN CRIMINAL HISTORY.

Police Marvel at the Wonderful Results—The First Particulars—Has Them Under Watch.

Montreal, July 19.—The following despatch was received here today by wireless from the steamer Montrose:

"Crippen and girl closely watched night and day. Apparently have no suspicion. Passengers still in ignorance. Crippen nervous nearing port.

THE FIRST PARTICULARS.

This is the first message containing other than the bare announcement of Crippen's presence aboard received since Llewellyn Jones, the wireless operator, first got in touch with the Canadian stations yesterday.

It shows that the couple are actually in custody, although not formally arrested.

While Captain Kendall, of the Montrose, as his own sovereign on the high seas, could, if he thought it best, order the pair imprisoned in irons, such action might lead to complications, and would leave him liable to heavy damages were he mistaken.

HAS THEM UNDER WATCH.

The fact that he has them under watch, however, is taken as an indication of the positiveness of his information as to their identity.

With wireless communication restored late yesterday afternoon, after the break caused by adverse weather conditions after the first messages were sent, the task of the police have been simplified, as Captain Kendall is now accessible, and can be given special instructions.

Father Point, July 29.—The thirty or so newspaper correspondents gathered here from all quarters will be given an excellent opportunity to cool their heels on the rocks and admire the scenery for the next forty-eight hours, in all probability, as the authorities here say the Montrose cannot arrive before Sunday morning at the earliest.

Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve are on Board

Montreal, July 29.—The following Marconigram from the captain of the Montrose was received by a local paper today:

"Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve, I am confident, are on board. He is still shaving his moustache growth and he is growing a beard. Dr. Crippen has no suspicion that his identity is suspected. Other passengers are also ignorant of his identity. Miss Leneve refrains from talking.

"The pair have no baggage. They cannot be parted and are very reticent. Dr. Crippen has stated that he has travelled much. He puts in much of the time reading books. He is very sleepless at night. I first suspected the identity of the couple after leaving Antwerp, when I got the first clue. Dr. Crippen says with regard to his companion, who is disguised as a boy, that he is taking him to California. The boy, says the doctor, is in bad health.

"They spend much of the time together in their room. Ordinarily they are bright and cheerful, but at times both show signs of decided worry. Dr. Crippen is booked as a merchant. The woman disguised as a boy, is booked as a student."

(Signed) Kendall, Commander.

Fears G.T.R. May Call For Military Assistance

Owen Sound, July 29.—While the evening passenger train from the south was passing through the north end of the town last evening, two large stones were hurled through the windows of the car. Three panes of glass were shattered and the glass were in a nearby seat.

The conductor, whose name was Macy, from Stratford, was only a few feet away from the spot where one of the stones fell. One stone was thrown near Owen Sound north station, and the other while the train was passing over the Pottawatimie bridge.

The matter was reported to Mayor Harrison, and he instructed Chief McAuley to make a thorough investigation and ascertain if possible who were the guilty parties, for there were evidently two responsible for the act. After a brief consultation with members of the council, the mayor decided on issuing a proclamation and offering a reward.

The consensus of opinion is that unless the most decisive action is taken the company might call for militia assistance and the town would be saddled with the expense of maintaining a corps of regulars until the trouble is over.

Good News for Many Who Failed in the Entrance Exams.

Toronto, July 29.—Here's glad tidings for hundreds of pupils who were plucked on the recent entrance examinations.

Those who got less than 40 per cent. on the total, will be allowed to pass this year.

This is the announcement made by Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, deputy minister, who in the absence of the Hon. Dr. Pyne, is acting minister of education.

This order is the result of the almost innumerable complaints and criticisms by parents and press in regard to the catch questions on the arithemetic and other papers.

"Undoubtedly it will effect a large number of pupils. The examiners will take up the work again in time to let the pupils know their fate before school reopens.

As each pupil who is plucked gets his examination papers back, with his marks on each subject, he can easily figure out whether he benefits by the new rule.

Lindsay Bank Case Up Next Thursday

Lindsay, July 29.—The case of the Farmers' Bank of Canada against Mr. A. B. McGill, manager of the and former manager of the Lindsay branch of the Home Bank and former manager of the Farmers' Bank here, and Mr. J. J. Fleury and J. L. Coulter, members of the Home Bank staff, scheduled for trial yesterday, was adjourned, the lawyer for the defence claiming that the prosecution did not give sufficiently full information in the charges of conspiracy, or rather that the charges were too far reaching. The case will come up for trial on Thursday next.

WEST INDIA TRADE.

The efforts now being made by the Canadian Government to bring about improved trade relations with the West Indies will be watched with keen interest. The great drawback heretofore has been the fear on the part of our island fellow-subjects that any improved arrangement with Canada, would antagonize the United States. Now that Canadian trade has reached important proportions, while the possession of the splendid island of Porto Rico in the West Indies, and the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines in the Pacific makes the trade of the British West Indies of less importance to the United States, it seems possible that the present Canadian efforts may be more successful than those of the past.

King and Murdock Held Conference

Montreal, July 29.—The Star says this afternoon that the strike is likely to be over inside of twenty-four hours. Conferences have been in progress between the strike leaders and Hon. Mackenzie King, both last night and this morning, but neither party will give any news for publication. The minister has also seen the Grand Trunk officials today, and it is believed that strong pressure is being exerted to bring things to a conclusion.

Montreal, July 29.— It is thought that the prospects for a speedy settlement of the dispute between the Grand Trunk Railway and their conductors and trainmen were increased this morning by a conference between Vice-President Murdock of the union, and Mr. Mackenzie King, minister of labor. Mr. King refused to make a statement after the meeting, and Mr. Murdock said that no peace proposition was discussed.

"We merely talked over the situation," Mr. Murdock said afterwards "and no proposition was made by the minister, nor did I suggest any terms for a settlement."

It is understood, however, that this morning's conference was the first step in a plan which the minister of labor has formed to bring the opposing factions in the big labor war together and ultimately effect a settlement.

The Freight Situation on the G. T. R.

REPORTS FROM MANY PLACES INDICATE THAT THE G.T.R. IS MOVING BUT LITTLE.

A Movement on Paper in the Way One Hamilton Merchant Sizes Up What Company is Doing.

Still Reports are Rosy—Difference Between What Out-of Town Places Say, and Official Reports.

Toronto, July 29.—Since the Grand Trunk strike was declared, the company has been sending out rosy accounts of how well things have been progressing.

Business men who have had dealings with the company, are of a different opinion, so this morning a correspondent wired a number of points, asking what freight the company has really been moving.

Almost with one accord the replies came, "Nothing or very little," while one prominent Hamilton merchant declared it was a "freight movement on paper."

Business men report great need of supplies and inconvenience in getting them in a round-about way, while not a few industries have closed or will close shortly if the strike continues.

Hamilton, July 29.—A careful investigation of conditions here shows that the Grand Trunk is not giving any real freight service to Hamilton merchants or manufacturers, notwithstanding the rosy reports issued from Montreal of the success with which the company is handling freight.

W. R. Dunn, one of the chief officials of the International Harvester Company, and a member of the Transportation Committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' association was interviewed this morning.

"The situation here," he said, "and the Grand Trunk is only giving a freight service on paper. The company has not moved a pound of stuff for us since the 19th, and the situation is beginning to grow serious.

"We are in bad shape at the International. Since the strike we have been depending upon the T. H. and B., and the C.P.R., but there is such a congestion of freight that things could not be much worse if there was a general strike. Everything is backing up towards Hamilton from Toronto, and the cars are simply being backed around the yards.

RELIEF AT ORILLA.

Orillia, July 29.—The Railway Commission has today issued an order, permitting the use for freight purposes of the C.N.O.R. construction line from Udney to Atherley. This will break the freight blockade here, and manufacturers will now be able to get rid of the stocks which have been piling up since the strike began. The C.N.O.R., has prepared a special freight tariff for Orillia business, and is opening up the line at once.

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

JOHNSON WON'T FIGHT.

Calls Story a Dream—More Money on Stage Than in Fighting.

New York, July 29.—Jack Johnson declared yesterday afternoon that the story emanating from Chicago that he had secretly arranged for a match for a fight with Sam Langford was a dream. "I won't fight for a year," he said. "There is more money on the stage than in fighting Langford anyway.

A message stated that Jack was going to Europe and would sail within a short time. He intends, he said in his wire, to return to Chicago first, and wanted everything put in ship shape order so that he would not have to spend much time here packing.

Another wire was to the effect that Jack had arranged a match in London with Sam Langford, and that he expected the date would be August 25. For that reason he wished to wind up all his theatrical time in this country and set sail at once.

The nearness of the date makes the story sound most improbable, and the fact that Johnson has said nothing at all about the match in the east, also makes it seem as if Johnson was merely anticipating. Johnson would not need a great deal of preparation, however, for Langford, however, since he must still be in pretty fair shape from his training.

Langford also would need but little time to prepare for even such an important meeting as this surely would prove to be. Sam usually walks around in excellent shape for catching matches at short notice, and must always be ready.

Besides that he is slated to tackle Al. Kaufman, of the Pacific coast about the middle of next month, and already has been training for that match. It is known here that Joe Woodman, Langford's manager, has been making every possible effort to get on a meeting with the other black man.

Measuring the Sermons.

"I believe it would be a good thing," said the deacon to the pastor, "if you wouldn't make your sermons quite so long."

"Why, man, I am commanded to preach the milk of the word," said the pastor.

"All right, then," said the deacon, "make it condensed milk."

Dysentry is a dangerous disease, but can be cured, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

A TRAINED BEAR.

Some little excitement was created on George street yesterday morning, when the government school teacher at the Chemong Indian Village walked down our main thoroughfare, leading a well developed bear, held by a dog chain.

Knights of Columbus.

Quebec, July 30.—Great preparations are being made for the entertainment of the delegates and visitors who are coming here from all parts of the United States and Canada, next week for the national convention of the Knights of Columbus. Besides the usual church ceremonies business sessions of the convention and parades, there will be a banquet, a pilgrimage to the famed shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, a reception by the lieutenant governor of the province, Hon. C. A. Pelletier, and visits to Lavell University.

The Steamer Montrose will Not Arrive Until Tomorrow

Great War Ships.

London, July 30.—This is the date fixed for the launching of the British cruiser Lion at Devonport. The Lion is designed to be one of the speediest and most formidable fighting machines in the world and has already received much attention from the naval experts. Her launching is to be followed two weeks later by that of the great battleship Orion at Portsmouth.

WIRELESS SYSTEM MINIMIZED DISASTER.

Oil Steamer Ablaze off Peruvian Coast—Sister Ship Took Her in Tow.

Lima Peru, July 29.—Saved by wireless, fifty passengers and most of the crew of the new liner Huallaga are today being brought to port on the Uesyali.

The Huallaga was burned to the water's edge yesterday off the Peruvian coast, according to despatches received here, and three of her crew were killed in fighting the fire and attempting to quell the panic which followed close on the discovery of the blaze.

It is reported that 200 bags of mail from New York were destroyed.

The Huallaga, an oil burner of the Peruvian line, was bound from Panama.

Only her wireless prevented a terrible disaster.

The Ucayali is a sister ship, and she took the burned vessel in tow when the fire was got under control.

WILL NOT BE PERMITTED.

The Ontario Court of Appeal has put its veto upon the latest device of the usurer to evade the law. The scheme of the money-lenders in question was exceedingly ingenious. In the first place an incorporated company was made to appear as agent for the borrower and a commission to the agent was used to hide the actual high rate of interest. Further, the company, which received the commission was represented by an attorney for an unknown person who supplied the money. The court held that in spite of these subterfuges, the real nature of the transaction could not be cloaked and refused even to allow the defendants a stated case. Perhaps this will be a lesson to the blood-sucking fraternity through the high profits earned by successful evasion are likely to lead to the invention of new subterfuge, says the Montreal Star. This preying upon the necessities of the poor is one of the meanest crimes in the calendar, and the authorities cannot be too persistent in tracking it down and punishing it.

THE WEATHER.

Little cooler with local thundershowers.

OR LATE TONIGHT AT THE EARLIEST—FURTHER WORD BY WIRELESS.

Says Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve are Aboard—Lauzettie Arrived Yesterday Afternoon.

Father Point, Que., July 29.—Aboard the liner Montrose, which is creeping through the fog-bound lower reaches of the St. Lawrence, Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen today is being brought to a trap from which there is no escape save suicide.

Extreme precautions have been taken to prevent any attempt at death on his part.

The most wonderful wireless search for a fugitive the world has ever seen, which began when the body of Belle Elmore, Crippen's wife, was found buried in the cellar of their London home, is rapidly reaching its climax and Crippen's race is nearly run.

The Laurentic, bearing Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, has been reported off Fame Point, and should arrive here this afternoon. Her tender is lying near the shore ready to meet her.

Word has gone through, both that Crippen is on board the Montrose, and that he is not, and from the Montrose little or nothing has come.

The weather in the gulf has been very foggy, but it is clear today. The Marconi station here will accept no press news whatever, and is jammed with official business, and the wires are crowded with contradictory stories concerning the man wanted.

The hotels and boarding houses are filled with press men and police, all prepared to board the Montrose when she arrives.

Opinion is about equally divided as to whether Crippen is aboard at all or not.

This morning's Montreal train brought a dozen more press men, who are industriously tramping about the country and sending out messages.

It seems as though the wife murderer, Dr. Crippen, has been caught, per wireless telegraph, aboard the steamship Montrose. If so, there is a chance for hysterical local sympathizers to send bouquets to the chief?

ILL HEALTH, ITS CAUSE.

Sluggishness of Liver and Bowels.

It took me a long time to learn, and big doctors' bills in the bargain, writes Mr. Ogilby, of Winnipeg that the disturbance of my system inactivity. A sleepiness and langour extinguished my old time ambition. I fear irritability of temper added little to the comfort of my family, yet the headaches, general misery and melancholy forebodings that weighed me down ought to be considered. Tonics, electric treatment and mineral waters in turn failing to cure me, the advertising of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and the testimonials supporting the claim of great medicinal virtue induced me to try them. The result of even the first box made clear that my own body was making its own poison, that by driving it from the system and removing the cause which undoubtedly resided in the liver and bowels, by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, my health would be as good as ever.

It seems certain to me that more than half the sickness we see about us is caused by carelessness in keeping the bowels open and the liver active. Dr. Hamilton's Pills I found do both, and find it better than other remedies. 25c per box, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston.

A tickling or dry cough can be quickly loosened with Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy, No opium, no chloroform, nothing unsafe or harsh. Sold by all dealers.

EARACHE, TOOTHACHE! ●

To Cure the Pain in Ten Seconds and Get Instant Relief, Nothing Equals.

NERVILINE.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of homes this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. Today Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies — scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4366

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache and disordered stomach, I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline. 25c. per bottle, five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

HOTEL FIRES.

The frequency of hotel fires resulting too often in the loss of life is directing attention to the question as to how these disasters can be averted. Common as the reports are of such incidents in Canada and the United States, not many people would suppose that two hundred and fifty American communities have been the scenes of hotel fires since January 1st, 1900. In some places several fires occurred, while on one winter day the fire departments of five cities fought hotel conflagrations. In more than twenty of these instances lives were lost and there were many persons injured. Hotel fires constitute a local question in every part of Canada and the United States. Nothing will diminish this loss of life and property but good construction of the buildings, adequate fire protection on the premises, means of quick communication with the fire department and other precautions that will occur to those whose business or duty requires their attention to the subject. As it is at present too many of the hotels, especially in villages and small towns are nothing but firetraps and almost certain, sooner or later, to be the scene of more or less disastrous conflagrations.

MANITOBA'S CROP AREA.

A few weeks ago we gave some figures of the probable area that would be sown to grain this season in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Now we have some information afforded by the crop estimate of the Provincial Government of the area under cultivation in Manitoba. It is placed at 5,360,000 acres, an increase of no less than 750,000 acres over the area under grain last year. We are sometimes inclined to suppose that the third and longest settled of the three prairie provinces had reached a stage in the settlement and cultivation of her lands that made any further increase, such as is occurring in the two younger provinces, unlikely, not impossible. But the information furnished by the official estimate mentioned above shows that this far from being the case. Although much smaller than her sister provinces, Manitoba is well maintaining her position and it is not difficult to realize how amply her people would justify their reputation for energy and enterprise in the settlement and cultivation of a still larger area were their reasonable demands for an extension of their Provincial boundaries granted by the Dominion Government.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for a case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

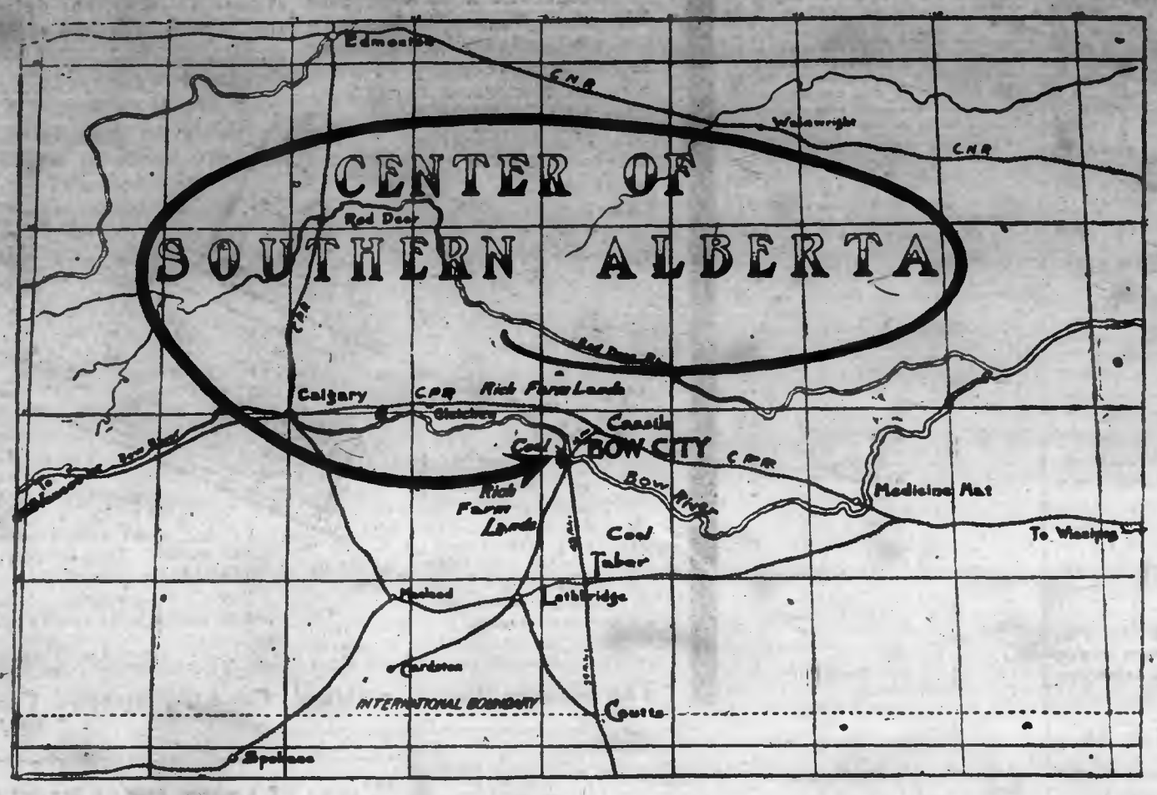
"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"



If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid--a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your apulication by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots

On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

BANKS AND BANKING.

The Bank of England the Financial Center of the Entire Banking System of the British Empire.

The Bank of England not only sustains the credit and holds the reserve of the banks and the people of England, but it is the center of the financial system of the entire British Empire, with its four hundred millions of population and with connections and affiliations extending around the world. Not only this, but its friends say, and I must confess with great truth, that the Bank of England is today the financial center and clearing house of the world We know that sterling bills drawn on London are still the highest form of commercial credit. These bills sell at a lower rate in Paris, Berlin, in Amsterdam, and New York than any other form of commercial credit. The Bank of England reaches a larger territory than any other institution in the world.

This is an extent from an address by Senator Aldrich, chairman of the United States Monetary Committee appointed by Congress with a view to improving the national banking system. The commission has investigated the great foreign banks, and the chairman voices one of his conclusions in the words just quoted. The passage renders untenable the claims put forward by New York papers some years ago that Wall street had become the monetary center of the world.

Mr. Aldrich draws attention to one distinguishing feature of the Scotch banking system. It embodies a method of cash credits by which a farmer or small trader in any part of Scotland, with one or two of his neighbors as guarantors, can establish a banking credit for a fixed sum The bank honors his drafts for any amount with this limit, and the customer pays interest only upon the sums actually drawn. There can be no question that this system has been of benefit in developing the rural communities of Scotland. There are Canadians who think that our own banks should be more liberal than they are in granting small credits to local borrowers in rural and semi-rural communities.

The Canadian system of branch banks has many warm advocates in the United States, but Mr. Aldrich says:

Canada has an area equal to that of the United States. Out of her 20 banks, 19 are located in Toronto or Montreal, and the whole system is controlled by the bankers of these cities. There are but three banks and those not important, in the vast country west of Ontario. Think what the American system would be and how it would be regarded, if we had but two or three banks west of Buffalo, and if the bankers of New York and Boston, should decide upon the policy and rate of discount of the whole system of the United States! In my judgment any stem which is to be adopted in this country must recognize the rights and independence of the 25,000 seperate banks in the United States.

It is evident that Americans see both advantages and disadvantages in the Canadian banking system. Most critics will conclude that the former far out run the latter.

Nothing in the way of a cough is teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so throughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety, even to the youngest babes. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. Its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

A Great Journalist Gone.

Every man acquainted intimately with journalism in Canada, will regret the loss by death of Mr. J. A. Ewan, associate editor of the Toronto Globe. Whilst the daily papers of Canada will still be issued and the news of the world still be disseminated, Mr. Ewan's departure is greatly deplored: the journalistic world has been sadly depleted. Still there is hope that the man with the pencil will in the future, assist in bringing abuses to the fore, take his part in insisting on clean honest government, and trying to "keep tab" on city fathers, who, in municipal expenditure, seem only to think of "outings" at the municipalities' expense, and, "keeping down the rate," no matter what the assessment amounts to.

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is what we could and must be dumb! Were you treated not willingly pay for that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively knowing when Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all who way unless health first returns" and I mean Restorative with a clear conscience, with my

"Dr. Shoop's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails". Let others do the experimenting—please pay me after you are cured.

If you need nerve control, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the difference.

If you are thin, pale, weak, or ailing in any way, then test Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Let it prove from the thousands now enthusiastic friends and users, that it is worthy. You can't make a mistake in this way. You can't lose. You can't be disappointed. You can't feel worse than you do now. You can only get well. Then how I can afford to make this offer, how I can afford to let you be the judge, how I can afford to let you pay me after you are cured, and how I am able to do all this I may tell you later. But the fact is that I am now manufacturing upon another shore and handling it just as I do by this remarkable offer.

So write me today for the order.

I have established honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community or town and continued to do so.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and all are authorized to give this 30 day trial. So there is a live druggist near you, call on him and tell him I said to.

A postal will do.

Besides, you are free to consult me at all about your home physician. My advice and my book before you purchase—and when you do.

Perhaps a word or two from me will start up some enthusiasm. Then I can send you my personal advice plan. My book explains it all. A worth your simple request. So write now while you have it in mind to, for write now will mean Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

If you can make more money out of your money, between now and when the city solicitor gets after your scalp. The best thing, however, is for the average man to get out his cheque book today or on Monday and put his signature to the foot of that little oblong green sheet of paper, transferring his hard earned money to the city's account.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or insider nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the easily quick and successful way. Sold by all dealers.

Local Citizen Returns From West.

R. E. Harding, Bethune street, has returned from a month's trip to the West. He brought back with him some splendid samples of wheat, oats and barley, taken from the farm of Mr. Jos. Redmond, near Calgary, and who before leaving for the West resided in Cavan. Mr. Harding says the crops in the north are up to the usual mark, but in the south they are away below, owing to the hot weather and scarcity of rain. Mr. Harding met many Peterborough old boys, amongst them, being Mr. E. A. Row, "Bill" Crowley and George Crowe.

YOU CAN BUY
INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS
Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thedford, Que., one of the largest in the world. G. T. R. STRIKE SETTLED?—DR. CRIPPEN REPORTED ARRESTED AT RIMOUSKI

Crippen Arrested

The Times received a despatch early last evening that Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Ethel Leneve had been arrested by Dominion Police Officer McCarthy, on board the SS. Montrose, which arrived at Father Point at seven o'clock on Sunday morning. Further details of the arrest were unobtainable.

Father Point, Que., July 30.—With the two suspects, Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Ethel Leneve, on board, the SS. Montrose, is about 260 miles off this point, having lost good time through fog, and she is expected about noon tomorrow. Upwards of forty journalists, representing the world's newspapers, are with the sleuth hound of justice, waiting for the climax of this great drama. Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard is very reticent, keeping to his room, while the Canadian officers, evidently taking their cue from the great detective, are almost as close.

In an interview with Fred Ryder, American consul at Rimouski, your correspondent ascertained that though so far no instructions had been received, he (the consul), on being assured that Dr. Crippen was an American subject would look well after his interest. Personally he did not think Crippen would fight being taken to England, although from all accounts he admitted the suspect was a very resourceful man. The consul will be at Father Point when the Montrose arrives.

2 p.m.—A Marconi message has just come in from Capt. Kendall of the Montrose, saying that he was 60 miles east of Fame Point, and would be off Father Point about 6 a.m. Sunday.

Inspector Dew in an interview with the press this morning, stated that his fear was that Crippen may commit suicide by taking poison or jumping overboard, especially should the doctor see such a large corps of press men, and the inspector asked the press to help him by keeping low until he had identified him.

Marked by Representation Of Bush Under which They Lay

London, July 30.—Two men named Caspian and Smith, were killed by lightning and another badly injured at Linton, near York recently.

The men, who were fishing, were sheltering from the storm under a large bush, when they were struck.

Caspian and Smith were killed instantly and another man was much burnt, but was revived with the aid of artificial respiration.

The men killed were marked on the bodies with the exact representation of the bush under which they were sheltering, and a log with them had imprinted on his back a representation of a tree near by. He was uninjured except by the shock.

Two Years in Central Prison.

At Saturday's police court, Magistrate Dumble, after delivering a good stiff lecture to Wesley Crouter and Frank Hamilton, sentenced the young men to two years less a day in the Central Prison, Toronto. It will be remembered that on July 29th, the young men forged the name of Patrick Hogan on a Canadian Bank of Commerce cheque. They were captured a week ago Saturday at a house in Ashburnham, after trying to make a "get away." These young men had in their possession another forged cheque, presumably signed by Ed. Conroy. The latter charge was not pressed. Both men's faces are familiar in police court circles, in fact Hamilton, at the time of the forgery, was out on suspended sentence.

Mr. Thomas White of Chicago, is in the city the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stapleton, Gilmour street. He will leave today for Clear Lake, where he will spend a few days as a guest at Mr. R. Neill's cottage.

Spain Faces Civil War Following the Break with the Vatican

ANARCHY FREELY PREDICTED FOLLOWTODAY FOLLOWING BRE TODAY FOLLOWING BREAK WITH THE VATICAN.

Exiles Await Trouble—Thousands are Camped Along the Border, Ready to March Upon Barcelona.

Alphonso's Throne is Tottering and Monarchy Faces Engulfment.

Madrid, July 30.—Anarchy, republicanism of a Calist government, with Pretender Don Jaime at the head is freely predicted in Spain today, following the sensational rumor of diplomatic relations between the government and the vatican.

Torn by internal dissensions of almost every sort with political and labor disputes ever threatening a crisis, with thousands of exiles camped along the French border awaiting an opportunity to march to Bardeelona and proclaim a revolution with foreign war draining the treasury, the country reeking with the spirit of anarchy, and now plunged into a religious strife that may alienate the bulk of the population, King Alfonso's throne is believed to be tottering and the monarchy itself facing engulfment in the impending upheaval.

The complete severance of diplomatic relations between the government and the vatican is expected the moment the vatican receives the ministerial note that is now being prepared, supporting the cabinet and king in their stand against the authority of the vatican in Spanish church affairs. Already the government has withdrawn Marquis de Ojeda, its ambassador at the vatican, and the recall of Monsignor Vico, Papal Nuncio at Madrid, is momentarily expected.

When this is done even the most optimistic admit that it will take a higher order of statesmanship and diplomacy than has been witnessed in Spain for years to escape a civil war and the resulting train of ruin. That the vatican expects a civil war and is counting on the vast Catholic population to remain loyal to the Church as against the government, is clearly indicated in messages today from Rome.

The firm stand taken by King Alfonson, heretofore considered one of the royal weaklings of Europe, is a big surprise to the country.

Funeral of Mrs. Patrick Brick.

Yesterday afternoon the funeral of the late Mrs. Patrick Brick, was held to St. Martin's cemetery. The late Mrs. Brick, who passed away Friday at the home of her father, Mr. Patrick Flaherty on the Ennismore and Family Boundary line, was 26 years of age, and leaves three small children. The deceased and her husband had resided at Netherhill, Sask., for some time, but was taken ill and brought here to the home of her father about two weeks ago.

Bank of Ottawa Increases Dividend

Growing Prosperity of One of Canada's Leading Banks.

Canada has every reason to be proud of her splendid banking system. Possibly no country in the world has so progressive and safely founded a financial system, as regards banks and banking as our growing Dominion. Among the banks of Canada where capitalization as compared with sound and safe assets, stands prominently the Bank of Ottawa. As an indication of the general popularity and reliance placed in it by the business men of the country it is interesting to note that this bank has arranged through its directors to increase the annual dividend paid on stock to shareholders from ten to eleven per cent. This increased interest will apply on the next quarterly dividend to be paid on the first of September. The Bank of Ottawa twenty years ago, then on the rising tide of popularity and progressive management, paid its shareholders eight per cent. per annum. In 1897, one per cent. in dividends was added as a bonus, and ten years ago the regular dividend to shareholders was placed at nine per cent. In 1905, the vastly increased business of the bank resulted in the directors declaring a ten per cent. dividend. The bank's capital, which was $1,000,000 previous to 1905, has since then been increased to $5,000,000, should the requirements demand so large a sum.

Mr. George Burn, the progressive, though conservative general manager, has reason to be congratulated on the splendid results attained by his work. Few men have been able, in so comparitively limited a period of years, to bring the institution they control to so successful a culmination.

The local branch of the Bank of Ottawa, under the able management of Mr. G. C. Wainwright, has sprung into a most prominent place with Peterborough's merchants and manufacturers. Whilst it is, or would be invidious to make direct comparisions as to the relative business done by the various banks in Peterborough, there is no doubt but what the Bank of Ottawa here is getting its share of mercantile and manufacturing patronage, and is regarded as one of the safest and most poular financial institutions in this part of the country.

MR. GEO. BURN.

General Manager of the Bank of Ottawa.

Killed Two and Wounded Five More

Quincy, Mass., July 30.—Armed to the teeth and with instructions to shoot to kill on sight, more than 200 picked shots from Company K, Fifth Massachusetts Regiment, the Boston Metropolitan police, and from the fire and police forces of this city, are searching the countryside here today for Louis Restelli, a granite contractor, who yesterday afternoon shot and killed two, and wounded five people here. Restelli's victims were his mother, Mrs. Marianna Restelli, 65, and Henry E. Hardwick, 56, a quarry owner. Gaspar E. Restelli, 40, brother of the murderer, was shot thrice through the body and if expected to die, and C. Theodore Hardwick, Benjamin Bishop, William Adrian, and Archibald Parsons, were all wounded.

The Strike Settled?

Montreal, July 31.—The strike is practically settled. The conference is still on but this has been given from a fairly authorative quarter. All the men will go back; Mr. Mays will accept the award of the Board of Conciliation as to wages, and he will agree to pay the standard wages about a year from date of settlement. The award of the board is a very different thing from the increases offered by Mr. Mays.

Montreal, July 31.—As the result of a second conference G.T.R. may re-establish strikers, keeping those of the new men who were promised permanent positions. Mays may give in on the question of pensions.

Montreal, July 30.—Hon. Mackenzie King has at last got the warring parties together, but it is doubtful if the minister of labor will make any further progress, although for some reason another peace is in the air. The strike would have been settled yesterday afternoon had Mr. Mays consented to the clause in the strikers' offer to throw up their hands to the effect that the new men were to be discharged. This was the bargain. The men will go back unconditionally, but the pensions must remain intact and the new men are to walk the plank.

The Herald says: "That the Grand Trunk strike will be at end within the next 48 hours is the opinion of those who have been following the movements of Mr. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, since his arrival in the city.

"Despite denials that they are negotiating for a settlement, by the leaders of the strikers, it is practically certain that the minister of labor has succeeded in drawing the rival factions together, so that an agreement may be expected at any time."

Murders A Clergyam Priest Sentenced to 30 Years in Galleys

Rome, July 30.—The young priest, Adornia, whose trial for the murder of the octogenarian clergyman Constantini, in September, 1908, has occupied the attention of the assize court for some weeks past has been condemned to thirty years in the galleys, the first seven years of which have to be passed in absolutely solitary confinement.

Father Adorni was an inmate of the oratory of Saint Philip Neri, at the Chiesa Nuova, and the old priest whom he brutally beat to death with a hammer so as to possess himself of the victim's board and bank books lived in an apartment directly opposite.

After committting the murder Adorni sat down in front of the corpse and drank a bottle of wine, laughing heartily the while at his aged colleague's fate. He says he has never since felt any pang of remorse. His ulterior motive was to induce a young lady of good family to elope with him to America.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If in Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following. Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gledhil, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak, there is no pill like them.

"Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

BETTER THAN EVER.

Royal Theater to Have Attractions Only Before Seen for High Prices.

Beginning tomorrow will appear daily on this page the adv. of the Royal Theater. There is no doubt but what lovers of good clean comedy, sparkling music, good singing and high grade moving pictures have much to thank the enterprising owner of the Royal for. The many hundreds of our citizens who daily attend this theater are clear proof that the performances are enjoyed. Mr. Pappas has concluded arrangements whereby, for 5c and 10c, vaudeville artists will appear at the Royal who could otherwise never be seen or heard under 50 to 75 cents. Today a splendid musical team appears at the Royal. This is one of the cleverest acts yet seen in Peterborough.

One feature of this theater is the grand moving pictures. Mr. Pappas has arranged with the Kleine Optical Co., of Chicago and Toronto, the largest in the world, for a series of strictly first run films. This means that the pictures now to be seen at the Royal are brand new and carefully selected. Mr. Victor Loftus for today presents a very catch illustrated song.

CHEST INFLAMMATION.

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Nerviline" Cured Quickly.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chester and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have had no more colds and pleurisy and enjoy perfect health.

MERVILINE CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures, lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large 25c. bottles, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

UNDER THE BRITISH FLAG.

Although the newspapers of the United States, and more particularly the Western newspapers, are doing their utmost to assist the "Don't-go-to-Canada" campaign, they have not yet undertaken to represent the Dominion as a land of lawlessness. This is one of the libels which they are likely to avoid. One of the things indeed, which have been most favorably commented upon by incoming American settlers, and which has done much to develop loyalty to their new Canadian home, has been the administration of justice as they have found it in the Canadian West.

From Chicago, the home of the "Don't Go's," comes a somewhat remarkable tribute to this phase of Canadian life. It is the utterance of the Chicago Record-Herald, and is worthy of reproduction in its entirety.

"The barracks of the Royal Northwestern Mounted Police at Regina House is probably the most famous constabulary force in the world. From Regina to Hudson's Bay to the Klondyke is farther; but it is law, law, law, all the way. One trooper to every 500 square miles of territory is about the average of protection and guardianship provided. But it is enough.

"The Blackfoot agency near Calgary is in charge of a single corporal. A thousand Blackfeet were present at the colonial pageant on Dominion day and the single corporal managed them all—the four who got a little worse for rum and the remainder who stayed sober. With tact and firmness he piloted them through their performance and got them all safely back on their reservation again.

"Could this feat have been accomplished as well on our side of the line as the other? Such an achievement—and others reported from the Canadian Northwest—calls not only for something in the man but for something behind him. He must feel a backing he can count on, a sanction that shall not fail. There are some points on which the British beat us. Policing a new and sparsely settled territory appears to be one of them. Is it because they have had a larger experience at that form of co-operation called living? Is it because they have enjoyed opportunities for practice under conditions more settled and better established than ours? Is it because there is a king in the background, a 'fount tain of honor,' a center from which approval comes and toward which collective responsibility tends? Uncle Sam is but one symbol. "The King," is at once a symbol and a concrete reality. Perhaps if Uncle Sam were more than a pleasant picture of an incorrigibly easy-going old person he might exert a more vigorous influence through his own borders and secure a more faithful service from his scattered help."

Tributes to the advantages of living under a monarchy sometimes come from rather unexpected sources.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

Laura Jean Libby is to go on the stage and Laura is forty-eight, which is quite old enough to know better. But she will never be really convincing until she gets Anna Katharine Green to join her.

COSTLY SIGHT-SEEING.

Big Fees Paid by Sightseers When Pageants Are Under Way.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, and the death of a monarch puts money into the pockets of thousands. Those who profit most largely by such an event are the seat-mongers on the line of the funeral procession.

The value put upon seats is always rising. When Edward I. became king a farthing was charged for a seat to see the coronation procession. On the accession of Richard II. the price rose to 1d.; and from Henry V.'s coronation to Henry VIII.'s it was 2d. By the time Charles II. was crowned it had gone up to 2s. 6d.; while exactly double as much (5s.) was paid at the coronation of William III. Then the value of seats on such occasions appreciated enormously. To see the procession when George III. was crowned half a guinea was paid; and sightseers on George IV.'s day of days cheerfully paid five and in some cases ten guineas. This was considered the climax, but the value put on seats in later days has been much greater.

Why the enormous rise? The main reason, so far as our own times are concerned, is that wealthy Indians, Americans, and other foreign visitors have been willing to pay anything for a seat to witness a state pageant. Hence the value has been inflated.

The present high scale was set at Queen Victoria's Jubilee, when large sums were paid for rooms from the windows of which the procession could be seen. Few rooms, however small, could be hired for less than 10 guineas, and for many 150 guineas was demanded and paid. A large building on the route, being empty, was secured for the day by an enterprising individual for 1,000 guineas, and he had no reason to repent his outlay.

On the occasion of Queen Victoria's funeral the Jubilee rate for seats was confirmed. In St. James' street £10 had to be paid for a single chair, while seats which a few days before the procession were offered for 3 guineas afterwards fetched 5 guineas. A window which let when Lord Roberts came home for £210 found a hirer at £400 on the occasion of the Queen's funeral. As it will hold only fifty people at the utmost, the hirer must have charged pretty heavily for every seat in it. Again, some rooms in Piccadilly let for as much as 200 guineas.

High as these figures are, however, they were surpassed in several instances. The most remarkable "deal" in connection with the funeral was that of a gentleman who took a mansion near the Marble Arch for the day for the amazing sum of £1,500!

At Edward VII.'s coronation, and again at the royal progress, the price of seats was equally high. In South London some landlords evicted tenants that they might obtain windows for the function, and received more for a single day's occupancy of a part of their premises than they got in normal circumstances for the use of the whole for a year. Others, however, let their tenants make as much as possible on the occasion, with the result that many strenuous workers made handsome sums by letting their humble homes to sightseers.

Perhaps the highest price ever paid for a window was £1,200 secured by a landlord near the Marble Arch to enable some Americans to view the funeral procession of the King on its way to Paddington.

Queen-Mother's Relations.

No royal lady of any time has been so intimately related to such a large number of kings and queens as the Queen-Mother of Great Britain, who has been the recipient of world-wide sympathy in her great grief and sorrow. Her father and mother were king and queen, her husband was a king, her mother-in-law was the late Queen Victoria, her son is now King of Great Britain, her daughter is Queen of Norway, a sister was for some years Czarina of Russia and is now Dowager Empress, one brother is King of Denmark, another brother King of the Hellenes, one of her nephews is Czar of Russia, and another nephew, who is also her son-in-law, is King of Norway, while a third and fourth are destined to be King of Denmark and King of the Hellenes respectively.

"Charlie" Carrington.

Earl Carrington, who was recently appointed Lord Great Chamberlain of England by King George, is one of the largest landowners in England. The late King Edward and "Charlie" Carrington, as he is popularly known to his intimates, grew up together in close intimacy. For five years he was governor of New South Wales, where he studied agriculture. Lord Carrington returned home a convinced and enthusiastic land-reformer. He believes in getting men back to the land, and has established no fewer than 5,000 small holdings on his estates. The new Lord Great Chamberlain has a wide reputation as an excellent administrator.

Toy Spaniel an Old Breed.

The English toy spaniel is undoubtedly one of the oldest and most popular breeds of pet dogs known. As far back as the days of Charles the Martyr this breed was much prized by the ladies of the court. In the narrative of the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots, indorsed in Lord Burghley's hand and forwarded to the court, it was recorded that one of the executioners found her little pet (a spaniel of practically the same type as those afterward known in the reign of Charles II.), which had crept under the folds of her garments to be near her and which would not be taken away.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "Pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold supply. The Director of the United States Mint further said—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 18 hours out of twenty-four, these making up in length of working day, lots of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cyclo would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the pyramids of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment, and the gold recovered."

California in 48 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

THE CHURCH WILL FIGHT SPAIN TO THE BITTER END--SEE IRISH HOME RULE

Vatican Reviews The Trouble with Spain--Attacks Premier Canalejas

VATICAN SEES PLAN OF EXTREMISTS TO UNITE WITH PORTUGAL UNDER REPUBLICAN RULE.

Will Battle to a Finish--Mother of Victoria Is Accused of Forming Anti-Clerical Clique in Alfonso's Court.

Rome, Aug. 2.—Notwithstanding the extremely strained relations between the Vatican and the Spanish government the recall of Marquis de Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, has produced a great sensation in Rome. The vatican, in a semi-official publication, says the recall of the ambassador proves that the program of premier Canalejas was not arranged with the hope of accord, but with a desire to fight, and the communication adds, he will have it.

The vatican officials are taking the darkest view of the situation, not only in Spain, but in Portugal as well. They are of the opinion that the extreme parties in both countries aided by foreign elements, are trying to overthrow the respective monarchies, with the object of uniting the Iberian Peninsula under republican rule.

In Spain, it is pointed out, there is, in addition to the French Free Masonic influence, the English Protestant influence exercised over the king through the Battenbergs, who have established themselves at the Spanish court, consequent upon the king's marriage.

Pope Belies on Revolution.

The hope of the vatican is that Don Jaime, the Carlist pretender, who has threatened revolution, will raise the Carlist flag and vindicate Roman Catholicism.

The vatican attacks Premier Canalejas, declaring that he premeditated a rupture, as from the beginning of the differences he has on every occasion possible taken two steps backward in the negotiations for one that he has taken forward. Indeed, since the negotiations with the holy see with reference to the religious congregations began the premier has taken the following steps antagonistic to the vatican; First, the issuance of an unconstitutional decree, favoring non-Catholic creeds, thus violating the concordat with the holy see; second, the reproduction of the decree of 1902 against the congregations which was never inforce; third, the prepartion of the speech from the throne, which contained hostile and threatening expression against the Church; fourth, the projected bill prohibiting the institution of religious houses.

Knights of Columbus in Quebec.

Quebec, Aug. 2.—The annual convention of the supreme council of the Knights of Columbus will open this morning with a procession of the delegates to the Basilica, where Bishop Roy will officiate at pontifical high mass. The English sermon will be delivered by Bishop Fallon, of London, Ont., and the French sermon by Rev. Canon Gauthier of Montreal. At the conclusion of the church service the convention will be formally opened in the Auditorium Theatre. Mayor Drouyin will deliver an address of welcome and Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty will respond for the visitors. This afternoon the delegates will be received at Spencerwood by Lieutenant Governor Sir C. A. P. Pelletier.

76 OUTLAWS IN BIG IRON CAGE

Milan, Aug. 1.—An exciting Camorra trial has been proceeding for the last 28 days at the Lucera Assises. An enormous iron cage, in appearance something like a chicken run, has been specially constructed in court in order to stock 76 prisoners at once. All of them are Camorrists belonging to the local secret criminal societies of San Severo. They were defended by 10 lawyers, and there were over a hundred witnesses.

Many of the charges could not be proved owing to the intimidation of witnesses, who in cases of this kind are always fearful of a ruthless vendetta. Nevertheless the tribunal condemned several ringleaders to ten years' condemnent. Such scenes of savagery broke out among the condemned and their relatives and following in the town after the president had delivered sentence that three companies of soldiery and a hundred carabinieri who had been drafted into the town for the occasion to reinforce the local police proved none too many for preserving order. Special orders were also taken against a general outbreak which had been plotted at the jail.

Madmam Keeps Family Prisoner for Years

Rome, Aug. 2.—According to Naples messages appearing in the newspapers a wine merchant named Rea, who appeared to be out of his mind, has been keeping his wife and his eleven children shut up for the last five years in twevo different rooms in a country house near Naples. He seems to have watched over his prisoners with the utmost vigilance, feeding them with small portions of maize, potatoes, eggs and sometimes of fowl.

He recently allowed the two eldest sons to take short walks in the neighborhood of the house. Although under close supervision they managed to make their plight known to some neighbairs, who informed the police, with the result that the father was arrested.

The release of the prisoners afforded a very touching spectacle, the meeting between the mother and her sons after five years' separation being most affecting.

LIVER LAZINESS.

Successful Should Read This Closely.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night and in the morning feel so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should soon be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicines and mixtures Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged up system. My spirits rose. I felt much better, the sluggish action of the system gave way to normal activity dizziness and headache ceased, appetite, good color and ambition to work returned and have remained. I am like a new man and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Packhurst, a well-known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver and you'll enjoy good health and robust good health. Sees Irish Home Rule By Ex-President Roosevelt's Aid

SUGGESTION BY AN AMERICAN LEADS TO MOMENTOUS BRITISH CONFERENCE.

Birrell Gives Out Hint—Tenor of Talk Among Tories in House of Commons Lobbies Undergoes Big Change.

London, Aug. 1.—Whether or not the conferences between the government and opposition leaders evolve home rule, there is no doubt that the influences set in motion by Theodore Roosevelt when he was here are operating strongly toward settling this great problem.

Theodore Roosevelt advised King George that a measure of self government in Ireland would range the United States alongside Great Britain in any crisis. The king urged this advice on the leaders of both great parties, and, in consequence, the conference of which Premier Asquith and Mr. Balfour, the leader of the opposition, are members has been discussing not the lords' veto, as has been generally supposed, but home rule. Since the publishing of this information several significant events have shown which way the wind is blowing.

BROADLY HINTS HOME RULE.

Irish Secretary Birrell, addressing the Eighty Club, composed of younger liberals, told them they are probably nearer than any of them imagines to a settlement of home rule, by which each of the three kingdoms will have charge of its own local affairs.

Mr. Birrell, representing Ireland and her demands, is a member of the conference of the leaders, which still continues, and every one has connected this declaration of his with what has been going on behind the doors of the conference.

The Daily Express, hitherto a ferocious opponent of home rule, came out yesterday with a strongly sympathetic pronouncement. The Daily Express is not an influential leader of political thought, but it could have plunged in for home rule only on knowledge from inside sources that a momentous development in that direction impends.

The most significant of all is the tenor of talk among the Tories in the House of Commons lobbies. The younger Tories and a good many of the older ones are weary of being tied to the coat tails of the Ulster Orangemen. Moreover, many tories are convinced that the cry, "The union is in danger!" will never again rally the country to the polls to vote the Tory ticket.

SEEK TO END THE TANGLE.

Furthermore, the Tories fear they cannot hope to regain control of the imperial parliament so that they can further tariff reform until the Irish members have gone to manage their own affairs at home. An Irish Nationalist leader, whose name would command respect everywhere if he permitted its use here, said yesterday:

"It would create a political sensation if I told you who the Tories are, especially those of the younger school, who have come to me to say they would accept home rule now.

STRIKE CONFERENCES CONTINUE

Montreal, Aug. 1.—Conferences between W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor and both sides in the Grand Trunk strike continued throughout today, and while no definite statement is obtainable, it is said that the situation has been clarified. The negotiations will continue tomorrow.

Reports from towns and villages entirely dependent upon the Grand Trunk state that the failure to receive freight is causing the closing of factories, and at some points a coal famine is imminent.

Mr. Ed. Mann Tells of the Growth of the City of Prince Rupert

Mr. Robert Mann, of 214 London street, has received a letter from his son Edward, who is located in Prince Rupert. The letter speaks in glowing terms of the prospects and the growth of the G.T.P. terminus, also the rapid progress of the new city in building operations, etc. Public buildings and stores seem to shoot up in a night. The new city of Prince Rupert is being admirably laid out into business and residental sections; a hospital has been erected recently and a new city hall. Mr. Mann in his letter fittingly describes all these as well as the beautiful parcels of land being set aside for parks which have watering places adjacent to them boating, etc., Everything is being done with a fore sight of the Prince Rupert that is to be, when that city will be one of the metropolises of Canada. At the mouth of Hay's cove, one of the city's numerous beauty spots the government will build one of the largest dry docks on the Pacific coast. A subsidy has already been granted and their maintenance for 20 years by the government guaranteed. Mr. Mann has recently purchased a lot near this location, between Hay's Cove Circle and Seal Cove Circle, on one of the main thoroughfares of Prince Rupert. Supplies are being brought in ready to start the building of the G.T.P at that end. The "Bella" of Scotland, recently left a cargo of 3000 tons of steel rails, and the "Bella" of Spain left a cargo of 3500 tons. These rails are brought round Cape Horn from Sidney, Cape Breton, and the voyage takes about 57 days.

The weather has been perfect in Prince Rupert, having but two days' rain since July 1st.

Stewart, I presume, forms a topic of interest for eastern papers, and the townsite property has been boomed to a standstill. The prices are so inflated as to prohibit any further movement in town real estate. The mines though are without doubt all that is claimed for them. The Roosevelt, Portland, Red Cliffe and Little Joe-OK, are about the pick of the bunch.

Eighteen Negroes Killed in Racial Clash in Texas

Palestine, Tex., Aug. 1.—At least 18 negroes were killed in a racial clash in the extreme northeastern section of Anderson county last night and today, the culmination of an enmity between the races brewing for several weeks.

Eighteen is the number of dead, according to the more conservative reports which have reached here from the isolated section where the disorder occurred. Other reports place the total fatalities at between 30 and 40. It was also reported that several white men were either killed or wounded, but each rumor as to casualities among the whites has met an authoritative denial.

Tonight troops reached Palestine and immediately began an overland march of about 25 miles to the scene of the rioting. The arrival of the soldiers had a wholesome effect and tonight the belligerents are reported to be dispersing. Further bloodshed will in all probability be averted.

The Dead Rulers of the United States

After many years of implicit faith in the superiority of the constitution of the United States over that of any other civilized country the people are now being told with growing emphasis that it is by no means a perfect instrument of government. For its day it was undoubtedly a remarkable document. Mr. Gladstone once declared it was the most wonderful work ever accomplished by the human brain. There is no need to derogate from the skill with which the conflicting claims of the federal and state authorites were practically adjusted. A compromise was absolutely required, and had the circumstances of the time been capable of perpetuation, all that is claimed for the United States constitution might have been conceded. But the expansion of the country, the vast increase in population, in industry and commerce, and the unscrupulous financial methods which have distinguished the last half century have produced problems which are rendered insoluble, or at least highly difficult through the dead hands of the makers of the constitution.

The United States prides itself on occupying the leading place as an exponent of democracy—claims indeed to be the only true democracy among the great nations of the world. The truth is that whatever it may have been the United States today is less responsive to democratic developments than any other of the free peoples. Reforms are hard to secure at any time where they are opposed by highly organized classes determined to retain the privileges they have either inherited or acquired and where they control the political machinery of the country. But they are trebly hard in the United States when an act of congress passed after strenuous conflict and really expressive of the popular will may be invalidated by the supreme court because in its opinion, or in the opinion of the majority of the judges who compose it, the act infringes some one or other of the sacred principles of the constitution.

In Britain and in countries to which parliamentary practice has descended, no such barrier to reform exists. Parliament is supreme and the courts can only interpret its acts.

Otonabee on Lake Simcoe.

That the Otonabee Navigation Co. has played a big figure in bringing closer together this city and the towns on Lake Simcoe is demonstrated by the fact that the Steamer Otonabee of that company, has been busy on Lake Simcoe during the past week. She has been plying between Orillia, Barrie and other points on that stretch of water. Mr. Pinckin, general manager of the company, has been making things hum at that end of the waterway in his company's interests. It is the intention of the company to place a steamer on Lake Simcoe next season. The Steamer Otonabee will leave Fenelon Falls with an excursion today and will return to Peterborough in a few days.

No G.T.R. Freight for Toronto.

As an indication that the unfortunate strike of the G.T.R. trainmen has not yet been settled, is proven by the fact that instructions have been sent the Grand Trunk Railway in this city not to receive any freight for Toronto, as the officials cannot get the freight out of Toronto as fast as it was going in.

A BOON TO STOCK RAISERS.

To Know How to Cure Colic, Distemper, Colds, Swellings, Etc.—

It is a matter of vital importance to every farmer, horse-owner and stock raiser to know exactly what to do when one of his animals is taken suddenly sick.

The letter of Mr. Drank F. Fullerton, which we print below, gives information of inestimable value, and tells of his experience in curing ailing stock during the past thirty-eight years:

SAVED $1,000 BY NERVILINE

"Several years ago when my horses took colic I used to give them Cayenne Pepper in hot milk, but in a few cases only did it help, and because I had no proper means at hand I lost several valuable animals. Some one told me of the success Mr. Wendling of Brockville, Ont., had in his racing stables with "Nerviline," so I laid in a supply. It wasn't very long before Nerviline saved the life of a valuable stallion of mine, which was worth at least a $1,000. This horse was taken with colic, and would have died, had it not been for Nerviline. I have used Nerviline for reducing swellings, for taking out distemper lumps, and easing a bad cough, and always found it worked well. I recommend every man who owns horses or cattle to keep Nerviline on hand.

Mr. Fullerton is one of the best known residents of Stormont, and his recommendation as an experienced and practical horseman proved beyond question how valuable Nerviline really is.

Give Nerviline a trial. It's good for man or beast, interbally or externally. 25c. per bottle or five for $1.00. At all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

ADVERTISING.

This is the admission of the Rev. James W. Kramer. He is pastor of the first Baptist church in Spokane.

"I have drawn people to hear my sermons by advertising. I have attracted them with moving pictures, hot suppers, pink teas, and flowers and flags. The church that does not advertise is behind the times, and is earning empty pews."

Mr. Kramer means well, but he does not know much about advertising. There was a time when it was considered good policy for a boot and shoe merchant to attract attention to his advertisement by illustrating it with a picture of a beef steak or something equally foreign to his business. The butcher, on the other hand, would like as not pick out a boot as a suitable illustration, the idea apparently being to surprise the reader. The plan was a failure. The maxim of successful advertising today is this: Picture what you sell, quote prices on what you have tastock, be ready to back up your advertisement to the last letter.

What Mr. Kramer has been advertising is not a church but a restaurant. If that is what he conducts, there is nothing more to say. But if he thinks to whet the public's appetite for his sermons by advertising Ma pink teas, he is making a mistake. He is right of course, in saying that the church that does not advertise is behind the times, but he errs in his definition of advertising. Churches which find it profitable to advertise their picnic excursions and their bazaars and their lectures sometimes overlook the fact that it would pay them to advertise their regular services as well. The church which advertises its tea meetings but gives no publicity to its weekly religious services cannot complain if the public concludes that in its tea meetings lies the essence of its existence. In its advertising its notions rather than its staples. The progressive merchant advertises both.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SENSELESS CHARGES.

Mr. James Murdock is quoted in a contemporary as saying in reference to the Grand Trunk strike: "I can cite cases of absolutely green men being placed in charge of trains; I know instances where the trains have run past signals hung out to indicate that there were orders there for them through the ignorance of the train crew, and other instances where trains ran for miles against each other," There is something radically wrong here, Either the newspaper makes a fool of Mr. Murdock or the latter is making a fool of the newspaper. In either case the result is the same, stupidity being employed to fool the public and create a feeling that travel on the Grand is not safe. Test trains are running past displayed order boards simply because they happen to have a nonunion conductor and brakeman on board is such a ridiculous assertion that it can only excite laughter among people who know. It is, however, calculated to cause apprehension among the travelling public, and for their enlightenment it may be mentioned that the conductor, the brakeman and the baggageman have nothing to do with the train order board until the train has stopped.

Who Said Huethers?

We All Did.

The board is there for the guidance of the engineer, and he is the man responsible. If a train runs past a displayed order board he is to blame. When he stops for an order board he is not expected to move his train again until he secures his release in the shape of the orders the board was hung out for. Surely it is not intended to convey to the public the idea that the Grand Trunk engineers are a careless lot of men not to be trusted with a train unless they have a brotherhood conductor on board to see that they do not run past displayed order boards. Again, there is the charge that trains have been running for miles against each other. How did that happen? A train cannot run against another train unless it is running against an order. It surely is not charged that the Grand Trunk engineers have been running contrary to orders. It certainly is the duty of the engineers to enter a protest against this charge of criminal carelessness on their part of no matter whether the fault lies with Mr. Murdock or the newspapers.—Montreal Gazette, July 27th, 1910.

GRAND TRUNK STRIKE SETTLED—MEN TO RETURN TO WORK THIS MORNING

Smith Township Boy Killed by Kick from Cow

The sympathy of the residents of Smith, as well as that of his many friends in the city, will be extended to Mr. George Wheeler, of the 7th concession of that township, over the death of his nineteen-year-old son George, yesterday.

The circumstances leading to this deplored loss of a young man who gave every promise of being a good and useful member of the community, are peculiar. On Sunday, Mr. Geo. Wheeler, Jr., went out to do his daily round of duty, including the milking of the cows on his father's farm. Whilst approaching one of the cows, the animal kicked viciously at the young man, and unfortunately her hoof struck him on the abdomen. Mr. Wheeler, as a result of the blow, and consequent shock to his system, became unconscious and was taken to the house. Medical aid was at once summoned, but, in spite of all that medical skill and family love could do for the young man, he never rallied from the effect of the cow's kick, dying early yesterday morning. The deceased was well known throughout the township of Smith, as a most promising young man, whose untimely death will be deplored by all who knew him.

Besides his father and mother, the deceased leaves to mourn his loss a brother, William, the well-known cheese maker at Belleville, who has been notified of the sad occurrence, two sisters, Harriet and Mary, and a small brother and sister, all living at home.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Mr. Geo. Wheeler, senior's residence in Smith, to the Lakefield cemetery, Rev. Mr. McGregor of Lakefield Baptist church, conducting the services.

Local Citizen's Invention in Favorable Test

Last night a number of citizens gathered in front of China Hall, attracted by an unusually brilliant light flooding George street from that store. The assemblage naturally attracted a representative of The Times, who entered the store to enquire about the light which seemed to make "Old Sol" look like a cancelled postage stamp. Within were Messrs. McFarlane Wilson, the proprietor, and Mr. H. D. Burnett, the lamp expert of the Canadian General Electric Company.

It seems that Mr. Wilson, who has been experimenting in the manufacture of carbons, was testing the result of his scientific and persistent labors. The lamp situated to the rear of China Hall, contained the new carbons of the local experimentalist. This lamp, with Mr. Wilson's new invention threw abroad a light that, diamond-like and white in its purity, radiated a light that the human eye, naked, could hardly look at for over a second or two. Mr. Wilson, after a time, put a white opaque shade over his light. This resulted in a somewhat less dazzling but strangely brilliant light. Should the gentleman referred to succeed in overcoming a slight flicker that showed in the test, he has a carbon that will make the electrical world sit up and take notice.

THE REPORT CORRECT.

License Commission Passed the Resolution as Noted in Local Press.

Yesterday some considerable talk was extant "on the street," regarding an article which stated practically that the License Commissioners had passed a resolution "Deploring the drunkenness in the hotels and on the streets," of Peterborough. A Times reporter was tackled by several gentlemen who both objected to the insertion of the resolution and who maintained that the commissioners would, or could, not have passed such a resolution that would meet with publicity in the local press The Times reporter to settle this question, went to the office of Mr. Jos. Stewart, license inspector, and saw the original resolution as passed. Our report was word for word as the resolution was taken down at the commission meeting. As to whether the resolution was well, or ill-advised is not for us, but for the commissioners to consider. We simply gave the news and gave it correctly. We might say that the publication of this article is done after consulting with Inspector Stewart. Mr. Stewart, in response to an enquiry put by The Times, said "As far as that part of the resolution which refers to a warning to license holders not to sell to a form er black-listed man goes, it is absolutely correct. Mr. Stewart intimated that the man who sells to a former black listed man, even though his time of probation is passed, may lose his license next year.

THOSE ROBBED YACHTS.

Police Arrest Edward Carpenter of Ashburnham.

It will be remembered that launch owners last fall suffered from petty thefts. Part of the machinery in various power craft were stolen. In one case an engine valued at $200, and the property of Rollie Wilson, was taken from a yacht at the foot of Sherbrooke street and the boat was sent to the bottom.

The engine was recovered by the police at Edward Carpenter's shop, Ashburnham, and he was taken into custody on a charge of stealing it. Part of other boats were also found. The case against the accused will be tried in a day or two.

TO BE EXECUTED TO-MORROW.

Prescott, Ariz., Aug. 3.—Sheriff Smith has completed all preparations for the execution Friday of Frank Spence, convicted of the murder of Edgar Sullivan nearly two years ago. A new gallows frame has been constructed in the county jail in readiness for the hanging.

Portugal to Follow Example of Spain?

INDICATIONS THAT IT TOO, WILL SEVER DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH ROME.

The Vatican's Position—Said in Rome That Influence is Being Brought to Bear on the Pope.

Lisbon, Aug. 2.—Indications today are that Portugal will soon follow the example of Spain in severing diplomatic relations with the Vatican, and will inaugurate an active campaign to divorce State affairs from domination by the Catholic Church.

Portuguese officialdom has been complaining for months of what it considers the undue influence of the Vatican in Portugal's internal affairs while the Vatican is said to have considered that, for a country as strongly Catholic as Portugal, the government was behaving toward it in a curiously unfriendly manner. The Spanish rupture has brought the Portuguese situation much more to the fore.

The local tension culminated recently when the pope, disapproving of the tone of the Portuguese Franciscan paper, "The Voice of St. Anthony," directed Cardinal Merry Del Val to order the bishop of Braga to suppress the journal. The paper suspended publication. The Portuguese Government promptly issued a royal decree strongly censuring the whole proceeding on the ground that the vatican has infringed upon the royal prerogative by failing to submit the papal order to the king for approval.

It is significant that the pope, since this incident, has rejected, in succession, the Portuguese government's nomination of two distinguished politicians as successors to Senor Antas, who recently died, as ambassador to the vatican. No successor has been chosen as yet, and the opinion is becoming general that the post will never again be filled.

The friction between Lisbon and Rome is believed to be due in large part to the influence of Spain.

THE SITUATION AT ROME.

Rome, Aug. 2.—In the hope that King Alfonso of Spain will eventually be forced by public opinion to dismiss Premier Canalejas, and appoint a pro-clerical to the post, the pope is semi-officially reported today to be turning a deaf ear to the appeals of a majority of the cardinals for a more lenient policy, a less antagonistic course towards the Spanish government.

The pope is believed by many to be much under the influence of inconsiderate advisors, and he is being urged to make some sweeping changes in his official family. There are no indications, however, of Pius yielding.

Despatches from Madrid say the overthrow of the anti-clericals is impossible at the present time, though there is the strongest prospect that they will win only after a bitter fight. The Carlists and independent clericals have formed an alliance, and today they sent the following warning to Canalejas:

"We are determined to use any and every means to effect your overthrow, without regard for the consequences."

While this threat breathes the spirit of civil war, it is known that the vatican officials have received private advices from Spain that the clericals even though supported by a large part of the people, are in no position to engage in war with the government. These despatches have said plainly that Alfonso's position has been greatly strengthened by the events of the last few days.

TO GUARD ALPHONSO.

Paris, Aug. 2.—Prefect of Police Lepine is taking every possible precaution today to guard the lives of King Alphonso and Queen Victoria, when they arrive in Paris tonight, en route to England. The royal pair reached Rambouillet today, where they were the guests of President Fallieres at luncheon. They will leave Rambouillet late this afternoon, and will stop at the Hotel Maurice until Wednesday evening.

Paris is alive with Spanish refugees, who were turned back from their intended invasion of Spain on last Friday by an unexpected show of military strength. It is feared that some of these may attempt the life of Alphonso.

Local Bride for Hamilton.

A charming local wedding was solemnized at 376 Sherbrooke street, when Miss Lizzie Johnston of Scotland, who came here recently, and Mr. George Haddow of Hamilton, were joined in marriage by Rev. Mr. Brown of Toronto. The bride given away by Mr. Robert Smith, was prettily attired in agown of cream silk colleane trimmed with cream lace, and carried a beautiful bridal bouquet of white carnations. Miss Maud Smith, becomingly gowned, was bridesmaid. Mr. Chas. Barrie, of Hamilton, but formerly a resident of this city, acted as best man. The young couple will live in Hamilton.

President Wagner will occupy the chair at the opening meeting and deliver his annual address. An interesting program has been arranged for the three days of the convention.

On the Trail of Corruption.

New York, Aug. 2.—The joint executive committee appointed to investigate charges of legislative corruption in New York State met at the Murray Hill Hotel in this city today to decide upon a tentative course of procedure. Assemblyman Edwin A. Merritt, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting.

THE WEATHER.

G. T. R. Strike Settled

(Special to The Times.)

Montreal, Aug. 2.—The conference between Messrs. Lee and Garretson, representing the men, and President Hays, representing the company, has at last reached a settlement. Neither side would make a statement to the press at the close of the conference but promised that one would be given out shortly.

The local Grand Trunk men who are on strike here received word last night from their headquarters in Lindsay to the effect that the company and the representatives of the men had come to an agreement and the men here were authorized to return to work this morning.

This will be good news for if the strike had continued in progress much hardship would have been entailed upon the public. Many towns and cities have already suffered greatly from the effects of the strike especially was this the case in places that had only G.T.R. connections. The result of which was the closing of many of the large industries.

Crippen's Last Chance Gone—Body Identified

London, Aug. 2.—The body found mutilated and buried in the cellar of 39 Hilldrop Crescent, London, hitherto referred to officially as that of "an unknown woman," has positively been identified as the body of Belle Elmore, wife of Dr. H. H. Crippen, who is now under arrest in Quebec for her murder.

This was made known today by Coroner Danford Thomas, who conducted the first session of the inquest at Islington, and will preside when it is resumed on August 15. As the coroner is sure of his ground the case against Crippen has been clinched.

"There is no doubt of the identity according to the last information of the police," says Dr. Thomas.

He refused to go into details, however, or either deny or affirm the report that the missing head had been found.

Besides the results of the exhaustive chemical analysis made by Prof. Pepper, the prosecutor has been aided by fresh evidence secured by the police, and when the case against Crippen is finally made known, it is understood that the world will be surprised at its completeness.

PAY TRIBUTE TO HOLD JOBS.

Steel Works Laborers Reported Fleeced Out of Big Sums.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Labor agents in collusion with "Black Handers" and foremen of gangs of men employed by the Illinois Steel Company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation, are fleecing laborers of from $3,000 to $5,000 monthly, according to charges that are being investigated.

An Italian labor agent at Chicago, is alleged to be at the head of a scheme by which it is charged laborers are forced to pay monthly or quarterly tributes to the "system," referred to as the "big boss fund," in order to hold their jobs. Foremen also have collected from $15 to $25 in giving jobs, it is charged, and one foreman now being prosecuted at Hammond, Ind., for violation of the labor laws.

Laborers who have resisted paying have received "Black Hand" letters threatening, "You will lose your tongue."

The Steel Company employ non-union labor, and the men are mostly foreigners.

The Wheat Yield will be Pretty Good

Winnipeg, Aug. 2.—The first instalment of Free Press annual crop reports shows conditions to be fairly favorable. The yield in Brandon district is placed at 10 bushels per acre, making allowances for places where the grain is badly burned.

Excellent conditions are reported from Dauphin and 10 to 12 bushels to the acre are reported at Mirris in southern Manitoba, where the crop was supposed to have been ruined.

At Stoughton, in southern Saskatchewan, there are indications of 11 bushels to the acre, and at Langham, in the northern part of the Province, the promise is 15 bushels.

The greatest surprise is at Swift Current, which was supposed to be dried out. The yield there is placed 12 to 15 bushels. Conditions were vastly improved by a series of heavy showers early this morning in various districts throughout the three Provinces. It is sure to help the filling of the wheat, and in some parts, it is likely to increase the acreage yield about three bushels.

A cloudburst occurred at Saskatoon, drenching the town, about an inch of rain having fallen in a very short time. There is heavy rain at Battleford, and showers at many other points with cloudy conditions everywhere.

Your complexion as well as your temper is rendered miserable by a disordered liver. By taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets you can improve both. Sold by all dealers.

CROP FAILURE SEEN.

Loss of $400,000,000 Predicted by Expert in Agriculture.

Paris, Aug. 2.—Under the heading, "A National Disaster," the Matin presents a most pessimistic forecast of the crops and all agricultural produce in France, prepared from complete and exceptionally authoritative data by F. Berthault, professor at at the National School of Agriculture at Grignon and head of the landed estate department of the great French banking establishment Le Credit Foncier.

M. Berthault estimates that the shortage as compared with even a poor year, will represent a loss of $400,000,000. Even should the weather now become finer, the yield of of wheat will not, according to the expert, exceed 300,000,000 bushels, a shortage of about 60,000,000 bushels as compared with a normal year.

The Echo de Paris has reports which corroborate Berthault's statements.

HOW THE BLIND READ AND WRITE.

Accompanying his annual letter, in which he asks the Readers of The Times to send him the names and post office addresses of any boys or girls, known to them, whose eyesight is so defective that they cannot attend the Public schools with advantage, Principal Gardiner, of the Ontario Institution for the Education of the Blind, at Brantford, sends us a card on which he has printed, without ink, the letters used by the blind in their reading. These letters are composed of raised dots or points, arranged in two horizontal rows, and the combinations of points that have been contrived to represent the various literary, numeral and musical characters are most ingenious. Point letters are much easier to read with the fingers than line letters, and blind children soon learn to read and write words, figures and music signs, the writing being done with a steel stylus and a brass frame which they call a slate. The School for the Blind is maintained by the Ontario Government as a part of our free school system, under the supervision of the minister of education, and the principal will promptly answer any letter of inquiry concerning the school and its work.

Grew Dull, Lost Snap, Vim.

A man never realizes the strain of life until failing ability to work brings it sharply home to him. "I am an insurance agent," writes Mr. W. E. Nemino of Montreal, and to make commissions, a man must have both energy and snap. My digestive organs began to give out; first a sluggish action of the bowels filled my blood with humors. A little scratch would fester and my face got red and pimply. Hot rushes of blood to the head made me very irritable and prevented sleep. I thought I could exercise it off, but the more I did, the more strength I lost. Finally I asked my druggist to recommend a pill that would cure constipation and slow-acting liver—he endorsed Dr. Hamilton's. The first dose told me he had hit it right. So active yet so mild in action—no trouble to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I think them a wonder. I am now as fat as ever, blues all gone, energy enough to get business and give me pleasure and interest in life. Dr. Hamilton's Pills I consider a wonder."

Refuse any other pill but Dr. Hamilton's 25c per box, all dealer, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

DYING OF CHOLERA.

Local Physicians Says Thousands Dying in Europe Can Be Saved With Proper Medicine.

What is it that keeps down cholera, cramps and summer complaints in America? Ask any doctor or live druggist and he will tell you Nerviline. Just fancy, a million bottles are sold every year to people who use Nerviline for stomach disorder, cramps, flatulence, and summer complaint. For fifty years in most Canadian homes no other pain relieving medicine but Nerviline is kept. Nothing cures the itches, pains and sickness of the entire family so quickly as Nerviline.

LETTER NO. 4672

"As far back as I can remember, at least 50 years ago there was never a time in our house when we were without Nerviline. In the summer time, when the children ate green apples and got sick with diarrhoea and cramps, it was Nerviline that cured them. My father used Nerviline frequently to cure gas on his stomach and acute indigestion. There are but few minor ailments that Nerviline does not cure, and I know of no medicine so useful; in fact so indispensable around the home as Nerviline.

This letter written by Mrs. N. C. Butcher, a well known resident in Battersea, shows the high opinion who have used it constantly for entertained of Nerviline by those nearly half a century.

You'll never regret using Nerviline. Get it today, keep it on hand for an accident or sudden case of sickness in your home. Refuse anything else offered you instead of Nerviline. 25c. per bottle, or five for $1.00. All dealers or the Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

PREFERENCE DESIRABLE.

Mr. Haldane is afraid that imperial tariff preference will be an obstacle to unity, and an interference with freedom. He finds no such objection to imperial conference, the imperial general staff and other military co-operation. Why cannot Mr. Haldane conceive of Great Britain, without the slightest outside control, giving a tariff preference to Canada and Canada, in the same free way, continuing to give a preference to Britain? All the self-governing Dominions could do the same thing without the slightest coercion from outside. This is surely as easy as co-operation in the creation of an imperial staff.

AN INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY.

The Church of England will in September next celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of the beginning of its ministry in Canada. In 1710 there were no Anglicans in the regions now comprising Ontario and Quebec. But Acadia was ceded two Great Britain in that year. The British had taken possession more than once before but had given the country back to France. The cession of 1710 was final so far as Nova Scotia proper was concerned, and that year regular services of the Church of England began at Port Royal, now Annapolis.

Roman Catholic worship had been conducted at Port Royal for a century before that time. Thus it happens that two memorial festivals will take place in Eastern Canada almost simultaneously, one celebrating the completion of the second century of Anglican worship and one the completion of the third century since the first Catholic baptism.

More than seventy years passed after the beginning of Protestant worship before the first diocese in what is now Canada was established and the first bishop consecrated. This was after the American revolution and was one of the results of that separation. The first bishop nearly all his clergy and the great part of their congregation were Loyalists. The diocese of Nova Scotia is the oldest colonial diocese in the British Empire. The whole of British America, as far west as Lake Superior, appears to have been under the jurisdiction of Bishop Inglis. A part of the bicentennial celebration will be the opening of the new All Saints' Cathedral at Halifax. The diocese of Nova Scotia is the mother of several others which have stately cathedrals. But there has been none in Halifax until now.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "primity," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold supplies. The Director of the United States Mint further said:—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 20 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cookie would starve."

Cutting Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

Cupid's Darts vs. Winchester Bullets

Far away hills look green, as tales of far away princesses sound touching. The New York World, of latest issue, devotes a whole illustrated page description of how and when the Maharanee of Baroda, shot a fierce tiger. This story is well told. Still last night a story, told, that for tragedy, conveyed a tale containing a story a thousand-fold more heart touching. A well known local clerk, last night called upon a young lady of his acquaintance, living upon Gilmour street, and told that old old story. Unfortunately, the young man, instead of an acceptance, was "handed a lemon." His face and actions told a story, much more touching than that of the Indian Princess who, with Winchester in hand, killed a tiger. Cupid's darts when hurled straight and then recoiled, leave a worse wound than any Winchester bullet. The clerk referred to was advised by a friend, to whom his trouble was confided, that "SHE" is not the only woman who knows how to dust furniture, broil a beefsteak or put the kettle on a kitchen stove. The result was that the clerk handed the mitten," passed a remark, not heard distinctly, but sounding like a complimentary valedictory.

TOOK HIM AT HIS WORD.

Don Platt's Client Had a Stunted Sense of Humor.

A quaint story about Don Platt is told in the "Recollections of a Varied Life," by George Cary Eggleston. The story is given in Mr. Platt's own words:

"When I was a young man trying to get into a law practice in Ohio and eager to advertise myself by appearing in court a fellow was indicted for arson. He came to me, explaining that he had no money with which to pay a lawyer, but that he thought I might like to appear in a case so important and that if I would do the best I could for him he stood ready to do anything for me that he could by way of recompense. I took the case, of course. It was a complex one, and it offered opportunities for browbeating and 'balling up' witnesses—a process that specially impresses the public with the ingenuity of a lawyer who does it successfully. Then, if by any chance I should succeed in acquitting my client, my place at the bar would be assured as that of 'a sharp young feller who had beaten the prosecuting attorney himself.'

"But in telling my client I would take his case the demon of humor betrayed me. Just across the street from my lodging was a negro church, and there was a 'revival' going on at the time. They 'revived' till 2 o'clock or later every night with shoutings that interfered with my sleep. With playful impulse I said to the accused man:

"'You seem to be an expert in the arts of arson. If you'll burn that negro church I'll feel that you have paid me full price for my service in defending you.'

"I defended him, and as the witnesses against him were all of shady character I succeeded in securing his acquittal. About 4 o'clock the next morning a fire broke out under all four corners of that negro church, and before the local fire department got a quart of water into action it was a heap of smouldering ashes, hymn books and all. A week or so later I received a letter from my ex-client. He wrote from St. Louis, 'on his way west,' he said. He expressed the hope that I was 'satisfied with results' and begged me to believe that he was 'a man of honor, who never failed to repay an obligation or reward a service.'"

FIRST PICTURE BOOK.

The Daring Idea That Was Carried Out by Johann Comenius.

Some 300 years ago a German savant had a wonderful vision. At that time children were taught to read by force of arms, so to speak, through hardships and with bitter toil on the part of teacher and of child. It seems curious that the first real step toward lightening the labor of children as they climb the ladder of learning was the product of the imagination not of some fond mother or gentlewoman teacher, but of a bowlegged and bottled university doctor.

It was Johann Comenius, however, who first conceived the daring idea that children could be taught by the aid of the memory and the imagination working together, "by means," as he quaintly expressed it, "of sensuous impressions conveyed to the eye, so that visual objects may be made the medium of expressing moral lessons to the young mind and of impressing those lessons upon the memory." In other words, the good herr doctor had the bright idea that picture books could be useful to children. Comenius made his first picture book and called it the "Orbis Pictus." It contains rude woodcuts representing objects in the natural world, as trees and animals, with little lessons about the pictures. It is a quaint volume and one that would cause the average modern child not a little astonishment were it placed before him.

As truly, however, as that term may be applied to any other book that has since been written, the "Orbis Pictus" was an epoch making book. It is the precursor of all children's picture books, and modern childhood has great cause to bless the name of Comenius.

Not the Same Spelling.

A stout man had occasion to go to a doctor to see whether something could not be done to reduce his obesity. "It's a disgrace, doctor!" he cried. "Just look at this bay window of mine! Now, what would you advise?"

"Well," replied the physician, eying his waist line, "all I can suggest is to diet."

"All right, doctor, I'm willing. What color would you suggest?"—St. Louis Republic.

A Pious Wish.

It was in a city hospital that a man refused to undergo an operation for appendicitis until his minister could be present.

"What do you want the minister here for?" asked the surgeon.

"Because I want to be opened with prayer," was the reply.—New York Tribune.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

HIGH FEELINGS AROUSED OVER ACCESSION DECLARATION BILL

London, Eng., Aug. 3.—The accession declaration bill, which was read a third time in the House of Lords yesterday evening obtained the royal assent today.

London, Eng., Aug. 3.—The accession declaration bill, striking out the clauses objected to by Roman Catholics, was passed by the House of Lords on its third reading yesterday, no changes having been made in the form adopted by the Commons. The bill now only awaits the royal assent.

The oath now reads as follows:

"I do solemnly ,sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify,and declare that I am a faithful Protestant,and that I will, according to true intent of the enactments to secure the Protestant succession to the throne of my realm, uphold and maintain said enactments to the best of my power."

The unanimity of parliament in adopting the bill is in striking contrast to the high feelings throughout the country. In Scotland the members were deluged with petitions The Non-Conformists did not like the reference to the "Church of England as bylaw established."

The House of Commons passed the first reading of the bill on June 28, by a vote of 360 to 42 and the second division was agreed to on Wednesday last without a division.

Men Lose Pensions Were Not Faithful, Says Pres. Hays

Montreal, Aug. 3.—That the old employes of the company who went out on strike and were taken back by the company this morning will not be reinstated so that they may receive the pensions which many of them would have drawn within a few years for long service with the company was stated positively by President Hayes this morning.

The men are coming back as new employes, according to the Grand Trunk officials, and as such will have to start counting their term of service with the company from today. During the conferences with Mackenzie King the ground was taken by the company that the men having quit the service forfeited all rights to pensions, and that the matter was not open to discussion.

It was stated last night by Presidents Garretson and Lee that the men expected to resume their status quo with regard to pensions on returning to work, but President Hays today denied this, saying it was acknowledged that all the men who went on strike had lost their claims on the pension fund.

WERE NOT FAITHFUL.

The pension fund was inaugurated by the company of its own will for the purpose of rewarding employes who had long been faithful to the company. By going on strike the men did not show themselves faithful and therefore they naturally cannot expect to get that reward. The men will continue to benefit from the Provident and Benefit fund, to which they themselves pay a contribution. To the pension fund the employes were not asked to pay a cent. It was a gift from the company and there is absolutely no question about it being forfeited by those who went on strike.

"It won't take long for seventeen months to pass," Vice-President James Murdock said this morning when asked about the strike settlement which had been reached. "We did hope that we would get the men what we considered what was due them without this delay, but now that the thing has been decided upon we will have to wait patiently for the coming of New Year's, 1912."

"The members of the committee which has had charge of the strike are very well satisfied with the progress that was made," Mr. Murdock continued. "They have done the best they could for the men and the men seem to feel that this is the case."

GETTING THE STRIKE PAY.

"Had the present strike been settled up twenty-four hours sooner," Mr. Murdock said, "the cost to the union would have been from $65,000 to $150,000 less than it will be now. Had the negotiations been concluded in time to call the strike off at 6 o'clock on Monday it would not have lasted two weeks, and it is doubtful if any strike pay would have been paid at all."

OLD RESIDENT GONE.

Death of Mr. W. J. Geary of the Township of Ennismore.

One of the oldest and most respected residents of Ennismore, in the person of Mr. W. J. Geary, passed away yesterday morning. Mr. Geary was in his seventy-seventh year, and had lived in that township sixty-nine years.

The late Mr. Geary was born in Peterborough. His father was the contractor on the woodwork of the old brewery, at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets. The deceased left this place to reside in Ennismore at the age of eight years.

Mr. Geary was taken ill about a month ago. Surviving him are his widow and a family of ten children. The sons are Messrs. William of this city, and John, Michael and Alexander, of Ennismore, and the daughters are Misses Lizzie and Kittie, city; Mrs. Wm. Corbett and Mrs. Peter Castercon, city; Miss J. C. Geary, Ottawa, and Mrs. Con. Sullivan, Victoria Road.

The funeral will take place from the homestead, lot 2, concession 3, Ennismore, on Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock, and proceed to St. Martin's church and thence to St. Martin's cemetery.

DEATH OF MR. JAS. PAYTON.

Passed Away at His Home on Aylmer Street Yesterday.

In the death of Mr. James Payton, which occurred at 6.15 yesterday, at his residence, 571 Harvey street, Peterborough loses an old and highly esteemed citizen.

Mr. Payton was 64 years of age and was born in Dummer. He came to Peterborough thirty-five years ago, and engaged in the pump business on George street, with which he was connected until the time of his death.

Surviving him are his wife and four sons, namely, Albert and George of Niagara Falls; Mitchell of Campbellford, and Arthur of this city.

The funeral will take place from the home to Warsaw cemetery at 1.30 this afternoon.

The Gathering o' the Clans.

All arrangements are now completed for the "Gathering o' the Clans," and Caledonian games at Campbellford on Thursday, August 11th, a special train bringing the famous 48th Highlanders' Band and Pipe Band, and a large number of competitors, will be run from Toronto, also special excursions from Belleville, Madoc and Cobourg. In addition to the regular program there will be a lacrosse match between Oshawa and Campbellford. This promises to be an exciting game as both teams are playing good lacrosse and are out to win.

TEARFUL LADIES PITY LENEVE.

Telephone Police Authorities to Protect Her Against Further Inquisition.

Quebec, Aug. 3.—Ethel Clare Le Neve, who was given the hospitality of Chief McCarthy's home yesterday owing to her dangerous state of health, was this morning taken to the infirmary at the Quebec jail.

There she will be cared for until a week from Monday, the date when it is expected negotiations will be finally arranged.

During last night the girl slept well, though many times she started in her sleep and muttered incongruous words.

Miss Le Neve has in two days become a nervous wreck and her condition is eagerly watched over by the jail physicians.

An illustration of the curious vogue which has been aroused in Quebec by pitiful stories of her repentence, with stories of her shattered health, and the amount of publicity directed upon her, the local newspaper offices and police headquarters are being besieged with tearful telephone messages from women begging that the girl be protected from further discussion.

In the cell beneath Parliament House, Dr. Crippen spent a good night, the prisoner being apparently fagged out by the ordeal of the police court hearing yesterday and the anxiety following his capture.

Disrobing at an early hour, he covered up snugly in his bedclothes and with a cheerful good night in answer to his guard's salutation, was asleep within five minutes.

This morning he was early awake, dressed carefully, and called for some books to read.

Crippen is a great student of Shakespeare, and since his imprisonment on ship and in Parliament House, has requested any volume of the dramatic classic that could be found.

Shakespeare, however, was not forthcoming in either prison house.

Judge Willrich, the United States consul, stated to a reporter yesterday morning that he had determined on instructions to offer no objections to the extradition of Crippen from Canada to England.

Clerical Sympathisers Threaten the Life of the Spanish Premier

Madrid, Aug. 2.—Premier Canalejas, directing the struggle of Spain against the vatican,received death threats today which led to the doubling of his bodyguard. The crisis with the vatican has brought forth hundreds of telegrams and letters. More than one of the latter demanded surrender and peace, on the pain of assassination.

"Drop the contest or you will get what Gen. Weyler barely missed," is a free translation of one of these notes which is declared by the officials to be typical.

In spite of this development, attributed to fanatics, the premier today continued his preparations for a long struggle without a recession from the stand he has taken.

Following the departure of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, a report was circulated today declaring that the premier and the king were almost at loggerheads over the future policy the clericals and reactionaries having brought such pressure to bear on Alfonso. This story has it that Alfonso has gone to England for three weeks in order to clear himself of responsibility as far as possible, and to give Canalejas a fair chance with a free hand.

The strengthening of the government's position, especially in Catalonia, was continued today with all possible secrecy. In two days 10,000 troops have been sent to reinforce Gen. Weyler.

The order directing the arrest of all persons, whether priests or laymen, advocating an uprising, has caused fresh outbursts of agitation, particularly at Bilbao, Vittroi and Tolosa.

Political leaders are making strenuous efforts to straighten out the unusual situation in which the government, though supported by the socialists and other radicals on the religious question is opposed by the extremists at Bilbao because of the sending of troops against the striking coal miners. It is believed, however, that a complete amalgamation is near, to be accomplished by mutual concessions.

Knights of Columbus Now Total 246,000

Quebec, Aug. 3.—A gain of 19,000 members by the 71 councils of the Knights of Columbus was reported today in the convention of the order by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty.

The total membership roll is now 246,000.

Mr. Flaherty announced that the $5,000,000 endowment fund for chairs in Washington University had been approved, and that $571,000 already had been paid in.

The balance is expected by October 1911, when the Columbus monument in Washington will be unveiled.

Two Hundred Fishermen were Drowned

St. Petersburg, Aug. 3.—Under the direction of the military authorities rescue work was taken up today on the river Amoll Amoor near Nicolaievk, where two hundred fishermen are known to have drowned when a typhoon wrecked their boats yesterday. It is feared that the death list will exceed that number.

Reports of the disaster received here today say that the victims were trapped in their frail craft with so little warning that few had time to prepare their boats for a blow. The river at this point is very broad.

The storm struck the fleet extending over a distance of several miles, with terrific force. A score of comparatively large boats, and many smaller ones were overturned within a few minutes. Scores of the fishermen became entangled in their nets, and could make no fight for life in the heavy seas.

ANTI-DYNASTIC INCIDENTS.

Government of China is Taking Unusual Precautions to Prevent Them

Peking, Aug. 2.—Peking was surprised this morning by the arrival unheralded, of Prince Tsaio-Tao, uncle of the young emperor, whose long and extensive recent tour through Europe and America caused considerable criticism of the dynasty Prince Tsai-Tao wished to extend his stay in Europe, but was ordered to return quietly to Peking, the measure being evidently intended to prevent any anti-dynastic incidents, against which the government has of late been fearing.

In spite, however, of the criticisms of extravagant peregrinations, Prince Tsai-Hsun, a brother of the regent, and several less exalted members of the imperial family, will sail for the United States, August 24th, nominally to study naval methods, though any increase in the Chinese fleet is not expected for many years.

A contingent of sixty students, who are being educated at the expense of the Idemnity Fund, returned to China by the United States government, will also sail for America during the month, as well as delegates to the prison reform congress and the conference of army surgeons.

THE WIRELESS SEALS THE DOOM OF CRIMINALS.

They Have But Little Chance of Escape Now—The Aeroplanes to Help.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—The doom of the international criminal has been sealed by the wireless and the airship, according to Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler, Chicago's leading crime detector.

"The present day criminal," said Schuettler today, "has but little chance of escape. He may get away for a time and go to foreign countries, but eventually he is recognized and returned to justice. For many years the criminal who once succeeded in getting aboard a vessel was quite immune, but the wireless has changed all of that and today he is practically stepping into prison the moment he boards a ship.

"I think that the day is not far distant when a criminal who has been located by wireless aboard a steamer will be overtaken and arrested by an officer pursuing in a flying machine."

TELESCOPE USED IN LUNG.

New Invention With Headlight is Used to Locate Pin.

London, Aug. 2.—By the use of a newly invented miniature searchlight telescope passed down the windpipe and into the bronchial tubes of a patient who had swallowed a shawl pin, one of the surgeons of King's Hospital, was recently able to see the pin, to remove it with forceps and to save the life of the patient, who was apparently beyond human aid.

The instrument, called a bronchoscope, resembles a small bent telescope fitted with lenses at different angles, and has a tiny electric light which can be passed deeply into the lung. The day after the pin was swallowed an x-ray examination showed its position beneath the sixth rib, about an inch to the right of the breast bone. The patient was chloroformed, and then a 20 per cent. solution of cocaine was sprayed over the laryax and windpipe. The telescope tube was then passed through the mouth and laryax down the windpipe. Peering down the tube the surgeon finally located the pin, fixed head downward, in one of the branches of the windpipe at a distance of thirteen inches from the mouth.

A pair of very fine forceps on the end of a long, flexible wire passed down the hollow telescope tube was then made to grasp the pin, forceps and telescope were then withdrawn together. Within a few hours the patient was able to return to her home none the worse for an accident which before the invention of the lung telescope would almost inevitably have proved fatal.

AT LAST SUCCESSFUL.

After Several Attempts Man Succeeds in Committing Suicide.

Paris, Aug. 2.—After no fewer than six unsuccessfull attempts to kill himself, a sailor named Leon Weiss, has finally committed suicide in an original fashion. A month ago he threw himself into a canal at Rhodnes, but was rescued. A few days later he hanged himself by his braces in a tree in a public square, but his braces broke. He did not despair, however, and, drawing a revolver, shot himself twice.

He was taken to the hospital, where he was cured of his wounds.

A few days later at Laon Railway Station, he shot himself just as a train was coming in, hoping to fall beneath the wheels, but again his life was saved and he was taken to the hospital.

Yesterday he managed to tear off his bandages and swallowed them. Then he obtained some water and drank it, and this, with the cotton-wool he had swallowed, suffocated him. Thus his seventh attempt was successful.

NERVOUSLY DEPRESSED.

A Case of Rapid Cure.

"Only for a few weeks did I experience the misery of duodenal indigestion," explains Miss Peckhard, the well-known school teacher of Bartonville, "but it taught me the need of conserving one's nervous strength. I am a teacher, and at the close of the school, year imposes a great strain upon those teaching advanced work. The trouble first manifested itself by occasional diarrhoeas, especially if new vegetables were used, then heart burn and feelings of depression followed two or three hours after meals. At first my physician said he feared structural changes in duodenum, liver and pancreas. Happily a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I had to use in one of the many severe attacks of constipation, which occasionally developed, proved this view was incorrect. But it shows how bad I was. Well, Dr. Hamilton's Pills caused natural evacuations and permitted the inflamated condition, causing all the trouble to subside. Perseverance finally removed the cause which I am sure was in the liver and lower bowel, and by school opening in September I was actually well enough to work effectively."

See if your symptoms are like those above described—if so, Dr. Hamilton's Pills will cure. Price 25c per box, at all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

MURDERED BECAUSE HE WAS TO MARRY ANOTHER.

One of Pittsburg's Society Men Killed by the Keeper of a Dive Who Loved Him.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 3.—That Edna Wallace, wealthy keeper of a resort frequented by many of Pittsburg's millionaires, murdered Dr. George Murray Stuart, society physician, and then committed suicide, because she learned Stuart was shortly to marry a Winchester, Va., girl, after he had promised to wed the Wallace woman in September, is the theory of the police today. Stuart and the Wallace woman were wound dead in the physician's palatial home, he with two bullet holes in his head, and she with her brains blown out.

The discovery of the bodies some four days after the killing was the result of a letter from the woman to Attorney M. L. Thompson, enclosing her will, and telling him that if she was not seen Wednesday night she would never be seen again. Thompson knew the woman and was acquainted with Stuart, and he investigated, breaking into Stuart's house.

The police, after probing the case, say that Stuart had promised to marry Edna Wallace, and that the woman, enraged at the discovery that he was to marry another, shot him, and then herself. Stuart's wedding garments were found torn to ribbons in the room with the bodies.

NEGRO ATTACKS SHERIFF.

Armed Posse is Now Scouring the Country for Latter's Assailant.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 3.—Sheriff Edmond Dull of Monroe County, is dying in a hospital with three bullets in his lung and abdomen as the result of a murderous attack by a negro he was trying to capture.

An armed posse is scouring this vicinity for his assailant and threats of lynching are freely made if he is caught.

The negro had robbed a white man riding on a freight train of $25 and thrown him off the train.

The conductor notified the sheriff, who trailed his man to a corn field. As he ordered the negro to throw up his hands, the latter jumped upon him and in the scuffle drew a revolver and shot the sheriff three times.

CAPTAIN AND BRIDE ARE LOST AT SEA.

One Man Goes Mad in Terrible Sufferings of a Ship-wrecked Crew—Tragedy of the Ocean.

Liverpool, Aug. 2.—A thrilling and strange story is told by the survivors of the crew of the sailing ship Swanhilda, who reached Liverpool from South America.

The Swanhilda, a vessel of 2000 tons, sailed from Cardiff on March 15. Capt. Pyne, who had been married two days before, was accompanied by his wife, and the voyage was to be their honeymoon trip. The sailors made much of their commander's wife, who introduced many homely comforts, and won the affection of the men by nursing several who fell ill.

Fair winds carried the ship under full spread of canvas through the tropics. Then, on the morning of May 16, the officer in charge noticed breakers ahead.

Almost at the moment when he called the captain, the vessel struck a rock, and began to fill rapidly. She had gone ashore on a small island off Staten Island, which lies near the South American coast.

So quickly did the Swanhilda settle down that the port and starboard lifeboats were launched simultaneously. But the former boat, which contained the captain and his wife, had scarcely touched the water when it was capsized by a great breaker.

The men in the starboard boat were unable to render any help, and they saw Captain Pyne, holding his bride in his arms, disappear beneath the waves.

When the 18 sailors surviving out of a crew of 35 tried to land on the island they found the sea too rough and were compelled to put out again Their boat was at the mercy of the sea for some days, and they lived on a little rainwater which they had collected. One man went mad and although he was restrained he died later from exhaustion.

When they had almost abandoned hope they sighted a lighthouse off the Argentine coast, and were rescued by the keepers. A wireless message was sent to the mainland, and they were taken ashore by an Argentine gunboat.

The gunboat afterward went to Staten Island to search for any men who might have swam ashore when the port lifeboat was capsized. It discovered the bodies of four men who had died from starvation, and a survivor who had been driven insane by the terror of his experiences was found in a cave.

Eventually this man recovered. He said that he and his comrades lived for some time on tins of grease and ate shellfish when no more grease remained.

Apparently he had lost his reason when he found the body of Captain Pyne and his bride locked in one another's arms, washed to and fro by the waves.

A Satisfying Food

Appetite is Nature's signal for fuel and repairs.

Healthy appetite calls for the simple food elements that supply the natural requirements.

Healthy appetite is satisfied when the proper kind and amount of food is taken into the body at stated intervals. But the wiles of the modern chef and caterer have created in most of us a false and often unnatural appetite which leads into all the different degrees of indigestion, dyspepsia, etc.—food insanity.

Grape-Nuts

is a satisfying food—it is composed of the natural elements to satisfy the natural appetite and restore order in the digestive machinery which may have been thrown out of gear by improper though often "fashionable" foods.

The crisp, firm, "nutty" granules of Grape-Nuts make honest mastication necessary. Its wholesome flavour makes it appetizing, and the albumens, carbohydrates and Potasium Phosphate from the whole wheat and barley, makes it a satisfying food—both to the sense of taste and to the body needs.

Ten days' trial will convince anyone that

Its Wonderful Power in Curing Sick Cattle and Colicky Horses Makes "Nerviline Worth Its Weight in Gold.

The stockman or farmer that does not know of the thousand and one uses of "Nerviline" around the stable uses of "Nerviline" around the stable, has a great deal to learn. "Why I wouldn't think of locking my stable door at night without knowing I had a supply of Nerviline on hand. I always get a dozen bottles at once from my druggist.

NERVILINE CURES COLICKY HORSES

"To cure colic, indigestion and bad stomach is a horse or cow there is no remedy on earth in the same class as Nerviline. Last summer I had a $250 horse that got the scours, and I would have lost him if I hadn't been able to give him Nerviline. I poured a full bottle of Nerviline in a pailful of water down his throat and saved his life. I know of neighbors who have saved many heads of valuable stock, stricken with colize, just by using Nerviline. It is equally good as a rub-on liniment, and I know from experience that for many or beast, internally or externally, Nerviline is worth a dollar a drop."

PAROLE AND PLEDGE.

The official report of the proceedings of the twelfth International year in London shows that much attention was paid to what is called Congress on Alcoholism held last "the Pollard Plan" of pledge parole for "drunks" in the police court. It is authoritatively stated in these reports that Judge William Jefferson Pollard of the Second District Police Court of St. Louis inaugurated the system of offering men who came before him charged with drunkenness the alternative of accepting punishment or signing the pledge. It is quite certain, however, that scores of police court judges have varied the imposition of penalties by giving offenders this chance. The expedient was not formulated into a system but magistrates having large discretion in dealing with this class of offenders have adopted all kinds of devices to suit the individual case. Thousands of drunks have been let off on condition of their signing the pledge before Judge Pollard even occupied the bench. The average police magistrate has tried all methods with persons who came before him as simple drunks. He has tested extreme severity and extreme laxity. He has experimented with hard labor where there was law for it. He has tried persuasion, scolding, threatening. He has accepted promises of amendment and total abstinence pledges. Judge Pollard cannot tell experienced magistrates any way that is entirely new to them.

But Judge Pollard seems to have brought the parole and pledge method to a regular system. Instead ders only, or with those who seemed most likely to profit by it, he made it his regular practice. He caused the pledge to be signed in open court as part of the proceedings. The penalty was suspended, but not abolished. If the accused person did not ed using this system with first ofen keep his pledge he was subject to the regular punishment. The judge required the paroled man to report regularly to him in the evening at his house. The opinion of Judge Pollard is that 95 per cent. of those put on pledge parole kept their obligation, and were rescued. He has reached the conclusion that the ordinary method of fine and imprisonment is utterly hopeless as a means of reform. In his view the attempt to imprison and fine men into sobriety is no wiser than the effort to prosecute lunatics into sanity. He has lived to see several States of the union incorporate the parole and pledge system in the statutes. Four hundred members of the International Congress recorded their gratification that the principle had been recognized in statute law in Great Britain, Australia and in Vermont.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A FEAT OF HORSEMANSHIP.

Threading a Needle While Riding at Full Gallop.

Some amazing feats of horsemanship have been performed by cowboys and Indians, not to speak of those astonishingly expert Cossacks, but it is doubtful if these have ever exceeded the feat of a Bhil irregular cavalryman.

Cossacks have been seen to snatch a baby from its mother's arms at full gallop, toss it into the air, catch it and repeat the performance. Indian riders in the far west have sprung from their horses' backs while the animals were moving at full gallop, picked up arrows and remounted instantly in a standing posture. But who ever heard of a Cossack, an Indian or a cowboy threading a needle while at full gallop?

The horsemen of the Bhil corps are small persons, slight, but quick and wiry, of thoroughbred Arabian barb type. These of the irregular cavalry perform all manner of changes and evolutions. They will throw their swords and matchlocks into the air, catching them by the hilts and stocks. On one occasion, by way of offering some new and unusual entertainment to a French officer visiting that region, it was announced that one rider would attempt the needle threading feat.

A needle and a piece of thread possibly two or three feet in length were produced. They were both handed around for inspection. The needle was a cambric one and the thread fifty or sixty fine.

The rider galloped his mount down the sand about 400 yards or so. He finally wheeled his horse and remained stationary, facing his audience. The man who held the needle and thread waved them in his hand and rode toward the other. When he had covered about two-thirds of the distance he halted and waved his hand to the farther one. Immediately the latter spurred his horse into a gallop and came toward the audience at full speed. As he passed the other he took the needle and thread from his companion, bent over for a moment and pulled up when he reached the visiting Frenchman, holding the threaded needle triumphantly over his head.—St. Louis Republic.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous gravels and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "prinsty," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold facilities. The Director of the United States Mint further said:—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 20 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cookie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the pronouncements of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets hits into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 48 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

DRESDEN POLICE.

They Are Permitted to Impose Small Fines on Offenders.

One advantage accrues to the respectable member of the community from the minuteness with which the Dresden police look into the affairs of every inhabitant of the city. If he is a careful man and always carries papers which may serve to establish his identity he is practically immune from the indignity of being arrested and marched off to the police station unless, indeed, he commits some especially heinous crime. Does he drive faster than the law permits, does he cross a bridge on the left hand side, he is stopped by the guardian of law and order and requested to give his name. If he has his papers with him the policeman may then and there impose a fine of from 1 to 5 marks. If then he admits that he is in the wrong and pays the fine the incident is closed. If, however, he wishes to appeal from the policeman's decision he may do so. Even in that case he is not arrested, but a day or two later he is notified to appear in court and answer to the charge against him. But then if he is found guilty the lowest fine that can be imposed is 5 marks. That this custom of permitting the policeman personally to impose small fines is little understood by foreigners is shown by a remark made by a gentleman who had lived in Germany the greater part of his life and in Dresden for a number of years. In reply to any inquiry as to what sur there was ever any question of corruption in the police department he replied:

"No; none whatever as far as the higher officers are concerned. The individual men, however, may be bribed occasionally. For instance, if I were to walk on the grass in the Grosse-garten and a policeman caught me at it I would give him a mark or two, and that would end the matter."

Crushed.

The late Sir Charles Hammond was addressing a meeting during a general election, at which he was a candidate in Newcastle, when a man interrupted him. "Get yer hair cut, Chawles!" he shouted.

Sir Charles, who was a magistrate, calmly adjusted his glasses and addressed the interrupter by saying, "My friend, if I am not mistaken, I have been the means of saving your hair cut before today."—London Tatler.

Chastened.

A Wall street broker, turning the corner of Broad street, saw a friend coming down the steps which lead out of the office of a well known financier. This departing caller had a chastened and bored expression on his handsome face, and the Wall street broker inquired the cause. With thoughtful deliberation his friend replied:

"I just have been experiencing the unconscious manners of conscious wealth."—New York Press.

Mr. G. Ridpath, the clever right wing of the Parkdale Canoe Club, Toronto, was in the city yesterday on his way home from Lakefield, where he had been spending the week end.

MR. MUNRO'S TRIP.

Local Man Speaks of Trip to St. John's, Newfoundland.

Mr. R. J. Munro, who has just returned from a trip to St. John, Newfoundland, gave The Times a few hints yesterday as to the result of his observations whilst away. In response to questions put by The Times, Mr. Munro admitted candidly that, for one day, during his sea voyage from Montreal to St. John's, down the great Gulf of St. Lawrence he suffered with mal de mere or seasickness. St. John's, he said differed in the line of hotels from Peterborough. The places where liquor is sold are segregated from the regular hotels, i.e., they have saloons. In that sea girt city, rum takes the place of whisky in general demand as asked for in Ontario. The city he thought would attract much more traffic from tourists if the hotels were improved. For a city of about 30,000 inhabitants, the hotels are very mediocre. Fish, fish, fish in both sight and smell is thrust upon the sight and olfactory nerves of the visitor. The Newfoundlanders he described as a big sturdy lot of men and women, who seemed to radiate an atmosphere of independence and self reliance. Mr. Munroe states he would have liked to stay another week in St. John's, but the changes being made in his hotel here, demanded a prompt return to Peterborough

BABIES IN ACCIDENT.

Two Infants Thrown to Street From Two Feet High Pavement.

That a woman with a baby in her baby carriage, and especially a woman with two babies in a carriage should not leave carriage and contents on a pavement some two feet higher than the roadway, in charge of a little six-year-old child, was proven yesterday afternoon. About five o'clock a lady passing along George street with two stems of humanity, had occasion to go into a store just across from M. Pappas' cigar store. She left the carriage and its precious contents in charge of a little toddler about six years old. The child in charge, naturally forgot her responsibilities and ran the carriage over the edge of the pavement, which at that spot is about two feet high. The carriage "turned turtle" throwing the two infants bodily onto the street below. One of the babies sustained a severe bruise on its forehead. Fortunately no bones were broken. P. C. Meagher who was passing by rushed to the rescue and picked up one of the infants with as delicate and firm a touch as though his life had been spent in looking after babies in distress.

VOL. XXXI NO. 175 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO FRIDAY AUGUST 5 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

Neither a Confession Nor An Incriminating Statement

London, Aug. 4.—Solicitor Newton, who has been retained to defend Dr. Crippen, made his first move to-day when he filed a formal declaration asking the authorities to permit an independent physician to examine the bits of human flesh found in the Crippen cellar.

It is understood that Newton will contend that they cannot be identified as having belonged to the body of Belle Elmore.

Quebec, Aug. 4.—General denial from all the officials connected with the case today met the report that Dr. H. H. Crippen had confessed to killing his wife, Belle Elmore, of whose murder in London he is accused.

In spite of the persistent reports made statements indicating that he had unintentionally killed Belle Elmore, through performing an illegal operation, all officials connected with the case gave it the lie, from the jailor to the highest legal authority in Quebec, Sir Lorimer Gouin, Provincial premier and attorney-general.

"There is not an iota of truth in it," said Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, at his rooms in the St. George House, while preparing for a trip to Montreal to confer with Captain Kendall of the Steamer Montrose. The ship leaves for London Saturday. While away from Quebec, Inspector Dew may also take a pleasure jaunt to Niagara Falls.

Quebec, Aug. 3.—A desperate legal battle was assured today, when Dr. H. H. Crippen accepted the offer of legal aid sent by cable from London and announced that he would waive extradition. Up to the time that this proffer arrived, Crippen had been planning to fight his return to London to be tried for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore.

Though this struggle was not expected to be successful, nevertheless Inspector Dew is rejoicing in the one point gained today when Crippen said he would not fight his return.

The authorities in charge of Crippen have redoubled their vigilance, however. The guard about the man's cell has been increased and he is permitted to speak to no one save through trustworthy persons, who may be depended upon to report his every word.

ACCEPTS LEGAL OFFER.

For the first time since his arrest at Father Point, Crippen appeared jubilant when he announced his determination to accept the offer of legal aid sent by Arthur Newton, the famous solicitor, engaged by the accused man's friends.

He so far violated Newton's command for silence as to say: "I will make no complete statement here, but when I am taken back to England, I shall tell my story from the beginning, and then you will understand that I am not guilty of murder, and that I told the truth when I said that I was not a fugitive from justice."

THE GIRL FORGOTTEN.

Crippen for all the signs he gives, has completely forgotten Ethel Clare Le Neve, his companion. Not once, according to the subordinates of Jailer Joseph Morin, has he asked about her since he was taken to court for arraignment.

But the girl, made as comfortable as possible at the home of Chief McCarthy, seems unable to forget for a moment the man who has played such a dominant part in her life. In every word and action she betrays her anxiety for him.

Under the guidance of Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, the authorities today continued their efforts to wear her down. Though she has already told much of her pitiful story, they are convinced that once her reserve can be shaken, she will give a mass of invaluable information.

On her return trip to England, the girl will be in the care of one of the shrewdest woman detectives of Great Britain, the matron, who leaves tomorrow for Quebec.

MATRON'S DUTIES.

To this woman, according to the police, will be delegated the delicate task of securing facts not told in the girl's story to Dew. Besides her persuasive powers, the matron will bring to Canada letter from Mrs. Neave, the girl's mother, which, it is said, will have a large influence in inducing the girl to cease protecting Crippen.

Not only is every consideration now being shown Miss Le Neve, but it is understood that from the time she leaves Quebec until she reaches London, she will be kept in absolute seclusion. Nothing to circumvent the curious and the newspaper men will be undone.

It is unlikely that Miss Le Neve will be taken aboard the liner at Quebec, because of this desire to throw everybody off the trail.

GAVE HER AN OPIATE.

Mrs. Marion Phillips, the matron, who has been in attendance upon the girl prisoner at the Jeffrey Hale hospital, and Chief McCarthy's home, today declared that her condition showed marked improvement, although she was so nervous last night that it was found necessary to give her an opiate.

"All she needs is rest," said Mrs. Phillips. "She appears to be worrying less." For the first time since she collapsed as Dew faced her on the steamer Montrose, Miss Le Neve ate heartily. A reaction from the long strain seemed to have set in, and the demand for food given by her tired body was imperative. Within an hour after her breakfast had been served to her, she asked for more to eat.

FEELS POSITION KEENLY.

Hitherto she has attempted to read but seemed to force herself as to a task.

Today she picked up a novel and appeared to enjoy it. She also spent much time writing a letter. It was said that the letter was to her mother.

The girl appears to feel her situation keenly. From the beginning no petulance has marked her conduct although her nerves at first appeared completely affected. Silent grieving and brooding have been her characteristic mental phrases.

CALLING THE WITNESSES.

London, Aug. 3.—Fifteen persons, for the most part women, who will be called as witnesses at the trial of Dr. Crippen, appeared before the Bow street magistrate at a private hearing yesterday for the purpose of making deposition to facilitate the proceedings in Canada. Paul Martinetti and his wife who dined with the Crippens at their invitation on the evening of January 31, the night on which Mrs. Crippen is said to have disappeared, were among those who gave testimony. The documents which were prepared and the other papers connected with the extradition of the couple from Quebec will be carried by Sergeant Mitchell, who will sail on the steamer Lake Manitoba bin Thursday.

BOTH CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Scotland Yard officials said today that the warrants of arrest charge both Dr. Crippen and Ethel Le Neve with murder. They must therefore be charged together, and will return to London on the same steamer. The question of altering the charge of murder against the Le Neve woman to one of lesser degree has not yet been discussed and if it were decided to recommend such a course this could only be done by application to the presiding judge at the commencement of the trial.

Empress of Ireland Makes a Record Trip---Breaks All Previous Time

The C.P.R. SS. Empress of Ireland, which left her dock at Liverpool at 5.30 p.m. last Friday, arrived at Rimouski yesterday morning at 4.15 o'clock. She took 1 hour and 35 minutes to discharge the Canadian mail, and proceeded on her way to Quebec at 5.50, where she docked at 2.15 o'clock in the afternoon. First and second cabin passengers left London at noon last Friday, and will be Peterborough at 5.30 o'clock this morning.

This run constitutes the fastest voyage on record between Liverpool and Quebec, and beats the previous record held by the same steamer. Had the steamer not had to wait in Bonsjen Channel below Quebec for high water on which to come over the bar this time would have been reduced by more than two hours.

OUTBREAKS HAVE STARTED IN SPAIN—TROOPS ARE READY

Denies Papal Charge of Sharp Practice

LIBERAL PRESS OF SPAIN ALSO WARNS POPE HE IS SOWING TROUBLE.

Merry Del Val Blamed—Minister of Foreign Affairs Says Dilatory Tactics Caused Drastic Action.

Madrid, August 5.—The liberal press officially denies the insinuations of the vatican that it only demanded the withdrawal of the bill prohibiting further religious orders until the concordat had been revised, and also points out that the bill in question did not violate the concordat, which recognizes only three orders.

El Liberal says Pope Pius X, is now sowing what will be reaped in following the advice of two Spanish cardinals.

San Sebastian, August 5.—Garcia Prieto, the minister for foreign affairs, in an interview to-day in which he recited the history of the negotiations between Spain and the Vatican denied the holy see had adopted a conciliatory attitude. He added:

"The government asked only two things: First, the suppression of the convents and monasteries which entered Spain illegally, and second, that the Pope should authorize the bishops to suppress or transform the establishments unnecessary to the aid of the Priests in their ministrations.

"The government offered a year for the transformation, which was desired by the secular clergy, whose existence is gravely compromised by the monks."

Senor Prieto declared that cardinal Merry Del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, had adopted delatory tactics from the first. He said the Spanish note to the Vatican, May 26 had insisted upon a reply to the general demand of the Spanish government contained in it, but the Vatican remained silent until June 11th. On that date Cardinal Merry del Val the papal secretary of state, notified him that the reply of the Vatican had been suspended on account of the declaration of religious policy made in the speech from the throne.

A note giving reasons for a further delay was delivered June 20th. Finally on July 9th Cardinal Merry del Val stated that the Vatican would reply to the Spanish note of May 26th, provided that the Spanish government took no steps to enforce its programme. To this the Spanish government answered with a request for information upon a reply to the note of May 26.

Now, said the minister, Cardinal Merry del Val offers as a reason for declining further negotiations the general attitude of the government and the introduction of the bill allowing non-Catholic organizations to display outwardly the emblems of public worship; this, too, in spite of the fact that when the Marquis de Ojeda explained to Cardinal Merry del Val the purport of the bill and the expressions in the speech from the throne referring to it, the latter accepted the explanation, and through Marquis de Ojeda expressed regret for the attitude of the Roman Catholic press. Now, continued Senor Prieto, he alleges that the bill and the project are divergent, which is untrue.

ANOTHER DOG BITE.

Child Severely Bitten by Collie Teased By Boys.

Those canophilists who seem to want Peterborough to resemble Constantinople, when some 80,000 useless dogs make life a curse, by objecting to legislation curtailing the curs, should think of the experience yesterday morning of the little four-year-old daughter of Mr. Duffy, who lives on McDonnell street, just behind the former Collegiate Institute. It seems that this child was leading a collie dog. Some boys started to tease the animal, which tried to get away from her. The collie did not effect its desire, and turning about buried its teeth in her right arm, hanging on to it very tenaciously, and several blows from a stick were required before it released the arm.

A gash about one inch and a half long and half an inch deep was inflicted on the tender flesh of the child. She was taken to the house of Mrs. Lockhart, at Water and McDonnell streets, and was attended to by Dr. Halliday. The doctor stated it was one of the worst looking bites he had ever witnessed.

It is understood that the dog will be shot immediately. The bite wound was at once cauterized.

THE GLASGOW CHOIR.

It is Understood that Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, With Proverbial Enterprise, May Get It.

That Peterborough in her immense strides in manufacturing and electrical progress is also advancing in matters of art and music, has been abundantly demonstrated of late. The Glasgow Choir, founded in 1879, open their Canadian trip at Three Rivers, Quebec, after delighting audiences in Quebec on September 19th. Their itinery includes, as far as is known; Three Rivers, 20, Montreal, 21st, Ottawa 22nd, and Carleton Place, Smith's Falls, Brockville, Belleville, dates not yet fixed; and it is hoped for Peterborough on September 29th, in the Grand Opera House. Should Messrs. Turner & Son, with their proverbial enterprise, secure this Glasgow Select Choir, this firm will not only have lived up to their established record, but will win laurels from the music lovers of Peterborough. The leading papers of England, Ireland and Scotland have words of highest praise for this musical organization. Should such be possible, on their parts we wager a little that Messrs. Turner & Sons will have the Glasgow Choir at the Opera House next month.

Making it Hot for Blacklisters.

It seems as though the blacklist for those fond of the exhilarating bowl, but warned from the same, is to receive the close attention of Inspector Jos. Stewart. At yesterday's police court one man on the taboo list was soaked $14.85 for transgressions proven. It seems that this man had been to Port Hope, where he presumably acquired a supercargo. On his return to the city, this black listee called at a local hotel and, before recognized by the bartender threw a whiskey and a beer beneath his diaphragms. The bartender phoned Mr. Stewart and $14.85 was the result. Two other men were charged with supplying another blacklisted man with liquor. This case was enlarged until to the 12th.

Herb. Kendry for the Fairs.

Mr. Herb. Kendry has a highly trained trick horse which he will show at the Toronto exhibition and the other fairs of the province this fall. Mr. Kendry has also an attractive outfit in connection with the exhibit, having been supplied with a large tent and painting of the educated horse by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons. As a musical accompaniment he has a $1,200 band organ.

CARLISTS AND REPUBLICANS FIGHT WITH DRAWN KNIVES IN BARCELONIA.

Nuncio May Be Recalled—Breach Between Vatican and Government Grows Wider—Troops All Ready.

Barcelonia, Aug. 4.—The first serious clash that has yet resulted as a result of the government's split with the vatican, took place here today between a number of Carlists, adherents of Don Jaime the pretender, and a group of Republicans. Knives were drawn and a fierce fight was in progress when the police arrived and dispersed the combatants. A half dozen men were wounded, one of them probably fatally.

NUNCIO TO BE RECALLED.

Rome, Aug. 4.—Monseigner Vico, the papal nuncio to the Spanish court, was given instructions from the vatican today to be ready to leave Madrid at a moment's notice, in case of an unfavorable issue to the negotiations.

The civil authorities are considering legal prosecutions against the organizers of the proposed manifestations, and troops are in readiness to enter the summer capital at any time, should this step be necessary to preserve order or to enforce the orders of the government.

THE VATICAN'S ANSWER.

Rome, Aug. 4.—The note which Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, is preparing in answer to that of Premier Canalejas, will be submitted to the Congregation of Extraordinary Affairs. The contents of the note will be kept strictly secret, the Holy See not wishing to follow the procedure of the Spanish premier in making it public prior to its receipt by the premier, but the vatican officials are of the opinion that it will be given out to the newspapers as soon as it arrives in Madrid.

Cardinal Vannutelli goes on to point out that the king is a fervent Catholic by sentiment and tradition, but that he is too young to grapple with the situation and that he has been seriously embarrassed. He adds that Spanish people themselves disapprove of the policy of the premier, as shown by the attitude of the people of Bilbao and other important places.

With reference to the report that the king of Portugal is to visit the king of Italy in 1911, thus disregarding the prohibition of the vatican Cardinal Vannutelli considers this most unlikely as Portugal has just appointed a representative to the holy see.

Society Women were in Power of Crippen

London, Aug. 4.—One of the most sensational developments in the Crippen case came to light today when it became known that prominent society women are in the power of the little American physician, who will be brought back from Quebec to answer for the murder of Belle Elmore.

Shrinking from the publicity that threatens them, these women are backing the defence and have raised the $50,000 fund which Solicitor Arthur Newton yesterday admitted could be used to save Crippen from punishment.

CRIPPEN'S REAL CHARACTER.

Through practices held illegal by England's strict laws, Crippen got them into his power and they are now in terror lest he should reveal their names. The betrayal of Crippen's real character and work in London, came through the finding of a surgical instrument buried in the cellar of the Hilldrop crescent house. It is believed that this, wielded by this little doctor, was responsible for the death of Belle Elmore, of his first wife, 16 years ago, and of other women of good standing who have died under mysterious circumstances.

SUSPICIONS WERE CLOAKED.

In the last fifteen years, scores of women, many of them of the highest social standing, have been Crippen's patients. His practice was one of the largest of its kind in London, according to the latest information in the hands of the police, though suspicion never fell upon him. The deafness cure and false teeth business are now believed to have been merely cloaks.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all dealers.

Home Bank Got Withdrawn Funds

Lindsay, Aug. 4.—The case of the Farmers' Bank of Canada against Mr. A. B. McGill, former manager of the local branches of the above bank in Lindsay and vicinity, J. J. Fleury, former accountant of the same bank, both now manager and accountant, respectively of the new branch of the Home Bank, which was recently established at Lindsay, and J. L. Cokuter, of the first named bank, came up for preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Jackson this morning. The charge was one of conspiracy against the Farmers' Bank.

Mr. Travers, general manager of the Farmers' Bank, is present. Mr. Hartley Dewart, K.C., Toronto, is acting for the prosecution, and also on behalf of Crown Attorney Davlin for the Crown, while the three accused are being defended by Mr. Thomas Stewart of Lindsay.

Mr. J. G. Fitzgibbon, chief inspector of the bank, gave evidence to the effect of receiving the resignations of the three accused. He began to quote the standing of the Farmers' Bank, when Mr. Stewart stated his belief that the Farmers' Bank was pushing the case for their own interest, The court, he stated, was not the place to give a certificate on the bank's character. Mr. Fitzgibbon stated that he did not know that the bank stock had been quoted as low as thirty-five.

Mr. Gordon Dickson, the new manager, told of certain conversations he had had with Mr. McGill. He stated that when leaving the Farmers Bank he would not give him a statement of the money or securities in the bank. McGill also advised the witness to take lots of money to their branch at Janetville the next day as he expected that several people would be withdrawing their accounts. Witness stated that about $55,000 had been withdrawn, and that $44,000 had been deposited with the new branch of the Home Bank, a Home Bank messenger having handed in the cheques at the Farmers' Bank.

Mr. Evans, of the branch at Nestleton, stated that McGill had advised him, being a young man, to leave the Farmers' Bank and seek employment elsewhere, as it was about to "go up." He also noticed that the bank was holding too much money, and mentioned the fact to McGill, who said it was all right. The day the Home Bank was started McGill denied to him (Evans) that one was starting in town. McGill was still manager of the Farmers' Bank, and when Fleury came in from the Home Bank with checks for withdrawals, McGill advised Evans to pay them.

Large Excursion.

The steamer Otonabee arrived at Chemong Park yesterday with a big excursion from Fenelon Falls. The party arrived at the park at about 12 o'clock, where they picnicked, leaving about 4 o'clock. This steamer will return to Peterborough this evening and will make a special trip to Idyl Wyld, tomorrow, leaving at 1.30 and returning at 9 p.m.

Rev. J. G. Potter for Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 3.—The congregation of the McVicar Memorial church here, who some time ago issued a call to Rev. J. G. Potter, of Peterborough, Ont., received a letter from Mr. Potter this morning stating that he will accept. The transfer will be ratified at a meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery on Friday next, and Mr. Potter will come to Montreal immediately it is expressed.

Former Citizen Back on a Visit.

Mr. Rufus Stevenson, younger son of Mr. James Stevenson, ex-M.P., is expected to arrive in this city today for a short vacation. Mr. Rufus Stevenson, who has many old friends in the city is at present managing a large gas plant at Brazil, Ind., U.S. Whilst here for a few days, Mr. Stevenson will be the guest of his father at 455 Water street. Mr. Stevenson will be accompanied by his little daughter Margery.

Town of Prince Albert is Greatly Excited

Prince Albert, Sask., Aug. 4.—Reports from Hudson Bay Junction state that the town is greatly excited over the alleged rich discovery of gold thirty miles north of that place. Practically every male inhabitant has gone to stake a claim, including the postmaster and station agent at Etiomami. There is some mystery about the discovery, but a half-breed who came into town with pockets bulging out with nuggets is understood to have caused the stampede.

Fire Wipes Out a Family

Hobokem, N.J., Aug. 4.—A rigorous investigation to determine the cause of a fire that wiped out an entire family, mortally injuring a coroner, and seriously injuring a mother and her two children, was begun today. The blaze swept a three-storey tenement last night. Louis and Marie Blasetti and their two sons were penned in their rooms on the second floor and burned to death. Oscar Alcee, a volunteer fireman, who tried to force his way to their aid, inhaled gas and flames, and will probably die.

Mrs. R. Labella, after her husband had fled, leaving her and her two children in their blazing rooms, endeavored to carry the little ones out but fell unconscious in the path of the flames. She and her children were rescued by firemen.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gently stimulate the liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by all dealers.

All G. T. R. Men will get Back in Time

Montreal, Aug. 4.—The Grand Trunk is obviously satisfied in getting what it considers a fair break in the strike contest. Officials in their offices this evening are smoking longer cigars and tilting their hats to a rakish angle.

Mr. Fitzhugh, the vice-president, went off for a trip in his private car last night, and he looked as happy as a schoolboy at the end of June. Mr. Warman, manager of the company's good cheer department, and official publicity agent during the strike, takes to the tall hills of Quebec today with the Press Humorists' convention, a disagreeable economy.

HOLIDAY FOR MR. HAYS.

Mr. C. M. Hays, after fighting a stiff battle practically alone, and capturing a lion's share in the settlement, is expected to take a well-earned holiday a little later on. Just now his presence is urgently demanded for the disorganization of the system, though skilfully covered up, was, at the same time, an ugly reality, which a week or month cannot remedy. Company officials whom the press questioned last night were very careful to express only a tactful regard for the men who had gone on strike, and to impute their alleged "indiscretion" in rebelling originally gainst the company to the misrepresentation and folly of their leaders.

THEY CHOSE THEIR COURSE

This, however, is injust, inasmuch as the men chose their course of action after full consideration of consequences, weighing the chances of defeat with the rosier promise of winning out. As far as can be gathered, no local leader presented the strike proposition in the first place in any but a sincere matter-of-fact way, which the employes could accept or reject as they desired.

SOME DISSATISFIED.

A reporter sought out several of the disenchanted strikers, and their complaint, voiced against no one in particular, was to this effect.

"We have lost our time; the union fund has been depleted by about $75,000; our pensions privileges are gone; our old positions are, many of them, in the hands of others; we go back to employment as new men, and all we gain is five per cent. more than Mr. Hays offered at first, and the standard wage scale brought nearer by one year."

As a whole, however, the ex-strikers are pleased at the windup of the uneventful hostilities that wore out patience and robbed the savings accounts. While the men have been given to understand that the contestants have parted with a slight balance on the union side, the refusal to give them their old jobs by all-missing the strikebreakers worked out very disagreeably. Conductors came down to Superintendent Whittenberger's office last night, expecting to be told to take out trains in the morning, but were quietly instructed to await the new arrangements of the company. When these would be completed no one took the trouble to inform the applicants.

Mr. Warman, speaking for the company, stated that many conductors were taken on last night. This is finally specified as "three or four." Though impatience and some resentment over a settlement that permitted such incidents to rile. Mr.

CHEST INFLAMMATION.

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Nerviline" Cured Quickly.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my side and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chester and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have had no more colds and pleurisy and enjoy perfect health.

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures, lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large 25c. bottles, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE FOREST FIRES.

The Canadian Conservation Commission is busy deliberating. The Dominion Department of the Interior is setting aside forest reservations to preserve the water flow and for other purposes. Tree planting is advocated in some parts of some provinces. Never was there a time when the value of the public and private forests was so strongly oppressed upon the people of Canada as it is now.

All the while forest fires are destroying the Canadian timber at the rate of a quarter of a million dollars per day, and the destruction of permanent land values is greater than the loss of the single crop of timber. It is well to teach in forestry schools the method of estimating the value of standing timber, the processes of propagation, and the science of cutting over lands in the least extravagant way. But the most profitable lesson for the people and governments to learn is how to keep the fire out of the woods and how to stop one when it gets started. Still more important is the lesson that no outlay of labor and money is too great to invest in stopping a fire. The counsel of despair which says that once a forest fire is well under way nothing can be done about it should not be considered. People do not reason thus when a city is on fire. They do not drop their hands when a small-pox epidemic is sweeping through a community. There should be a clear understanding that local authorities are justified in taking large financial responsibility in fire fighting. An instructed public will justify the payment of any sum that may be expended in stopping a fire. Governments have sent regiments to keep peace at a time of a mining strike. They would be equally justified if they sent brigades or army corps of soldiers or civilians to fight fires. An expenditure of ten thousand or a hundred thousand would be ordinary prudence if it saved millions.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CHINA'S BIG ARMY.

MODERN METHODS HAS ATTRACTED ATTENTION.

Loyalty of Present Organization System—China's Armies Include 600,000 Men.

Pekin, Aug. 3.—The modern army of China has attracted the attention of army officers from many foreign countries. In view of the tremendous possibilities of an army of Chinese foreign military men are prompted to consider the ability of the Chinese as soldiers, their aptness, their knowledge and appreciation of modern methods of warfare and the development of their patriotism, on which much depends.

There is a more immediate interest in the Chinese army as it stands today. In its present state, as opposed to its possibilities, the diplomatists and statesmen are taking more interest than military men. The reason is that upon the loyalty of the modern system of organization inaugurated by the now disgraced Yuan Shih Kai the continuance of the Manchu dynasty in power is generally thought to depend.

The armies of China are said to include all told between 500,000 and 600,000 men; but most of the soldiers are entirely ineffective except for suppressing risings of unarmed people. The Hsuntangtui, comprising the former Manchu army of the Eight Banners, the Chinese army of the Green Standard and others, is not to be taken into account for any serious campaign. Its forces are little more than armed as compared with unarmed men, and their weapons are in most cases obsolete and ill kept.

But there are in China over 160,000 effective soldiers, trained and armed with modern rifles and rapid firing artillery. These troops, unlike the others, are schooled in the modern methods of warfare, many of them are able to read and to write a little, and they are officered by men who have studied in military colleges abroad or those in China where foreign instructors are employed.

According to the original program this new army should increase to the number of 400,000 men in 1913 and to 1,195,000 in 1920; but that it will be permitted to develop is a grave question to some extent because of the present political situation.

It is the plan of the Chinese government to construct in the next ten years a network of railways, which while developing the country would also enable the government to move troops to any frontier. At present an army of a million men would be largely ineffective owing to the lack of transport facilities; but there are several reasons why the execution of this project is uncertain.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and submerged beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "gravity," operated by hand, appeared to be the only method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Lindeman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold supplies. The Director of the United States Mint further said—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 20 hours out of twenty-four, thus mulling up in length of working day, four of operations during winter months. These Dredges are erected in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cradle would starve."

Cutting Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bites into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

VOL. XXXI NO. 170 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO SATURDAY AUGUST 6 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

The C. P. R. Sustains 40,000 in Montreal

Montreal, Aug. 5.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has just completed a census of its employes resident in Montreal.

The total number of the company's employes in Montreal is 11,092.

A large number of these are unmarried, and so the usual census calculation of five people per family would be excessive, but a fair average of those dependent upon each wageearner, would probably be in the neighborhood of three, making the total number of persons dependent upon the C.P.R. payrolls between 30,000 and 35,000.

On the usual basis of calculation, about seven thousand people—butchers, bakers, shopkeepers, physicians, teachers, etc.—make a living by attending to the wants of these people so that it may fairly be computed that upwards of 40,000 people live in Montreal, because of the Canadian Pacific's existence.

It is estimated that the average earning per head of those employed is in the neighborhood of $3 per day, making the daily distribution $33,000, or at the rate of about $12,000,000 per year.

Seven Persons were Suffocated to Death in an Incendiary Fire

New York, Aug. 5.—Seven persons, two of them women, were suffocated, to death, two more fatally hurt and ten others injured less seriously early today, when an incendiary fire, supposed to be work of the Black Hand, destroyed a lodging house at 109 Rockaway road.

But for the heroism of one of the occupants, who was fatally hurt while attempting to save others, the loss of life would have been greater.

AWAKENED BY DOG.

This man Stefan Marsorawski, was awakened by the barking of a dog.

THE DEAD.

Stefan Caniewkrown, aged 30.
Frank Nitko, 19.
Stefan Congratzwi, 26.
Lawrence Honest, 36.
Martin Merschali, 67.
Agnes Sauryto, 27.
Nellie Sradick, 25.

FATALLY INJURED.

Bladimar Pagawski, 30, burned and internally injured.
Stefan Marsorgwski, 35, right arm fractured, internally injured.

STRANGERS IN STRANGE LAND

In the building when the flames were discovered there were forty-five persons all asleep. Almost without exception they were immigrants, recently from their native lands, and seeking employment.

George Bombee, proprietor of the house, also runs an employment agency.

The dead were overcome by smoke. They were dead when taken out. Both of the men fatally injured were hurt when they jumped from the top of the three storey house, where they had been trapped.

The fire was well advanced when discovered.

AMBULANCES ARRIVE.

With the arrival of the first apparatus, a second alarm was turned in, and three ambulances were called from St. Mary's Hospital. Nearly the entire staff of Jamaica Hospital also went to the scene with another ambulance. A field hospital was established beyond the fire lines.

A big Russian blood hound gave the alarm. It was this dog's barking that awoke Marsorawski, and sent him yelling through the smoke filled halls from floor to floor.

The blaze started on the ground floor, in the rear. It fed on material that gave forth an unusually choking, heavy smoke. From the positions of several bodies it was apparent that some of the victims had struggled frantically to find exits.

Neighbors attempted rescue work, but were driven back. Marsorawski carried out three women and two children before his clothes caught fire.

D. HUGHES-CHARLES LEAVES.

Popular Manager of Bank of Commerce to go to Montreal.

Banking, mercantile and social circles in Peterborough, will learn, with profound regret that one of the most popular citizens of Peterborough, in the person of Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, local manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who came here eight years ago from Galt, will leave in the middle of next month to reside in Montreal. Mr. Hughes-Charles has been made a flattering offer by the prominent stock broking firm of Colin, McCuaig & Co., of Canada's metropolis, and will hereafter identify himself with them. Whilst his many friends here will be pleased to learn that Mr. Charles has become a partner in this important Canadian firm they will sadly miss him in the matter of sports and social events. The Peterborough Exhibition will also miss a strong advocate and a hustling member.

THE GAME IS OFF.

T.A.S. and All Star Combination Game Gives Place to Monday's Great Event.

Today's game, which was to have been between the T.A.S. and the All Star aggregation, is called off, owing to the game on Monday, which is attracting such great interest. It appears the T.A.S. men to hold their men in good trim till Monday. It will be remembered that the Cobourgites came very near crushing the T.A.S. on May 24th, when a score of 3 to 1 held the T.A.S. reputation. The nine from that ancient burg come greatly strengthened this time and expect to show Peterborough where Cobourg would stand if they were in the City League. With Quinlan shooting the pill across the pan in good style, the T. A.S. team will endeavor to prove to the Cobourg team where they get off at.

NEGRO POPULACE MAKES EXIT.

Following Race Riots in Which Ten of Their Number Were Killed.

Palestine, Tex., Aug. 3.—Two more white men have been arrested in connection with the race riots in Anderson county last week in which at least ten negroes were killed.

Mac Reed and Bud Wise were brought here to jail yesterday and with eleven other white men are held without bail charged with murder in the first degree.

It is reported that warrants for twelve others have been issued.

Interest centered in the investigation being made into the affair by a special grand jury. Eighteen witnesses were before that body, but none of the evidence submitted was given out.

It is reported that almost the entire negro population of Sandy Bulah colony near the scene of the rioting has left.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family Physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than fakirs. One day my friend asked me why I was off work so much and told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got Tan Nye Strapless Treatment. My progress was somewhat slow, and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for two months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $24 a week in a months time before treatment, now I am earning $36 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

PRIESTS DISTRIBUTE ARMS TO THE INFLAMED PEASANTRY

PIOUS PEOPLE FEAR GOVERNMENT—FEELING AMONG SPANISH POPULACE INTENSE.

Ten Thousand Troops Sent to Quell Uprising Caused by Reactionaries—Aims to Efface Their Religion.

Rome, Aug. 5.—Cardinal Merry De Val, the papal secretary of state, received in audience today Marquis De Gonzales, councillor of the Spanish embassy at the vatican, who is in charge of the embassy since the recall of Marquis De Ojeda.

There was a long discussion of the Spanish situation, at the close which both Cardinal Merry De Val and Marquis De Gonzales expressed hopes that a solution would be found which would avoid further friction.

Madrid, Aug. 5.—Ten thousand carefully chosen troops were despatched today to the Basque Provinces to quell the uprising there which has broken out under the leadership of the reactionaries.

It is believed that behind the movement is a plan for the overthrow of King Alfonso and the elevation to the throne of Don Jaime, the Bourbon Pretender, who has been in constant communication with the clericals since the relations between Spain and the vatican first became strained.

Conflagration was received here today of the report that the distribution of arms to the inflamed populace is being directed by the priests.

Orders have been issued for the arrest of all incendiarists, whether priests or laymen.

The railroads running to the north have been ordered to give the troop trains right of way.

Advices received here today state that the disaffection is spreading rapidly, now being particularly alarming in the northern part of the Province of Navarra.

Both Radicals and the Castilist-clerical forces are said to be arming in Vizcaya, where the striking miners of the Bilbao district hold a crucial position in the struggle.

In the Provinces of Alava and Guipuzcoa the situation is scarcely less critical than elsewhere. The pious part of the population believes that the government's intention is to do away with all forms of religion, and the feeling is intense.

Secret instructions were today sent to the governor of La Mota, the fortress containing the San Sebastien garrison. It is understood this step was taken at the direct order of Premier Canalejas.

The reports arriving here today are taken as indicating that a clash is inevitable, and the question is now largely one of whether the eris will be delayed till the Sunday demonstrations or will come before that.

General Aznar, minister of war, this morning conferred for more than an hour with the premier. Minister of Public Works Calbeton was summoned to the meeting to be consulted regarding the running of troop trains.

Baron de la Torre, civil governor at San Sebastien, today requested detailed instructions. The situation, however, is largely in the hands of the military.

Rumors circulated here today said that the declaration of martial law in the north was not improbable.

1,000 Christians Slain

Constantinople, Aug. 5.—Fully 1,000 Christians and Musaulmans have been slain this week in the massacres in Syria, according to despatches today from Damascus. The situation is somewhat relieved today the despatches say, owing to the arrival of the vanguard of the troops that are being despatched to the scene.

A Few Strands of Hair May Send Dr. Crippen to Gallows

London, Aug. 5.—Positive evidence that the body found in Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen's home here is that of Belle Elmore, his wife, has been obtained by Scotland Yard detectives it was learned today, confirming the announcement made by the British and colonial press several days ago that the body had been identified.

Several strands of hair found near the body have been identified as that of Belle Elmore. It was of a peculiar color. It had been dyed, and part of the hair had come back to its natural color.

FRIENDS IDENTIFY HAIR.

Friends of Belle Elmore declared after seeing the strands, that they were willing to swear that they were the hair of Crippen's wife.

Walter Pink, a playwright and manager, was among those who were shown the strands. Paul Martinetti, another theatrical man, also saw them, and both declared their belief that the hair was that of Belle Elmore.

HAD DINNER WITH CRIPPENS.

Martinetti and his wife had dinner with the Crippens on January 31st. Belle Elmore is believed to have been killed early the following morning.

Cook to Make Another Effort to Reach Pole

New York, Aug. 4.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook is arranging for another Arctic expedition with the object of reaching the North Pole and recovering the brass tube he alleges he left there two years ago. With this tube recovered he hopes to vindicate himself before the world and wrest the claim of priority in reaching the pole from Commander Peary.

The plan of the trip was learned today from Dr. Cook's brother, W. L. Cook, of 747 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn.

"The start will be with the utmost secrecy," said Mr. Cook, "but the preparations are already under way. My brother has already asked me to buy for him a full set of furs, which I have done."

Mr. Cook refused to say where the discredited explorer is.

"Dr. Cook," he said, "is going to get the brass tube he left at the pole, and with it he will prove his claim before all the world. He will take along some one as a witness—if necessary, he will take a enemy."

"My brother is one of the most patient men in the world, and the general public has failed to understand the reason for his reticence. He cares little for what is said of him, while he knows he is right.

"Within a comparatively short time he will set out again in an effort to disabuse the public of his misapprehensions, however.

"In the west he will have little difficulty in convincing the public of the truth of his story, on his return, but in the east it may be more difficult, even with the brass tube. The east has proven itself almost beyond reason in its judgment of the doctor."

Mr. Cook declared that the explorer was not within hundreds of miles of New York. He denied that Dr. Cook went to Chile after he disappeared here.

LETTER FROM CRIPPEN.

Hamilton, Aug. 4.—W. Bruce, the well-known astronomer, has in his possession a letter written by Ethel Lenove, and signed by Dr. Crippen, which reached him the day before Belle Elmore's body was found. Bruce wrote to Crippen in answer to an advertisement in a London paper about a cure for deafness. He was amazed the day after receiving the reply to read that Crippen was a fugitive from justice.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always affords quick relief. Sold by all dealers.

Dr. Hawley Crippen's Life in Toronto Calls for a Searching Investigation

INSPECTOR DEW'S NIAGARA FALLS TRIP NOW BELIEVED TO BE COVER FOR INVESTIGATION.

Indications That Crippen's Residence in Toronto Some 12 Years Ago, Will Play an Important Part in the Trial of the Noted Prisoner.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—Developments in the Crippen murder case today indicate that the physician's residence in Toronto some 12 years ago will play an important part in the trial of the noted prisoner who is now in prison at Quebec.

Crippen's first wife is dead.

Crippen's last wife is dead, and it is on her account that he is accused of murder.

But between wife No. 1 and Belle Elmore, the actress, there was a wife No. 2, who made many friends in Toronto by her charming disposition, culture and refinement.

The Mrs. Crippen who came to Toronto 12 years ago with Dr. Crippen when he was manager for Munyon's Homeopathic system of treatment, was a fashionably dressed woman of about medium height. She was plump, with an oval face, flashing black eyes, and peculiar charm of manner that left the imprint of her personality clearly in the memory of those who met her and her husband at the Elliott House on Church street, for it was at this hotel they stopped during their residence in the city.

The Mrs. Crippen who came to Toronto is not at all recognizable by pictures of the first wife or the one whose murder is now under investigation.

What has become of Crippen's Toronto wife? Is she dead like the rest? There are Toronto people who can and put these questions out of their minds.

Mr. T. H. Hinkle, the well-known advertising manager of the big cloth ing house of Hobberlin Bros., said to a reporter today.

"There is a deep mystery here: Under the circumstances there seems to be a call for an investigation by the Scotland Yard officers into Dr. Crippen's residence in this city."

"You met Dr. and Mrs. Crippen when in Toronto," asked the reporter.

"Met them?" half queried Mr. Humble. "Why, myself and other Toronto friends have been to picnics with them, we have lunched together; we have been to the island together.

"I remember one characteristic of the Toronto Mrs. Crippen. She had a great fondness for diamonds and wore a number of them on her hand.

"And the Mrs. Crippen you met is not like the police pictures of the others?"

"A different type of woman to either of them," replied Mr. Humble with emphasis.

"Many Toronto people who met Mrs. Crippen then, in view of the circumstances, are wondering today why this attractive woman was dropped from sight," he added.

During his residence in Toronto, Dr. Clark, of Detroit, whose brother is at the Junction Stock Yards, was Dr. Crippen's professional associate.

It will be recalled that the Ontario Medical Council undertook to fight the institution with which Dr. Crippen was connected and eight or ten young specialists were notified to withdraw or lose their professional standing in Ontario. The case at the time attracted wide attention.

Where is the Toronto Mrs. Crippen? Is she pined, and if so did she die a natural death?

It is believed now that Inspector Dew's alleged trip to Niagara Falls is merely a cover for further investigations to be conducted in Toronto and Detroit.

TAKE OFF THE FAT WHERE IT SHOWS

Most women suffer much humiliation because of great quantities of fat, so located that, no matter how they dress, everybody sees that they are abnormal. This is the day of the slender figure, and fat women are simply not tolerated either in business or social affairs. Women may not know it, but men when they see a fat women pass them on the street make all manner of sympathetic remarks about her. They do not mean to be unkind or even to seem unmanly, but it is natural for a man to dislike fat on a woman. Where fat shows the most there is where it must be removed, and as quickly as possible. The hot weather dresses seem to be made for the fat woman's misery and the slender woman's delight. They expose all the charms of woman and her nakedness as well. Exercise and diet will not remove fat. This has been proved. The famous Marmola prescription which has met with such phenomenal success and has so many of our society women as its sponsors, is now being sold in tablet form to meet the demand of the public for this style of treatment. These little tablets go into your system just like food. They stop the stomach and digestive apparatus from producing fat and reduce the fat upon the body at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They are harmless and can be carried in your purse and taken even after you have indulged in a hearty meal at home. They are sold at all drug stores at 75 cents a case, or if you prefer you may write to the Marmola Company, 1192 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

Freight Leaves Rails; Three Killed in Wreck

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 5.—Sticking to his post, Engineer George Coglizer, was killed in a freight wreck on the D. L. & W., between Strousburg and Adamolink today at the same spot where his son, also an engineer, lost his life in a wreck three months ago. Three other men were killed in today's accident—Fireman David Bernard, head brakeman Thomas Ryan and flagman Al. Jones.

Investigation shows the causes to be either defective brakes or wet rails. Fifty-seven loaded freight cars were piled up, when at the foot of a three mile grade, the train left the track while going 70 miles an hour. The engine was thrown 60 feet from the rails.

The debris caught fire and firemen were summoned from the Strousburg and Adamolink. The loss will amount to many thousands of dollars.

Middleton, N.Y., Aug. 5.—A landslide on the Erie Railroad five miles west of here early today caused the wreck of an eastbound fast freight train and the loss of three lives. The dead:

James J. Bardley, engineer, Port Jervis.

Howard E. Taylor, fireman, Port Jervis.

George Carpenter, brakeman, Jersey City.

The landslide is believed to have been due to a heavy rain which loosened the hill side soil and caused large quantities of rock to crash down upon and block the tracks. The freight hit the obstruction with terrific impact and was badly wrecked, eleven refrigerator cars being piled up in a tangled heap around the locomotive. Wreck age crews were rushed to the scene to clear the road.

MOST DANGEROUS RACE EVER SAILED

WILL BE THE MOTOR BOAT CONTEST THROUGH NIAGARA'S RAPIDS ON SEPT. 17TH.

$1,000 Cash to the Winner and $500 Cup—Course From Maid of Mist Landing to Pitz's Dock at Lewiston.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 5.—When on September 17th next, a number of motor boats attempt to pass through the Whirlpool Rapids of the Niagara they will have embarked on the most novel, if not the most dangerous, contest ever arranged among small craft. Yet this fact has in no wise abated the eagerness of several pilots and a great number of boat owners, all of them desirous of winning the $1,000 cash prize and $500 cup that are offered for first prize.

It was nearly two centuries after the French priest Hennepin had written home of the wonders of Niagara that anyone is known to have essayed to pass through the rapids in a boat, or even take chances on the water above the Falls, other than with suicidal intent. The first boat to pass through the rapids from below the falls to Lewiston was the old Maid of the Mist. But the success of Captain Joel Robinson and his crew in taking the Maid through the turbulent waters did not appear to be any encouragement to other navigators to follow his example.

For a period of years no attempt was made to traverse the rapids in a boat, nor was there any particular reason, other than for notriety's sake, why the trip should be made. The river steamboats of two or three decads ago forbade the attempt being made, and the dangers that the rapids presented to even modern steam craft with their heavy engines, precluded any very frequent effort to lay a course through Niagara's outlet. It remained for the offer of the prizes already mentioned to bring the motor boat forth as a possible successful contender against the elements.

The conditions of the race include the following: Boats shall be of deck ed or closed types, and cockpits, if fitted, shall be of self-bailing type. Deck erections shall not exceed sixteen inches in height above decks, and openings in them are not to be greater than twelve inches. Ignition systems must be securely fastened and protected from water. No restrictions are placed on the number of the crew. Contestants will be started not less than ten minutes apart, the boat finishing the shortest elapsed time to win.

The course is from the Maid of the Mist landing on the Canadian side of the river, or some such point above the bridges as may be decided upon later, down to and around a turn about one-half mile below Queenston dock, thence to Pitz' dock at Lewiston.

OIL IS KING.

Investments in Oil Properties Give Promise of Large Returns.

California is now attracting the attention of the mercantile and financial world by the great finds of Petroleum in the Golden State. Oil is now becoming a close competitor with coal for the production of steam. Ships including the colossal man-of-war are now using oil for fuel in place of the more bulky and expensive coal.

The Atlanta Oil Co. has secured 106 acres of proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. The Atlanta Company's property is ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Cal.

Judging by the properties entirely surrounding the property referred to, there is no question about the company getting oil. As far as the disposal of its oil, when it comes gushing to the surface, is concerned, it might be noticed that there are 35 refineries in California crying for the crude stock to keep their places going. Now is the time to get in on the ground floor of the Atlanta Oil Company's stock. This company has lumber on the ground for derricks and machinery has been ordered. You can for a limited time secure stock at 15c a share, which on August 20 will be advanced to 20c. For stock or particulars, address J. E. Levi, Fiscal Agent, 411 So. Main Street, Los Angeles, Cal. A local agent is wanted to sell stock on commission.

TWO SAILORS SETTLED A DISPUTE WITH FISTS.

Battled for Fifteen Minutes at Montreal Wharf and Were Not Stopped—Did Not Use Gloves.

Montreal, Aug. 4.—Stripped to the waist, their feet bare, and without gloves, two sailors from the Dominion liner Welshman, fought a bloody battle on the wharf near where their ships was docked last night. There were no rounds, but otherwise the fight was conducted in as orderly a way as the ordinary professional boxing contest, a third sailor from the Welshman being in charge of all arrangements.

The fight was a result of a quarrel between the two men which occurred while the ship was on her way across the Atlantic. They could not fight during the voyage, as they would have been put in irons, so they agreed to fight for fifteen minutes with bare fists on a wharf as soon as their ship was docked.

The fight was carried out according to their previous arrangement, no one interferring with the men until the fifteen-minute battle was at an end.

OVER-WORKED KIDNEYS.

Cause, Rush of Blood, Fulness, Dizziness.

J. T. Chetland, the well-known railway engineer of Hamilton, found the strain always resting upon men of his occupation vastly intensified by a tendency of the blood to rush to his head and often at times when clearness of vision and great steadiness were demanded. Finding some difficulty in bending—a stiffness with pain having settled in his back, it occurred to him that his Kidneys might be at fault. "This was a happy idea, for by it I not only got rid of the pain but many other troubles as well. I took a full dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and was glad to note that some obstruction of the kidneys which I had lately noticed was at once relieved. The flushed appearance of my face gave way to a more rational color and there was a perciptible improvement in my appetite. Dr. Hamilton's Pills certainly act splendidly upon the blood, removing heat and fulness and that sort of dizziness that makes a man at the throttle wish when it seizes him that he was elsewhere."

No medicine gives such unquestionably good results for stomach, liver and blood troubles as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they are mild, certain and always curative. Refuse any substitute.

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A BOON TO STOCK RAISERS.

To Know How to Cure Colic, Distemper, Colds, Swellings, Etc.—

It is a matter of vital importance to every farmer, horse-owner and stock raiser to know exactly what to do when one of his animals is taken suddenly sick.

The letter of Mr. Drank F. Fullerton, which we print below, gives information of inestimable value, and tells of his experience in curing ailing stock during the past thirty-eight years:

SAVED $1,000 BY NERVILINE

"Several years ago when my horses took colic I used to give them Cayenne Pepper in hot milk, but in a few cases only did it help, and because I had no proper means at hand I lost several valuable animals. Some one told me of the success Mr. Wendling of Brockville, Ont., had in his racing stables with "Nerviline," so I laid in a supply. It wasn't very long before Nerviline saved the life of a valuable stallion of mine, which was worth at least a $1,000. This horse was taken with colic, and would have died, had it not been for Nerviline. I have used Nerviline for reducing swellings, for taking out distemper lumps, and easing a bad cough, and always found it worked well. I recommend every man who owns horses or cattle to keep Nerviline on hand.

Mr. Fullerton is one of the best known residents of Stormont, and his recommendation as an experienced and practical horseman proved beyond question how valuable Nerviline really is.

Give Nerviline a trial. It's good for man or beast, interbally or externally. 25c. per bottle or five for $1.00. At all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS DENY STORY IN M. A. P.

Montreal, Aug. 3.—The allegations made by T. P. O'Connor's weekly paper, "M. A. P." against Montreal which declared that this city was not a safe place for English girls to come to, and that domestic servants and others were brought here from England, paid insufficient wages and practically forced into a life of shame because of this, also that the Dominion Government regulations were lax in this respect, were vigorously denied today by three representatives of the Government Immigration Bureau. Mr. Hoolihan, superintendent; Mr. Marquette, agent, in Montreal, and Mrs. Francis, who is an agent of the government and is also at the head of the institution which imports domestic servants into this country. The Women's Domestic Guild of Canada.

"Mr. Marquette says the article is a "horrible thing for any paper to print," and is not true in any detail.

Mr. Hoolihan declared that domestic servants are not easily led astray and that the department has only had one case in the last eighteen months. Mrs. Frances also says there is no truth in the charges.

The steamship men are all worked up over the story, which they claim will injure the port of Montreal and hamper immigration. Yesterday they took a hand in the game when one of the officials of the Dominion line called at the local immigration offices and asked Mr. Marquette to deny the charges circulated in the article in question.

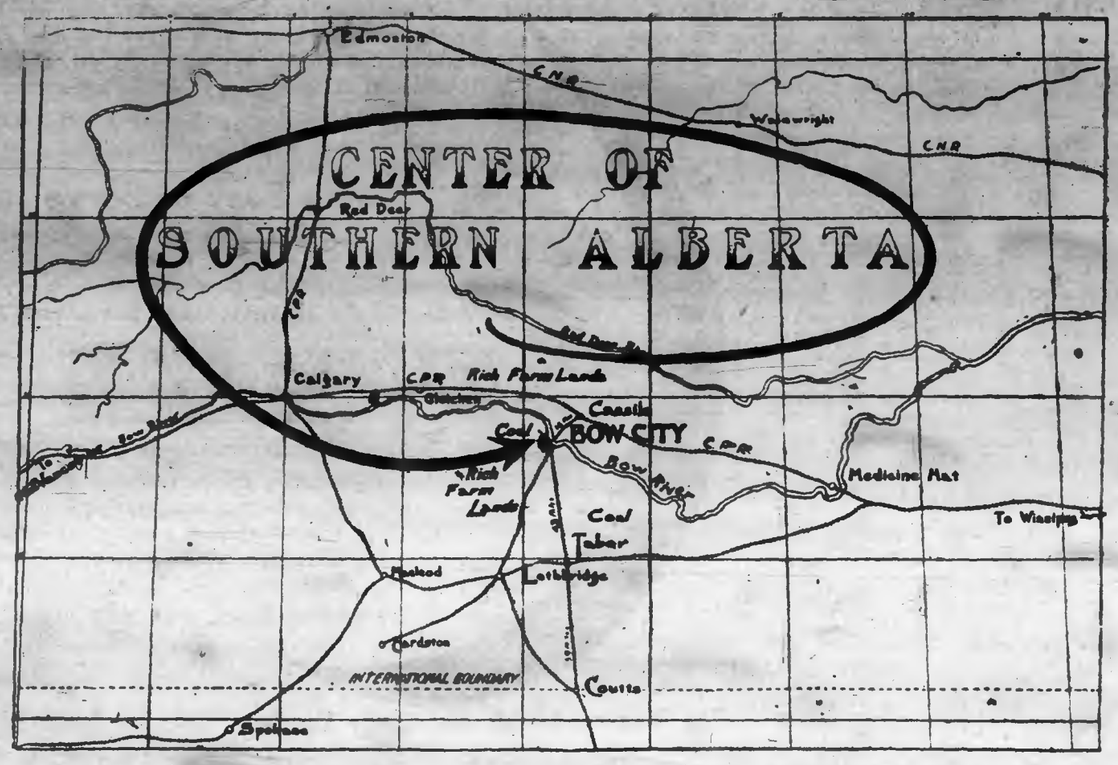
"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"



If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta

the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid--a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City Lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your apulication by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

MILKS COWS TO MUSIC.

Boston Millionaire Finds Phonograph Increases Yield.

Boston, Aug. 5.—John Munro Longyear, Brookline's greatest millionaire is milking his celebrated Jersey cows to the accompaniment of a phonograph and the latest popular musical selections. A daily record is kept of the quantity produced at each milking.

The milkers noticed that some of the more irritable cows were quiet when the phonograph was playing. The next night one of the milkers brought the phonograph to the barn, and there was the same increase in the milk yield as on the previous night. Since then the phonograph has been an establishished fixture in the Longyear dairy.

AT WINNIPEG, REMEMBER THE GRANTING OF CONSTITUTION TO THEIR ISLAND.

The Twenty-First Time the Islanders of Western Capital Have Kept the Day—Three Orations Were Delivered.

Winnipeg, Aug. 4.—It was a great day for the Icelanders of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and the West yesterday, when they celebrated the national Icelandic holiday, a day which is kept by Icelanders the world over. This was the thirty-seventh anniversary of the day and the twenty-first time the Icelanders of Winnipeg have kept the day.

The day is to celebrate the granting of a constitution to the little wind-swept northern colony of Denmark. It was in 1874 that King Christian of Denmark granted to Iceland a constitution similar to to that possessed by Canada.

Under that constitution the Alching, which had been reorganized in 1848, obtained legislative powers in all matters concerning Iceland. The King appoints a governor who carries on the government in that island under a responsible secretary for Iceland in Copenhagen.

The discovery of Island dates back to the days of the Norsemen. As early as the Norsemen dared the sea it is probably that some of them reached the northern island.

It is claimed though that the first discovery of the island was by the Irishmen or Scotchmen about the beginning of the ninth century, but they did not make any permanent settlement.

Some seventy years later it was rediscovered by the Norsemen, who started a colony, preferring to leave their native land rather than to submit to the rule of Harold Haarfager. In sixty years there was a large settlement and an aristrocratic republic was formed, the central point of which was the athling, which met every year at Thingfeler.

For centuries Iceland shared the same fate. When, however, Denmark had to give Norway in 1814, Iceland remained with Denmark because it is said the negotiators of the Treaty of Vienna did not know there was such an island in existence.

The athling continued under both Norway and Denmark until 1800, though with very limited powers, when it was abolished.

Christianity was early introduced into Iceland, the year 1100 there were two bishops' sees, one at Kaholt, the other at Holar; about the middle of the sixteenth century the Reformation was introduced into Iceland, and since then all the Icelanders have remained Lutherans. Church matters are now superintended by one bishop at Reykjavik.

Since 1874 the Icelanders have always held great celebrations in honor of the granting of the constitution. Twenty-one years ago the Icelanders in Canad started celebrating and it is now a great annual event.

This year the day was kept at Frak, where there was an all day celebration. The morning was devoted to the children, when a program of sports was run off. After lunch came the orations of the day, which are always a feature of the Icelandic holiday. There were three speakers this year. They were Rev. Mr. Bergmann, who spoke on Iceland; T. H. Johnson, M.P.P., who also referred to that country; and G. Arnason, whose subject was "Icelanders in America."

Miss Nellie Manley, trained nurse, is visting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Manley, Edinburgh street, for a couple of months.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the east, the HARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. is commencing drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.00 a barrel at well. Costs from 2c to 6c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 36 refineries in California are crying for the product. The Eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be even subscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

"HEADACHE, WEAKNESS, HEART TROUBLE"

"I Suffered With for Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Me Entirely."

Miss Albina Chauvin, No. 89 Rue Agnes, St. Henri, Montreal, Can., writes:

"I consider Peruna better than any other remedy, as it cured me when nothing else could. I suffered for years and years with heart trouble, headache and weakness. I never expected to find anything to cure me. I saw one day, in "La Presse," that Peruna was excellent and I tried it. One bottle produced a change in me and if the price had been $100 a bottle I would have paid it gladly. I have taken six bottles and am entirely cured. Please accept my thanks and best wishes for your Peruna."

Many cases of heart trouble are caused by reflex disturbances.

Derangements of the stomach and liver produce symptoms of heart trouble.

Catarrh of the stomach is a very frequent cause of sympathetic heart disease.

Palpitation, shortness of breath and bloating after meals are the most prominent symptoms.

Such a condition of the stomach is also liable to produce headaches of the worst sort.

Medicines that palliate the symptoms will never lead to a cure.

It is the effect which Peruna has upon the stomach, healing the mucous membranes and restoring the natural function of the stomach, that causes Peruna to bring such prompt relief.

PORCUPINE CITY

THE PORCUPINE BOOM has started. The district is proven It is today the greatest Gold Camp in the world.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

The Townsite has already the "Porcupine Post Office," two Banks, one 75-room Hotel, general stores, hardware stores, hospital, a drug store, bakery, theatorium, laundry, several office buildings, and numerous boarding houses and dwellings.

Townsite lots worth today from $60.00 to $300.00 should treble in value by Christmas, and be worth many times this amount within the next year or two.

Mr. D. O'Connel's Emismore Lecture

Mr. Dan O'Connel's lecture in Emismore recently seems to have aroused much enthusiasm among the residents of that, one of Peterborough's fairest and most prosperous townships. Mr. O'Connell is admittedly loyal to British rule, and that love he bears for English laws and code of morals, he imparts to his hearers, in the finest and forcible style of the Irish orator. Mr. O'Connell's lecture on "Canada" should be repeated, when more of our Canadian youths will have a chance to learn the great lesson of setting aside race and religious differences, and living as true, honest and honorable sons of this fair Dominion.

Emismore Pupils Succeed.

The Emismore Continuation Class came out with flying colors at the recent examination for entrance to the Normal. Of the eight who tried five passed the Normal entrance and the other three are entitled to attend the Model if they choose. Those who were successful are Greta M. Cook, Beatrice Crough, Lily Hickey, Willie P. Moloney and Katheline Moloney. Each of the above pupils attended the Continuation Class only two years and a half.

Judgment Reserved in Lindsay Case.

It rests with Police Magistrate Jackson of Lindsay, to determine whether sufficient evidence was developed in the investigation there yesterday to justify his sending for trial on a charge of conspiracy, A. B. McGill, former manager of the Farmers' Bank of Canada there, also J. J. Fleury and J. L. Coulter, also former employes of the Home Bank of Canada. Evidence of witnesses called by the prosecution was taken and argument on both sides heard, and his worship will give judgment next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, desiring meantime to read all the evidence after it had been transcribed.

Mrs. L. M. Filton and her daughter, Miss Agnes Filton, of New York, are the guests of her niece, Mrs. H. Hudson and Miss Mabel Townsend of Patterson street, on their way to the lakes.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thedford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

VOL. XXXI NO. 170 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO MONDAY AUGUST 8 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

West Preparing to Transport a Big Crop

Winnipeg, Aug. 6.—That the crop this year will not prove so bad as pessimists declared it would, is being amply demonstrated by the three railroads, the G.T.R., the C.N.R. and the C.P.R., for each company has made preparations to handle a big harvest. Reports received at the three offices during the past week indicated that as much rolling stock will have to be used as in past years all along the lines, except in some districts, where the transportation to be afforded will have to be on a bigger scale, on account of the huge crops.

The Grand Trunk Pacific is now quite ready to handle the anticipated heavy traffic, and the big cars will be coming eastward from September onward. The other lines have about made preparations. T. S. Acheson, grain agent of the C.P.R., having already made a survey of the western country which took five weeks, has submitted a report to the vice-president of the company, and it is upon this that will be decided what action will be taken to fulfil the requirements of the farmers to convey the grain from the farm to seaport.

RELIGIOUS PESSIMISM

"WHY DO PEOPLE NO LONGER GO TO CHURCH?"

Many Solutions of the Problem Have Been Offered, While a Number Give It Up.

"Why do people no longer go to church?" This question is asked, answered and discussed through many magazines and in all manner of church congresses. Many solutions of the problem have been offered, while a considerable number of wise people have given it up.

One is reminded of that King of England who could not find a member of a learned society able to tell why the water in a barrel rose no higher when a fish was put in. It did not occur to any of the students to ascertain whether the water did rise.

If it should be found that the churches are better attended now than they used to be there would be no question left to be answered.

It may be that in Puritan New England at one time there were more churchgoers in proportion to the population than there are now. But this was because New England was colonized by a religious body largely as a religious movement. The community was as distinctive as the Doukhobor settlement. The older generation went to church because theology was their chief business, the younger because they were compelled. But whatever may be said of New England in the seventeenth century, there is no question that New England in the eighteenth century and the early part of the nineteenth was less devout than it is now. The congregations in Boston are certainly larger than they were in the last generation or the one before. The same may be said of Chicago and all the western cities. We believe it is true of every city and nearly every town in Canada. Yet there are more churches in proportion to population than ever before.

There are small cities in Eastern Canada whose population shows no considerable increase, but which are dedicating additional churches every few years. Country charges in the older provinces have been divided and subdivided until three or four ministers occupy the field. There has been no proportionate increase in the population and the congregations meet more often, with the percentage of attendants larger than ever.

It goes without saying that pioneer western colonies have churches and ministers which with the same population would fifty years ago have had neither. A place of worship is now one of the first group of buildings in a prairie settlement or a mining camp or a lumber village.

Turn to a city like Vancouver, which reflects the modern spirit of material progress. Spacious and ambitious office buildings, large apartment houses, fine commercial establishments and splendid residences are rising in all directions. But the erection of new and large churches keeps pace with other development, and the city draws on the East for preachers, as it does for business men, professional men and mechanics. A stranger in this city remarked the other day that he heard men anxiously considering how these people in these Western cities could be induced to attend church. "I have been four times to service in Vancouver," he said, "in three different churches, of as many denominations. On each occasion, morning and evening, the church was crowded, though there was no special attraction. In two of the churches the congregational singing was about the most hearty I ever heard. If these were fair samples of Vancouver congregations the problem is to provide accommodation."

No doubt there is much to be desired in connection with church work and progress. But nothing is to be gained by confessions of failure that are not justified. A great many people do not go to church. Many are not fully satisfied with what they hear, and some who are not satisfied may not receive the benefit that the service was intended to render. But these are not new developments or special signs of the particular time. It is proper for Christians to consider where the church has fallen short, but it would be no mistake to recognize the fact that the church is a great and active and increasing power in the land.

WHAT COULD THE BRITISH ARMY DO IN EUROPEAN WAR?

QUESTION RAISED BY EARL PERCY AROUSES MUCH COMMENT IN ENGLAND.

Whole Subject is Being Threshed Out—This is a Very Pertinent Matter to the British.

Help of Colonies Would Be Strongly Counted on by the Mother Country in Event of Great Conflict.

London, Aug. 6.—Earl Percy has raised the question, "What would the British army do in a European war?" This is a very pertitent matter to the British, and as the German war-scare is by no means at an end, much comment has been aroused thereby. The first thing, says one authority, in any discussion that is not trifling is to see a possible British war as a whole, so that each party may drop into its proper perspective. Seen as a whole, a British war means a conflict between one or more of the Great Powers and Great Britain with such support and help as Great Britain can derive from the dominions overseas. Modern war between great powers is always a national affair. Its mark is that it is a struggle for the mastery in which one side is sure to put forward its whole available strength, and in which therefore the side that cannot mobilize its whole people and all its wealth and resources will be at a disadvantage, at any rate at the start.

But in modern war the tendency is to throw all the possible energy in to the first blow, so that a disadvantage at the start may easily be fatal. Great Britain cannot for a European war mobilize her empire. That is a reserve of power upon which she can only draw after a lapse of time and in special circumstances.

The overseas dominions have or may not have a series of secure naval bases valuable in a naval war for the protection of commerce. Troops from the overseas Dominions may reinforce the garrison of India and even of Egypt. They cannot, at the outset, be available in Europe. In the first act Great Britain has to fight for the empire with no more direct help from it than can be given by such naval forces maintained by the Dominions as may at the time form part of the British navy in European waters.

That first act must needs be a fight for the "command of the sea," a fight of which the kernel will be a decisive sea fight, a naval conflict fought out to the bitter end. So far as can be judged on the present balance of naval power, the issue in the conflict at sea would depend mainly on the tactical training of the fleets and on the strategical skill of the opposing admiralties. If the margin of numerical superiority should in the future be diminished the need for tactical and strategical superiority would proportionately increase. Here lies in sober truth the center of gravity of the whole war.

In case Great Britain should have an ally other than naval operations have to be considered. Of course, naval operations have two parts. There must be the effort to gain decisive victory in European waters; that is, to crush the hostile navy, and there must also be the swarm of cruisers dotted over the trade routes to "shadow" the enemy's commerce destroyers. The ally's fleet will be a reinforcement to all the British fleets. Whether there will be an ally depends partly upon Britain's policy, that is upon the cause for which Great Britain will fight, and partly upon the estimate placed by foreign powers upon which Great Britain can do with her forces.

The first question a possible ally will ask, assuming that the cause to be one in which she feels that for her own sake she must need fight if she has a chance, is: Will Great Britain be victorious at sea? No ally will be forcoming unless the answer to that question is in the affirmative. For an ally worth having must be assumed to have reasonable prudence, and to join with a Great Britain foredoomed to defeat at sea would evidently be rash. The first question answered in the affirmative the second question to be considered by the possible ally would be: What can Great Britain do to help us in our battles on land, in particular in the decisive battles, which in modern war engage early in the campaign? This is the question discussed by Earl Percy, who takes as his hypothetical case that in which the adversary would be Germany and the possible ally, France.

MR. McWILLIAMS HONORED.

Is Presented With an Address and Tokens of Regard.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, B.A., L.L.B., on his departure for Winnipeg, was presented by the Peterborough Law Association on Friday afternoon last with an address and hand some club bag and brief bag. The following address was read to Mr. McWilliams, to which he replied very feelingly upon severing his connection with the Peterborough bar. Addresses were also made by Mr. D. W. Dumble, K.C., George Edmison, K.C., and other members of the association.

"At a meeting of the Peterborough Law Association held this 8th day of August, 1910, the following resolution was passed:

"Moved by D. W. Dumble, K.C., police magistrate for the City of Peterborough, and seconded by R. E. Wood, county Crown attorney for the County of Peterborough, and resolved:

"That this association on the occasion of the removal to Winnipeg of Mr. R. F. McWilliams, B.A., L.L.B., and a member of this association, tendered to him an expression of the respect and good will of the members of this association.

"Mr. McWilliams was born here, and here he received in our schools his primary education, and having received from Toronto University his degrees of bachelor of arts, and of law, and from the Law Society of Upper Canada a certificate to practice, Mr. McWilliams returned to his native city to engage in the active practice of his profession, and during the last eleven years has made for himself an honorable place in this community both as a citizen and as a member of the bar, and in addition to performing the ordinary duties of citizenship he has served the public both as an alderman and as a mayor of the City of Peterborough.

"The lure of the West is drawing from us many of our best men, and we would feel a greater regret if we did not realize that we are not loosing, but only lending them to aid in the development and upbuilding of our Great Western Provinces.

"We wish for Mr. McWilliams all the happiness and prosperity in his new field of activity, and bespeak for him a prominent place among the members of the Western bar.

"We now ask him to accept in further token of our good will the accompanying gift.

"E. H. D. HALL,
President Peterborough Law Association.
"E. L. GOODWILL,
Secretary."

HEAVILY ARMED BURGLARS. CHECK-MATE PURSUERS.

Roberts and His Chum Flaunt Themselves in the Face of the Sheriff and Police. Seemingly Defying Capture.

Ingersoll, Ont., Aug. 5.—Jack Roberts and his chum, Steadman, who made a daring escape from the London jail on Tuesday afternoon last, are still at large and undoubtedly in this town and community, baffling the best efforts of the local police force assisted by High Constable Hughes of Middlesex, and Deputy Sheriff Waterworth of London.

Roberts from his knowledge of the town and community, acquired in his early boyhood days, is engineering the sensational chase with all the skill of an experienced checker player.

KNOWS HIS GROUND.

He has a thorough knowledge of the layout of the ground on which he is playing the game and he cleverly checkmates every move of his pursuers.

He has friends in Ingersoll who are undoubtedly assisting him in foiling the efforts of the police.

Not only has he shaken hands with a number of citizens of this town, not only has he openly appeared on the main streets, but he has been within a stone's throw of the officers in pursuit of him and yet he eludes them at every turn.

DOING GOOD WORK.

Nevertheless the officers are doing good work.

Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, Roberts entered a house in the south-east portion of the town and stole a jar of fruit.

Chief Chilton was notified, and, with Deputy Sheriff Waterworth and Constables Hughes and Cook, started after him.

Roberts must have known of their movements as he evaded them and hid in the Baptist church sheds and remarked to a citizen as the officers passed by "there go the four guys looking for me."

At 7 p.m. he was seen near the C.P.R. station and at nine o'clock Roberts was again seen on the north side of the town talking to a citizen.

Nothing more has been heard or seen of Roberts and his chum, so far as the police are informed, though they are constantly on the lookout for any sign of the fleeing prisoners.

It is stated that both men are heavily armed, and will offer a stern resistance if cornered.

Home From Trip to Lake Simcoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Brownscombe and family who are spending the summer at their cottage at Stony Lake, have just returned from a trip through the canal to Lake Simcoe, travelling by their launch "Minto." They spent six days on the trip and report having had a most enjoyable time, spending two days in Beaverton. Mr. Brownscombe gives great credit to Mr. McClellan, superintendent of the canal for the splendid manner in which the boat channel is buoyed.

THE WEATHER.

Thunderstorms throughout the day.

Tuberculosis Stamped Out in 25 Years, Says Sir Lauder Brunton

London, Aug. 6.—The practical disappearance of tuberculosis in 25 years, until it will be as rare in the British Isles as leprosy, was the prophecy of Sir Lauder Brunton in addressing the Health Congress at Birkenhead, Cheshire.

As regards appendicitis Sir Lauder states that his hypothesis was that the disease coincided with the arrestation in our method of grinding corn.

Referring to Sir Lauder's views on the tuberculosis problem, a hospital surgeon said: "When the general public fully understands the cause and methods of spread of tuberculosis, it should only be a matter of a generation or two before the disease is stamped out.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers

Otonabee Field Crops Inspected.

In connection with the Otonabee Agricultural Society's field crop competition, it might be said that Mr. M. J. Castleman, Morrisburg, last week inspected fourteen fields of oats entered by the following competitors: F. A. Eason, William Nelson, William Chapman, R. A. Nelson, Fred Spiers, J. H. Fife, Robert Weir, Joshua Smithson, Ralph Drummond, Peter Drummond, John A. Drummond, John Starke, Wm. Henderson and W. W. Shearer. The results will be received from the Agricultural Department in about two weeks.

Mr. J. W. Miller Succeeds Mr. F. J. Bell.

The Government of Ontario has asked Mr. F. J. Bell, Division Court Clerk, Peterborough, for his resignation, on account of that gentleman's deplored continued illness. Mr. Bell has been an able officer. It is understood among the local Conservatives that Mr. Bell's position will be filled by the appointment of Mr. J. W. Miller, who unsuccessfully contested West Peterborough for the local legislature a few years ago.

Re-opening Services at Mark Street.

The reopening services at Mark street Methodist church were very largely attended. Rev. J. E. Moore of Marmora, who was formerly an Ashburnham pastor, and who has many warm friends here, conducted the services. At 11 a.m. the pastor conducted a general testimony meeting in the basement, and at the close of Mr. Moore's address in the evening the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. The church which has been undergoing repairs for the past few weeks, has been greatly improved in appearance and comfort.

A COOL PROPOSITION

And a Sure One

The Body Does Not Feel Heat Unpleasantly If It Has Proper Food—

Grape-Nuts

People can live in a temperature which feels from ten to twenty degrees cooler than their neighbors enjoy, by regulating the diet.

The plan is to avoid meat entirely for breakfast; use a goodly allowance of fruit, either fresh or cooked. Then follow with a saucer containing about four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts, treated with a little rich cream. Add to this about two slices of crisp toast with a meager amount of butter, and one cup of well-made Postum.

By this selection of food the bodily energy is preserved, while the hot, carbonaceous foods have been left out. The result is a very marked difference in the temperature of the body, and to this comfortable condition is added the certainty of easy and perfect digestion, for the food being partially pre-digested is quickly assimilated by the digestive machinery.

Experience and experiment in food, and its application to the human body has brought out these facts. They can be made use of and add materially to the comfort of the user.

Ethel C. Le Neve Receives Offer to Appear on Stage--Is Destitute

Quebec, Aug. 6.—"Why cannot the world forget me, and let me forget."

Ethel Clare Le Neve, held with Dr. H. H. Crippen, in connection with the murder in London of Belle Elmore, sobbed this to the police matron guarding her today when she was handed a telegram containing an offer to go on the stage.

The young woman has not been allowed to see newspapers, and the extent of the public's interest in the case was unknown to her until suddenly released by the despatch.

Though the girl is almost destitute she crumpled up the message which contained an offer of $1,000 a week for her appearance in a melodrama founded on the Crippen case.

The offer came from a New York theatrical agent.

Deeply shaken by the revelations, the imprisoned girl broke down. "How can I think of such things at this time? How can people expect me to heed such proposals? Do they think I have no heart?" she demanded.

She was calmed with difficulty.

POLICE RELATIONS STRAINED.

Dr. Crippen today learned, through conversation with trusties confined near him, of the strained relations between the Canadian police and Inspector Dew, who is considered now as having assumed more power than his share.

Crippen expressed gratification that the Dominion police had given him cablegrams directed to him, whereas Dew had withheld them.

Otherwise it appeared to make little difference to him in whose custody he was.

Princess Who Wed Cousin of Kaiser is Excommunicated

Rome, Aug. 6.—Princess Agatha of Ratibor, who was married to Prince Frederick, William of Prussia, the Kaiser's cousin, at the palace at Postdam on June 8 last, has been excommunicated from the Roman Catholic Church for her marriage to a Protestant.

An indignant denial is published of the report that the princess received a papal dispensation. "On the contrary," says the official organ of the German Roman Catholic hierarchy, "the bride's surrender of her faith, could only meet with disapprobation all the more so because a Roman Catholic who is married by a Protestant pastor excommunicates himself."

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

SUFFERED FROM VIOLENT CATHARTICS.

The Warning of Mr. George C. Fox is One That Should Be Heeded By All.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the west are legion. In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal service rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: "Until I used Dr Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated every pill by its activity. Talking about this the other day to a well known physician I met on the train, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill, and instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, biliousness constipation, bad stomach and keep the system in perfect condition."

Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills; Sold for 25c., all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

CANNOT STOP THEM.

Making Desperate Efforts to Stem Influx of Americans Into Canada.

It is not surprising that the American newspapers should be making desperate efforts to stem, if possible the exodus of Americans into Canada and to that end a systematic campaign of misrepresentation of this country should be resorted to. Not only has the Canadian West been designated a chilblain country, and other abusive epithets applied to it, but it has been stated that thousands of dissatisfied Americans are returning to their old homes. The slander campaign has assumed such significance that Mr. J. Bruce Walker, the commissioner of immigration for Canada, has thought it worth while to call attention to it. In his statement Mr. Walker says:

"I have had complete reports from Emerson, Gretna, Bannerman, Portal, Courts, and Kingsgate. In the last nine months and more the officers of the Canadian Government have failed to trace any movement of the character described by the American press. The closest observation by trained officials has shown that the number of Americans returning to the United States this year has been below the average for the last three years.

"It is to be understood that in any movement of this character every settler is not necessarily absolutely satisfied. If Canada was the Garden of Eden, some settlers would be unhappy and want to go back home. A number of settlers have gone back to the United States from the Dominion during the last year, but the actual number to leave Western Canada, dissatisfied with conditions here, has not exceeded three hundred.

DYING OF CHOLERA.

Local Physicians Says Thousands Dying in Europe Can Be Saved With Proper Medicine.

What is it that keeps down cholera, cramps and summer complaints in America? Ask any doctor or live druggist and he will tell you Nerviline. Just fancy, a million bottles are sold every year to people who use Nerviline for stomach disorder, cramps, flatulence, and summer complaint. For fifty years in most Canadian homes no other pain relieving medicine but Nerviline is kept. Nothing cures the itches, pains and sickness of the entire family so quickly as Nerviline.

LETTER NO. 4672

"As far back as I can remember, at least 50 years ago there was never a time in our house when we were without Nerviline. In the summer time, when the children ate green apples and got sick with diarrhoea and cramps, it was Nerviline that cured them. My father used Nerviline frequently to cure gas on his stomach and acute indigestion. There are but few minor ailments that Nerviline does not cure, and I know of no medicine so useful; in fact so indispensable around the home as Nerviline.

This letter written by Mrs. N. C. Bowser, a well known resident in Battersea, shows the high opinion who have used it constantly for entertained of Nerviline by those nearly half a century.

You'll never regret using Nerviline. Get it today, keep it on hand for an accident or sudden case of sickness in your home. Refuse anything else offered you instead of Nerviline. 25c. per bottle, or five for $1.00. All dealers or the Catarrhzone Co., Kingston, Ont.

LABOR TROUBLES.

From many points in Canada and the States come reports of labor troubles. The Department of Labor is doubtless doing its best to prevent strikes or bring them to an end. But Mr. King's department has no authority to settle anything. It cannot compel the men or their employers to yield any part of their claim. When the two parties are anxious to avoid a strike the department may be able to appear as a arbitrator, making it easier to get a settlement without any apparent surrender. When a long strike has tired out one or both parties and each is seeking to bring the trouble to an end then Mr. King's appearance on the scene may guide their feet in the way of peace. But the real settlement is made by the parties to the dispute, and no one else can do it for them. Compulsory arbitration has not been introduced into this country—and perhaps would not be acceptable here. The labor department is therefore at best a feeble element in the settlement of labor disputes. If the parties responsible for the trouble drift cheerfully into a contest expecting that a government department wil bring it to a close they are too credulous. Those who promote or organize a labor strike should understand that when the issue is joined and the strike declared, there is no outside machinery in the courts to stop it. The parties to the dispute must in the end be the parties to a settlement. A clear realization of this fact might more often lead to settlement without a strike.

MR. OLIVER'S ARCTIC TOUR.

The Minister of the Interior is determined to know something of the country. When Lord Grey shall have made his trail and canoe journey to Hudson's Bay he will be beaten by Hon. Frank Oliver, who has crossed country from Edmonton to the Mackenzie, followed that stream to its mouth at the Arctic circle, walked ninety-four miles to the Porcupine River, and followed this stream hundreds of miles by canoe to the Yukon. This trip of some twelve weeks has left Mr. Oliver in Dawson, with a record of having risked all the ordinary dangers of Arctic travel on foot and by canoe. Canadians have added respect for a public man who does such things for his own instruction or for the joy of adventure.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. SAYS ENGLISH VICAR, TO INSTIL NEW CODE OF PROPRIETY INTO YOUNG WOMEN.

'Tis Up to the Women Says Mrs. Fawcett, to Demand Fidelity From Men Both Before and After Marriage.

London, Aug. 5.—The Rev. H. Gresford, Jones vicar of Bradford, wants a Girl Scout movement. He told the Royal Commission on Divorce that in the present state of society the country stood very much in need of a code of propriety governing the actions of young women. He thought the Boy Scouts movement founded by General Sir R. Baden-Powell was most effective. General Baden-Powell had for the first time, in witness' knowledge set up what ought to be the chivalrous action of a boy, and if something of the same kind could be done for girls, we might be able to introduce through social aid or religious means, a better ideal.

The Rev. J. Watts Ditchfield, vicar of St. James the Less, Bethnal Green, London, in reply to a question regarding co-respondents said he would not go so far as to say there should be criminal punishment in all cases, but there should be power to inflict punishment.

The bishops of St. Albans and Birmingham, expressed the view that civil marriages should in all cases be obligatory and the only kind of a marriage in the eye of the law, leaving it to the Christian bodies to celebrate religious rites for those who wished for them.

Mrs. Fawcett, president of the National Union of Women Suffrage Societies, said men had helped to build up a fairly high standard of domestic scrupulous fidelity from wives. Women should imitate them in this and demand a similar fidelity from their husbands both before and during marriage. They would thus be rendering to the future the same service which men through uncounted generations have been bestowing on women.

INSPECTOR DEW'S NIAGARA FALLS TRIP NOW BELIEVED TO BE COVER FOR INVESTIGATION.

Indications That Crippen's Residence in Toronto Some 12 Years Ago, Will Play an Important Part in the Trial of the Noted Prisoner.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—Developments in the Crippen murder case today indicate that the physician's residence in Toronto some 12 years ago will play an important part in the trial of the noted prisoner who is now in prison at Quebec.

Crippen's first wife is dead.

Crippen's last wife is dead, and it is on her account that he is accused of murder.

But between wife No. 1 and Belle Elmore, the actress, there was a wife No. 2, who made many friends in Toronto by her charming disposition, culture and refinement.

The Mrs. Crippen who came to Toronto 12 years ago with Dr. Crippen when he was manager for Munyon's Homeopathic system of treatment, was a fashionably dressed woman of about medium height. She was plump, with an oval face, flashing black eyes, and peculiar charm of manner that left the imprint of her personality clearly in the memory of those who met her and her husband at the Elliott House on Church street, for it was at this hotel they stopped during their residence in the city.

The Mrs. Crippen who came to Toronto is not at all recognizable by pictures of the first wife or the one whose murder is now under investigation.

What has become of Crippen's Toronto wife? Is she dead like the rest? There are Toronto people who can not get these questions out of their minds.

Mr. T. M. Humble, the well-known advertising manager of the big cloth ing house of Hobberlin Bros., said to a reporter today.

"There is a deep mystery here. Under the circumstances there seems to be a call for an investigation by the Scotland Yard officers into Dr. Crippen's residence in this city."

"You met Dr. and Mrs. Crippen when in Toronto," asked the reporter.

"Met them?" half queried Mr. Humble. "Why, myself and other Toronto friends have been to picnics with them, we have lunched together; we have been to the island together.

"I remember one characteristic of the Toronto Mrs. Crippen. She had a great fondness for diamonds and wore a number of them on her hand.

"And the Mrs. Crippen you met is not like the police pictures of the others?"

"A different type of woman to either of them," replied Mr. Humble with emphasis.

"Many Toronto people who met Mrs. Crippen then, in view of the circumstances, are wondering today why this attractive woman was dropped from sight," he added.

During his residence in Toronto, Dr. Clark, of Detroit, whose brother is at the Junction Stock Yards, was Dr. Crippen's professional associate.

It will be recalled that the Ontario Medical Council undertook to fight the institution with which Dr. Crippen was connected and eight or ten young specialists were notified to withdraw or lose their professional standing in Ontario. The case at the time attracted wide attention.

Where is the Toronto Mrs. Crippen? Is she dead, and if so did she die a natural death?

It is believed now that Inspector Dew's alleged trip to Niagara Falls is merely a cover for further investigations to be conducted in Toronto and Detroit.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous gravels and embayment beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly", operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 10 per cent. of all the placer gold passed not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said:—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 10 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cooli would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment, and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Two miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Queen, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and as experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.60 a barrel at well. Costs fresh 3c to 5c to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-two millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHERS, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 25 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overwhelmed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. Negroes Hold Exciting Mass Meeting--They Demand Protection

Washington, Aug. 9.—Armed with fiery resolutions adopted at an exciting mass meeting, a committee of prominent negroes of this city today began work on a plan to induce all the negroes of the United States to join in a protest against lynching and race riots in the South, and to demand protection and equal rights in all parts of the country.

Texas was denounced and the whole South was arraigned; the Supreme Court of the United States was inveighed against, and the newspapers of the country were attacked, amid scenes that at times bordered on a riot. The race war at Palestine, Texas, was the chief cause of the protest. Recent lynchings in Florida, and the attitude of the white people and the press following the victory of Jack Johnson at Reno were among the matters most prominently mentioned. No such meeting was ever held in Washington before, and it is looked upon here as the most serious proposition. Among the negroes present were Federal office holders, many of whom outrank white men in the service, and some of whom have white women as their subordinates.

UNION FORBIDDEN TO CONTINUE STRIKE

ORDER OF COURT ALSO ENJOINS IT FROM PAYING STRIKE BENEFITS.

Labor Leaders Annoyed—Say Injunction is a Precedent That Threatens Life of Unionism in America.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 8.—The most dramatic injunction ever granted against a labor union forbidding it to continue with a strike and prohibiting the payment of strike benefits has been issued by Judge Hitchcock in the Equity Session of the Superior Court.

It was granted to the firm of Folsom & Susergran.

Seven other firms today petitioned the court for similar orders, directed against the Photographers Engravers' Union No. 3, of Boston.

Labor leaders here today denounced the injunction and declared that as a precedent it threatened the life of Unionized America.

It is said that a bitter fight will be made to have it declared unconstitutional.

The injunction is against Geo. F. Lewis and others.

POSITION TAKEN BY COURT.

The position taken by the court in this decision is that a strike to be legal must be based upon some complaint of the employes themselves regarding the terms and conditions of their own employment and that a strike instituted by a general body of men in which there is no trouble in respect to individual employers called merely for the purpose of compelling employers to sign an agreement with the labor union against their will is illegal.

The union by the order of the court has been enjoined from paying strike benefits.

All of the new cases have been referred to a master for a hearing on Monday.

The firms which have asked for injunctions aim las to the one granted to the firm of Folsom & Susergran are the Sparrel Print, F. O. Clarke Engraving Co., Hubeu Engraving Co., Barbank Engraving Co., Robinson Engraving Co., Dunbar Engraving Co., and the Frankling Engraving Company.

SAMUEL GOMPERS' VIEWS.

Washington, Aug. 8.—When Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was asked this morning for his views on the issuance of an injunction against the Photographer Engravers' Union No. 3, of Boston, forbidding it to continue a strike against certain firms in that city he said:

"This injunction is an invasion of the personal rights and liberties guaranteed by the legislation of the United States and of the State of Massachusetts. The injunction is repugnant in every conception of justice, right and equity. It assumes that there is some form of property right which employers have in workmen, and that therefore this property right may be regulated and enjoined by injunction.

"If I were one of the parties enjoined I should test it to its limit and decline to comply with its provisions. The question of human right is against the attempt, by injunction or other process, to establish property rights in men, must be contested whenever the question arises, and men must be willing if necessary to take their stand, make the issue and bear the consequences, no matter what they may be."

MILITIA CRUISES ON LAKES.

Uncle Sam's War Vessels Put on War Paint.

Thunder Bay, Wis., Aug. 8.— Today witnesses the inauguration of the greatest practice cruise ever undertaken by the naval militia of the great lakes region. The cruise will last eight days, starting from Thunder Bay and extending as far as Buffalo and Back to Detroit. Brief stops will be made en route at Cleveland and other points.

The naval militia of Minnesota, Illinois, Michigan and Ohio are to participate in the cruise. They are to be accommodated on a fleet of seven battleships with the old warship Wolverine acting as flagship of the squadron. The Illinois sailors are to man the Nashville, the Michigan sailor the Don Juan de Austris, and the Yantic. The Ohio naval militia will have two ships, the Essex and the Dorothea, and the Minnesota sailors will navigate the Gopher.

Lawn Bowling.

Word was received by the local club on Saturday that the British bowlers would be here to play on the 23rd instant. All members, who desire to participate in this game are requested to send in their names to the secretary, Dr. Marshall at once so that the rinks may be selected and have some practice. As there are only four rinks coming the number who can play is necessarily limited, so that it will be necessary to act promptly if you desire a place in the games.

MAYNOR GAYNOR UNCONSCIOUS HIS CONDITION IS CRITICAL

THREE PRESIDENTS AND TWO MAYORS HAVE BEEN VICTIMS OF ASSASSIN

If Mayor Gaynor's wound should prove fatal, he will be the second prominent United States mayor to be assassinated. The present generation will remember the sensation produced by the death of Carter H. Harrison of Chicago, in the year of the World's Fair there. He was assassinated on October 28, 1893, three days before the close of the exposition by a man named Prendergast, who was executed July 13, 1894.

Three United States presidents, the most recent being President McKinley have met similar fates.

President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated in Ford's Theater, Washington, on April 14, 1865, by John Wilkes Booth, an actor, who was tracked and shot, April 26th. The president died April 15th.

President James Abram Garfield was assassinated July 2, 1881, in a railway station at Washington, by Charles J. Guiteau, who was hanged on June 30th the following year. Mr. Garfield lived eleven weeks after the shooting, dying at Long Branch, N. J., on September 19th, 1881.

President William McKinley was assassinated in the Temple of Music in the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, on Sept. 6, 1901, by Leon Czolgosz, who was electrocuted in Auburn prison on Oct. 29, 1901. The president lived eight days after being shot. He died at Buffalo on Sept. 14, 1901.

DOCTORS UNABLE TO LOCATE THE BULLET—WILL HAVE TO MAKE USE OF X-RAYS.

New York's Chief Magistrate Shot at Three Times by Discharged Dock Foreman Yesterday Morning—One Bullet Took Effect Behind Left Ear.

Bullet is Causing the Doctors Much Worry Owing to Flow of Blood and May Prove Fatal—Dramatic Scene on Deck on Steamship Kaiser Wilhelm — Gallagher, Would-be Murderer Makes a Confession of Crime.

GAYNOR UNCONSCIOUS.

Hoboken, N.J., Aug. 9—6 p.m.—Mayor Gaynor has lost consciousness. The flux of blood in his throat is causing great difficulty in his breathing.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

Mayor Gaynor's condition at 2 p. m. was critical. It was announced at that time that there would be a consultation of physicians at 4 p.m. This announcement was taken as a complete refutation of rumors current in New York City that Mayor Gaynor had died, but this fact was being kept in order that it might have no effect on the stock market.

New York, Aug. 9.—Mayor William J. Gaynor was shot and dangerously wounded at 9.45 o'clock this morning as he stood on the deck of the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, about to start on a month's vacation in Europe.

The shooting was done by a man who later gave his name as Jules James Gallagher, living at 440 Third avenue, New York. He was later identified as a former city employe, who had been discharged recently.

Three shots were fired at the mayor. Two of them missed and the third lodged in the fleshy portion of the left side of the neck. Blood gushed from the wound, and the first hasty examination led to the belief of serious and perhaps fatal consequences. The mayor retained consciousness, and later examination by the physicians when the mayor was taken to the hospital gave a more hopeful outlook.

A DRAMATIC SCENE.

The shooting occurred under circumstances of the most dramatic character. Mayor Gaynor came aboard the steamer accompanied by a number of prominent city officials about to bid him adieu on his trip abroad. The party proceeded to the upper deck and were assembled in a group giving final greetings. Crowds of passengers were about on deck and with friends waving adieu from the pier. The mayor's party had just formed a group preparatory to having their picture taken.

Suddenly a stranger pushed through the throng from the rear. He approached the mayor and without a word began opening fire. The shots were fired in quick succession. Instantly there was the greatest excitement and confusion as the shots carried warning and terror to the throng.

Mayor Gaynor was seen to fall to the deck and the gushing wound told that he had been hit. At the same moment a ship's guard sprang forward and dealt the assassin a blow on the head with a billy. The man was struck to the deck, where officer quickly seized him. He was turned over to the Hoboken police and taken at once to police headquarters. There he gave the name of Gallagher, and in response to inquiries as to why he had committed the deed, he replied sullenly: "He kept me from earning my bread and butter."

Meantime Mayor Gaynor had been carried to a stateroom. He remained conscious but apparently apprehensive that the wound was grave. An ambulance was summoned to the pier, and the wounded mayor was placed on a stretcher and carried to the ambulance. The vehicle was driven to St. Mary's Hospital in Willow avenue, Hoboken, where the mayor was taken to the operating room. He was still conscious and occasionally spoke to them about him. To the city officials who accompanied him to the hospital he indicated the gravity with which he viewed the shot, by remarking: "Say good-bye to the people."

Singing at His Work, Then Fell From Fifth Story to Death

Toronto, Aug. 9.—Henry Warrens, an Englishman, nineteen years of age, fell from the fifth storey of the Darling building on Spadina avenue, shortly after three o'clock this afternoon and was instantly killed. He was cleaning windows. Instead of having a strap or rope behind him as is usually done, he was supporting himself by holding to the window sash. The sash gave way and was plunged to the concrete pavement of the lane below, his head and arm being terribly crushed and death almost instantaneous.

Just before the accident Warrens was singing as he polished the glass.

The young man's home was at 31 Argyle street, where he lived with his partner, Wallace Graham. The The two men a short time ago formed a company called the Beaver Window Cleaning Company.

DR. CRIPPEN HAS WIRED HIS COUNSEL THAT HE DID NOT MAKE CONFESSION

London, Aug. 9.—A specific and positive denial that he had made any sort of confession to Inspector Dew, or to any of the police authorities at Quebec, has been cabled by Dr. H. H. Crippen to Arthur Newton, Crippen's counsel, who made public the denial today.

"Not a word about the case will come from Dr. Crippen," Newton said today, "until he reaches London, and has had a talk with me. I am satisfied that the authorities know no more about the crime now than they did before Crippen was arrested."

The Biggest Fish This Season.

The fishing record of this season was broken yesterday when Mr. F. Gavelle, of Chemong, captured a maskinonge that turned the scales at a trifle over 23 pounds. This huge specimen of the finny tribe was a well developed and sturdy fish. During the morning and afternoon it was in front of Messrs. Oke Bros. store, laid on masses of ice. The fish was caught in Chemong lake just in front of the wind mill.

57th Regt. Band for Toronto.

Peterborough is again to the fore, for out of the four bands which are selected to play at the Toronto Exhibition, the Peterborough 57th Regimental Band has been chosen. This reflects great credit on the instructor, Mr. Rupert Gliddon. They will play on September 7th.

Mrs. Asselstine's Funeral Yesterday.

It will be remembered that about ten days ago Mrs. Elizabeth Asselstine, was taken ill at the C.P.R. station, suffering with anaemic, and that she was taken to Nicholls hospital in Bellegherm's ambulance. This lady who was only thirty-eight years of age, died in that philanthropic institution on Monday morning. She is survived by her husband and one child. The funeral took place yesterday, afternoon to Little Lake cemetery.

Capt. McWilliams Again Honored.

The officers of the 57th Regiment at an informal banquet in their mess rooms in honor of Captain R. F. McWilliams, on the eve of his departure from the city to take up his residence in Winnipeg, presented the ex-mayor with a suitably engraved token of their regard, Lieut.-Col. Stevenson making the presentation. The commanding officer referred in most commendatory terms of the active part taken by Captain McWilliams in civic, political, social educational and religious affairs, and expressed the regret the citizens in general, and the members of the regiment in particular, would experience in his departure for the West. Capt. McWilliams in few words teeming with emotion, thanked the officers for their kindly remembrance.

SAVED GIRL FROM DEATH.

Young Man Comes to Her Rescue on C.P.R. Bridge.

On the morning of Civic Holiday, a young lady and her mother went to Wolfe street wharf to catch a boat for Stony Lake. They, unfortunately missed the boat. Their next move was to make for the lift lock and intercept the boat there. The quickest way was by the C.P.R. bridge, and they took it. As they were crossing the bridge, a train going east, entered on the bridge behind them. The elder lady at once ran out to the end of the ties and straddled it out of danger. The daughter, however, seemed to have lost her head, and did not know what to do.

Two young men were seated on the end of a tie near the little island, over which the bridge passes. One of the men saw the ladies in distress and went to their assistance just grabbing the girl by her clothing as she was about to plunge into the river and pulled her out of the way of the train. The young man was asked by The Times to allow his name to be used, as he, the young man, evidently saved the girl's life; however modesty overcame him, and he begged that his name be omitted. Still he saved the maiden's best clothes from being spoilt, if not the more important thing, her life.

HEAVY IMMIGRATION.

Canada Getting Large Numbers of Best Settlers.

Winnipeg, Aug. 10.—Seven months of immigration have brought 160,000 new people in Canada, chiefly, of course, to the West. 90,000 of these came from the United States—as many as came during the whole of 1909. That so many have come this year, is an effective answer to the campaign lies of the clique of railroad men and land agents with interests in the Southwestern States. These men have tried to stem the tide of immigration to Canada by fantastic stories of summer snowstorms here and of armies of settlers returning to the land of their birth, the States. Figures obtained from authoritative sources, show that exactly 313 settlers have returned to the United States this year, and if it were possible to find out what sort of persons these are, there is no doubt that they would be shown to be of the sort that flit as easily in one direction as another. The West is well rid of this sort, and well pleased with the 175,000 settlers of the solid, substantial type, who have crossed from the States to stay here and prosper.

Fourteen Persons Killed and a Score were Badly Injured

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 9.—Fourteen persons are known to be dead and several are missing as the result of a collision on the Northwestern Pacific Railway at Ignacio last night. More than a score of passengers and trainmen were injured, and more than a dozen of them fatally. Several killed were the victims of axes and picks weilded by rescuers.

Running at high speed, a local passenger train bound for Santa Rosa crashed into a construction train. The first cars of the local were telescoped and the wreckage piled up along the track. It caught fire at different places and the flames were controlled with difficulty.

The preliminary investigation tended to show that a misunderstanding of orders caused the disaster, which is one of the worst that has occurred on the Pacific Coast in years.

WAS FINED FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR CRUELTY TO A HORSE

Toronto, Aug. 9.—After some clever detective work on the part of Provincial Constable Storey, August Luksomens, a Scandinavian, was fined $500 and costs, at Sudbury, for cruelly abusing a horse.

Luksomens and a friend named Kella Werkeiner, were reported to have borrowed a horse and rig at Sudbury. The animal was found next day in a field near Copper Cliff, showing signs of having been terribly beaten and overdriven.

Before the magistrate, Werkeiner proved that he was not in the buggy after it left Sudbury, and he was consequently discharged. His companion had to bear the brunt of the charge and the imposition of the above severe penalty.

MOST POWERFUL CRUISER.

Britain's Latest War Machine, the "Lion," Launched at Devonport —Speed of 28 Knots.

London, Aug. 9.—The armored cruiser Lion, the largest and most powerful cruiser in the world, was launched at the dockyard at Devonport this evening. The keel of the giant cruiser was laid November 29.

Though the usual secrecy in regard to design was at first maintained, it is not known that the cruiser, upon its 700 feet of deck, will carry eight guns of 13½-inch calibre, throwing projectiles of 1250 pounds. They will be mounted in four barbettes, all on the center line of the ship. The cruiser will gave a displacement when completed of 26,650 tons, and will be driven by turbine engines of 70,000 horse-power, giving her an expected speed of 28 knots. Her superiority over her predecessor in the cruising battleship class is shown by the compariton of her 70,000 horsepower with the earlier maximum of 45,000.

DR. YOUNG TO BE PAID $100.

Board of Health Discuss Milk and Garbage Matters.

Yesterday morning the local Board of Health, represented by Messrs. Dr. McNulty, chairman; Dr. Young, Edgar, Murty and Johnston, met and considered several matters of interest to the city. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to look into the milk question and report to the board, and a resolution was passed recommending that the council submit a garbage bylaw to the people at the next municipal elections. A number of accounts were passed and communications received and dealt with.

The medical Health officer reported verbally on the general health conditions of the city. Mr. Johnston moved, seconded by Mr. Edgar, that the chairman appoint a small committee to investigate the milk problem.

Dr. Young presented a detailed statement of the services he rendered the city, during the smallpox epidemic, in 1909.

After some discussion, it was moved by Mr. Murty, seconded by Mr. Johnston, that Dr. Young's account be settled for $100.

FARMER'S WIFE'S STORY.

Food Lacks Variety — Ill Health Frequent.

Everything one eats in town comes from the country, yet the farmer's tables shows the least variety and his wife undoubtedly works the hard est. On this sweeping arraignment, Mrs. J. Y. Tate gives the cause of her ill health. "I lost my appetite, gas formed in the stomach and caused great distress. A sense of fulness or distension, with aching pains in the left shoulder blade and back inflicted further suffering upon me My system was sluggish, and with other troubles incident to a woman, my state was miserable. I used to wish for this and that to eat, but a farmer's table is mostly for well folks. It was a good thing I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they fixed up the stomach some, and then I could eat. By acting splendidly upon the system, my blood was made pure, and I got color and strength. In a few weeks I had no more gas, nor the full feeling—everything seemed to get all right at once. I can eat anything now, do my own work and feel life worth living."

Don't fail to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are the right medicine to make and keep you well. At all dealers, in 25c. boxes, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

A BIG BILL.

Splendid Program at the Royal Theater Attracts Large Audiences.

Possibly never in the theatrical history of Peterborough has a more attractive program been presented to the public than that to be seen at the Royal theater. The pictures are without a doubt superior to anything ever shown here in moving pictures. Yesterday several ladies were seen to shed tears over the Biograph drama. As far as the vaudeville is concerned no better show has been presented at ten times the price. Lilian Wright, with her company, Messrs. Morris and Clayton, present the greatest dancing act ever seen here. Their dancing is done in clocklike unison. The trio work is perfect. Lilian Wright with her dainty dancing apparel is the personification of the Muse Terpsichore. She seemed to exude an air of magnetism that enthralled the audience. Her handsprings, done in perfect accord with the music and in keeping with the dance, brought down the house. Messrs. Morris and Clayton also caused the audience to applaude frequently by their inimitable clog and other dances, which excelled anything of its kind, seen here recently.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

FARMER TELLS INTERESTING STORY.

Whether Sick or Well, in Good Weather or in Stormy, He is Obliged to Work Always.

Market people complain about prices they have to pay for farm produce. They forget that rain or shine, warm or cold, the farmer must keep at it or else the narrow profit, his bare living, will be lost to him.

A well-known Haldimand farmer, Mr. J. P. Pelletier, writes; "For nearly three years I was in poor health. A drenching storm caught me in the fields, and wet me to the skin. I got home only to find I was threatened with inflammation of the bowels. I never got over it and felt weak and heavy and my system never worked right. But a farmer has to work—and I found myself going down hill with stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Failure seemed to follow everything. I remained wretched and sick until advised to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. It is not easy to describe the sort of feeling a sick man gets when he strikes a medicine that he can see is doing him a lot of good. I was overjoyed— Hamilton's Pills put new life into me and everything worked right. Since cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills I haven't had a single symptom or stomach, liver or kidney trouble. I am free from headaches, languor and weakness, as strong, robust as a man could be." No better medicine for general family use than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are mild, healthful and certain to cure. Sold in yellow box boxes, all dealers, or The Catarrh Zocone Co., Kingston, Ont.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

That the commerce of the 20 Latin American Republics lying to the South of the United States is increasing with such remarkable strides that it is deserving of particular attention is proved by the special report of the International Bureau of American republics to the Pan American conference now in session at Buenos Ayres, the capital of the Argentine Republic. After pointing out that the work and correspondence of the bureau have increased 1000 per cent. since the last conference in 1906; that last year it was directly responsible for $52,000,000 of new trade exchange to the Pan American field; that it distributes annually 450,000 pieces of printed matter descriptive of Pan American relations in contrast to 50,000 four years ago and that it has been an active and useful factor in numerous ways for the promotion of Pan American friendship, peace and commerce, the report says:

The latest statistics show that in the year 1909 the 20 republics south of the United States bought and sold in trade with the rest of the world products valued at the total of $2,127,301,000. Assuming that there are seventy million inhabitants in Latin America, this gives a per capita trade of approximately thirty dollars. The foreign commerce of China and Japan combined with a conservative estimate of their population at 350 millions was approximately one billion dollars, or only half that of Latin America, giving a per capita of less than three dollars per head or only one-tenth that of Latin America. This comparison is not intended as a reflection on Japan, which is a wonderful and most progressive country, nor upon China, which has vast latent wealth and enormous potentialities, but simply and solely to emphasize the remarkable importance and progress of Latin America, which are not sufficiently appreciated.

Analyzing still further these instructive figures we find that this grand total represents an almost phenomenal increase in one decade, over the average foreign trade for the years 1900-7-8 of $1,263,516,000 or 138 per cent. Latin America can well be proud of such a record.

The total of Latin American foreign commerce for 1909 divided into exports and imports shows a notable excess of trade in favor of Latin America. The exports are valued at $1,108,000,000; the imports at $895,000,000 or a favorable balance of $213,000,000. Exports, moreover, show an impressive increase in ten years, of 143 per cent. and imports of 115 per cent.

The United States bought from and sold to Latin America in 1909 products valued at the large total of nearly six hundred million dollars.

BRITISH MONEY IN CANADA.

The Montreal Gazette points out that newspaper readers in recent years have had set before them much complaint against Canadians who invest in commercial enterprises outside of their own country and also against capitalists in Great Britain who do not invest their money in commercial enterprises in their own country, in at least so far as Canada is concerned. The complaint is worthy on its face of serious consideration. It is the complaint of a man who by good management or good fortune in trade has accumulated some capital to invest, he thinks it will bring him good returns, and it is not unnatural that somebody else to com-

demn him if he finds this opportunity outside of Canada. National boundary lines are neither guides nor checks to capital and no wise man would seek to make them such. The complaint against British investors however, has no justification in fact any more than it has from an "imperialist's point of view. This is indicated by a pamphlet issued from the office of the Monetary Times, of Toronto dealing with the investment of British and United States capital in Canada. It is probable that the figures underestimate the amount of the investments. Some classes of transactions are made on the open market and all may get the facts. Others are the result of private negotiations and leave no trace. The task of gathering information on such a matter is a heavy one, and it can be believed that the Monetary Times writer found the work he undertook one of much trouble and wearying detail. The outcome is interesting however, not alone to those who would have British people invest imperially, but to ordinary students of economic movements. The writer quotes Mr. George Paish an eminent London statistican, to the effect that British capital has been invested in Canada to the extent of £300,000,000, about fifteen hundred million dollars; and it is added that it is safe to accept this estimate.

THE CHURCH AND SPAIN.

Europe and the world will watch with an interest much deeper than curiosity the progress of the estrangement of Spain and the Vatican. The trouble is not new, but it has come to a sudden crisis. We might well suppose that Rome would not without a great deal of provocation have pronounced any such ultimatum as would lead to the withdrawal of the Spanish representative from the Papal court. Having long since lost political authority in Italy, and lately recognized a condition in France which they describe as persecution, it would be expected that the advisers of the Pope would counsel great patience with Spain, that ancient and traditionally faithful child of the Church. Also since the Spanish ministers of state are at least nominal Roman Catholic we should look for conciliatory messages and respectful language from them towards Rome, even when they stood upon national rights against ecclesiastical claims. But there are evidently many seeds of bitterness in Spanish soil, so that even the Papal Secretary of State, who is a son of Spain, and the King, who is a son of the Church, are not able to establish a modus vivendi. The despatches indicate that the hope of the Church is in a revolution against the existing government, or perhaps against the sovereign, in favor of the Carlist claimant. Such was once the hope of the ultramontane element in France.

Spain is experiencing a social and political evolution. There is a liberal element which to the mind of reactionary priests and prelates may seem to be radical or communistic and subversive of all authority. But there are times when neither clerical nor political influences against social and educational movements, or against political agitation can prevail. This quarrel is likely to go far and it may place Spain in line with other Latin nations in Europe, leaving the people religiously connected with their ancient church, but politically free from Vatican control.

UNREST IN THE EAST.

Three phases of the present eastern situation arouse more than casual interest among those who follow international politics.

The naval expansion of western powers is causing uneasiness in Japan, and the government is being urged to make a big effort to maintain Japan's relative position on the seas.

Russia has been spending enormous sums on the strengthening of Vladivostok and to-day it is considered impregnable. A military macademized road is to be built between Vladivostok and Harborovsk, paralelling the Usuri Railway. This indicates that Russia expects this railway to be cut or damaged by the enemy in the event of war and is preparing for the contingency by insuring easy communication for her army transport. Further that she is paving the way to regain her lost ground and when her plans are all matured Japan will be again forced to struggle for her national existence.

Lastly, China is fast awakening to the fact that if she is to maintain her identity in the East she must do so by the weight of her armies. That she is pressing into service a part of her population which has before ignored the callings of a soldier is only too evident. Her troops are receiving instructions under officers who have familiarized themselves with the best European tactics. To-day thirty-six divisions, numbering about 450,000 men, are provided for and in ten years, with the first and second reserves, the army will number a million men on a war basis.

The power of the yellow races, latent for centuries, is beginning to appreciate itself and recognize it must be ready to take not only the defensive but the aggressive against the Slav race.

On every hand there are evidences of unrest and British statesmen are acting wisely in watching the diplomatic game.

New York reports show that the mayor and street commissioner of that city have been shot by a man named Gallagher. Whilst the saying "Let her go Gallagher," may be prevalent, neither Peterborough's mayor nor street commissioner are liable to stop a bullet.

HOME OF THE SHETLAND.

Little Pony Comes From a Picturesque Country.

Away to the north of Scotland lies the group of islands in which the diminutive horses commonly called Shelties have their home. The Shetlands are not all inhabited, some of the smaller islands being used merely as pasturage for a few sheep. There is little to attract either the agriculturist or the merchant, so progress is slow; the islanders till their land by old-fashioned methods, and many of them still have recourse to barter as a means of obtaining necessaries.

To the lover of the beautiful and to the artist there is much to charm. Some perhaps would describe the islands as barren—but what barrenness! The country, though destitute of trees, is so varied in the nature of its scenery that their absence in no way detracts from the general beauty of the landscape.

Countless tarns, streams and lochs all serve to make the coloring of the heather covered hills and the gloomy tints of the moors stand out in pleasing contrasts, while near the sea bold cliffs tower over the blue waters, whose waves dash against their rocky sides. Overhead numerous sea birds circle on their way to their nests on the ledges.

The largest island is known as the mainland, with a length of fifty-four miles and a width of twenty-one. The islands have a singularly mild and equable climate considering their exposed situation, and compose one of the most healthful districts of Scotland; but even the most adventurous tourists seldom visit them, because a doubtful sea trip in a small steamer is necessary before they can be reached.

Of the entire area of 551 square miles scarcely one-sixth is under cultivation, yet the Shetlanders manage to maintain something like 100,000 sheep, 20,000 cattle and 5,000 of the famous ponies. The inhabitants are of Norse origin and in their speech and customs retain many of the characteristics of their forefathers. They support themselves chiefly by the herring and other fishing industries.

They cannot afford to give much feeding to their ponies, so these hardy little animals run wild in herds on the hills or seatholds, picking up what food they can find. When the bleak wintry weather comes on they find their way down to the seashore, where they derive a scanty living from the seaweed which grows upon the rocks or has been left by the high autumn tides and freshened by melted snow or rain. At this time of year, too, they will gather in groups near the homesteads and are rewarded with an occasional truss of hay.

In spite of this precarious existence the Shelties seem happy enough and they are extremely hardy. They possess extraordinary strength for their size, being able to carry a man or woman with apparent ease for long distances.

The little ponies, with their rough, shaggy coats and flowing manes and tails, seem somehow to suit their wild, rugged surroundings and the groups of them that are scattered about add the needed life to the landscape.

Perhaps it is a question of a survival of the fittest that makes these little creatures so very small, as horses of a larger type would be useless on the boggy moors or on the stony hillsides. They have been known to attain the age of thirty years and more, due probably to the healthful mode of life which they were forced to adopt, for they were born in the fields and lived and died in them.

Where Edwards Rest.

Here is a list showing where all the Royal Edwards have been laid at rest:—

Edward I., born 1239, died July 7, 1307, buried in Westminster Abbey.

Edward II., born 1284, died Jan. 25, 1327, buried at Gloucester.

Edward IV., born 1442, died April 9, 1483, buried at Windsor.

Edward V., born 1470, died 1483. One of the princes murdered in the Tower by the orders of Richard, Duke of Gloucester. Buried at Westminster Abbey.

Edward VI., born 1537, died July 6, 1553, buried at Westminster.

Edward VII., born Nov. 9, 1841, died May 6, 1910, buried at Windsor Castle.

The Spinning Ant of Ceylon.

The spinning ant is found in India, in Ceylon, in the Islands of Malacca, and in Australia. This ant weaves its nest between two leaves of a tree, preferably the mango. It begins to build, or to weave, by drawing two leaves together. To do this it runs a line of its working material—material similar to the spider's thread — the length of the leaf and around it. While at work it clings to the leaf with its nails and, at the same time, draws on the leaf nearest to it with its mandibles. Sometimes the two leaves suitable for nest-building are too far apart. Then the builder calls in its fellow ants and they help it to form a chain. Each ant clings to the waist of its neighbor by its mandibles. Thus enchained, they work to build the nest of their comrade.

New Zealand's Wool Trade.

Sir Joseph Ward's the Prime Minister, speaking at Mangaweka, recently, said that New Zealand was to-day exporting more wool than any one of the Australian states. The total value of the exports had now reached twenty millions a year. Eighteen months ago people had predicted financial distress, but, happily, their fears had not been realized. The deposits in banking institutions had increased by more than four millions as compared with last year.

She Got Even.

A Lanarkshire postmistress explains how she got level with a customer who had paid for £2 18s of postal orders in threepenny pieces. First of all she kept him waiting while she counted over the coins three times, and then next day, when he came back to change some postal orders, she paid him out in the same threepenny pieces!

SUFFRAGETTE THROWS STALWART POLICEMAN.

Expert of Japanese Art of Jiu-Jitsu Trains Women's Freedom League to Use of Formidable Weapon.

London, Aug. 8.—A most remarkable exhibition of suffragette jiu-jitsu has been given by Mrs. Garrud, an expert in the Japanese art, and two policemen. Mrs. Garrud is one of the organizers of the women athletes' branch of the Women's Freedom League, and her object in giving the exhibition was to show what a formidable weapon for defence jiu-jitsu may be made by properly trained women. In making the test, Mrs. Garrud picked out a very big policeman, who smilingly doubted that the lady could bring him down in any way, whatsoever.

"Why," he said, "you're only a little dot of a woman," "Well, I'm not exactly a giant," admitted the suffragette. "If you are sure you aren't frightened of getting hurt. I think I'll throw you." Again the big policeman smiled. It was so very, very foolish. His great, red hands played idly about his forty-two inch chest, and in a moment of vanity he clenched his right fist, so that the muscles of the forearm stood out in heavy lumps. Mrs. Garrud is four feet, ten inches in height, and she, too, smiled. "I'm glad you're not more than two hundred pounds," she murmured. The policeman immediately became generous. "Yes, there are lots of the fellows on the force heavier than I am," he said. "In any case I'm too big for a little woman like you. Why, you couldn't even hold me." "I'm glad you're not more than two hundred pounds," repeated the gentle suffragette, "because the heavier you are the more I'd hurt you and I simply hate to, you know."

Then the struggle commenced. As a huge mastiff would bend down upon an insolent kitten, the man swooped on the woman. First he tried for a catch-as-catch-can body hold, but the suffragette eluded his grasp. Their hands met, and the giant tried to pull her over to him, but that was the very last thing she intended to allow. Pulling away from him she ran lightly backwards, with the policeman pressing heavily after her. Desperately he exerted all his strength striving to push the woman off her balance and on the mat.

Then, suddenly the thing happened. In a flash the woman fell flat on her back, with the massive policeman towering up above her. Up shot one of her feet to meet his diaphragm! Her little arms strained, and as he pulled against himself the man lost his balance, swirled over her head, turned a somersault in midair, and fell heavily on the back of his head. In less than ten seconds the suffragette had thrown the policeman. Five minutes later, when he once more condescended to stand upright, the puzzled policeman again carefully regarded Mrs. Garryod. Contemplatively he stratched his head. "If that had happened on the pavement instead of these mats the police force would be one man short at the present moment," he said. "That fall would have cracked my skull."

With a second policeman who was a skillful exponent of jiu-jitsu, Mrs. Garrud was not so fortunate. She made a gallant struggle for over five minutes, countered every hold the constable tried to make. At last the man's superior strength and great advantage in weight commenced to tell. Desperately she tried for a side-hold, and then the end came. Just failing to effect a grip the woman was at the man's mercy. High in the air he swung her and then down on the mat she went. But even as she fell she made for a wrist hold, missing it by an inch. Two taps on the floor as a signal that she was defeated and the woman smilingly arose.

Mrs. Garrod daily gives lessons to other suffragettes.

THE SHORT-LIVED BATTLESHIP.

The brief life of a warship is illustrated by the sale of a job lot of condemned ships at Portsmouth in the last few days. Among the offerings were the battleships Centurion and Bandeur. These ships are just fourteen years older than the Dreadnought. They were built in 1892 and were, of course, quite up-to-date then as first class battleships. Probably they are as good fighting machines as they ever were, but inventions and improvements have made them obsolete. Junk dealers bought them for the value of the metal in them. Yet the Centurion was the flagship of Admiral Seymour at the time of the boxer rebellion. She is only three years older than the Majestic, which just the other day was supposed to represent the most powerful class of ships in the world. The same age as the Majestic are the armoured cruisers Powerful and Terrible, which, remembering the Boer war, one is shocked to think of as approaching the junk pile. On this basis we may expect the auction sale of the Dreadnought in about fifteen years. This is what makes the creation and maintenance of a navy so terribly costly. If a Dreadnought could be counted to be of service so long as she could be kept as good as new there would be some hope that the burden would grow lighter. But a nation spends $15,000,000 on the latest type of warship with the prospect that in ten years, at most, she will no longer be fit for the line of battle, and in twenty years she will be sold for scrap. This is calculated to strengthen the desire for an international compact limiting naval construction. When the British fought with wooden ships, vessels thirty, forty and fifty years old were found in the navy. One famous wooden craft served through seven or eight reigns and was never sold for junk.

Loaded Steamer Strikes a Rock.

The steamer Rainbow on Civic Holiday, was crowded nearly to the legal limit by the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Ancient Order of Hibernians and friends of both. The destination was Idyl Wyld and Hastings. One incident on the voyage caused some sensation. The Rainbow struck a submerged reef between Hastings and the bridge. Fortunately, she had little speed on as yet, or a serious accident might have been the result.

A Gypsy Got His Beer.

Yesterday a funny looking outfit arrived in the city. It was a gypsy caravan. The front seat, cushioned away back, carried babies of varied ages, in more or less clothing, the word "less" however, would best apply. In the rear of the covered rig were boxes and bales containing ? ? The outfit halted in front of a local hotel. Mr. Gypsy, picking up a commodious covered can entered the bar and asked the man attired in a white apron, a smile and other things for two quarts of beer, "strong beer." The dispenser of such liquids reminded the gypsy that such liquids reminded the gypsy that the law forbade him selling more than a certain quantity. Nothing daunted, Mr. Gypsy replied "This is for medicinal purposes. I want the beer to make a medicine for my horse, he's sick." When the gypsy was handed out the legal allowance of the amber colored fluid, he retired to the sanctity of his covered wagon, and, with cupfuls of the "horse medicine," drank a toast to his future.

Aldermen Alike Everywhere.

Mr. Chas. H. Sawle, sometime reporter for The Times, is out with a letter concerning his recently adopted home, "Prince Rupert." In this letter, Mr. Sawle devotes some space to the future prospects and present conditions existing in that infant prodigy of the G.T.P. Co. Mr. Sawle, referring to the water works system of Prince Rupert, says, "You know aldermen are all alike. They enjoy a little jaunt abroad once in a while." Mr. Sawle has lived in Peterborough. He has a good memory and a knowledge of human and civic nature that will not down even in the far-off Pacific Coast.

Exhibition Prize Lists Out.

The exhibition this year gives every promise of excelling all previous local shows of similar kind.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. Midland Visitors Had Splendid Outing Here

Peterborough was invaded yesterday by an army from the flourishing lakeport city of Midland. The invading army, some seven hundred strong, headed by a band clad in blue uniforms, arrived by G.T.R. at about half-past eleven. The invaders were supported, in fact invited, in their attack by the fire laddies and band of Midland. Prominent among the invaders were hundreds of pretty faced, trim figured, dainty clad ladies, whose presence awoke many a heart throb among the youth of this city. Midland may do a big business in trans-lake shipping, but her finest output are the young ladies of that lakeside town. The invaders arrived on an excursion run under auspices of the firemen and band of that city.

A special train of eight coaches left Midland at seven o'clock, arriving here shortly after eleven. The visiting Chief Howard of the fire department tors were met at the station by and Aldermen Buller, Phelan, Bradburn, Gillespie and other members of the City Council. During the afternoon an alarm was rung and the brigade turned out with hose wagon, extension ladder, outfit, etc., headed by Chief Howard in his official chariot. The local fire brigade made a good parade up George street to Central Park. The visitors, to whom a perennial welcome will be extended by Peterborough left, after an evidently enjoyable visit at seven o'clock last night.

Col. Miller May be New Grand Master

Toronto, Aug. 10.—The election of a new grand master of the I.O.O.F., about which the chief interest now centers at the convention here, will not take place until tomorrow morning. Owing to the death of Deputy Grand Master S. M. Thompson, who by the usual system of progression, would have stepped into the grand master's chair upon the retirement of Senator Derbyshire, a new grand master must be chosen. This will be effected not through a vote taken at the convention, but by the count of ballots sent in from the various constituencies, where every member had an opportunity to signify his preference.

COL. MILLER OF PETERBORO.

Although the precise turn of the election cannot be foretold, sentiment appears to favor Col. Miller of Peterborough, an energetic Oddfellow, who has made good runs for the grand wardenship. His name is most frequently mentioned as the new grand master. Mr. S. A. Popplestone of Exeter, the present grand warden, will move up to the position of deputy grand master.

OLD LONDON'S ANARCHIST COLONY

London, Aug. 10.—According to one of the highest officials of Scotland Yard, nearly every anarchistic plot of recent times has been hatched in the Soho district of London. The surprising part of this fact is that the police are well acquainted with the leading anarchists who take up their residence in this country, and can tell when anything of importance—more than usual—is going on. Yet, to all outward appearance, they make no sign, and seemingly leave these dangerous gentry a perfectly free hand to babble sedition and to plot assassination without putting the least obstacle in their way. This is far from being the case. The department of the Meyeropolitan Police that is charged with the task of watching and outwitting these desperadoes is one of the most perfectly organized bodies in the world, and the extent of its knowledge is little short of wonderful, and it would considerably surprise those who fondly believe that they are free from surveillance, could they only know how closely every movement is watched.

PLOT HATCHED IN CELLAR.

A recent instance has been brought to my notice. It was openly hinted in and around Soho at the time of the coronation of the King of Spain that "a great surprise was in store" Meetings were held in a cellar in the neighborhood of Tottenham Court road at which the full details of one of the foulest crimes that was ever proposed were settled, and those who were to carry out the work were selected.

Some half dozen or so were implicated, but when the time came for them to leave for Madrid four of them found their passage suddenly barred. The remaining two managed to evade the vigilance of the English police. The Madrid authorities, however, had been kept fully informed of what was going forward and the moment the two men put foot on Spanish soil they were cast into prison, where one of them remains to the present day.

But this was not the British method. The four men detained on this side were conveyed to Scotland Yard and there taken into a room where the whole outline of their plot was carefully laid before them. Their jaws dropped in terror as names and dates were given them and beads of perspiration broke from their foreheads when hints at revelation to the Spanish authorities were given. In the end they were given their choice of extradition to Spain, or making a solemn promise to abstain from any further conspiracy. This last was readily given but naturally the men were never lost sight of for an instant until the coronation ceremony was at an end.

Little Hazel Ballantyne passed away at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ballantyne, Prince street, Tuesday evening. She was one year and eleven days old and was ill only a few days. The funeral will leave the family residence at one o'clock this afternoon, and proceed to St. Peter's cemetery for interment.

CANINE TRAGEDY NARROWLY ESCAPED.

Yesterday morning about 10.30 a car was passing south bound along George Street. As the car was passing the Canadian Express Company's office, a brindle colored bull dog with more ambition than common sense, went to take a short cut across the street just in front of the car. In consequence the fender struck the bull, rolling him over and over under the projection. The dog, howling like a coyote with peritonitis, was thrown across the rail, within three inches of the approaching wheel. The dog lay across the rail so closely to the wheel that the Times man watching the occurrence turned his head away so as to avoid the sight of the impending massacre. By a seemingly miraculous intervention, "Brindle" rolled out of the way of the Juggernaut and tied up George street howling and spreading as though his Satanic majesty had a firm grip on its tail.

Member of T.A.S. Team Honored.

A pleasing function was held in the club rooms of the T.A.S. Baseball team, when James Callaghan, third baseman of the T.A.S., generally known as "Batler," was given a farewell reception, who left yesterday for Pittsburg. A most enjoyable program of vocal and instrumental music enlivened the proceedings of the evening. A well timed and suitably worded letter of regret at his coming absence, signed by the officers of the club was read, and a handsome suit case presented.

Midland Brings a Good Band.

The Midland Band, in neat blue uniforms, trimmed with heavy braid, numbering 19, accompanied the excursion from that great lakes' shipping port yesterday. The boys in blue rendered a number of selections, whilst in the city that demonstrated that they are able musicians. They made their headquarters at the White House, and were, incidentally well pleased with the accommodation provided.

No better conducted members of any "charge of the Six Hundred," were ever seen, than the crowd from Midland which stormed the outposts of Peterborough yesterday. The Midlanders were well behaved, well dressed and well provided with the "sinews of war." The Midlanders did not supply one cause of complaint to the police; not a Midlander was seen showing even a passing acquaintance with a corkscrew. The lads and pretty lassies from that inland port simply took in the sights of the city, took in the moving picture shows, saw the lift lock, and left at seven o'clock in the evening, seemingly well pleased with their visit to Peterborough. Peterborough will extend an open armed welcome when they come again, which it is hoped will be soon.

WORKINGMEN FORM ANTI-WAR SOCIETY

London, Aug. 9.—The movement for a workingmen's international anti-war organization is gaining ground so rapidly in England that today it is being discussed not only by the labor leaders but by the rank and file of Unionists as well.

Definite action has not yet been taken, but there is a strong prospect that overtures will shortly be made to Unionists abroad for an international congress to put the movement upon a more substantial basis. The leaders are convinced that peace conferences between politicians and diplomats are unlikely to ever end in anything but talk, and that if any thing is to be accomplished, it must be by the workingmen's class, the class that always suffer the most from war.

Maurice Hewlett, the author, is one of the champions of the cause. "If ever such a stroke can be dealt that war will be abated in Europe suddenly and firmly," he said, "it will be dealt by the working class. No other can do it; not the aristocracy, for by their caste they may not; nor the bureaucracy, for under their rules they will not; nor kings, for they are negligible in these days; nor the church, for that serves time and has no other God but him; nor parliament nor diet, for they serve the newspapers; nor the newspapers, for they serve themselves.

"It will be the working class through its high organizations which will impress the bourses by a threat and by evidences of power it has to execute its threat. The threat, which will be international in origin and aim, will be of a strike coincident with a declaration of war, and the evidence will be the resolution of an international trades union congress.

"Should such a congress be summoned, such a resolution carried, there will probably be no war, and if none then there would never be one again. The newspapers will howl the bureaucrats gnash their teeth, but the stock exchanges and money lenders will draw back, and war is over.

"Here is alleged the bounden duty and privilege of trade unionism to bid war to cease. If this is not a glorious labor for our new born Herakles, then Christ lied on the Mount."

All Saints' Excursion Today.

The Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' church is holding an excursion per Steamer Otonabee down the river this afternoon. It promises to be very successful. The choir outing will be held Saturday, August 13th to Jubilee, on Mr. Allan's yacht, the Tecsy, leaving the street car wharf at 12.30.

TENDERS FOR SANITARY WORK.

The city is asking for sealed tenders for laying 2000 feet of sanitary sewer and 4200 feet of storm drains; electrically operated air compressors and ejectors; sewerage pumping station and tile sewer pipes. The City Fathers seem to be in dead earnest about observing all sanitary conditions to preserve the public health.

Mayor Gaynor Continues to do Well

Medical Men After Consultation Decide Not to Remove the Pieces of the Split Bullet

Hoboken, N.J., Aug. 10.—Unless infection manifests itself there will be no operation to remove the split bullet from Mayor Gaynor's throat. This was agreed upon by the doctors in attendance today, following a second inspection of the X-ray plates taken yesterday afternoon.

It was stated that it was most remarkable that the pieces of lead could have landed where they did without severing several important blood vessels. In order to get them out it would be necessary to cut in among veins and arteries, with the probability of a loss of blood that would weaken the patient. To avoid this it was agreed that there would be no probing unless the mayor's temperature arises, or there are outward indications that infection is present in the wound.

A call was sent out for a,l of the doctors in the case to meet at the hospital at noon to discuss the case. A plan of treatment for the wound which would keep it clean and aid in its rapid healing was to be devised, and a general study of the patient made by the gun-shot experts. All agreed that the condition of the patient this morning was eminently satisfactory, although there was no disposition to declare him out of danger as yet.

HE JOKES FREELY.

In his room on the fourth floor front of the hospital, the mayor was very cheerful. Mrs. Gaynor and the nurses were constantly in attendance and the wounded man joked feebly with them. He was hungry, and said so. Occasionally he would suggest that the nurses bring him some real solid food, and he bewailed the fact to his wife that coffee and broth were far from being a satisfactory breakfast for a bigorous man.

Occasionally he would seem to have difficulty breathing, and this was declared by the attending physician to be due to the presence of the bullet, which set up a slight irritation. His temperature was one and one-quarter degrees above normal, indicating, the doctors said, that there was no infection whatever in the wound.

Since he was taken to the hospital the mayor has not mentioned his assailant. He seems to have taken it for granted that the assault was committed by an irresponsible crank.

WILL GO TO CAMP.

It was stated by Secretary Adamson that as soon as the doctors will permit the wounded mayor will be taken to a camp in the Adirondacks to recover. There he can have perfect (are and rest in his favorite out of door surroundings.

When the wounded man was assisted to sit up in bed, while the nurses were changing the bed clothing, he seemed quite strong, and was very cheerful. He asked to be permitted to see some of the friends who had called at the hospital, but the doctors said no. They told him he might see Mrs. Gaynor and some of the members of his immediate family, but that all other visitors would be kept out.

By order of the Hoboken authorities all traffic along the block on Willow avenue, occupied by the hospital has been shut off.

Race Riots Feared in the U. S. Capital

Washington, Aug. 10.—Following another outbreak between negroes and the whites in the Georgetown section late last night, the district authorites are fearful of real race riots in the capital. Four negroes were arraigned in court today charged with assaulting a policeman and in the fight that preceded their arrest, shots were exchanged and stones and empty whiskey bottles used with telling effect. The officials state that unless radical action is taken to curb the lawless negroes at once the situation may get beyond control.

The trouble last night followed an order from Policeman Johnson to a party of blacks to move on. They attacked the officer, who used his night stick. Three white men came to his assistance, and the negroes fled after three of their number had been captured. A mob of blacks attempted a rescue, but the whites, who had been reinforced by three additional police, charged and captured the fourth man, the ringleader of the last mob demonstration.

Another Road to be Built Across Canada

Winnipeg, Aug. 10.—The presence in Winnipeg of four British noblemen and a number of prominent British financiers who are awaiting the arrival of Norton Griffiths, the great British railway contractor, who is coming here direct from Chili, has led to rumors that they are planning an enormous new railway project. It is said a new transcontinental is being projected. Lord Dunlop and Lord Dunmore are in the city, and Lord Vivian and Lord Chilton are expected today.

"ROYAL PRINCESS" ENTERS A PROTEST

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Another "Royal Princess" has entered the lists to take part in the tournament of letters and interviews that has been precipitated by the dainty cigarettes of "Princess Alice" Roosevelt Longworth.

The "royal" newcomer in the controversy signs herself "Ann Elizabeth, Princess de Guelph." She is the consort of the New York pretender to the throne of England and "her majesty" is intensely hostile to the cigarette, her letter indicating that, if she could, she would smite the cigarette with her sceptre and mash it to fragments.

WHAT LETTER SAYS.

Here is the letter the "princess" sent to Mrs. Mary F. Balcomb, general secretary of the Young People's Civic League.

"Dear Madame:—

"Kindly put me on record as against the nicotine habit among women. There is only one habit a woman can conscientiously cultivate, i.e., womanliness.

"We should be womanly by instinct, but modern society demands have been of such a nature as to almost cover these, the natural, God-given qualities with a veneer of false polish, grand airs (described as smart, chic, etc.), born of intemperate usage of the punch bowl, cigarette smoking, too many nurses for baby and not enough hovering over the tiny crib—too much childless womanhood—these customs should be sternly censured and put down as demoralizing and unhealthful. I am very pleased to note that such a discussion has commenced and that the awakening has come to the women of my country."

"The habit cultivates a masculine smartness in women which so truly refined gentleman or lady would admire. My husband would feel shocked and humiliated were he to find his wife with such a thing in her fingers as a lady's cigarette, and no jeweled case or holder, be it ever so artistic, could lessen his disapproval or disgust."

FARMER'S WIFE'S STORY.

Food Lacks Variety — Ill Health Frequent.

Everything one eats in town comes from the country, yet the farmer's tables shows the least variety and his wife undoubtedly works the hardest. In this sweeping arraignment, Mrs. J. Y. Tate gives the cause of her ill health. "I lost my appetite, gas formed in the stomach and caused great distress. A sense of fulness or distension, with aching pains in the left shoulder blade and back inflicted further suffering upon me My system was sluggish, and with other troubles incident to a woman, my state was miserable. I used to wish for this and that to eat, but a farmer's table is mostly for well folks. It was a good thing I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they fixed up the stomach some, and then I could eat. By acting splendidly upon the system, my blood was made pure, and I got color and strength. In a few weeks I had no more gas, nor the full feeling—everything seemed to get all right at once. I can eat anything now, do my own work and feel life worth living."

Don't fail to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are the right medicine to make and keep you well. At all dealers, in 25c. boxes, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

"APRIL SHOWERS BRING MAY FLOWERS."

This is the time when Hanging Baskets, Vases and Window Boxes should be refilled. Call up the West End Green houses Phone 21, and leave your orde, to have them called for and filled, according to your instructions.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

City of Boston is Visited by Fierce Fire

Boston, Aug. 10.—Eighteen persons, fifteen of them firemen, are in the hospital today, twelve buildings are in ruins, twenty-five badly damaged, and two acres of ground are burned over, as the result of two fires late last night, one in the South End lumber district and the other in the leather district in the heart of the city.

Dynamite was used to stop the flames in the lumber district early this morning after aid had been summoned from surrounding cities. The loss in the two fires will be fully $1,500,000.

Smoking ruins revealed the vast extent of the conflagration which swept the South End lumber section ton's escape from a repetition of the and disclosed how narrow was Boogreat fire of 1872. It was the worst fire here in twenty-one years.

So thorough did the fire do its work that only bare heaps of smouldering ashes remains of what was large woodworking establishments and piers stacked high with valuable consignments of lumber.

Both sides of Albany street, from Dover street to the Randolph playgrounds, where the fire was checked, are in ruins. On the other side the fire burned clean down to the water's edge.

SEVERAL FIREMEN HURT.

Fifteen firemen and three citizens injured during the conflagration are all resting comfortable.

Six firemen, for whom fears had been entertained during the night, are announced out of danger.

The fire started in the lumber yards of Blacker & Sheppard, on the water front, burned up 900,000 feet of lumber and the company's buildings, spread to the wharf of the American Coal Company and burned 2,000 tons of coal and then, leaping Albany street, destroyed woodworking establishments and buildings. The fire department's headquarters on Brinton street was saved by the use of a water curtain.

General Otter will be New Inspector-General

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—It is practically certain that General Otter will become inspector general when General Lake goes home. He is now chief of the general staff, and while it is explained that his new appointment will not raise his rank, it will alter his duties. The War Office will shortly appointan an imperial officer who will likely become chief of the general staff. Col. Lessard, adjutant general, leaves on August 23rd for England to attend the army manoeuvres at Aldershot.

ATTENDANCE FELL OFF.

A falling off of about 10,000 men is reported from the attendance at this year's militia camps. The total will be around 40,000. The normal is nearer 50,000. The prosperity of the country and the resultant employment are assigned as the reasons for the diminished attendance.

PLUCKY STOPPAGE OF RUNAWAY

Yesterday morning at 11.15, the delivery rig of "My Valet" ran away, or rather the horse drawing it, tied down George street at a pace that would indicate a tornado, was sweeping down George street. Just as the flying steed reached the Royal Theatre a young man, who is known to his friends as "Bill," bravely rushed out to the centre of the street and grabbing the bridle of the flying steed, saved not only the rig and its contents, but without doubt, serious complications for other conveyances on the street.

Wedding Bells

A very pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon, at 53 Olive avenue, when Wise Olive Elliott and Mr. James H. Price were made man and wife, Rev. H. R. Trumpour, rector of All Saints' church, tying the nuptial knot, while Miss Simson of Cavanville, played the wedding march. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers, and many other pretty decorations.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a white silk voile trimmed with bebe Irish lace. She carried white roses and lilies of the valley, and was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Price, who was attired in a white silk costume, and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by her brother, Mr. Vincent Elliott. The flower girls, becomingly dressed in white silk, were little Misses E. Elliott and Myrtle O'Neill.

The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful gold brooch, while the groomsman received a gold stick pin. The groom's present to the bridesmaid was a beautiful crescent of pearls, and to the flower girls a beautiful bracelet each.

After the ceremony a sumptuous repast was partaken of and hearty congratulations bestowed upon the young couple.

Among the guests from out of the liamson, Sarnia; Mrs. King, Lornecity were the following: Mrs. Willville; the Misses Simson, Cavanville; Miss Edith Watt, Toronto; Miss Alay, Webbwood, and Mr. Terrill, Weston, Ont. About sixty guests were present. The happy couple left on the C.P.R. train during the evening for Ottawa, and upon their return will reside at 50 Olive avenue.

THE SHORT-LIVED BATTLESHIP.

The brief life of a warship is illustrated by the sale of a job lot of condemned ships at Portsmouth in the last few days. Among the offerings were the battleships Centurion and Barfleur. These ships are just fourteen years older than the Dreadnought. They were built in 1892 and were, of course, quite up-to-date thus as first class battleships. Probably they are as good fighting machines as they ever were, but inventions and improvements have made them obsolete. Junk dealers bought them for the value of the metal in them. Yet the Centurion was the flagship of Admiral Seymour at the time of the boxer rebellion. She is only three years older than the Majestic, which just the other day was supposed to represent the most powerful class of ships in the world. The same are as the Majestic are the armoured cruisers Powerful and Terrible, which, remembering the Boer war, one is shocked to think of as approaching the junk pile. On this basis we may expect the auction sale of the Dreadnought in about fifteen years. This is what makes the creation and maintenance of a navy so terribly costly. If a Dreadnought could be counted to be of service so long as she could be kept as good as new there would be some hope that the burden would grow lighter. But a nation spends $15,000,000 on the latest type of warship with the prospect that in ten years, at most, she will no longer be fit for the line of battle, and in twenty years she will be sold for scrap. This is calculated to strengthen the desire for an international compact limiting naval construction. When the British fought with wooden ships, vessels thirty, forty and fifty years old were found in the navy. One famous wooden craft served through seven or eight reigns and was never sold for junk.

A BOOK TO STOCK RAISERS.

We Know How to Cure Colic, Distemper, Colds, Swellings, Etc.—

It is a matter of vital importance to every farmer, horse-owner and stock raiser to know exactly what to do when one of his animals is taken suddenly sick.

The letter of Mr. Drank F. Fullerton, which we print below, gives information of inestimable value, and tells of his experience in curing ailing stock during the past thirty-eight years:

SAVED $1,000 BY NERVILINE

"Several years ago when my horses took colic I used to give them Cayenne Pepper in hot milk, but in a few cases only did it help, and because I had no proper means at hand I lost several valuable animals. Some one told me of the success Mr. Wendling of Brockville, Ont., had in his racing stables with "Nerviline," so I laid in a supply. It wasn't very long before Nerviline saved the life of a valuable stallion of mine, which was worth at least a $1,000. This horse was taken with colic, and would have died, had it not been for Nerviline. I have used Nerviline for reducing swellings, for taking out distemper lumps, and easing a bad cough, and always found it worked well. I recommend every man who owns horses or cattle to keep Nerviline on hand.

Mr. Fullerton is one of the best known residents of Stormont, and his recommendation as an experienced and practical horseman proved beyond question how valuable Nerviline really is.

Give Nerviline a trial. It's good for man or beast, internally or externally, 25c. per bottle or five for $1.00. At all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

CAUSES OF INFANT MORALITY.

Dr. Helen McMurchy o fToronto, declares in her recent report to the Ontario Government that 75 per cent. of infant morality are preventable. Among other things, she says, that the baby that has one chance for its life if fed on condensed milk, would have two chances for its life on its mother's milk. Mothers who really cannot nurse their children, she says, are only one in a hundred, or one in a thousand, and others who do not do so are either ignorant or ill-advised.

Dr. McMurchy, comparing the deaths of Ontario children with those of England, says the former are 150 in a thousand to 132 in a thousand in the latter, while that of London, England, is only 113. It is possible that part of the difference may be accounted for by laxity in registration of births in Ontario and that the infant death rate is not so large there as it seems. In any case the the matter is a serious one, Gand shows that much could be done to prevent excessive infant mortality by proper precautions being taken.

The case is cited of a Catholic priest if Quebec who instructed his parish as to the treatment of babies, and succeeded in two years in reducing the death rate among infants from 197 to 85 per thousand. Feeding at irregular hours of whenever the child cries, uncleanliness, overclothing, and allowing babies to have tastes of what their elders eat, are some of the mistakes which should be avoided.

Warnings are issued in the report against patent foods, which are denominated "Baby Exterminators." One soothing syrup, it is stated, contains opium and it is suggested that syrups and foods for infants should be labelled in accordance with their contents.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Otonabee's Success.

The palace steamer Otonabee, which came in from Peterborough last week, carried a big excursion out into Lake Simcoe on Thursday evening. The boat is excellent equipped, and runs very steadily. On Saturday the Citizens' Band chartered the steamer for an afternoon's trip going as far as Hawkestone. The sail was delightful, but the band are only a few dollars ahead as a result. On Sunday the Otonabee carried the Methodist Sunday school excursion to Jackson Point.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous gravels and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "primitive" operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said,—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is today a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cradle would starve."

Cutting Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romance of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets like into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over all ground are recovering millions annually.

STUMPS TREE STUMPS.

Big Enough to Be Hollowed Out and Used For Houses.

The fine fir of the Pacific northwest are so colossal that after the trees are hewed down the stumps are used for children's playgrounds, houses for families to live in or for dancing platforms.

To make a stump house the material from the interior is removed, leaving only enough to form walls of suitable thickness. A roof of boards or shingles is put over the top of the stump, holes are cut for windows and doors, and a family of five can and often does make it their dwelling. The stump houses are sometimes used by settlers until they can build larger and more convenient houses.

After the stump home has been vacated it is turned into a stable for the horses or sometimes into an inclosure for chickens or hogs.

Next to the big tree of California the fir or cypress of Washington and Oregon has the largest diameter. As they decay rapidly, the hollowing out is easy. Sometimes they are used for dance platforms, some of them accommodating as many as four couples.

Another custom is to turn the big stumps into playgrounds for the children. The children reach the top by pieces of wood nailed against the sides or by ladders. A beautiful use of the large stumps is making them into flower beds and covering them with trailing vines.—Chicago Tribune.

THE WAISTCOAT.

Is Become Popular by the Patronage of Charles II.

How men realize how much they are being influenced in their dress by King Charles II., and yet it is to that monarch we owe the adoption of the waistcoat as a regular article of gentleman's dress, says London M. A. P. At least that is so if we are to accept the statement of Pepys, who in his diary under date of Oct. 16, 1666, states: "The king has declared his resolution to set a fashion which he would never alter," and "This day King Charles II. began to put on the vest. It is a very fine and handsome garment."

Prior to this date they were exceptional garments, and there is even some doubt whether they were originally worn by ladies or gentlemen, though there is good reason to believe they superseded the doublet, such as was worn by Raleigh, Essex and other notables of the Elizabethan age.

A neat waistcoat "wrought in silk and gold" is mentioned in "Patient Grissell," 1603, and there is a painting in distemper of a vest on the walls of Winchester cathedral, dated 1660, so that what Charles II. took was merely an existing garment, which he remodeled, and by his patronage so popularized it that it became a standard article of gentlemen's dress.

Clever Reasoning.

Rather an original reason in political economy was that once taught by the Japanese statesman Aweda and thus translated by Sir Edwin Arnold in "Seas and Lands:"

One evening as he was going to the palace to take his turn in keeping the night watch he let ten cash drop out of his tinder case into the stream and then bought fifty cash worth of torches to search for the lost coin. His friends laughed at him for spending so much in order to recover so little, and he replied, with a frown:

"Sirs, you are foolish and ignorant of economics. Had I not sought for those ten cash they would have been lost forever—sunk in the bottom of the Hamagawa. The fifty cash which I have expended on torches will remain in the hands of the tradesmen. Whether or no this thou or I be no matter, but not a single one of the sixty has been lost, and that is a clear gain to the country."

Wedding Ring Motives.

When parties or matters mystified inside wedding rings were first introduced does not seem to be known, but from the sixteenth century until the middle of the eighteenth it was customary to have them engraved on rings. These mottoes seldom consisted of more than two lines of a verse, often of only one, but there are a few instances known where three lines were used. Some of these posies are very quaint and curious, and a few much a high standard of poetic beauty. The South Kensington museum has a good collection of posy rings, and among them are the following inscriptions: "Unkind hearts death only parts." "Let us chance in joy and care." "Love and live happily."—London Standard.

The Cause.

"Did you hear the awful shriek that engine gave as it flew by?" asked the first man as they approached a railroad crossing.

"Yes. What caused it?" rejoined his companion.

"I presume the engineer had it by the throttle."—Smart Set.

A Mean Retort.

"There goes a man I could have married," she said softly.

"Yes," he chortled, "and I notice that he keeps on going so rapidly we were afraid you might try it again."—

PORCUPINE CITY

THE PORCUPINE BOOM has started. The district is proven. It is today the greatest Gold Camp in the world.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

The Townsite has already the "Porcupine Post Office," two Banks, one 75-room Hotel, general stores, hardware stores, hospital, a drug store, bakery, theatorium, laundry, several office buildings, and numerous boarding houses and dwellings.

Townsite lots worth today from $60.00 to $300.00 should treble in value by Christmas, and be worth many times this amount within the next year or two.

SUDBURY, COBALT, HAILEYBURY and NORTH BAY have returned fortunes to the original investors in their real estate when these towns were young. They thrived on the returns from the baser metals—copper and silver.

PORCUPINE IS A GOLD CAMP

Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

The New Wharf at Pengelly's Landing Formally Opened

An event with due ponderance in connection with the navigation of our inland water stretch was in evidence on Wednesday, when the new South Monaghan government dock, at Pengelly's Landing was formally opened for public use. The event was attended by several hundred of the residents of the township of South Monaghan and Hamilton, as well as people from Peterborough.

Barnard's or Pengelly's Landing, is situated on the north shore of Rice Lake. For some years past the necessity of a suitable dock at this place has been felt, and finally through the efforts of Hon. Mr. Stratton, M.P., a sum of money was placed in this year's estimates for the construction of a dock which would meet the requirements of the district.

The government tug Bessie Butler, carried on board the superintendent of the canal, Mr. J. H. McClellan, Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., and a few others. The dock was crowded with women and children, and the Union Jack floated gently from the new flagstaff at the landing. After a conference amongst the residents, it was decided that the landing should hereafter be known as South Monaghan Park wharf. At the usual banquet in connection with events, Mr. Jos. Barnard ably filled the chair.

Mr. Pinchin, of the Otonabee Navigation Company, said in his remarks that the people of South Monaghan, owed a debt of gratitude to the Hon. J. R. Stratton for the interest he displayed in the people's wants and his unceasing efforts in their behalf.

Several local citizens delivered short addresses, including Police Magistrate Dumble, G. C. Wainwright, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Ottawa; Jos. Porter, clerk of South Monaghan, and others including last, but not least, Hon. J. R. Stratton, who delivered a patriotic address to the electors.

Grand Trunk will Let Strike Breakers Go

Hamilton, Aug. 11.—Thos. Todd, chairman of the Men's Committee during the G.T.R. strike, made two important statements here today, which he thinks should allay any dissatisfaction over the settlement. He declares that the union has a cast iron agreement with the Grand Trunk that every strike breaker is to be fired within a certain time, old employes be re-engaged except against any whom there is proof of acts of violence during the strike. Todd also declared that the union men who refused to go on strike will lose their insurance money, and many of them were insured for $2,000, and $3,000.

MR. RUTHERFORD HONORED.

Ex-Chief of Former Local Volunteer Fire Brigade Given a Medal.

Mr. Thos. Rutherford, who for many years filled the position of fire chief of the Volunteer Fire Brigade of this city was on Wednesday given a token of the high esteem in which visiting Midland Brigade hold him. Captain S. B. Burke of the visitors, formally presented him with an official badge in commemoration of the old days when the volunteer fire brigade of Peterborough entertained the Midland fire fighters a few years ago.

Ex-Chief Rutherford replied in a few well chosen words and assured his Midland brothers that he would always cherish their esteem and the old familiar faces it brought before him. Mr. Rutherford walked to the G.T.R. station at the head of the parade, between the captain and the chief of the Midland Fire Brigade, and, as the train pulled out was given three hearty cheers.

PRINCESS OPENS TOMORROW.

Mr. Pappas, the New Owner Has Finished His Great Improvements.

The Princess Theater, for some months operated by Mr. Ernest Hannah, will reopen on Saturday under control and management of Mr. Pappas, proprietor of the Royal Theater. This popular place of amusement has undergone many improvements for the better. Instead of the former, none too safe system of aisles, the new proprietor at the loss of a large number of seats, and seats mean money in the theater business, has cut down his seats by putting in two new and wide aisles, so that the patrons of the Princess are assured of absolute protection. Instead of the one fire escape that formerly was connected with the Princess, the new owner, now has two commodious escapes. The operating department, the really most important part of a moving picture house has been totally reorganized and changed. The little "cubby-hole" formerly occupied by the operator, has been enlarged to the full width of the theater. Not only has this enlargement been made, but Mr. Pappas has inserted two drop windows, opening from the arch at the entrance, so that the operator and his assistant are assured of a plentiful supply of fresh air. The reconstructed Princess is a theater that not only assures the operator's staff more room and better air, more safety to the patrons and better stage accommodation, but the theater presents a much more attractive appearance. The Princess will open on Saturday, tomorrow, with good music, high class singing and pictures that have never been equalled in Peterborough.

DIED ON WAY HOME.

Indian Procures Liquor Somewhere, and Dies Seemingly as Result.

Whilst not only The Times, but citizens in general, had highest words of praise for the marked lack of any sign of intemperance during the visit of the 600 odd excursionists from Midland, day before yesterday it seems that a possible slur has been thrown upon the judgment of those crying Hurrah! Scott Barnhardt, an Indian of Midland, while under the influence of liquor, was was put off the G.T.R. excursion train at Beaverton, whilst the train was returning from Peterborough to Midland, Dr. Grant G.T.R. physician, was called to attend the Indian, who was found to be in a serious condition. He was removed to the village lock up, where the doctor remained with him until he died yesterday morning. Whilst all sympathy will be extended to the relatives of the deceased, there is, as yet, no evidence to show how, from whom, or where the unfortunate man procured his liquor.

HAVE YOU A BAD SORE?

If so remember these facts—Zam-Buk is now the most widely used balm in Canada, yet four years ago it was unknown here! Why has it become so popular? Because it heals sores, cures skin diseases, and does what is claimed for it. Why not let it heal your sore?

Remember that Zam-Buk is altogether different to the ordinary ointments. Most of these consists of animal fats. Zam-Buk contains no trace of any animal fat, or any mineral matter. It is absolutely herbal.

Remember that Zam-Buk is at the same time healing, soothing, and antiseptic. Kills poison instantly, and all harmful germs. It is suitable alike for recent injuries and diseases, and chronic sores, ulcers, etc. Test how different and superior Zam-Buk really is. All druggists and stores at 50c. box. You are warned against harmful substitutes and imitations.

VICTIM IDENTIFIED AS A WOMAN WHO DIED FROM OPERATION

A VALUABLE POINT IN THE CASE AGAINST DR. H. H. CRIPPEN. BROUGHT OUT.

Result of Five Hours Scientific Examination of Remains Found Buried in Cellar of Dr. Crippen's House in London.

London, Aug. 11.—A valuable point in the case against Dr. H. H. Crippen, now held in Quebec on a charge of murdering his wife, Belle Elmore, here, was established today when it was learned that an operation had killed the victim.

A five hour examination of the mutilated remains found buried in the cellar of 39 Hilldrop Crescent, North London, it was stated, had resulted in the sweeping away of all doubt as to the identity of the victim.

Prof. Pepper, the home office analyst, had previously been uncertain as to the sex, but is now certain, it is said, that the body is that of a woman.

CLUE TO CERTAIN IDENTITY.

London, Aug. 11.—It is reported today that the authorities have discovered a clue to the certain identity of the body unearthed in the Hilldrop Crescent home of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, now under arrest in Quebec, awaiting extradition on the charge of having murdered an unnamed woman.

The police have contended all along that the bits of flesh found were parts of the body of Belle Elmore, the actress wife of Dr. Crippen, but their identification as such has been a matter of much doubt. It is generally believed that the case of the Crown rests on a positive identification, and the greatest importance is attached to the latest developments.

The hopeful clue was obtained during an exhaustive examination of the body made by Professor Pepper, the home office expert who had previously given many hours to the problem.

THE MANNER OF DEATH.

During the five hours that he worked Professor Pepper obtained conclusive evidence that the sex was feminine. He then continued with the purpose of determining the manner of death, having in mind the possibility that poison was used. The analysis so far as the poison theory is concerned, was not completed today, but it was reported that the physician found evidence that, at some period, the woman had undergone a surgical operation. If this can be established the authorities claim that they will have gone a long way in proving that the victim was Belle Elmore.

INQUEST RESUMED MONDAY.

The inquest will be resumed on Monday and as that day approaches interest in the case is revived. It is doubtful, however, if anything beyond the scientific evidence is brought to light before the return here of Dr. Crippen, and Ethel Clara Le Neve, who is jointly charged with him with guilty knowledge of the woman's death.

SUNDAY MUSIC.

Prof. Gliddon and the 57th Regt. Band May Give Concerts That Would Be Welcomed.

Mr. Rupert Gliddon, the energetic and efficient leader of our universally admired 57th Regiment Band, has announced that the musical organization he leads, will give one or two Sunday concerts during the season. Mr. Gliddon is to be congratulated on this stand, as also maintained by an E.E.C., People who have worked hard for six days in the week, attend religious service in the morning, and possibly intending to do so at night, have nothing to lose temporarily or spiritually by hearing good music Sunday afternoon some of which may be non-secular. As a devotee to music, and an exponent of the art in Peterborough, Prof. Gliddon deserves a medal from citizens who wish to spend the afternoon of the Sabbath in a law abiding and inoffensive manner, that will result in pleasure to thousands.

HUGE STURGEON.

Disabled Engine in Boat and Injured Occupants.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Aug. 9.— A 150 pound sturgeon nearly sent a party of three in a motor boat over the Falls late last night. Opposite La Salle, two miles above the Falls the fish leaped for the searchlight in the bow, missed it, struck and seriously injured Miss Nellie Johnston, of this city, and then thrashing about in the boat, disabled the engine.

The sturgeon, which measured 6 feet 6 inches, was finally subdued with oars wielded by Frank Mendale of this city, and Sebastian Smith of La Salle, the other occupants.

Meanwhile the boat was being swept rapidly towards the cataract. George Allen, hearing cries of distress, speeded out in a launch and towed the party ashore.

Noted Russians Fall Victims of Terrible Scourge of Cholera

St. Petersburg, Aug. 11.— The cholera epidemic has invaded high social circles. The Countess Zwerato and a noted army officer, Col. Shabisher, died today of the plague, and the upper classes are in a panic. Hundreds of persons have started from St. Petersburg, or are preparing to flee. Extreme precautions are being taken to prevent the disease from reaching any of the royal estates in town or country.

SPREAD IS UNCHECKED.

The spread of the disease is unchecked, and the death list continues around a 1,000 a day, the total number of victims since the first of the year being more than 60,000.

The invasion of wealthy and exclusive quarters will, if it is believed, lead to more strenuous efforts to check the epidemic than have been brought forth by the wholesale slaughter of the working classes.

Officialdom is besieged today by persons of importance demanding that special efforts be made to safeguard the upper classes.

Saws Bars of Cells.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 9.—Timothy A. Sheedy, one of the most notorious burglars in the country, escaped last night from the county jail here, where he was being held until there was room in the Wethersfield State Prison, to which institution he had been sentenced for thirty years, for burglaries committed in this city. He sawed the bars of his cell door and accompanied by James Cornell, a trusty, who was serving two years for theft, escaped through a window in the hospital ward and over a ten-foot wall surrounding the buildings. Both men were in prison stripes when they escaped.

Killed Three and Then Shot Himself

Chicago, Aug. 11.—W. J. Meyers this afternoon shot and killed his wife, Grace; his son, Ralph, aged 7; his father-in-law, Frank Bouton, and then killed himself. Meyers had separated from his wife. She took up her residence with her father. Meyers went to the Bouton house today and was refused admission by Bouton. Meyers shot Bouton dead in the doorway, then entered the house and killed his wife and son, then shot himself.

Meyers kept a shooting gallery.

ARE GUARDING TAFT

SECRET SERVICE MEN REDOUBLE THEIR VIGILANCE SINCE GAYNOR SHOOTING.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 10.—Since the attempted assassination of Mayor William J. Gaynor in Hoboken, the secret service operatives guarding President Taft have redoubled their vigilance. The chief executive is not out of their sight a moment, while every person approaching him is carefully scrutinized. It has been the experience of the guards that publication of such an outrage as that upon the mayor of New York serves to give further incentive to cranks all over the country, and the president becomes a shining mark for the eccentric or lunatic.

Two secret service men have always been on duty at the president's cottage here. One has patrolled the front of the house, and the other the rear, day and night. When the president goes motoring, the secret service men have usually followed in an equally fast automobile. But since the shooting of Mayor Gaynor, an additional guard rides on the step of the president's car. Each of these men is armed with automatic 44-calibre pistols, and they are under orders to shoot first and ask questions later.

A secret service man is always at the president's side while he golfs over the Myopia links; another looks over all those who have business at the Taft cottage. Even society dowagers who call upon Mrs. Taft have to wait down the road while the secret service men call up the house and ascertain whether their names appear on Mrs. Taft's engagement book, for Mrs. Taft receives callers only by engagement.

Even when the president goes on board the Mayflower or the Sylph for a little yachting trip, a secret service operative is on board.

Col. Roosevelt used to say that the secret service operatives detailed at the White House were the finest body of men in the United States employ. The eight who take turns at guarding the president at Beverly, are picked men—picked for their discretion, faithfulness, and physical stamina. Every one of them is a crack pistol shot.

Mr. W. A. McMaster of Havelock, sustained a bad fracture of his left arm above the elbow on Wednesday evening of last week. He was driving to Trent Bridge to enjoy an outing. Whilst turning his rig aside on the country road to avoid collision with an approaching conveyance an upset occurred, the Havelock man sustaining the injury noted.

Mayor Gaynor is Out of Danger

New York, Aug. 11.—Mayor William J. Gaynor showed greater strength today than at any time since his life was attempted on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse on Tuesday.

Not only were the physicians encouraged by the mayor's condition, but Thomas L. Gaynor, the mayor's brother, left for a three days' visit to Baltimore. Mr. Gaynor said there was now no cause for worry or alarm.

There will be no further consultation of physicians until 6.30 o'clock tonight. The official morning bulletin today was encouraging, showing Mayor Gaynor's temperature to be 100 1-5, with pulse 76.

Hoboken, N.J., Aug. 11.—Mayor Gaynor is practically out of danger, according to the physicians, who are attending him at St. Mary's Hospital.

He passed the forty-eight-hour crisis at 9.43 this morning and continued to improve steadily as the hours passed.

There have been no indications of septic poisoning today, and the physicians feel that all danger from that source has been eliminated. The wound was dressed and found in a healthy condition. He is cheerful and the situation is encouraging.

Though the general belief has been that only one bullet struck the mayor on Tuesday, when he was shot by James J. Gallagher, and that this divided, lodging into two positions, reports were current today that two of the three shots fired by the assassin had found the mark at which it was aimed.

Canadian Farmers Desire No Favors

London, Aug. 11.—The British Weekly says: "For once we almost envy the Liberal member going down to the country. The Canadian revolt against protection is agreat fact, so great it cannot be silenced or suppressed by any conspiracy of Unionist papers. It is a momentous fact that Canadian farmers desire no preference in the British market. Canadian manufacturers will fight hard, but the future of Canada is in the West.

SOUTH AFRICAN PROBLEMS.

Durban, Aug. 11.—Dr. Jamaieson said it was not sought by means of a raid to replace Dutchman by Englishmen in the Transvaal.

During the raid he carried a letter containing a list of the proposed new executive, including Lucas and Meyer. Though the raid was badly carried out, and thoroughly deserved punishment, yet it was a step in the direction of federation, which was Rhode's policy. Botha said the government still awaited the Unionist program. He heard that the people are being stirred up to "vote British," but had not the empire every reason to regard him and his party as her sons as good as any other?

Smuts advocated training on the Swiss basis with a nucleus for a striking force. He was willing to abide by the advice of the war office that South Africa should be self-reliant, but she should do everything possible to assist the Empire which gave the Transvaal freedom. Education matters will be the dominating issue of the contest.

PREVENTION.

The Aim of Modern Medicine.

To prevent disease, to keep people well, to teach them the laws of health and how to obey them—this is the aim and task of modern medicine. Reducing this to its personal application, it means that you should dislodge small ailments before they grow big.

In the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels, we find the instrumentalities that principally maintain life. They are prone to minor interference, that can easily be protected by taking a weekly dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. When they grow sluggish or to aid them in keeping active, do not wait until you have to keep brain and eye clear by the occasional use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Keep dark hues from under the eyes, the skin clear and smooth and flexible—all this you may do and more by the use of the most useful blood purifying and liver and kidney energizing pills, Dr. Hamilton's. That's the name of the best family medicine ever made. For stomach disorders, indigestion, biliousness and constipation you are sure of cure by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

TRAFFIC MUST STOP.

Alleged White Slaver and Toronto Woman Detained in Buffalo.

Buffalo, Aug. 10.—Pleading that his wife in New York city had not used him right, Max Schauman, 45 years old, failed to favorably impress United States Commissioner Robinson here yesterday, and he was held for the grand jury of the United States court, on a charge of importing for immoral purposes Tilbie Skulski, who gave her address as 81 Agnes street, Toronto, and her age as 25 years.

Schauman is the father of five children. The Skulski woman admitted that she is married, too, and has a child in Toronto. Schauman was nabbed by immigration officers on this end of the international bridge, while he was waiting for her to come across. The officers tarried for her arrival, and took her along, too. She will be held as a witness against Schauman, until the United States authorities are through with him.

"This so-called white slave traffic, which seems to be flourishing along the border must cease," declared Commissioners Robinson. "And the United States will not deal charitably with persons involved in such cases."

THE WEATHER.

Fine and warm today.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

THE DRAGOON COTILLION.

During the past few weeks the people of the various parts of Ontario have seen the troopers of the Royal Canadian Dragoons on duty for the preservation of law and order at points affected by the Grand Trunk strike. At the coming Canadian National Exhibition they will have an opportunity of seeing them in a more attractive guise when picked riders will execute in front of the beautiful and intricate figures of "The Dragoon Cotillion." This embraces all the picturesque and complicated figures of the stateliest of old fashioned dances. As the cotillion reaches its climax the movements attain a puzzling complexity out of which horses and riders extricate themselves in a most graceful and precise manner. The spectacle in day light as the red-coated horsemen perform their evolutions with set lances and bannerettes fluttering in the breeze is beautiful in the extreme, but it does not equal in any sense the exquisite picture at night when each lance point is tipped with an electric light. This episode is invariably greeted with their riders, with applause by the thousands who nightly visit the Canadian National Exhibition.

"Can be depended upon," is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

NERVILINE.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and in thousands of homes this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. Today Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies — scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 4396

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache and disordered stomach, I know of no preparation so needful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever ther is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline. 25c. per bottle, five for $1.00, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE PRAIRIES.

If the wide prairies of Western Canada were not the granary of the Empire, producing millions of dollars' worth of wheat and other grains, and capable of sustaining an immense population, they would still be of inestimable value because of the magic influence they wield over and the new life and hope and energy they inspire in easterns who chance to wander over them. There is an expanding wholesomeness and a genuine inspiration about the life on the great western plains. The wide, sweeping, unobstructed vision of waving fields of grain and rolling hills, the clear atmosphere and and bright, sunny skies, and the bracing touch of the western breeze riding free, unfettered across the prairie—these all combine to lift the wanderer out of his former self, and awaken in him a vision of a new heaven and a new earth.

The myriads of flowers of a dozen hues that deck the plains bid him rejoice. From early spring and all through the summer and autumn they shed a radiance and impart a cheer—the lowly but beautiful prairie rose, the yellow primroses, the black-eyes Susan, the wild sage, the dainty bluebell, the snow-white daisy, the gorgeous cactus, and many more of royal purple and blue and white.

Wearing city noises, buildings that imprison, and walled streets that hide the sun and chain the wind of heaven all disappear and are forgotten. Here is a new life, the very essence of which is freedom, health, hope and quickened impulses. Nature surely must have planned that this should be an asylum for the weary, where their drooping energies should be resuscitated, and whence they should return refurnished for the labors and duties of life.

If one should become quite hoodwinked to the charm of nature's influence even whereso powerfully exerted, he surely must rejoice to see the prosperity that makes glad the people from many climes who have made their abode in this new land. Tens of thousands of new homes are being established, and there is plainly written in the countenance of the new-comer the confidence that all will be well with him in his adopted country if he but does his part. He has breathed the buoyant, optimistic atmosphere of the boundless resources ful west, and is a new creature, unexpected potentialities in his being revealed by the stimulating new environment.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

COSTLY SIGHT-SEEING.

Big Fees Paid by Sightseers When Pageants Are Under Way.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, and the death of a monarch puts money into the pockets of thousands. Those who profit most largely by such an event are the seat-mongers on the line of the funeral procession.

The value put upon seats is always rising. When Edward I. became king a farthing was charged for a seat to see the coronation procession. On the accession of Richard II. the price rose to 1d.; and from Henry V.'s coronation to Henry VII.'s it was 2d. By the time Charles II. was crowned it had gone up to 2s. 6d.; while exactly double as much (5s.) was paid at the coronation of William III. Then the value of seats on such occasions appreciated enormously. To see the procession when George III. was crowned half a guinea was paid; and eighteen on George IV.'s day of days cheerfully paid five and in some cases ten guineas. This was considered the climax, but the value put on seats in later days has been much greater.

Why the enormous rise? The main reason, so far as our own times are concerned, is that wealthy Indians, Americans, and other foreign visitors have been willing to pay anything for a seat to witness a state pageant. Hence the value has been inflated.

The present high scale was set at Queen Victoria's Jubilee, when large sums were paid for rooms from the windows of which the procession could be seen. Few rooms, however small, could be hired for less than 10 guineas, and for many 150 guineas was demanded and paid. A large building on the route, being empty, was secured for the day by an enterprising individual for 1,000 guineas, and he had no reason to repent his outlay.

On the occasion of Queen Victoria's funeral the Jubilee rate for seats was confirmed. In St. James' street £10 had to be paid for a single chair, while seats which a few days before the procession were offered for 3 guineas afterwards fetched 5 guineas. A window which let when Lord Roberts came home for £230 found a hirer at £400 on the occasion of the Queen's funeral. As it will hold only fifty people at the utmost, the hirer must have charged pretty heavily for every seat in it. Again, some rooms in Piccadilly let for as much as 200 guineas.

High as these figures are, however, they were surpassed in several instances. The most remarkable "deal" in connection with the funeral was that of a gentleman who took a mansion near the Marble Arch for the day for the amazing sum of £1,400!

At Edward VII.'s coronation, and again at the royal progress, the prior scale was equally high. In South London some landlords evicted tenants that they might obtain windows for the occasion, and received more for a single day's occupancy of a part of their premises than they got in an normal circumstances for the use of the whole for a year. Others, however, let their tenants make as much as possible on the occasion, with the result that many strenuous workers made handsome sums by letting their humble houses to sightseers.

Perhaps the highest price ever paid for a window was £1,500 secured by a landlord near the Marble Arch to enable some Americans to view the funeral procession of the King on its way to Paddington.

Queen-Mother's Relations.

No royal lady of any time has been so intimately related to such a large number of kings and queens as the Queen-Mother of Great Britain, who has been the recipient of world-wide sympathy in her great grief and sorrow. Her father and mother were king and queen, her husband was a king, her mother-in-law was the late Queen Victoria, her son is now King of Great Britain, her daughter is Queen of Norway, a sister was for some years Czarina of Russia and is now Dowager Empress, one brother is King of Denmark, another brother King of the Hellenes, one of her nephews is Czar of Russia, and another nephew, who is also her son-in-law, is King of Norway, while a third and fourth are destined to be King of Denmark and King of the Hellenes respectively.

"Charlie" Carrington.

Earl Carrington, who was recently appointed Lord Great Chamberlain of England by King George, is one of the largest landowners in England. The late King Edward and "Charlie" Carrington, as he is popularly known to his intimates, grew up together in close intimacy. For five years he was governor of New South Wales, where he studied agriculture. Lord Carrington returned home a convinced and enthusiastic land-reformer. He believes in getting men back to the land, and has established no fewer than 5,000 small holdings on his estates. The new Lord Great Chamberlain has a wide reputation as an excellent administrator.

Toy Spaniel an Old Breed.

The English toy spaniel is undoubtedly one of the oldest and most popular breeds of pet dogs known. As far back as the days of Charles the Martyr this breed was much prized by the ladies of the court. In the narrative of the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots, indorsed in Lord Burghley's hand and forwarded to the court, it was recorded that one of the executioners found her little pet (a spaniel of practically the same type as those afterward known in the reign of Charles II.), which had crept under the folds of her garments to be near her and which would not be taken away.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUC ET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous gravels and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Leaderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold supplies. The Director of the United States Mint further said—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a cradle would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold investors talent, has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets like into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to severe treatment, and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $600,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

Capital Stock $600.000---Par Value $1.00

No Preferred Stock. Lease Runs 40 Years One-Sixth Royalty. No Bonus or Free Stock. All Stock in Treasury for Benefit of Holders. No Bonded Indebtedness Incorporated Under Laws of State of California.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Two miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co. is now drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Ojai Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Oil, Capital Crude, Bard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE'S NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is probable that the Atlanta Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his log of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and bank of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 25 to 40 to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-five million in dividends. The GREAT ARTESIA had a small beginning in the WILD HILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 32 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased motor for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operating companies are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive fields. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overtaken at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. Work at Blairton Iron Mines.

The contract for drilling at Blairton iron mines, six miles east of Havelock, has been completed by Smith & Travers, of Sudbury, for the Hamilton Steel and Iron Company, who have an option on the property. Work will be commenced at the mines at once. The report may show that the mine can be operated at a profit, as the rock is said to contain a large percentage of iron ore. The diamond drill has been at work for the past four months, and a complete examination of the mine has been made.

Prominent Govt. Official Here.

Mr. A. W. Campbell, deputy minister of Railways and Canal, with his private secretary, arrived in Peterborough yesterday morning. They were met by Mr. J. H. Stratton, M.P., and Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Waterway. Mr. Campbell took the steamer Bessie Butler, at the foot of the Street Railway Wharf, and started on his trip of inspection of the locks and the route of the canal from Peterborough to Lake Simcoe. The superintendent of the canal, Mr. McClellan, accompanied Mr. Campbell on his tour of inspection.

An Irishman From Jerusalem.

Yesterday afternoon an elderly gentleman entered a local cigar store. He wanted a large plug of say "P. & G." tobacco. The plug was handed over and thirty cents demanded by the man behind the counter. The E.G. disputed the price, offering 25 cents. The clerk explained that under the present government, a raise in excise duty had put the wholesale price at 26½ cents. The elderly gentleman remarked "Well, oi've voted for Laurier for nivin years, but I'm agin him after this." The 30 cents was paid and the E.G. left. A Times reporter was present during the conversation, and remarked to the clerk, "By that gentleman's accent he must have come from County Clare, Down or Tipperary!" The clerk, with a significant grin, replied "No, that's an Irishman from Jerusalem! He tries to beat me down every time in price."

UNEXPECTED INCREASE IN LOCAL FAMILY.

A local merchant residing on Water Street yesterday had a considerable addition to his family. The gentleman in question, who had a good sized family of his own, before breakfast went out to his summer kitchen. Here he heard a series of faint wails. After some search for the cause of the noise, he found a neighbor's tabby cat with a brand new family, consisting of four kittens. He recognized the matron cat. The whole family was bundled into a basket lined with old clothes and gently but firmly deposited on the verandah of cat's owner.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

W. Adamson Gets Prince of Wales' Scholarship, $160

In the results issued yesterday of recent examinations by Queen's University, W. Adamson, a pupil of the local Collegiate Institute, won the Prince of Wales' $160, Senior Matriculation Scholarship. Besides the honor that Mr. Adamson has brought to this city, his success speaks volumes for the proficiency of Principal Kenner and his staff of teachers. Pupils from all over the Province take part in these examinations and the competition for the scholarships is very keen.

At the close of the term this pupil had practically decided to leave school and assist his father on the farm, but Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate, who recognized the boy's cleverness, persuaded him to try the Senior Matriculation Scholarship examinations with the result that this local student won the Prince of Wales' Scholarship.

HERO OF MAFEKING WILL OPEN FAIR

GENERAL BADEN-POWELL TO PRESS BUTTON AT NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Review of Boy Scouts—Noted Soldier to Inspect Canadian Branch of Organization.

General Baden-Powell and his boy scouts will open the Canadian National Exhibition this year. The chief of the boy scouts of the British Empire has accepted an invitation to come to Canada and touch the button at the big Fair, and at the same time hold a grand review of the various scout corps throughout Canada. The review will take place in front of the grand stand, where the opening ceremonies of the exhibition this year will also be held. The boy scouts will be camped on the Exhibition grounds, and everything will be done to make the occasion the first Red Letter day in the history of this young but steadily growing organization of which "B.P." is the founder. Baden Powell is the most popular officer in the British Army, even as Lord Kitchener is the most respected. He has seen service in Zulu Land, Ashanti Land, Matabele Land, and South Africa. Everybody remembers the relief of Mafeking. The wave that swept over Canada when the glad news flashed under the sea that the first long stride towards breaking the powers of the Boers in South Africa had been taken. That night while bells pealed and Crowds gathered the name of B.P., the defender of Mafeking for one hundred long days was on every lip. Most heroes are soon forgotten, but B.P. has been too busy a man to drop even for a moment out of the people's minds. At the close of the war he organized the South African Constabulary, and in 1908 he founded the boy scouts.

In bringing Baden Powell to Canada the Canadian National Exhibition have two objects in view. One to keep in mind those deeds of heroism which do so much to rouse the pride of Britons and feed the fires of patriotism, and, further, to give recognition to a man who is doing so much in times of peace to develop the youth of the country and to make of every Canadian boy a thorough Briton.

P.O. Clock Again Prevaricating.

Once more the post office clock has paid its dues and rejoined the Ananias and Sapphira Club. As the fleeting hours passed by yesterday, the clock insistently maintained that the right time was 9.20, even when merchants and clerks were on their way to dinner, were stepping at various spots to procure their ante-prandial cocktails. A clock that go and won't go should be made go, or else those in charge should save public inconvenience by personally turning the hands round as the hours go by.

WANTED TO VOMIT.

A Condition Involving Both Liver and Stomach That Was Quickly Cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"The doctors told me my sickness was caused by complications of the stomach and liver," writes Mrs. E. P. Fourraine, well known in Williamsport. "The least little error in eating would cause nausea, and after a time actual vomiting was easily excited. I grew very thin, pale, with dark lines under the eyes; my strength so failed that even light housework quite exhausted me. Of course, with a large family, I could not afford a doctor all the time, and when in deepest despair, I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills. From the very first they acted wonderfully, and I experienced a desire for food and ate my meals with a relish. After a while my system became quite regular, and that horrid sick feeling only came now and again. This made me persevere, and it was a good thing I did so, because the continuation of Dr. Hamilton's Pills was the means of giving me my health again, and I am now the happiest woman I know."

Every person with stomach trouble can be cured with Dr. Hamilton's Pills—Refuse any substitute. At all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

The contemplated improvements, it is estimated will cost $10,000.

Last night several thousands of Peterborough's citizens gathered in Victoria Park, and enjoyed the admirable program presented by the 57th Regiment Band.

THREE PEOPLE DROWNED IN TORONTO BAY YESTERDAY

A DOZEN PEOPLE WERE THROWN INTO WATER BY COLLISION OF BOATS.

Heroic Attempts to Rescue the Perishing—Yacht Was Blanketed and Could Not Get Away From a Ferry.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—Three more young lives were lost in the crowded Toronto harbor last night when the big ferry boat Mayflower ran down the sailing yacht Directoire, throwing the occupants of the small craft in every direction into the water. The three bodies were recovered at six o'clock this morning.

COMING OUT OF THE SLIP.

The Directoire was a twenty-six footer, owned by Robt. Ramsey, of 1050 Queen street west. Norman Jaffray of 17 Pacific avenue, was in charge of the yacht when the collision occurred. The vessel was pulling out of the slip at Center Island, about nine o'clock, as the ferry approached her dock there. The occupants of the yacht saw the Mayflower but they had an idea that they had lots of time to get clear, and that the captain of the ferry would give them time, and reverse if necessary. But the big vessel struck the smaller one square amidships, and in a few seconds the twelve were struggling in the water.

Just at that point the weeds are very thick, and it is probable that the three who lost their lives were tangled in the dense undergrowth and unable to extricate themselves. The screams of the people in the water and the passengers on the ferry attracted the attention of yachts in the neighborhood, and several boats and motor launches were soon on the scene.

ACTS OF HEROISM.

According to the story of the survivors, John Pearce, the drowned man, himself assisted two of the ladies into one of the rescue launches. It is thought that he tried to secure one of the others who were drowned and thereby lost his own life.

One of the outstanding pluchy acts of the rescuing was performed by William Ross of 7844 Yonge St. He was a passenger on the Mayflower when the collision occurred, and jumped into the water to the assistance of the unfortunate people. He saw one of the ladies come to the surface, grasped her, and swam ashore with her, a distance of about one hundred yards, through an almost impenetrable mass of weeds.

TRYING TO BREAK KING LEOPOLD'S WILL.

Steps Being Taken to Dispossess His Morganatic Wife of Large Fortune.

Brussels, Aug. 12.—Counsel for Princesses Louise, Clementine and Stephanie, daughters of the late King Leopold of Belgium, today took preliminary steps to see if the Baroness Vaughan, morganatic wife of the late king, cannot be dispossessed of her property if she carries out her announced intention of wedding Emanauel Durieux, a retired French merchant living at Neuilly-Sur-Seine.

The baroness, who is living in the Chateau Balincourt, the gift of Leopold, got by far the larger part of Leopold's fortune, estimated at $0,000,000, the three daughters being cut off with small legacies. The latter have been trying to break Leopold's will, and the announcement of the engagement of the baroness has given them hope that the marriage will open a new line of attack.

The baroness' lawyers declare that the king's will was drawn in such a way that it cannot possibly be broken. It was said shortly after Leopold's death that his widow was to marry Count Roni d'Castelane, divorced husband of the former Anna Gould.

CLERK AND EMPLOYER LOVED THE SAME GIRL.

St. John, NB., Aug. 11.—Andrew Rossi, an Italian, will probably be sent up tomorrow for trial on the charge of murdering Diego Siracuso, in the city of St. John on July 23rd last. Both men were members of the local Italian colony, and jealousy was the cause of the tragedy.

Siracuso, the murdered man, was the proprietor of a little grocery store, and Rosai was his clerk. Amodg the customers of the store was Minnie Jones, a pretty young woman who had been married in Boston, to a young New Brunswicker named Grigoire, but later left him and returning home took the name of Jones. Both Italians were attentive to her and she accepted gifts from them.

Siracuso was the favorite in her affections, and this fact fired the soul of Rossi with jealous rage. On Saturday, July 23rd, the girl went out walking with Siracuso, after refusing a similar invitation from Rossi. When Siracuso returned Rossi was waiting for him and it is said shot him through the head. Then he fled. The body was found the following afternoon, and Rossi was arrested a few days later. He pleaded not guilty.

Wheat Cutting is General in the West

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—With ideal harvesting weather wheat cutting is now general throughout the West. The crop is turning out far better than was expected and the general feeling is now one of optimism.

The last two weeks were magnificent for ripening and have added from three to five bushels an acre to the yield.

The sample also, which is reaching Winnipeg is splendid, and the wheat will grade higher than it has for years. The oats and barley crop is also turning out well. The immigration offices are still being besieged with requests for farm hands.

Many farmers in Manitoba have come to Winnipeg in order to get men and are offering high wages. The only outside help which has reached the West so far is from the south. Some five hundred hands from Minnesota have come in during the past two days and were eagerly snapped up. When the first harvest train arrives from the west, the men will be almost fought over by western farmers.

PRINCESS LOUISE BELIEVES JOHN ORTH STILL LIVES.

Louise of Belgium Declares Her Conviction That Missing Archduke is Not Dead.—His Romance.

Paris, Aug. 11.—Princess Louise of Belgium, in a interview with a representative of the "Matin," has declared her conviction that the archduke, Johann Salvator of Austria, familiarly known as John Orth, is not dead.

The archduke disappeared mysteriously 20 years ago, and although it was believed that he was drowned in a wreck of the Santa Margherita, a sailing ship, many stories have been current in recent years regarding his alleged survival of the wreck and his subsequent life in South America.

"If he keeps secret the place of his retreat," said Princess Louise, "it is because he no longer has any affections on earth, apart from the woman who shares his exile."

"The last time I saw him was at the castle at Laxenburg, with the Archduke Rudolf, the late crown prince, who afterwards committed suicide.

"He was just about to leave Europe after publishing the pamphlets in which he bitterly criticized the Hungarian army. The Emperor had already deprived Him of his military authority.

"'I want no money,' he said to the crown prince, at lunch that day, when the latter intimated that he might yet regain the royal favor.

"There was no room for a prince with his ideas in Austria, and he spoke to us of the new life which we wished to create for himself in another part of the world. He wished to live and think freely. Neither my sister Stephanie nor myself ever saw him again.

"The mystery of the missing archduke Johann Salvator has been revived by the statements of two witnesses, who have come forward to testify to having seen him in South America. Allication was recently made in the high chamberlain's court in Vienna for the registration of the death of the archduke and the question of his disappearance twenty years ago was tgus reopened.

British Teachers Not Pleased with Canada

Montreal, Aug. 12.—The party of fifty British school teachers who have just completed an extensive tour of Canada, left on the Tunisian last night. In an interview with an newspaper man on the ship, Mr. T. Gautry, the leader of the party, handed out a rather tart criticism of the Dominion. There was much to admire about the country, and he thought the trip had proffited the teachers, but he deplored the fact that Canadians seemed to be bent on the acquisition of the dollar.

Mr. Gantry gave Montreal a particular roast, saying that the streets were a disgrace to civilization.

With regard to educational matters, Mr. Gantry said the party had been impressed with the fact that considering the differing conditions, the school teachers in Canada were not as well paid as in the old country, which had naturally resulted in the profession being forced largely into the hands of underpaid girls. While the proportion of his party was fairly equal between men and woman, that would not obtain in Canada, and the pay of teachers in the old country was such that men could engage in it still.

Toronto Street Car Men May Go On Strike

Toronto, Aug. 12.—At one o'clock this afternoon the street railway situation appeared to be very unfavorable for a settlement between the company and its employes. Indeed among the men talk was heard of an open break within forty-eight hours. It is possible that a meeting of the men will be held at midnight tomorrow to decide whether a strike is advisable in case no agreement is reached tomorrow.

It is well known that up to the present a wide gulf yawns between the two sides. The company is determined not to grant the demands of the men except for a slight increase of pay, and the men seem to take an equally firm stand against accepting the small increase that may be possible. On the question of hours it is known that both sides are as far a part.

Should a strike occurr it is believed that the company would be prepared to give a fairly complete service from the start.

Judge Barron, good humoredly, continues to prosecute his duties as the dove of peace.

This afternoon at the King Edward Hotel, after he had spent a morning of turmoil and disappointment, trying to stimulate the generosity of each opposing faction, he spoke cheerfully to a reporter.

"There is nothing new that I can say. I continue to be tossed about between the parties like a cork on the top of a wave. What will become of it all I cannot say, but I hope it will terminate in a peaceful settlement.

Judge Barron would not commit himself on the question of a likelihood of a strike. It was apparent, however, from his observations that the parties had come no closer to an agreement, nor was he optimistic of an improvement in the situation unless one side or the other radically altered its position.

HE TUCKED FISH UNDER ARM AND SWAM ASHORE.

Toronto Man's Canoe Upset But That Did Not Prevent Him Capturing a Large 'Lunge.

Lindsay, Aug. 11. — Talk about good fish stories, the following one, which is said to be true in every respect, is the best of the season.

One of the finest catches of the week was made by Mr. Arthur Rathmell of Toronto, who is summering along with other Torontonians at Pleasant Point. It appears that Mr. Rathmell was out in a canoe alone and all at once he felt a strong jerk or nibble at the other end of his line, and he began to haul in his victim. In some manner the canoe suddenly capsized and Rathmell was precipitated into the waters of the Scugog. His companions on shore noticed the mishap and became anxious when Rathmell failed to make his appearance after several minutes. They were about to go to his rescue when they heard a joyous whoop a considerable distance away and on looking around they were delighted to see their friend walking out of the water to shore with a large bass kinaage under his arm.

It appears that after being upset from his canoe, Rathmell, who is an excellent swimmer—a regular "water dog" feet winding up the fish line and hauling his finny victim towards him. He relished the piscatorial monster, who was making extraordinary efforts to get away, and tucking it under his arm, he calmly walked to terra firma.

Do You Weigh Too Much?

The Real Remedy and the Recipe.

There are some stout people whom the above question does not seem to trouble very much. They are, however, wrong to be so careless, for obesity is a complaint which brings many evils in its train. There are others who have sought long and earnestly for a really reliable remedy for obesity, and to these the following prescription will be of absorbing interest, because it presents in a simple and harmless form and sure relief—a remedy which is rapidly gaining a world-wide reputation. The reader may make up the prescription for himself (or herself) on getting the ingredients from the druggist—or the latter will do so willingly.

This is the full recipe: ½ oz. Marmola, ½ oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 4½ oz. Peppermint Water. Take a dose of one teaspoonful after each meal, and at bedtime.

This admirable and quite harmless remedy will soon take off pounds of the offending fatty excess; and as, day by day, the weight decreases, strength and vigor will return in equal ratio; for be it observed, there is no fasting or exercise required. Rest, good food, regular doses—these are all that is necessary to reduce weight to normal, increase the supply of pure blood, clear the skin, beautify the complexion and restore energy and excellent spirits.

King Alfonso will Not Obey the Vatican

Paris, Aug. 12.—Les Nouvelles today says that it is authorized to deny the statement of the Madrid Epoca, that Premier Briand strongly advised King Alfonso against a rupture with Rome, and blamed the severance of diplomatic relations between France and the holy see to the clumsiness of the vatican.

The paper says further that King Alfonso during the interview with Premier Briand talked frankly about the situation, and told the French statesman in energetic terms that he did not propose to obey the injunction of the vatican, to tolerate the threats of Pius X., or to allow the vatican to mix in Spanish politics.

Les Nouvelles adds: "M. Briand's experience enabled him to offer sage advice to the young monarch, warning his majesty to proceed diplomatically, and to avoid brusqueness and wounding."

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gently stimulate the liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by all dealers.

Crippen will Likely Return on Royal Edward

Quebec, Aug. 12.—Whether Crippen or Miss Leneve will return to England by steamers Royal Edward or Lake Manitoba is not yet decided upon, and probably will not be known until the arrival of Sergeant-Detective Mitchell, who is expected here on Sunday morning, on board the Lake Manitoba.

Both steamers are scheduled to leave Quebec on Thursday next, but a report is in circulation that Inspector Dew and Detective Mitchel, may convey their prisoners to Rimouski and take passage at that place.

No photographs of the prisoners have been taken, although one enterprising visiting photographer succeeded in photographing a man named Guillot behind the prison bars and insists that it is Crippen's photograph.

The latter, upon Jailer Moran's advice, never stands or sits at the side so as not to be photographed by the kodak fiend, who is always to be seen promenading in front of the jail.

Neither of the prisoners has as yet seen a clergyman, and they have not asked to see one, and their only apparent anxiety is to leave Quebec as soon as possible.

All kinds of offers have been made the prisoners to give out a story of their lives, but in each case the offers were turned down.

Inspector Dew had an interview with the deputy-attorney-general yesterday, but what transpired is not known. It is generally believed that the object of the interview was to decide on the return date of the prisoners.

DEW IN LINDSAY.

Lindsay, Aug. 12.—Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard, whose name has been much before the public eye of late in connection with the famous Crippen case and chase across the ocean, paid Lindsay a flying visit yesterday afternoon. When approached he would give out nothing for publication, stating that he was simply down for a few days' recreation previous to returning with his captives to London.

The inspector motored down from Toronto with Mr. Archie Clarke of Oklahoma, who is summering at Fenelon Falls, and who is a brother of Mr. Alex. Clarke, Lindsay. Mr. Clarke met the inspector in Toronto.

Mr. McCann, Inspector Dew's private secretary, and Mr. Cliff Scott of Fenelon Falls and owner of the fast yacht Tidal, were also on board. The party dined at the Simpson House and left in the evening for the cataract village.

When the stomach fails to perform its functions, the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested causing numerous diseases. The stomach and liver must be restored to a healthy condition, and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets can be depended upon to do it. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by all dealers.

U. S. Customs Revenue is $3,000,000 Short

Washington, Aug. 11.—A review of the figures issued by the treasury department on the revenue returns for the first operative year of the Payne Aldrich tariff law today shows that the customs receipts, exclusive of all other revenue sources, were $3,116,164 less than the customs receipts for 1907, the banner year.

Democrats here have seized upon the "convenient neglect," as they term it, of the treasury department to draw this comparision in their public statement. The treasury department gave out only a comparision of the total revenue returns, including in 1910 the returns from the new corporations tax. This statement showed a gain in receipts for the last year of some fifteen million dollars over 1907. The total was referred to in the statement as the "total ordinary receipts of the Payne Aldrich law," which, the Democrats assert would mean, to the layman, the returns from the revised tariff.

The Payne-Aldrich law, though usually thought of as the law affecting customs duties, covers awide field, including the new corporation tax and various minor miscellaneous items. In fact, of the grand total of $676,856,816 revenue produced under the new law, only $329,117,207 was produced by customs.

The corporation tax, a provision which was not contained in the previous law, produced some twenty-seven million dollars. This, together with the revenue gained by Collector Loeb through the detection of long-standing frauds, was largely responsible for the total surplus shown in the treasury statement.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all dealers.

Employe at W. Hamilton Co. Hurt.

John Smith, employed at the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, was painfully injured while at work in the company's plant yesterday morning. In some manner he dropped a heavy piece of iron upon his foot, cutting it severely. Medical assistance was summoned, and the injured man was driven to his home on George street. The injury, although painful, is not serious.

Warships Going to Chile.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—The first division of the Pacific fleet, under the command of Rear Admiral Harber, will sail to-morrow for Valparaiso, Chili, to take part in the Chilean centennial celebration beginning September 12. The division consists of the battleships California (flagship), Washington, Pennsylvania and Colorado.

Rev. J. A. Stewart at St. Paul's.

Rev. J. A. Stewart, B.D., of Hespeler Ont., will conduct the services at St. Paul's church tomorrow. At the morning service his subject will be, "The fullness of the God-head as portrayed by Jesus Christ," and at the evening service, "The Great Divide." With so talented and eloquent a divine, that church will peradventure be crowded to the doors.

It seems that the leading sporting clubs of London, Eng., have drawn the line against Jack Johnson, champion pugilist of the world. In this connection, Peterborough, with all her faults and high taxation is possibly the only city of similar population on the globe where none of the colored gentry are domiciled. Peterborough can get on without the negro race.

CHEST INFLAMMATION.

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Nerviline" Cured Quickly.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chester and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have had no more colds and pleurisy and enjoy perfect health.

NERVILINE CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernal of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures, lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large 25c. bottles, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK.

If "Judge" Gaynor dies from the assassin's wound, New York will lose one of the best mayors it has ever had, and the United States a possible future president. Though the nominee of Tammany, he has, since he attained office, accomplished a veritable revolution in the city's government. Already leakages have been stopped, marked economics have been effected, and dark places in the administration have been cleaned up. Mr. Gaynor has been highly critical of New York police methods, constantly comparing them with the British practice, much to the advantage of the latter, and if he lives he will bring about more important reforms in that department of the public service. It is not long since he strongly condemned members of the detective force for their habit of arresting private citizens on insufficient evidence, and often on mere suspicion. He pointed out that such an abuse could not occur in England, and it is certain that he did not agree with Big Bill Devery's criticism of Scotland Yard methods on the ground that the London police do not take a suspect into custody until they have some proofs of his guilt. If the mayor survives, his claim on the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1912 will be greatly strengthened by the attempt on his life. The incident has sufficed to focus attention on his sterling qualities.

Your complexion as well as your temper is rendered miserable by a disordered liver. By taking Calvin Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets you can improve both. Sold by all dealers.

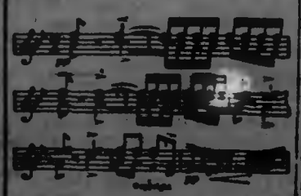
AMINA

"AMINA" suggests something sweet, alluring and Oriental, but it would be difficult to guess precisely to what the name applies. A prize was recently offered to the one who could solve the problem, but although several thousand answers were submitted not one was correct. Some thought it referred to an Egyptian Queen from one of the old dynasties; others that it was the title of a new work of fiction, etc., etc.

The truth is that "Amina" is the name of a recent musical composition (an Oriental Intermezzo) by the famous Berlin composer, Paul Lincke the writer of the world-renowned "Glow-worm," "Castles in the Air," "Spring, Beautiful Spring" Waltzes and numerous other works, well known in every country of both hemispheres.

The extract given below will serve to recall this composition, which has been a standing favorite on musical programs since its publication.



A vocalized edition of "Amina," which, by the way, is one of the attractive features of "The Midnight Maids," a successful Broadway musical production, has also been issued, containing lyrical setting in perfect accord with the music.

EDWARD AS MOTORIST.

He Was an Enthusiast and Patron of the Toot-Toot Art.

By the death of King Edward, motoring in common with many other forms of sport has lost a munificent patron. His Majesty was the proud possessor of a baker's dozen of motor-cars, most of which represent the last word in the automobile world.

The King was immune from the tyranny of the number-plate, and his cars were therefore innocent of the symbolism which appeals so strongly to the executive of the police-trap.

A detailed description of all the King's cars was issued to the police throughout the Kingdom together with instructions that "all facilities" were to be given for their progress on the road. But this concern at headquarters was not sufficient to prevent mistakes. More than once the royal cars were held up owing to the interference of some officious constable, who was disappointed in his search for a number, and a considerable amount of time and breath has been wasted before he has been convinced that "the King can do no wrong."

Unlike his brother, the Duke of Connaught, the King was remarkably free from anything in the nature of a serious accident. He had breakdowns in legion—no motorist is free from these little unpreventable inconveniences — but he always proved himself equal to the emergency by availing himself of the first handy vehicle and so avoiding becoming an object of interest to all and sundry.

A short while ago his car came to a sudden stop in Richmond Park. In a moment a vast crowd appeared, apparently from nowhere, and enjoyed the spectacle of the King of England instructing his chauffeur in the true inwardness of the breakdown, showing him the best method of remedying the fault, and exhibiting in a number of ways his intimate knowledge of motor-car mechanism. He owed this knowledge to Mr. Oliver Stanton, who, years ago, taught His Majesty cycling, and more recently made him a thorough master of the automobile.

King Edward's chauffeurs were all skilled men. Most of them served in Scotland Yard, and have, at some time or other, driven the official motor-cars of the police. How this idea of the King's was carried out is interesting. One day a chauffeur in the employ of the Commissioner of Police was told off to perform some service for the King, and the fine physique and bearing of the man attracted His Majesty's attention. While this man was in attendance at Buckingham Palace something went wrong with a royal motor-car, which caused to puzzle the King's own chauffeur, and resist all his attempts at remedy.

At last the man from Scotland Yard stepped forward, and in a few minutes found a remedy. The King was so pleased that he asked the man to take service with him, and, the resignation of the Commissioner being secured, the corps of policemen-chauffeurs was inaugurated. As it was necessary for policemen to accompany the King almost everywhere he went, it soon performed dual service.

Although the King was extremely free from accidents, he had enough to know that he was not infallible, so he had a complete first-aid outfit attached to each of his cars. This miniature surgery weighs just six pounds, and includes an india-rubber tourniquet to stop bleeding, several pairs of scissors and forceps, antiseptic swabs, gauze, bandages, a variety of ungruents and dressings, a selection of stimulative drugs, and a bottle of brandy. These contents are arranged in the order of their use in the eight different compartments of a silver box which fits in a royal blue morocco case.

On the lid of each case are detailed directions, while on the front of the silver box is the inscription: "A friend in Need is a Friend Indeed."

The Names of the Mighty.

Taking of family names, the new issue of the London directory provides some curiosities. Sebastian Bach is a music dealer, Robert Bruce and John Bunyan are green grocers, John Knox is a chandler and James Boswell a mason.

William Shakespeare is the name of a barrister, tailor and a van builder. There is a Crusoe and also a Gulliver. Julius Caesar is a chemist; Homer keeps apartments. Homer is a fireman, Pindar an electrical engineer, Mars, retails beer, and Venus, inappropriately, sugars, candles. Francis Bacon is an architect and Alfred a dairyman. And what could be nearer for the name of a saddler than Whippy?

Senior to Royal Academician.

C. Napier Henry, one of the newly-elected Royal Academicians, is said to be an extremely eventful career. Born at Newcastle-on-Tyne, he was taken by his parents to Australia when in his early days he worked as a miner in the bush. The art was strong upon him, however, and he abandoned everything to study painting in Antwerp. Returning to England in 1870 his success with the brush was soon assured, and he was elected an Associate in 1884, honours he has deservedly achieved the highest honor the art world has to bestow.

Study on Redmond.

An Irish politician takes his beer seriously and when he strikes an attitude he strikes to kill. The other night a mass meeting in Cork, Mr. Healy, M.P., said that Mr. John Redmond and his party, in voting for the Budget, had committed the greatest act of betrayal of Irish interests and most memorable act of treachery in Ireland's history when, 116 years ago, Irishmen put their hands and seals to the Act of Union.

Meeting Cabinet Ministers.

Addressing "Scotland and her Interests," a Glasgow corporation councillor recently an Englishman remarked that the two chief industries of Northern land were the manufacture of marmalade and Cabinet Ministers. Sir Samuel Chisholm, who suggested that they had a good business in the output of Ministers—for export as well as consumption.

MODELS OF WARSHIPS.

Much is said of the British navy but few really realize what a variety of vessels it takes to make up its mighty fleet? At the forthcoming National Exhibition this autumn there will see a display of warships (that will be at once instructive and attractive. It will consist of submarines, torpedo-destroyers and battleships (the latter) are furnished by the well-known building firms of Vickers, Maxim and E. & W. Hawthorn & Co., and are typical of them being sixteen feet

ASTONISHED THE QUEEN.

They Knew Their Bible But Not Their Court Etiquette.

Recently two little girls from London came down to spend the day at Windsor Castle with the little Battenbergs, Queen Victoria's grand children, and it so happened that Her Majesty paid a visit to the nursery and found them there.

The young visitors were taken aback; they had not expected to see the Queen, and had not been instructed how to conduct themselves in the presence of royalty; but they had been well brought up and knew their Bibles, and they thought at once of Daniel before King Darius. They decided that what Daniel had done must be correct, so the pair threw themselves on their faces on the floor at her astonished Majesty's feet, and cried out with a loud voice:

"Oh, Queen, live forever!"

However, this proved an excellent introduction, and presently the Queen and they became great friends. She took one of them on her knee, and all three chatted together in the friendliest way.

"And whereabout in London do you young people live?" asked the Queen.

"Oh, said the little girl on her knee, "we live just opposite W's,"—naming one of the new mammoth stores that had just been opened in London.

"But please won't you tell us where you live when you go to London?" said her little friend.

The Queen looked thoughtful for a moment, and then remembered that in Buckingham Palace road there is also a mammoth store. "Oh," said she, smiling, "when in London I live opposite Garringe's."

On an Ostrich Farm.

A writer in a recent number of the Boy's Own Paper gives an interesting account of a visit he paid to a South Australian ostrich farm at Port Augusta. The ostriches, he says, were chiefly hatched in incubators. The eggs take 45 to 50 days. The chicks are first fed on bread crumbs, bran, and water. On the fourth day a little sandstone is made round the incubator, and the young are allowed to take exercise. They are then fed on grain, green vegetables, and water. The dangerous age is from birth to three months, after which time they generally live. When the ostrich is seven months old the first crop of feathers is ripe. At 18 months he begins to develop black feathers, and his plumage reaches perfection at the end of three years. The hen ostrich lays from 15 to 20 eggs, but if these are removed she will continue laying like a domestic fowl. One bird has been known to produce 120 eggs annually. Both parents share the duties of incubation. The hen covers the nest during the day, and the cock throughout the night. The chicks are released by the old bird pressing upon the shell with its hard breast. Ostriches are not expensive to keep, because the greater part of the year they find sufficient food in the paddocks, and at other times they only require a little Indian corn or beans and some additional green food, such as lucerne or cabbage.

Russia's Greatest Dancer.

So, by general consent, Mlle. Anna Pavlova, whose wonderful dancing at the Palace Theatre in London has aroused such enthusiasm, has been termed. Mlle. Pavlova, in her infancy, decided to become a dancer. She was taken by her mother to see a ballet. The dancers fascinated her, and she exclaimed, enthusiastically, "Oh, mother, that's what I want to do. I want to be a dancer, too. I must dance. I'll never do anything else when I grow up." And before she was ten she entered the Imperial School of Dancing in St. Petersburg, and studied under M. Petitpas, who danced with Taglioni and the great dancers of the past. And when the curtain fell after her debut the old dancer, who is now ninety-two years of age, put his hand on her head and said, "My child, you are the only woman fit to dance in Taglioni's shoes." He was impressed was he with her performance.

"Hard Wood."

Ever since he was a boy at school Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, who recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday, has had a tough time, and often has been called "Hard Wood." At the age of ten he went to Marlborough Grammar School, and then to the college in the same town. Here he received his baptism of "war." It was a riot among the boys, brought about by the prohibition of pyrotechnic displays on the Fifth of November. The culmination was a month of mutiny, during which the head master's desk was burned and great damage done to the premises. Young Wood was flogged, fined $10, and given 300 lines of Latin to learn by heart.

Gladstone Talks Dutch.

Lord Gladstone, the first Governor-General of South Africa, left London recently to take up his new duties. The large party which gave him a rousing send-off, included a number of Dutchmen. So much progress has Lord Gladstone made in learning Dutch that he was able to converse with them in their own tongue and to promise of his policy in South Africa that "Alles zal recht kommen" (the Dutch proverb, "All shall come right").

A Moist Show.

A catchy unrehearsed act took place at a London music hall the other night. When the fireproof curtain was about to be lowered, a stage hand new to the work pulled the wrong handle, with the result that the water sprinkler was set in motion. The stage was swamped, the orchestra receiving a shower bath, to the considerable amusement of the audience.

Pursuer Shoots Friend.

Extraordinary excitement prevailed over the pursuit of the escaped prisoner Powelika, who has been terrorizing the Manawatu district of New Zealand. Scores of armed men were out in pursuit of the robber. One of the searchers, by an unfortunate accident, shot another member of the pursuing party, who died of the injuries received.

He Explained It.

"See here, young man," said the stern parent, "why is it that you are always behind in your studies?"

"Because," explained the youngster, "if I wasn't behind I could not possess them."—Chicago News.

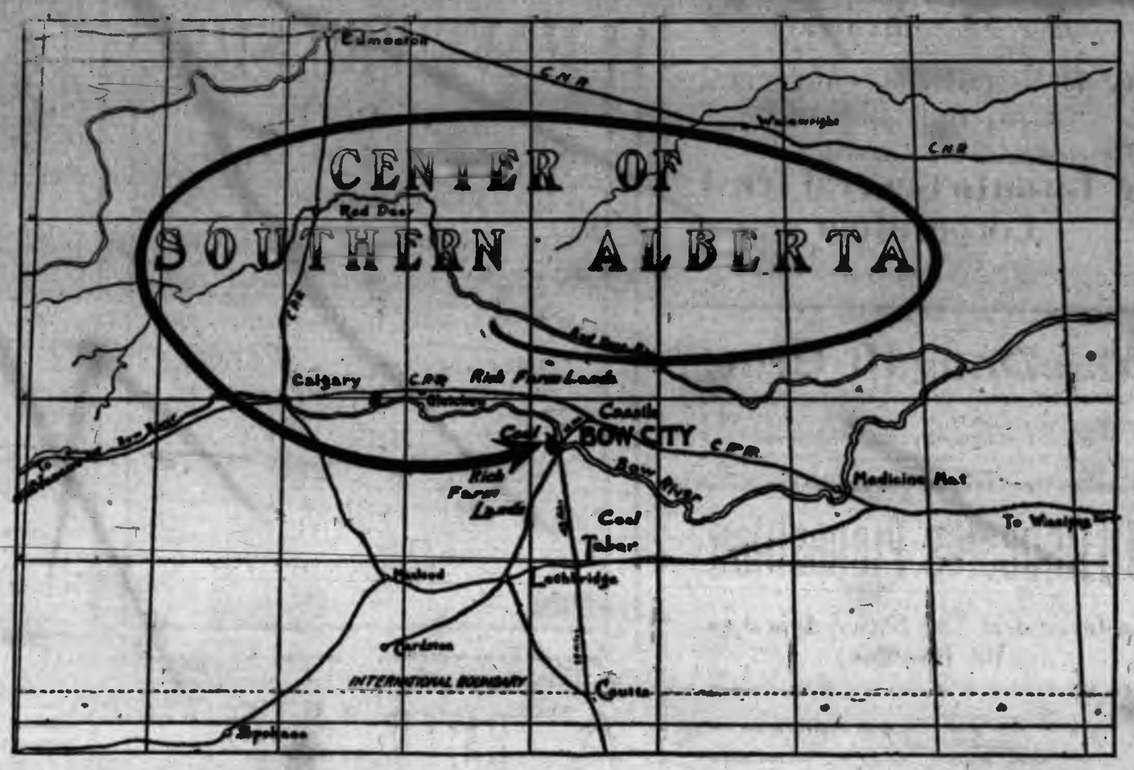
"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"



If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta

the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid—a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your application by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots

On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

PORCUPINE CITY

THE PORCUPINE BOOM has started. The district is proven. It is today the greatest Gold Camp in the world.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

The Townsite has already the "Porcupine Post Office," two Banks, one 75-room Hotel, general stores, hardware stores, hospital, a drug store, bakery, theatre-rium, laundry, several office buildings, and numerous boarding houses and dwellings.

Townsite lots worth today from $60.00 to $300.00 should treble in value by Christmas, and be worth many times this amount within the next year or two.

SUDBURY, COBALT, HAILEYBURY and NORTH BAY have returned fortunes to the original investors in their real estate when these towns were young. They thrived on the returns from the baser metals—copper and silver.

EDWARD AS MOTORIST.

He Was an Enthusiast and Patron of the Toot-Toot Art.

By the death of King Edward, motoring in common with many other forms of sport has lost a munificent patron. His Majesty was the proud possessor of a baker's dozen of motor-cars, most of which represent the last word in the automobile world.

The King was immune from the tyranny of the number-plate, and his cars were therefore innocent of the symbolism which appeals so strongly to the executive of the police-trap.

A detailed description of all the King's cars was issued to the police throughout the Kingdom together with instructions that "all facilities" were to be given for their progress on the road. But this concern at headquarters was not sufficient to prevent mistakes. More than once the royal cars were held up owing to the interference of some officious constable, who was disappointed in his search for a number, and a considerable amount of time and breath has been wasted before he has been convinced that "the King can do no wrong."

Unlike his brother, the Duke of Connaught, the King was remarkably free from anything in the nature of a serious accident. He had breakdowns in legion—no motorist is free from these little unpreventable inconveniences — but he always proved himself equal to the emergency by availing himself of the first handy vehicle and so avoiding becoming an object of interest to all and sundry.

A short while ago his car came to a sudden stop in Richmond Park. In a moment a vast crowd appeared, apparently from nowhere, and enjoyed the spectacle of the King of England instructing his chauffeur in the true intricacies of the breakdown, choosing him the best method of rectifying the fault, and exhibiting in a number of ways his intimate knowledge of motor-car mechanism. He owed this knowledge to Mr. Oliver Stanton, who, years ago, taught His Majesty cycling, and more recently made him a thorough master of the automobile.

King Edward's chauffeurs were all picked men. Most of them served in Scotland Yard, and have, at some time or other, driven the official motor-cars of the police. How this idea of the King's was carried out is interesting. One day a chauffeur in the employ of the Commissioner of Police was told off to perform some service for the King, and the fine physique and bearing of the man attracted His Majesty's attention. While this man was in attendance at Buckingham Palace something went wrong with a royal motor-car, which seemed to puzzle the King's own chauffeur, and resist all his attempts at remedy.

At last the man from Scotland Yard stepped forward, and in a few minutes found a remedy. The King was so pleased that he asked the man to take service with him, and, the permission of the Commissioner of Police being secured, the corps of policeman-chauffeurs was inaugurated. As it was necessary for a policeman to accompany the King always, each of the men performed dual service.

Although the King was extremely free from accidents, he had foresight enough to know that he was not infallible, so he had a complete first-aid outfit attached to each of his cars. This miniature surgery weighs about one pound, and contains an India-rubber tourniquet to stop bleeding, several pairs of scissors and forceps, antiseptic swabs, gauze, bandages, a variety of ungu nts and drugs, a selection of stimulative drugs, and a bottle of brandy. These contents are arranged in the order of their use in the eight different compartments of a silver box which fits into a royal blue morocco case.

On the lid of each case are detailed instructions, while on the front of each silver box is the inscription: "A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed."

The Names of the Mighty.

Talking of family names, the new issue of the London directory provides some curiosities. Sebastian Bach is a house dealer, Robert Burns and John Bunyan are green grocers, John Milton is a chandler and James Boswell a spanner.

Wilhelm Shakespeare is the name of a barrister, tailor and a van builder. Thomas is a Cromwell and also a Gellibrand. Julius Caesar is a chemist; Lucy keeps apartments. Homer is a fishmonger. Pindar an electrical engineer, Mars, retails beer, and Venus, not inappropriately, sugars, candies. Francesa Bacon is an architect and Reynard a dairyman. And what could be better for the name of a saddler than Whippy?

From Sailor to Royal Academician.

Mr. O. Napier Henry, one of the newly-elected Royal Academicians, has had an extremely eventful career. Born at Newcastle-on-Tyne, he was taken by his parents to Australia, where in later early days he worked hard as a miner in the bush. The call of art was strong upon him, however, and he abandoned everything to study painting in Antwerp. Returning to England in 1870 his success with the brush was soon assured, and, elected an Associate in 1883, he has now deservedly achieved the highest honor the art world has to offer.

Mostly on Redmond.

The Irish politician takes his business seriously and when he strikes an opponent he strikes to kill. The other day at a mass meeting in Cork, Mr. M. Mealy, M.P., said that Mr. John Redmond and his party, in voting for the Budget, had committed the greatest act of betrayal of Irish interests since that memorable act of treachery in Ireland's history when, 110 years ago, other Irishmen put their hand and seal to the Act of Union.

Exporting Cabinet Ministers.

In proposing "Scotland and her Industries" at a Glasgow corporation dinner recently an Englishman remarked that the two chief industries of the northern land were the manufacture of marmalade and Cabinet Ministers. Sir Samuel Chisholm, who replied, suggested that they had a good thing business in the output of Prime Ministers—for export as well as for home consumption.

MODELS OF WARSHIPS.

When you talk of the British navy do you fully realize what a variety of styles of vessels it takes to make up Britain's mighty fleet? At the Canadian National Exhibition this year you will see a display of warship models that will be at once interesting and educative. It will consist of models of battleships, torpedo boat destroyers and battleships. These models are furnished by the well-known firm of Messrs. Wilson, Sons & Company, Ltd. S. & W. Henderson, Limited, & Co., and are fourteen in number all these being sixteen feet long.

ASTONISHED THE QUEEN

They Knew Their Bible But Not Their Court Etiquette.

Recently two little girls from London came down to spend the day at Windsor Castle with the little Battenbergs, Queen Victoria's grand children, and it so happened that Her Majesty paid a visit to the nursery and found them there.

The young visitors were taken aback; they had not expected to see the Queen, and had not been instructed how to conduct themselves in the presence of royalty; but they had been well brought up and knew their Bibles, and they thought at once of Daniel before King Darius. They decided that what Daniel had done must be correct, so the pair threw themselves on their faces on the floor at her astonished Majesty's feet, and cried out with a loud voice:

"Oh, Queen, live forever!"

However, this proved an excellent introduction, and presently the Queen and they became great friends. She took one of them on her knee, and all three chatted together in the friendliest way.

"And whereabout in London do you young people live?" asked the Queen.

"Oh, said the little girl on her knee, "we live just opposite W's,"—naming one of the new mammoth stores that had just been opened in London.

"But please won't you tell us where you live when you go to London?" said her little friend.

The Queen looked thoughtful for a moment, and then remembered that in Buckingham Palace road there is also a mammoth store. "Oh," said she, smiling, "when in London I live opposite Gerringe's."

On an Ostrich Farm.

A writer in a recent number of the Boy's Own Paper gives an interesting account of a visit he paid to a South Australian ostrich farm at Port Augusta. The ostriches, he says, were chiefly hatched in incubators. The eggs take 45 to 50 days. The chicks are first fed on bread crumbs, bran, and water. On the fourth day a little enclosure is made round the incubator, and the young are allowed to take exercise. They are then fed on grain, green vegetables, and water. The dangerous age is from birth to three months, after which time they generally live. When the ostrich is seven months old the first crop of feathers is ripe. At 12 months he begins to develop black feathers, and his plumage reaches perfection at the end of three years. The hen ostrich lays from 15 to 60 eggs, but if these are removed she will continue laying like a domestic fowl. One bird has been known to produce 120 eggs annually. Both parents share the duties of incubation. The hen covers the nest during the day, and the cock throughout the night. The chicks are released by the old bird pressing upon the shell with its hard breast. Ostriches are not expensive to keep, because the greater part of the year they find sufficient food in the paddocks, and at other times they only require a little Indian corn or beans and some additional green food, such as lucerne or cabbage.

Russia's Greatest Dancer.

So, by general consent, Mlle. Anna Pavlova, whose wonderful dancing at the Palace Theatre in London has aroused such enthusiasm, has been termed. Mlle. Pavlova, in her infancy, decided to become a dancer. She was taken by her mother to see a ballet. The dancers fascinated her, and she exclaimed, enthusiastically, "Oh, mother, that's what I want to do. I want to be a dancer, too. I must dance. I'll never do anything else when I grow up." And before she was ten she entered the Imperial School of Dancing in St. Petersburg, and studied under M. Petitpas, who danced with Taglioni and the great dancers of the past. And when the curtain fell after her debut the old dancer, who is now ninety-two years of age, put his hand on her head and said, "My child, you are the only woman fit to dance in Taglioni's shoes." so impressed was he with her performance.

"Hard Wood."

Ever since he was a boy at school Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, who recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday, has had a tough time, and often has been called "Hard Wood." At the age of ten he went to Marlborough Grammar School, and then to the college in the same town. Here he received his baptism of "war." It was a riot among the boys, brought about by the prohibition of pyrotechnic displays on the Fifth of November. The culmination was a month of mutiny, during which the head master's desk was burned and great damage done to the premises. Young Wood was flogged, fined $10, and given 300 lines of Latin to learn by heart.

Gladstone Talks Dutch.

Lord Gladstone, the first Governor-General of South Africa, left London recently to take up his new duties. The large party which gave him a rousing send-off, included a number of Dutchmen. So much progress has Lord Gladstone made in learning Dutch that he was able to converse with them in their own tongue and to promise of his policy in South Africa that "Alles zal recht kommen" (the Dutch proverb, "All shall come right").

A Moist Show.

A catchy unrehearsed act took place at a London music hall the other night. When the fireproof curtain was about to be lowered, a stage hand new to the work pulled the wrong handle, with the result that the water sprinkler was set in motion. The stage was swamped, the orchestra receiving a shower bath, to the considerable amusement of the audience.

Pursuer Shoots Friend.

Extraordinary excitement prevailed over the pursuit of the escaped prisoner Powelika, who has been terrorizing the Manawatu district of New Zealand. Scores of armed men were out in pursuit of the robber. One of the searchers, by an unfortunate accident, shot another member of the pursuing party, who died of the injuries received.

He Explained It.

"You have young men," said the store parent, "why is it that you are always behind in your studies?"

"Because," explained the youngster, "if I wasn't behind I could not pass them."—Chicago News.

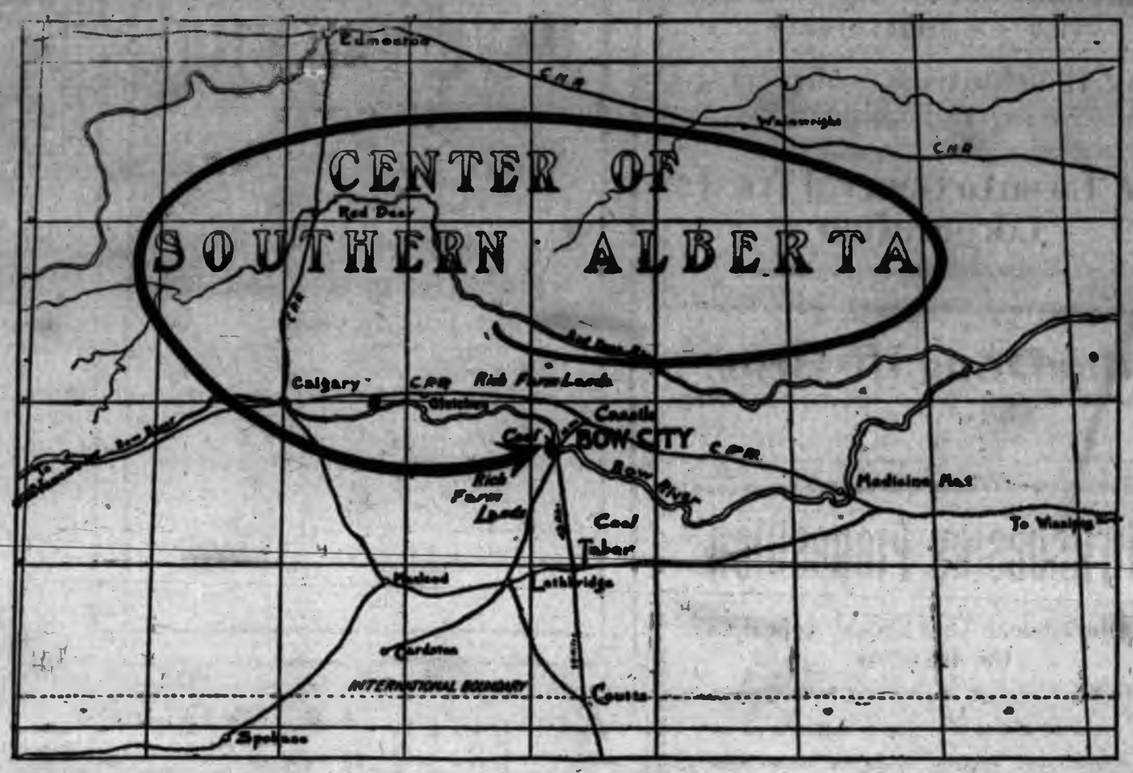
"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"



If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta

the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid—a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your application by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

COSTLY SIGHT-SEEING.

Big Fees Paid by Sightseers When Pageants Are Under Way.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, and the death of a monarch puts money into the pockets of thousands. Those who profit most largely by such an event are the seat-mongers on the line of the funeral procession.

The value put upon seats is always rising. When Edward I. became king a farthing was charged for a seat to see the coronation procession. On the accession of Richard II. the price rose to 1d.; and from Henry V.'s coronation to Henry VII.'s it was 2d. By the time Charles II. was crowned it had gone up to 2s. 6d.; while exactly double as much (5s.) was paid at the coronation of William III. Then the value of seats on such occasions appreciated enormously. To see the procession when George III. was crowned half a guinea was paid; and sightseers on George IV.'s day of days cheerfully paid five and in some cases ten guineas. This was considered the climax, but the value put on seats in later days has been much greater.

Why the enormous rise? The main reason, so far as our own times are concerned, is that wealthy Indians, Americans, and other foreign visitors have been willing to pay anything for a seat to witness a state pageant. Hence the value has been inflated.

The greatest high seats was set at Queen Victoria's Jubilee, when large sums were paid for rooms from the windows of which the procession could be seen. Few rooms, however small, could be hired for less than 10 guineas, and for many 100 guineas was demanded and paid. A large building on the route, being empty, was secured for the day by an enterprising individual for 1,500 guineas, and he had no reason to repent his outlay.

On the occasion of Queen Victoria's funeral the Jubilee rate for seats was confirmed. In St. James' street £10 had to be paid for a single chair, while seats which a few days before the procession were offered for 3 guineas afterwards fetched 5 guineas. A window which let when Lord Roberts came home for £200 found a taker at £600 on the occasion of the Queen's funeral. As it will hold only five people at the utmost, the hirer must have charged pretty heavily for every seat in it. Again, some rooms in Piccadilly let for as much as 300 guineas.

High as these figures are, however, they were surpassed in several instances. The most remarkable "deal" in connection with the funeral was that of a gentleman who took a mansion near the Marble Arch for the day for the amazing sum of £1,500!

At Edward VII.'s coronation, and again at the royal progress, the price of seats was equally high. In South London some landlords evicted tenants that they might obtain windows for the function, and received more for a single day's occupancy of a part of their premises than they got in normal circumstances for the use of the whole for a year. Others, however, let their tenants make as much as possible on the occasion, with the result that many strenuous workers made handsome sums by letting their humble homes to sightseers.

Perhaps the highest price ever paid for a window was £1,000 secured by a landlord near the Marble Arch to enable some Americans to view the funeral procession of the King on its way to Paddington.

Queen-Mother's Relations.

No royal lady at any time has been so intimately related to such a large number of kings and queens as the Queen-Mother of Great Britain, who has been the recipient of world-wide sympathy in her great grief and sorrow. Her father and mother were king and queen, her husband was a king, her mother-in-law was the late Queen Victoria, her son is now King of Great Britain, her daughter is Queen of Norway, a sister was for some years Czarina of Russia and is now Dowager Empress, one brother is King of Denmark, another brother King of the Hellenes, one of her nephews is Czar of Russia, and another nephew, who is also her son-in-law, is King of Norway while a third and fourth are destined to be King of Denmark and King of the Hellenes respectively.

"Charlie" Carrington.

Earl Carrington, who was recently appointed Lord Great Chamberlain of England by King George, is one of the largest landowners in England. The late King Edward and "Charlie" Carrington, as he is popularly known to his intimates, grew up together in close intimacy. For five years he was governor of New South Wales, where he studied agriculture. Lord Carrington returned home a convinced and enthusiastic land-reformer. He believes in getting men back to the land, and has established no fewer than 5,000 small holdings on his estates. The new Lord Great Chamberlain has a wide reputation as an excellent administrator.

Toy Spaniel an Old Breed.

The English toy spaniel is undoubtedly one of the oldest and most popular breeds of pet dogs known. As far back as the days of Charles the Martyr this breed was much prized by the ladies of the court. In the narrative of the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots, indorsed in Lord Burghley's hand and forwarded to the court, it was recorded that one of the executioners found her little pet (a spaniel of practically the same type as those afterward known in the reign of Charles II.), which had crept under the folds of her garments to be near her and which would not be taken away.

HUNTING RARE ORCHIDS

IT HAS LURED INNUMERABLE COLLECTORS TO DEATH.

Terrible Dangers Constantly Menace the Man Who Seeks the Beautiful Tropical Plants—It is a Task For the Dauntless and Only a Small Percentage of the Men Survive—Cruel Disappointments.

Orchid hunters continually face hardships and terrible dangers and many a collector has paid for his daring with his life. The rarer specimens of these plants are generally found in the wildest depths of tropic forests. They abound in the greatest profusion in the hot, damp parts of the West and East Indies, in Madagascar and other islands in the same region, in the moist forests of Brazil, the warm parts of Central America and western Mexico. Not dependent on the soil for their nutriment, they are mostly found clinging to the trunks and branches of trees and to stones and crags where they vegetate among ferns and other shade-loving plants.

Warmth and moisture are essential to orchids, and warmth and moisture in tropical countries are synonymous with miasma and fever. Wild animals also, and poisonous serpents, abound in the umbrageous depths wherein the rarer varieties lie hidden.

One firm of orchid importers reported a year or two ago that they had five collectors killed in as many months by the wild tribesmen of the western Himalayan slopes; while three others, even more unfortunate, were made prisoners and carried off to undergo the nameless horrors which have from time immemorial been characteristic of Central Asian slavery. If the pay is big, the risks an orchid hunter runs are correspondingly great. Cutting his way through tangled forests, wading often up to the waist through stagnant swamps, always on his guard against beasts and still more savage men, the orchid hunter earns every penny of his money. Even the natives avoid the districts into which the intrepid collector penetrates.

A few years ago eight orchid hunters met at Tamatave, and then separated in search of specimens. Within a year only one of them survived and he had spent months in the most pestilential swamps, from which he emerged with his health impaired. One of the others had been captured by the native priests, who drenched him with oil and burned him to death on the altar.

M. Hamelline, one of the most successful of all collectors, and the discoverer of many new orchids in the little-known island forests of Madagascar, tells how, in these regions, "not only was our party exposed to the risk of being strangled by hostile and ferocious tribesmen—a fate which befell many a poor fellow belonging to our expedition—but we had to struggle almost night and day against the wild animals that haunt these primeval forests." He himself, in the same country, had to go through the ceremony of being made "brother-in-blood" to King Moyambeese in order to penetrate the interior of the island, an honor which nearly cost him his life.

Speaking of wild animals he says: "The most terrible of all is the fossa (a carnivorous beast related to the cat tribe), against which we had constantly to be on guard. One of these animals caused the death of the brother-in-law of the king, a fine, handsome, well-built man. It pounced upon his shoulder, rending the flesh from his back, and mangling him in a frightful manner. Being 'brother-in-blood' to the king, and him a relative of the deceased man, I had to take part in the funeral ceremony and worse than that I had to obey their laws, which command that if any one has the moral responsibility of an accident, and death is the result of it—especially of a relative—he has the choice of being greased and burned alive or of taking the whole family of the deceased and of marrying his wife.

When a hunter finds an orchid there are three ways of getting it. He may cut down the tree to which it clings, he may lasso the branch or limb on which it hangs and draw it to him, or he may cut a sapling, lean it against the tree and climb up and bring down the plant. As a precaution against snakes and scorpions, which are as often found in trees as anywhere else, cutting down the tree is with most orchid hunters the favorite method of securing the coveted plant.

In addition to the dangers and difficulties inseparable from the actual finding of the orchid, there are innumerable troubles ahead of the indefatigable collector before his work is done. The difficulties of getting out of the country and safely on a home-going boat are almost insuperable and nothing but the most indomitable perseverance could overcome it. Occasionally an unforeseen circumstance robs a collector of the spoils for which he has so strenuously striven. The cruel luck of one unfortunate hunter would be hard to beat. After months of ceaseless toil, exposed to the usual risks and hardships of his profession—occasionally wading up to his waist in mud and at other times ventering into almost impassable places—he at last succeeded in collecting between 3,000 and 4,000 orchids of an exquisitely beautiful and rare species. His delight knew no bounds, and with all possible haste he commenced his tortuous journey back to the seaboard, where his precious and dearly-won floral treasures would be shipped to England.

His plants safely on board, the very night a fire broke out in the hold of the vessel and not a single plant was saved. The collector was nearly distracted when he realized what had happened. With a heavy heart he wired to his employers: "Collection destroyed by fire. What shall I do?" Back came the mandate from the disappointed orchid importers: "Go back at once!" And back he went, with the rainy season at hand, to perhaps the wettest country under the sun.

Courtesy.

I deemed it of good augury that [illegible] to whom I presented the bill would [illegible] courtesy itself.

"Surely," quoth I, "you will not [illegible] me go away under the impression that [illegible] courtesy doesn't pay!"

He started, as though such [illegible] aspects of the business had not [illegible] engaged his attention.—Punch.

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "primitive" operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Linderman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living would double the world's available gold bullion. The Director of the United States Mint further said:—"WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge, is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, thus making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a coolie would starve."

Outing Magazine: "When you think that bold inventive talent has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

LEOFRIC.

A Love Match That Was Broken Off and Happily Renewed.

By MARTHA MC.-WILLIAMS.

Janey Gates was the beauty of the Cane Creek neighborhood. Even Sister Meakins admitted as much in spite of robust prejudice. Janey would have been likewise the belle if it had not been accepted as a fact ever since she put up her hair and let down her frocks that she was, in neighborhood phrase, "mortgaged property." Phil Mayben had laid claim to her when she came hardly to his elbow. He had, further, let nobody dispute the claim even after she came back from boarding school, fearfully and wonderfully accomplished. He was a big fellow, square jawed and square headed, who cared nothing for looks unless they dealt with figures. At figures he was marvelously quick and clever—so clever it was nothing for him to stump successive school masters even though they were college bred, while he knew nothing higher than the neighborhood academy.

Possibly it was a triumph of this sort which had first inclined the present schoolmaster, Leonard Trabue, Esq., to try conclusions with him in the field of Miss Janey's favor. Janey loved books in the freshest, most wholehearted fashion. Trabue could talk books by the hour and talk very well. Naturally he found himself welcome at the Gates homestead. Quite as naturally Phil Mayben resented his presence there and showed it outright, after the manner of a masterful man really in love. Thus by fate and free will and the obligation of hospitality Janey was in a manner forced to take Trabue's part. The result was a very pretty quarrel and the transfer of Phil's attentions to Miss Dora Meakins.

There had been no set engagement to break. That made Phil's attitude all the more aggravating. Janey was for months bitterly unhappy over the rupture, although she let nobody see it, not even her mother. Outwardly she was gayer than ever and so charming Leonard Trabue quite lost his head. He had meant at first only to punish that pestilent fellow, Mayben—incidentally, of course, to divert himself and pass time otherwise heavy on his hands. Teaching was merely a stop gap. Literature was his chosen vocation. He meant to enter upon it through the gate of newspaper work as soon as he could scrape together a few hundred dollars.

The Gateses were not rich folk, but still comfortably off, and Janey an only child. It is but just to say the fact had little to do with Trabue's falling in love. That came upon him unawares. But once he had realized his frame of affections he took full cognizance of it. Might it not be easier to make himself immortal even here in the deep country, with a charming wife and assured comfort, than out in the bustle and hurly burly of a city? To settle it out of hand he proposed promptly to Janey. He was dazed to get a refusal, distressed, almost tearful.

Next week the county paper printed, with flattering comments, a love rhyme signed "Leofric." Cane Creek read it because reading the paper thoroughly was certainly the part of thrift, if not of Christian duty. Still it felt no curiosity as to the authorship until the rural press quite generally copied and praised the rhyme. A second bit of verse got reprinted in three city papers, so upon the appearance of the third Leofric's identity became a burning question, one that the editor himself could not answer. All he knew was that the copy came to him by the hand of Mr. Murdock, a leading lawyer.

All winter long Leofric wrote intermittently, becoming more and more a riddle and a personage. All winter long, too, Phil Mayben ate Sunday dinners at the Meakins' table, and Leonard Trabue talked books and the world to Janey Gates. He was playing a waiting game, resolved to win her in spite of herself and Phil Mayben.

Janey's heart was singularly steadfast. Still, there were times when she thought Trabue would succeed. Phil's going had left her desolate indeed. He could never have cared to be pretended or he would not be able to stay away. Of course she could not make the first move to reconciliation, especially since he was so taken up with the Meakins generation. Since he was forever lost to her it was far from unpleasant to woo herself to Trabue's devotion.

Spring came with such a rush that year the picnic season opened in mid-May. Sister Meakins and Sister Hodgin, self elected social autocrats, got up the first one and set the place for it, Clear Spring, just a little way off the Gates' pasture. The spring was, in fact, Gates' property, so Sister Meakins let the owner know she thought it would be no more than neighborly of him to put up tables, seats and stakes for the gypsy kettles, to say nothing of the swings. There Phil Mayben interfered. "You don't play a lone hand at this game with me around, squire," he said to Janey's father. Then it fell out that for two days before the picnic he was nearly as much in Janey's eyes as he had been all winter in her mind.

It amused and somewhat frightened her to find how equably she regarded him. Squire Gates brought him to dinner, whether or no, and Janey shook hands with him and chatted gayly throughout the meal without the least flutter of the heart. She even watched him go away with no access of sentiment.

If only Trabue had spoken there and then! But he was invisible until next day. The picnic crowd gathered early. Phil was the life of it, though Dora Meakins stuck to him like a limpet. He even bowed civilly to Trabue, who hung about Janey, his eyes downcast, his look preoccupied. The end of the school term was just three weeks ahead. Before he came to that parting of the ways he felt that he must know exactly where he stood. Janey had grown distinctly kinder. Still, there was something in her kindness that put him farther off. She would be an ideal wife for him. A bold stroke would do it now. A year hence would be quite too late.

While the laughter and chatter were at flood he drew her apart and poured out to her his hopes, aspirations, plans. Love he barely named. Might they not, he pleaded, be intellectual comrades? Sustained by her companionship he felt himself capable of great things. He had already made a beginning, and she was all unwittingly the inspiration of what he had done.

Then he tried to take her hand. Janey withdrew it gently. "Tell me all about it," she whispered, a hovering smile about her lips. Trabue bent to her ear and said hurriedly. "You must not mention it, sweetheart, but I am Leofric—Leofric, who wrote desolate and despairing things because you refused him."

"Indeed!" Janey said, getting up from her mossy rock to slip past him. Then, over her shoulder, she added: "You will please wait until afternoon for your answer. I must go help about the dinner."

Dinner was so fine a feast Lawyer Murdock declared he felt more than paid for his long drive out from town. He was Squire Gates' man of business and Janey's sworn friend. Therefore nobody wondered at their confidential talk aside, and even Phil Mayben smiled approval when the lawyer hailed Janey in greeting. But be sure there was a stir as Lawyer Murdock pulled Janey to the middle of the crowd, raised his voice and said, with twinkling eyes: "Ladies and gentlemen, I like unmasking humbugs, so permit me to present to you Leofric, the poetess of Cane Creek. Don't remember it against her that she is a person—it's all the fault of that scoundrel, Phil Mayben"—

"It won't be any longer, Mr. Murdock," Phil said, bursting through the crowd to catch Janey in his arms and hide her blushes in his breast. "I know I've been seven kinds of a fool," he went on. "I don't deserve Janey—nobody does, for that matter—but I'm going to have her or die trying."

"You've got her," Lawyer Murdock said, wringing Phil's hand. Dora Meakins turned her back and went off with her head high, but Mr. Leonard Trabue stayed not on the order of his going. Nobody in Cane Creek neighborhood ever saw him again.

Ancient Egyptian Mortgage.

Of all the numerous Egyptian papyri dating from the Greco-Roman period and preserved in the British museum none can be said to be of greater interest than those throwing light on the social conditions and manners and customs of the period. Many of these documents are mortgages, bills of sale and marriage contracts. Of the first named class a very interesting one is dated in the twentieth year of Cleopatra and Ptolemy. It appears that a shepherd named Menthe and his mother, Taesis, finding themselves in difficulties, mortgaged their field to a woman named Site for the sum of 400 pieces of silver, which they promised to repay in eight months' time with interest. In case of failure of this condition they were willing to forfeit the field without further trouble or litigation. After giving the measurements of the land and particulars of its boundaries the document is attested by Hora-se-eus, scribe of Usir-ur, alias Amenhetep.—London Globe.

Preserving Spiders' Webs.

Naturalists employ an interesting method to preserve all kinds of spiders' webs. The webs are first sprayed with an atomizer with artist's shellac, and then, should they be of the ordinary geometric form, they are pressed carefully against a glass plate, the supporting threads being at the same time severed. After the shellac has dried the plates carrying the webs can be stored away in a cabinet. Even dome shaped webs may be preserved in their original form by spraying them with shellac and then allowing them to dry before removal from their supports. Many spiders' webs are very beautiful, and all are characteristic of the species to which they belong, so that, from a scientific standpoint, their permanent preservation is very desirable.—Harper's Weekly.

A Country Doctor's Record.

Dr. James Morris, who was one of the oldest medical practitioners in Scotland, has just died at Dunfermline. When he celebrated his jubilee as a doctor some ten years ago he made this statement: "During my fifty years in practice I have attended 50,000 patients, administered chloroform 10,000 times with absolute immunity from fatal results, had 5,000 births (1,000 consecutive cases without a death), made about 1,000,000 visits and traveled about 500,000 miles." Not a bad record for a country medical man.—Westminster Gazette.

Skyscrapers.

The second generation of skyscrapers in lower Manhattan has appeared. The twenty story building at the corner of Wall and Nassau streets is now being torn down as obsolete in order to make way for a new and much higher thirty-two story structure. New York skyscrapers may soon be classified like battleships—at the end of ten years "obsolescent," at the end of twenty "obsolete" and then the scrap heap.—Springfield Republican.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the HARD Oil Co. producing on the north, which only recently erected its 30th rig and Puritan Oil Co. to commence drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Gird Petroleum, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Oil Co., Capital Co-op., Red Cliff and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE IS NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that Liberty Oil Company's new well will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY stock worth par. Mr. Cowell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having his leg boss of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $50 a barrel at well. Costs from 35 to 45 to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and paid over twenty-one millions in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS had a small beginning in the WILD BILL GUSHER, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 25 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is keeping pace with the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are held to be the most extensive known. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be oversubscribed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

The number for the derrick is on the ground and machinery has been ordered. Well No. 1 will be started as soon as drilling is installed. It should not take over six months to complete first well. Well No. 2, by conditions of lease, must be in operation by February 14th, 1911.

PORCUPINE CITY

THE PORCUPINE BOOM has started. The district is proven. It is today the greatest Gold Camp in the world.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

The Townsite has already the "Porcupine Post Office," two Banks, one 75-room Hotel, general stores, hardware stores, hospital, a drug store, bakery, theatorium, laundry, several office buildings, and numerous boarding houses and dwellings.

Townsite lots worth today from $60.00 to $300.00 should treble in value by Christmas, and be worth many times this amount within the next year or two.

SUDBURY, COBALT, HAILEYBURY and NORTH BAY have returned fortunes to the original investors in their real estate when these towns were young. They thrived on the returns from the baser metals—copper and silver.

CHRONIC CATARRH NOSE AND THROAT

"At the Advice of Friends I Tried Peruna and the Results Have Been Highly Satisfactory." — So Writes Mr. Pilon.

MR. RAOUL PILON, 126 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P.Q., Can., writes: "I write you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured. I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much. I was greatly discouraged. I had a bad breath and a bad taste in my mouth in the morning.

"I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief. At the advice of friends I tried the Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory. At the end of four months I was completely cured."

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated in its earlier stages.

However, Peruna generally brings relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus perhaps save yourself both suffering and expense.

Peruna is recognized the world over as a standard remedy for catarrh. A multitude of people have been benefited by it.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Yesterday a local man went back to his trade. Mr. W. Although he has been away from forge and anvil for years this local amusement caterer, picked up the necessary tools and shod Mr. Winch's horse to the satisfaction of the owner and the amusement of his friends.

Made a Noise Like a Hoop.

Those of our readers who have recently attended the local theaters have become familiar with the song entitled, "Make a noise like a hoop, and roll, roll away." Yesterday at noon, as a wagon piled high with bundles of barrel hoops was passing the Bank of Toronto, up George street, the restraining frame work, holding the bundles of hoops gave way, and bundle, after bundle of hoops, with a noise, "rolled away" southwards along the street. The driver, after some considerable chasing, captured the errant bundles and made a noise, or several of them that sounded like ——!

Garbage Bylaw to Be Voted On.

The Board of Health intends to have submitted to the ratepayers at next municipal election, a bylaw asking the people to pay for a fund to dispose of the city's garbage. There is little doubt as to the result of this vote. People, rich or poor have always a certain amount of potatoe peelings, banana skins, bones and other refuse that must be got out of the way to save said people from having ill-smelling yards and unsanitary surroundings. Whilst some of our citizens may be fortunate enough to have man raising hogs, some daily or tri-weekly and collect their respective pails full of garbage, still hundreds must get rid of such unsavory kitchen refuse in the best way they can. Possibly, for the general health and the individual assistance of our citizens, the cheapest and easiest, is a general tax on the community to have garbage collected and disposed of.

Women Who Want to Fight Like Soldiers

Berlin, Aug. 13.—A demand for military service for women is the latest phase for the extreme feminist movement in continental Europe. The ardent advocates of complete equality between the sexes argue that as they claim a right to share the political privileges of the male sex they must also be prepared to take on themselves those burdens that now are loaded solely and exclusively on man's shoulders.

One of the elementary duties of citizenship for men in the countries of continental Europe is to serve the fatherland as a soldier for a fixed period, and the feminists now declare that the same obligations should be placed on women to serve their own country in the same way, but with one distinction.

NO FIGHTING NECESSARY.

The feminists, or at least most of them, do not say that women should actually fight side by side with their husbands and brothers in the front line of battle, but that they should be trained to perform such military services as are adapted to their physical inferiority to men.

Primarily, it is suggested that women should be utilized for ambulance work, and also for certain auxiliary departments of the army, such as the commissariat and similar sections of a country's military forces. The feminists maintain, however, that even to perform such auxiliary and supplementary duties would necessitate a thorough knowledge of the use of modern weapons, because there are cases of emergency in which auxiliary troops might find it necessary to defend themselves against some sudden and unexpected attack; consequently a demand is put forward for the military training of all girls in all the schools of the country, public and private alike.

The feminists propose that girls should be drilled and trained in the use of rifles and revolvers sufficiently to enable them to use such weapons in circumstances of urgency necessity. The employment of women in the auxiliary departments of the army would increase the number of combatants available for service in the front fighting line, and ought therefore, they say, to be warmly welcomed by every government and minister of war.

VIEWS OF EXTREMISTS.

A small section of the feminists go still farther than this, and demand that women should become soldiers in precisely the same way as men, that they should share all the hardships and dangers of actual campaigning in the fighting line, and that they should be compelled to undergo the same period of compulsory service as men.

The idea in the case is that military service ought to be rendered before marriage, but it is not quite clear what would be done in the case of women who enter matrimony at an early age. The new demand for the extension of compulsory military service for women is being eloquently voiced by feminists in Germany and other continental countries, but so far public opinion in all those countries in which propaganda has been made for this sensational innovation regards the whole scheme as an immense joke.

WHISKEY SOLD IN DRY TERRITORY

IN INDIANA SHOWS A SURPRISING INCREASE OVER RECORDS OF WET YEARS.

The Case is Disclosed—The Loss of Nine Hundred and Eighty-nine Saloons in Indiana Does Not Seem to Effect Whisky Drinking.

Indianapolis, August 15.—Although the county option law has operated to close 989 saloons in the state, and the most of these have been closed since January 1st, 1909, the consumption of whisky, according to the federal government report for the fiscal year, ended July 1st, 1910, has increased. The consumption of beer has remained virtually the same in comparison with the preceding fiscal year. The increased amount of whisky consumed in the district netted the government in increased revenue $535,572.78, the total collections for one year on this class of liquors being $9,347,135.73.

While the revenue from whisky showed an increase of a third of a million, the receipts from beer showed a decrease of $1,014.85, the total receipts for the year being $638,199.50.

The putting out of business the 989 saloons by the county option law has meant a loss to the counties of the state of $98,900 in license fees, to which should be added the loss to cities from the loss of various city fees, which run from $50 to $250 in various cities. This taken in addition to the 1,207 saloons ousted by the operations of the remonstrance law, brings the total loss of license fees of $210,500. Figures compiled by the state statisticians indicate that the local losses in revenue to cities and counties by the ousting of the saloons has amounted to $444,400 annually.

FAMOUS BAND AT FAIR.

Grenadier Guards Band to Play Twice Daily at National Exhibition—General Baden-Powell to Review 5000 Boy Scouts.

It can be fittingly said of the Canadian National Exhibition "That time cannot wither or custom stale its infinite variety." Each succeeding year the management have offered the public something new and better than had gone before, and this season they have eclipsed all previous efforts by the securing the engagement for the entire two weeks of the Fair of the famous band of His Majesty's Grenadier Guards. With one single exception this wonderful organization has not crossed the ocean since 1872, when under the baton of the premier leader, Dan Godfrey, they electrified the people of the United States with a series of concerts.

The Grenadier Guards Band is a part of the history of Great Britain. Its origin has been traced back to the days of Charles II., who signed the warrant bringing it into being in 1665. It was with the appointment of Dan Godfrey in 1866 that it assumed a commanding position as the King of military bands. Under Lieutenant Albert Williams, who succeeded Godfrey in 1897, it has steadily progressed until it stands without a peer. Who has not hummed or marched to the swinging air of "The British Grenadiers."

The special features of the Canadian National Exhibition will be in advance of years. General Baden-Powell and his boy scouts should prove a fine attraction. The Model Military Camp will be occupied by American troops this year, the spectacle before the grand stand will comprise a battle between a warship of the Dreadnought type and an airship, a naval review at Spithead and many equally attractive scenes. A timely display will be models of British vessels contributed by the great English shipbuilders.

Soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, is quickly relieved by the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment is equally valuable for muscular rheumatism, and always affords quick relief. Sold by all dealers.

ADMIRALTY HAS BIG CARD

Britain's Preponderance in Dreadnoughts over Germany is Only Four

BUILD GREATER DREADNOUGHTS

THE DESIGNS FOR A STILL MORE POWERFUL DREADNOUGHT ARE NOW READY.

Such Vessels are in Contemplation for Next Year's Program—The Prime Minister's Startling Statement Recently.

London, Aug. 13.—It certainly surprised a not inconsiderable number of the government's supporters to hear from the prime minister that Britain's apparent preponderance in dreadnoughts over Germany in 1913 would be only four.

Apart from this being ultra-pessimistic, it is freely whispered that the admiralty has a big card up its sleeve and that the committee of naval defence have already designs for a still more powerful and up-to-date warship than the dreadnought of today, and that such vessels are in contemplation for next year's program.

A Federal Election After Coronation

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—A general election next year after the coronation is the prediction of an Ottawa politician in touch with the leaders of the Liberal party.

It is said that the success of the prime minister's tour through the west has led him and his chief advisers to the decision to go to the country next year. The same authority says that the Conservatives have been lulled to sleep by press bureau stuff that the election would not be brought on for a couple of years, and it will now be impossible for Mr. Borden to tour the west before the battle comes on.

Laurier hopes to get another term, when he can nominate his successor and get him broken into harness. His western speeches betray the fear he entertains that he may not have many more years of public life and he believes that a general election following his removal may result in the defeat of his party through possible cabinet dissensions over the selection of his successor.

Can Shoot 10,000 Times a Minute

Stapleton, S.I., Aug. 13.—A powderless machine gun, the motive power of which is believed to be electricity, and which is designed to prevent the use of the aeroplane in war, is on exhibition here. It is the invention of Frederick B. Rangerter, and he claims that it can shoot 10,000 three-eighth-inch bullets a minute with a range of more than a mile. Inasmuch as there is no recoil, the gun can be pointed to any part of the compass and swung in a circle while the bullets are being discharged.

Rangerter declared today that his gun will be mounted on a standard automobile chassis, so encased with armor plate that the gunner is entirely protected, and the power to operate the gun will be furnished by a 120 horse power engine, which will also operate the motor car.

The power employed in discharging the gun is kept secret until it is fully patented. In an exhibition given by the inventor, he had the motive parts covered with tarpaulin. The bullets emerged from the muzzle like water through a fire hose, and in a fraction of a minute a large section of a pine board target had been melted away by the flying lead.

Rangerter said that when the gun is perfected it is likely that the rifled barrel will reduce the capacity 9,000 a minute, but that this will be entirely possible, and that the gun will not heat up as a powder gun does.

OPEN RUPTURE IN PORTUGAL

DUE TO GOVERNMENT'S CENSURE OF ROMAN CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP OF BRAGA.

Trouble Over Vacancy—Vatican Protests Against Delay in Refilling a Diplomatic Vacancy—Effort to Appease the Republicans.

Lisbon, Aug. 13.—Portugal, like Spain, is almost on the verge of an open rupture with the vatican, due to friction over the government's censure of the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Braga for suppressing a Portuguese Franciscan newspaper without submitting the order to the Portuguese government for approval and other incidents. Since the issue of the royal decree, July 12, nullifying the action of the archbishop, the clerical forces, inspired, it is charged, by Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state, have been conducting a bitter campaign against the government on this account.

THE DIPLOMATIC VACANCY.

At the same time the vatican has been raising difficulties about refilling the diplomatic vacancy caused by the death of Senor Martins D'Antas, the Portuguese ambassador to the vatican. The Portuguese government retaliated by deciding to allow the post to remain vacant for the present, and the minister of justice has drafted a bill, providing for a civil register of births, deaths and marriages, to be kept by the civil authorities. As this threatens a big resource of income of the clergy, a big meeting of ecclesiastics was held here today to protest.

ANOTHER DANGER.

Danger also threatens the government from the side of the Republicans, on account of the refusal of the king to redeem the promise made by the government of an amnest for political offenders, including the members of the secret societies involved in the assassinations of his father and brother. The government has been trying to appease the Republicans by appointing prominent members of the party to important positions in the provinces.

THE ELECTION MACHINERY.

The monarchical press fears that this policy will enable the Republicans to turn the election machinery of the government against itself in future elections to the Cortes, the results of Portuguese elections being largely swayed by the influences in control of the election machinery.

TENS OF THOUSANDS ARE HOMELESS AND STARVING IN TOKIO

Tokio, Aug. 13.—The waters of the River Sumida are still rising and the Honko and Fukada-wa wards of Tokio are almost completely submerged.

Tens of thousands of persons are homeless and starving.

One of the three more important embankments guarding Tokio has broken. Should the second and third dykes break half the capital would be submerged.

The question of feeding the stricken people is causing apprehension. The vegetable and fish supplies are failing, and the stock of biscuits already is nearly exhausted. There is no fear, however, for the supply of rice.

The water of the Sumida River is almost washing the bottoms of the bridges. The climax of the inundation is expected tonight.

Altogether he has been fined $710, and has spent more than five and a half years since 1896 behind the bars. He took his sentence with a smile.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and mild.

THE VERY TIME.

When Powerful Food is Most Needed.

The need of delicate yet nutrious food is never felt so keenly as when a convalescent gets a set back on account of weak stomach. Then is when Grape-Nuts shows its power for it is the most scientific and easily digested food in the world.

"About a year ago," says a Kansas woman, "my little six-year-old niece, Helen, left the invigorating and buoyant air of Kansas, where all her life she had enjoyed fairly good health, to live in the more quiet atmosphere of Ohio. She had a complete change of diet consisting of a variety of food, and of course a change of water, somehow she eventually contracted typhoid fever.

"After a long seige her case seemed hopeless, doctors gave her up, and she was nothing but skin and bones, couldn't eat anything and for weeks did not know even her father and mother. Her parents, wishing to get something delicate and nourishing, finally hit upon Grape-Nuts food for her and it turned out to be just the thing.

"She seemed to relish it, was soon conscious of her surroundings and began to gain health and strength so rapidly that in a short time she was well, playful and robust as if she had never been ill.

"We all feel that Grape-Nuts was the predominating factor in saving the sweet little girl's life."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Germany Looking to South America for Room for Expansion

Berlin, Aug. 13.— Marshal Hermes da Fonseca, president-elect of Brazil is in Berlin, purely—as he declares in an interview—in the capacity of a tourist.

Two representatives of the German foreign office met him at the station and escorted him to his hotel. The president-elect was in Germany two years ago, when he was Brazilian minister of war, and attended the imperial army manoeuvres as the personal guest of the kaiser.

Marshal de Fonseca, who visited Rheims, Paris, Lausanne and Munich before coming to Berlin, insists that it is pleasure, not politics, which has brought him to Germany, but as he is accompanied by Senhor Souto, president of the Brazilian Economic Union, it is not thought that his visit is altogether unconnected with the new Brazilian-German commercial treaty.

The president-elect declares that the two Brazilian states of Sao Paulo and Santa Catharina owe their flourishing condition largely to the fact that they are practically German. It is these "German colonies" which the pan-German professor Schmoller of the University of Berlin, had in mind when he expressed the belief in his book "Commerce and Sea Power," that a nation of 200,000,000 Germans will some day rise in South America.

To Amputate Limbs By Electric Shock

Paris, Aug. 13.—It is not pleasant of course, to have an arm or a leg amputated, no matter how painlessly this operation may be performed; but there are cases where it is absolutely necessary, and then the question of how to do it is important.

A French surgeon, Professor D'Arsonval, suggests a method which is quite novel, and not only painless during the operation, but without the slightest trouble afterwards.

Neither knife, saw, nor any other cutting instrument is to be used.

The limb is simply to fall off as if by magic, with the wound completely healed and cicatrised.

The amputation suggested is by means of electric currents of high frequency.

A NUISANCE.

Every Sunday a Hound's Howling Disturbs the Neighborhood.

Residents in the vicinity of George and Water streets, between Brock and Murray streets, complain that every Sunday they are annoyed by the continuous howling of a particularly loud and raucous voiced hound. It would appear that a merchant doing business in that neighborhood, ties this hound up all and every Sunday and the poor brute gives vent to his disliked of such treatment by loud and dismal howls the whole day long. The owner of this hound on all take it home on Sundays and [illegible] nerves of people worried.

Princess Theater Reopens.

The Princess Theater, that has been closed for the past few weeks for repairs, was reopened Saturday afternoon by its new proprietor, Mr. Pappas, owner of the Royal. Much favorable comment was heard as the audience passed out after the various shows. Although no vaudeville was placed on the stage, the superiority of the pictures produced so favorable an impression on those attending that a successful business in future is assured. Over nineteen hundred people paid admission during the day.

STARVATION AMID PLENTY.

Not Uncommon Today—The Reason is Explained.

"For a period last summer the thought of food excited feelings of nausea," writes Mrs. C. A. Dodges, of Bloomsbury. "The heat had made me listless and the distaste for food reduced me to a condition of semi-starvation and brought me to the verge of nervous collapse. Tonics were useless to restore an active desire for food. The doctors told me my liver and kidneys were both at fault, but the medicines they gave me were too severe and reduced my strength so that I had to abandon them. At the suggestion of a friend who had been cured of blood and skin trouble, I began the use of Hamilton's Pills. The difference I first noticed was, while they cleansed the system, instead of feeling weaker I felt better after taking them. Indeed their activity was so mild it was easy to forget I had taken them at all; they seemed to go right to the liver, and in a very brief time not only did all source of nausea disappear but I began to to crave food and I digested it reasonably well. Then I began to put on weight until within three months I was brought to a condition of good health. I urge Dr. Hamilton's Pills for all who are in poor health.

Get this best of all medicines today and refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Look for the yellow box. Sold by all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada, at 25c per box.

Large Order for W. Hamilton Co.

It seems that Mr. W. H. Collier, with his proverbial enterprise has secured two large orders for water-power machinery for the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. This will be good news, not only for the company and its employes, but for the city at large, as demonstrating that this reorganized firm is keeping up its record of the past and will in the future be the large and prosperous concern, in which our citizens always took such pride.

TO LOWER PRICE OF MEAT.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—The problem of the high cost of living, with especial reference to the increased prices of meat, is to be considered at the convention begun in this city to-day by the United Butchers of America. The organization will discuss a plan to solve the problem and at the same time deal a blow at the alleged packers' trust by establishing independent co-operative slaughter houses rendering plants and tanneries.

A Local Stock is Praised.

On Saturday a prominent Toronto citizen passing through this city en route to Kawartha Lakes, had occasion to purchase a supply of goods from the grocery shop formerly, operated by Mr. R. A. Dutton, but now managed by Mr. Fred Walker. This resident of the Queen City, observing the splendid array of California and local fruit, remarked, "I must compliment you, Mr. Walker on the magnificent display of fruit in your place. Peterborough's stock equal anything their size in Canada, and right here, in this store you have a display of fruit that could not be beaten anywhere in Toronto, or excelled by any shop on the continent."

MAKING MARTYRS.

Commenting on the attempted assassination of Mayor Gaynor, the Springfield Republican says:

"When President Garfield fell under an assassin's bullet, the Republican said that if he was to be taken off by violence we should rejoice that his death meant something—that the assassination should stand out as the consummation of the spoils system. And so, with the attempted assassination of Mayor Gaynor, let us rejoice that this also means something of the same sort, a sacrifice to the cause of better municipal government and a consequence of long toleration with the forces of corruption and disintegration in city administration."

It is consoling to believe that the assassin who strikes down a good man makes him a martyr. "The blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church." That saying is true, and in the twentieth century we may give it a broader significance than it once had. We may take the word Church to mean religion and we may take the word religion to mean the impulse that moves all those who seek to better the conditions of the human race and to enable it to realize the highest ideals of which it is capable.

So Lincoln became a martyr to the idea of freedom and union. D'Arcy McGee in Canada became a martyr to the idea of conciliation. Today the ideals of both men have been largely realized, or are in process of realization. In Canada we know that no man, whatever may be his race or his creed, will plead in vain for justice and equality before the law. We know at least that if any wrong exists it is to be removed by an appeal to reason and conscience, not to violence. In the United States the line between the north and south is being gradually effaced. The terrible race problem remains, but if our neighbors invoke the spirit of Abraham Lincoln and work as he would have worked, even that gigantic difficulty may be removed.

Mayor Gaynor will now be regarded as having laid down or endangered his life in the cause of good municipal government, which is a very large part of the government of the nation. We may deplore the abnormal growth of cities, but we cannot minimize the importance of these centres of national life. They are the great battlegrounds on which the decisive battles of advancing civilization are fought. If evil shows itself in the cities in a more lurid form than in the village, reforming energy is stimulated by the very presence of evil, and by the association of those who are ready to sacrifice themselves for the benefit of the race. It is fitting, therefore, that good city government shall have its heroes and martyrs.

The world's most successful medicine for bowel complaints is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has relieved more pain and suffering, and saved more lives than any other medicine in use. Invaluable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

GIGANTIC TREE STUMPS.

Big Enough to Be Hollowed Out and Used For Houses.

The fine fir of the Pacific northwest are so colossal that after the trees are hewed down the stumps are used for children's playgrounds, houses for families to live in or for dancing platforms.

To make a stump house the material from the interior is removed, leaving only enough to form walls of suitable thickness. A roof of boards or shingles is put over the top of the stump, holes are cut for windows and doors, and a family of five can and often does make it their dwelling. The stump houses are sometimes used by settlers until they can build larger and more convenient homes.

After the stump home has been vacated it is turned into a stable for the horses or sometimes into an inclosure for chickens or hogs.

Next to the big tree of California the fir or cypress of Washington and Oregon has the largest diameter. As they decay rapidly, the hollowing out is easy. Sometimes they are used for dance platforms, some of them accommodating as many as four couples.

Another custom is to turn the big stumps into playgrounds for the children. The children reach the top by pieces of wood nailed against the sides or by ladders. A beautiful use of the large stumps is making them into flower beds and covering them with trailing vines.—Chicago Tribune.

THE WAISTCOAT.

It Became Popular by the Patronage of Charles II.

How many realize how much they are being influenced in their dress by King Charles II., and yet it is to that monarch we owe the adoption of the waistcoat as a regular article of gentleman's dress, says London M. A. P. At least that is so if we are to accept the statement of Pepys, who in his diary under date of Oct. 16, 1666, states: "The king has declared his resolution to put a fashion which he would never alter," and "This day King Charles II. began to put on his vest. It is a very fine and handsome garment."

Prior to this date they were exceptional garments, and there is even some doubt whether they were originally worn by ladies or gentlemen, though there is good reason to believe they superseded the doublet, such as was worn by Raleigh. Hose and other details of the Elizabethan age.

A vest waistcoat "wrought in silk and gold" is mentioned in "Patient Grissell," 1603, and there is a painting in distemper of a vest on the walls of Winchester cathedral, dated 1665, so that what Charles II. took was merely an existing garment, which he remodeled, and by his patronage so popularized it that it became a standard article of gentleman's dress.

Clever Reasoning.

Rather an original reason in political economy was that once taught by the Japanese statesman Aweto and then translated by Sir Edwin Arnold in "Seas and Lands."

One evening as he was going to the palace to take his turn in keeping the night watch he let two cash drop out of his tinder case into the streets and then bought fifty cash worth of brushes to search for the lost coin. His friends laughed at him for spending so much in order to recover so little, and he replied, with a frown:

"Sirs, you are foolish and ignorant of economics. Had I not sought for those two cash they would have been lost forever—sunk in the bottom of the Hamagawa. The fifty cash which I have expended on brushes will remain in the hands of the tradesmen. Whether or not these are I is no matter, but not a single one of the sixty has been lost, and that is a clear gain to the country."

Wedding Ring Notions.

When posies or mottoes inscribed inside wedding rings were first introduced does not seem to be known, but from the sixteenth century until the middle of the eighteenth it was customary to have them engraved on rings. These custom seldom consisted of more than two lines of a verse, often of only one, but there are a few instances known where three lines were used. Some of these posies are very quaint and curious, and a few reach a high standard of poetic beauty. The South Kensington museum has a good collection of posy rings, and among them are the following inscriptions: "United hearts death only parts" "Let us share in joy and care;" "Love and live happily."—London Standard.

The Cause.

"Did you hear the awful shriek that engine gave as it flew by?" asked the first man as they approached a railroad crossing.

"Yes. What caused it?" rejoined the companion.

"I presume the engineer had it by the throttle."—Smart Set.

A Mean Retort.

"There goes a man I could have married," she said softly.

"Yes," he chuckled, "and I notice that he keeps on going as though he were afraid you might cry it again."—

THE NEW GOLDEN BUCKET

A few years ago, the recovery of Gold from auriferous grounds and subaqueous beds, was considered impossible. The "pan" and "grizzly," operated by hand, appeared to be the sole method of recovering values. It was during this period that Dr. Lindeman, Director of the United States Mint expressed the opinion that he who, could devise a machine, without adding proportionately to the cost of production, capable of saving 50 per cent. of all the placer gold, would not only enrich himself, but within the lives of men still living, would double the world's available gold supplies. The Director of the United States Mint further stated: "WE CAN HARDLY HOPE FOR THIS, THOUGH NO MAN DARE SAY IT IS IMPOSSIBLE."

The perfected modern Dredge is to-day a substantial reality. Allowing for delays in shifting, for necessary repairs, etc., the Gold Dredge runs on an average about 16 hours out of twenty-four, these making up in length of working day, loss of operation during winter months. These Dredges are operated in ready made mining areas, recovering millions of dollars annually, at the lowest possible cost.

The Director of the Mint of the United States in his report for 1909 says:

"The Gold Dredge makes money where a castle would starve."

Cutting Magazine: "When you think that hold investing talent has been able to devise machinery that makes it profitable to extract ten cents worth of gold from a ton of earth, the enterprise becomes one of the romances of American industry."

"A chain of powerful buckets bite into the earth, each bringing up a tremendous quantity of earth and gravel. These are subjected to screen treatment, and the gold recovered."

California in 45 years, within radius of less than ten miles of placer ground, produced $200,000,000 in gold. To-day the vast number of Modern Dredges working over old ground are recovering millions annually.

One-Sixth Royalty. Benefit of Holders. of State of California.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the UNION OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the BARD OIL CO. producing on the north, which only recently secured its 30th rig, and Puritan Oil Co., to the east drilling on the south side. It is located in a district of 200 PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Quiet, Petromax, Pyramid Oil Co., Canadian Gem, Capital Creek, Hard Oil and Asphalt Co., and others. THERE IS NO QUESTION ABOUT THE COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is a question of how much and how soon. Company's new well is a gusher. Its record will make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY worth $1.00 per share. Mr. Cornell, our Superintendent, knows every foot of the ground, and having the land book of Liberty property, which adjoins our land, and an experienced OIL MAN and we consider ourselves fortunate in obtaining his services. VENTURA CO. OIL represents the cream of the industry. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL means $1.50 a barrel at well. Costs from 25 to 45 to produce it. THE GREAT UNION OIL CO. got its start in VENTURA CO. and has paid over twenty-one MILLION in dividends. These GREAT ASSETS lead a small beginning in the WILD CAT HILL OUTSIDE, within SIGHT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. property. The demand for refining oil FAR EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY. The 25 refineries in California are crying for the product. The eastern high gravity fields are diminishing. The OHIO FIELDS, FOR INSTANCE, have fallen off one-third. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion gasoline engines is forcing up the price of high gravity crude petroleum. Eastern operators are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are said to be the most extensive ever. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor offering of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be overwhelmed at any time. One day's delay may mean you are too late. ACT NOW. YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable.

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

VOL. XXXI NO. 182 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO TUESDAY AUGUST 16 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

A Toronto Doctor Charged with Bigamy

Toronto, Aug. 16.—Dr. Herbert E. Shepherd of 18 Gloucester street, was taken into custody shortly after noon yesterday by Constable Lutton of the Morality Department, and will be detained on a charge of bigamy.

It is alleged that on September 11, 1900, Dr. Shepherd married Miss Lucy A. Moore of Guelph, while a former wife was still living in the North-West. The ceremony was performed at Cooksville by the Rev. G. Sydney Smith. Cooksville is his home town. The first wife was a Louise Saunders, whom he married while engaged in medical practice in Barrie. The date is given as February 3, 1879, and the Rev. Edward Morgan is named as having performed the ceremony.

Burglars were Busy in Four Local Stores

Before giving the news covered by the above heading, it is perhaps only fair to the reportorial staff of The Times, to explain that all the news, in fact a little more, than given in the evening press, was in our possession on Sunday and left out yesterday. The Times, on Sunday learned most of the facts concerning the robberies described below. Knowing that premature exposure of such a series of thefts might interfere with a proper working and administration of justice, our city editor went Sunday night to see Chief Thompson regarding the matter. Chief Thompson admitted the truth of stories our reporters had garnered, but remarked, "Your story is correct but oblige me and the interests of justice by saying nothing as yet. I will put you wise as soon as things are in shape to do so. If the Peterborough press gives publicity to this series of robberies it would, in all probability interfere with the schemes I now have working to capture the thieves and interfere with a full carrying out of justice. I'll tell you newspaper men everything as soon as it is right to do so."

Acting on the chief's explanation, and, in the interests of justice and for the protection of our merchants' and citizens' homes, The Times, with a hard struggle to leave out a "scoop," printed nothing of the burglary news yesterday. Still, now that our E.E.C.'s have forestalled us with the forbidden fruit, we must let justice take her chance, and tell of the burglaries. Our omission of the news, in the circumstances, was simply following a precedent set and followed by newspapers the world over.

THE BURGLARIES.

Peterborough seems to be taking a prominent place, not only as a growing manufacturing center and rapidly increasing mercantile community, but also as a mark for light fingered gentry. On Saturday burglars were at work at several spots in the city. That night the barber shop of Mr. Bruce Paterson, on Charlotte street was entered by thieves, who secured an entrance via a cellar window at the rear of the store. On Sunday afternoon the burglarious entry was discovered. It was ascertained that about twenty of the weapons of war used by niggers, or instruments of peace used by barbers, viz., razors, had been stolen. The thieves were evidently connoisseurs in tobacco as they gathered in a large number of boxes of choice cigars. Not content with their spoils, the thieves, evidently looking out for the morrow, and its meals and gin rickys or bodies, relieved Mr. Paterson of some $12 in cash from the drawer.

Presumably the same gang were "on their uppers," and made a midnight call at Hickey's shoe shop. Here modesty must have overcome them, as they only took four or five pairs of shoes; but that thought of the morrow and the thirst dependant upon midnight work overcome them, and they again gathered in the coin. In this case it amounted only to about $4. The burglars got into the shoe shop by breaking a pane in the rear window and through the aperture thus made one of the gang thrust his hand, released the catch and opened the window.

This gang seemed to have a big heart as to their local patronage, as they have within the past two or three days, called on both the grocer and the man who wields a tailors iron. The tailor honored (?) by their call was Mr. Geo. Evans on Hunter street. The midnight visitor at the tailor shop has ideas of high sartorial standard. He left behind the "slop shop" suit he wore and put on a fine suit. Incidentally he, or they gathered in nearly $100 worth of other suits.

On Friday night Mr. J. R. Bell, who carries on grocery business on both sides of the Otonabee, was also involuntary host, of these midnight marauders. On this trip hunger, instead of clothing and foot gear must have stimulated the ideas of the enterprising callers. Cake, bread, pickles, olives, and other high grade groceries were sampled. Even a sardine tin looked as though the burglar, in his change of clothes, as aforesaid, must have left his knife in the pockets of the old suit and tried to open the can with a toothpick. This latter store was entered by a rear window. The thieves took the precaution of opening the rear door also, evidently as a get away in case of danger.

It is to be hoped that the premature disclosure of these facts will not prevent Chief Thompson and his lusty men of the police department from capturing the thieves. The Times, as intimated has a few more interesting particulars "up its sleeve," but for reasons explained above will only give them when the time comes.

LACROSSE

The Peterborough Lacrosse team will journey to Campbellford on Saturday afternoon next for a game with that town. Whilst it may seem "infra dig" of Peterborough exponents of Canada's National game to cross stick with a Campbellford team, it must be remembered that lacrosse in this city has been somewhat dormant for some time. However the anticipated victory at that village may result in Peterborough regaining the proud position she held in former years in lacrosse, as for instance, when the local players travelled to Montreal and kept the Junior Shamrocks busy. In the team for Campbellford, Ed. Dillon, Bill Donovan, Dinny Dobbin and other old time stars will be in line.

No More Tramps for Peterborough.

It looks now as though Peterborough, which has always been free from tramps and gentlemen of that ilk, will soon become scarcer than teeth in a hen. The reason of this is twofold. A live and well posted chief of police, and secondly the Toronto department has issued orders that hereafter, tramps shall not be confined to county jails but sent to Central Prison. Those committed to Toronto have either to go to construction work in Northern Ontario, where mosquitos breed every second or to the new prison farm. Either of these mentioned destinations do not appeal to the average tramp.

THE WEATHER.

Generally fine and warm.

INSANE MURDERERS ESCAPE

Pte. Moir, Who Terrorized Western Ontario, and Robt. Taggart

FROM THE HAMILTON ASYLUM

Little Child Killed by a Ladder Truck

Toronto, Aug. 15.—Douglas Allen, aged four, of 115 De Grassi street, sustained a broken neck at noon today while riding or trying to ride on the back step of a ladder truck returning to the Bolton avenue fire hall.

The firemen on the wagon saw nothing until they looked around, their attention attracted by a passerby, and then they noticed a little form on the sidewalk. One suggestion was that the one wheel had passed over the lad's neck, but the weight of the vehicle was such that he might not have been able to walk a few steps before sidling to the sidewalk, which he did do. Policeman Miller found him on the sidewalk, and carried him into 145 Bolton avenue. There Dr. Hamilton of Broadview attended the injured boy but he was beyond aid; his neck was broken.

COMMON PRACTICE FOR BOYS.

The firemen are unable to say definitely how the accident happened, but every day or so they are compelled to drive children from the steps of their wagons. Little Douglas Allen must have been clinging to the step and been jolted off.

1,100 People Dead 50,000 Homeless

Tokio, Aug. 15.—Eleven hundred persons are reported dead and more than 50,000 homeless and starving as the result of the floods.

Though the situation today appeared somewhat better at times, the water is fluctuating, and reports from the upper parts of the Sumida River indicated that the crisis was not yet passed for Tokio.

The situation in the outlying regions is desperate, according to the reports furnished by the military expeditions sent out to succor the victims.

DEMANDED CASH BEFORE WEDDING

ELEVENTH HOUR HOLD-UP OF THE DEACON FAMILY BY PRINCE RADZIWELL.

Cut Big Dash in Paris—Sister's Marriage Recalls Incident of How Gladys Deacon Tried to Have Her Nose Made Anew.

Paris, Aug. 14.—Gossip of the French capital are still talking of the sensational incidents attending the recent marriage of Miss Dorothy Deacon to Prince Albert Radziwell, when the bride-to-be was "kept waiting at the church," while her family considered the eleventh-hour demand of her prospective husband, that a sum of money he had been promised on marrying Miss Deacon be increased to a much larger amount. The family capitulated to this heartless and dispicable "hold-up" for the Deacon family was determined to "land" that princely title at no matter what cost.

For years the Deacon girls, of which there are three have cut quite a dash in Paris society. Dorothy, the youngest and least sensational, having been the most popular. Gladys, the eldest, first called attention to herself, by an attempt to have her nose changed from somewhat of the "pug" type to that of the Grecian form, after being told by one of the best known artists of Paris, "Your one and only defect is your nose; in everything else your feminine features are perfect and fit to be taken as a model of absolute beauty." After that of course, what was there left for Miss Gladys "but to hasten to a professional beauty specialist."

He undertoook, for a large fee, to make the desired alterations, but after frequent injection of a certain preparation containing spermacetti, in the Deacon nasal organ, and weeks of intense suffering on the part of the young woman, she was forced to forego the realization of her ambition. The nose remained the same. Then came the episode of the youthful Crown Prince of Germany, who became so enamoured with the fair Gladys that, in a particularly intense moment of adoration, he bestowed on her a ring highly prized in the prince's family as an heirloom Miss Deacon choose to regard it as an engagement ring and the entire Deacon family were enraptured at the thought that possibly some day Gladys might become Empress of Germany.

The kaiser, however, strongly disapproved of his son's action, and the diplomatic wheels were started in an effort to obtain the return of the precious ring. The powerful influence of the German emperor prevailed, and the ring was wrested from the fair hand of Miss Gladys. To avoid any further possible lapses on the part of the crown prince, his father married him off soon afterwards to another, and the hopes of the Deacon family that an Empress of Germany might be included in the family later went aglimmering.

BRITISH EXPLORER KILLED IN AFRICA

PEOPLE OF TAMA OBJECTED TO LIEUT. BOYD ALEXANDER'S APPARENT DISCOURTESY.

Native Boy Opened Fire—Then They All Rushed on White Man and Did Him to Death Fearing Hostilities.

London, Aug. 13.—The first details of the murder of Lieutenant Boyd Alexander, who was recently killed in Wadai, while on an important expedition across Africa, have reached London in a letter from Lieutenant Childers Thompson, commanding at the British post at Maifemi, in the Lake Chad region, with which the late explorer stayed for a month. The communication, according to Reuter, is dated Maifemi, and is as follows:

"Lieutenant Boyd Alexander was killed near Darfur. He was delayed for a long time at Abeshir, in Wadai, owing to the French reverse at Nassahi having brought about a disturbed condition of the country. Finally, about two months ago, he proceeded on his journey, with his Portuguese collector Jose, and arrived safely at Tama, a place that is under Al Dinar (presumably a chieftain owing allegiance to the Anglo-Egyptian government.

"They reached Tama late at night, and on their arrival the local caisf, or king, summoned them to his presence, to which request Lieutenant Boyd Alexander replied that he would see the king the following morning. The explorer and his companions were encamped under some trees outside the town and had just finished their evening meal when they were suddenly surrounded by a band of people from the town, who declared their intention of taking Lieutenant Boyd Alexander to their king.

"One of the men then laid hands on the British officer, who naturally pushed him off. Thereupon a small boy, who was standing by seized a gun and blazed at the explorer, who instantly fell. The crowd then set upon him and killed him out of hand. Four of the natives seized Jose, who fired two shots at his assailants, and jumping on his horse succeeded in escaping. The attitude of the Tama people was doubtless due to the fact that they had trouble with the French before, and that, hearing of the arrival of an unknown white man at their town, they expected further hostilities.

A TOURING CAR OUTSIDE HELPED THE MEN GET AWAY — LOCKED OTHERS IN.

Moir Was the Man Who Shot Sergt.-Lloyd in London, and Taggart Killed His Wife in York County.

Hamilton, Aug. 15.— "Gunner" Moir, the London murderer, who has been in the asylum here since January, 1909, for the murder of Sergeant Lloyd of Wolsley Barracks, and Robert H. Taggart, an insane man who murdered his wife in York county in 1899, made a thrilling escape early this morning with the assistance of outside help.

Moir, who had a set of duplicate keys let himself out of his room, climbed through a transom from which he wrenched an iron bar and then liberated Taggart, with whom he had been chummy for several months.

LOCKED THE OTHERS IN.

Moir locked all the doors again and prevented the escape of a dozen or more notorious insane criminals confined in the east building where he has been a prisoner. A large touring car, secreted in the grounds, picked the men up and hurried them away. The auto was heard in the grounds during the night, but excited no suspicions as it is not unusual for cars to use the asylum roads.

HAD OUTSIDE HELP.

Dr. English, the superintendent, declared the men undoubtedly had the assistance of influential outside help, and so well was the escape managed he doubts if the fugitives will be taken.

Moir is recognized as one of the most desperate criminals ever held here. He has made many attempts to escape and nearly killed a guard some months ago. He was shortly after preparing to escape through a window after sawing half a dozen bars through.

In conversation with a newspaper man this morning, Dr. English, the superintendent declared that Moir must have escaped "by the connivance of persons outside."

"He was locked in his room last night, and his clothes were outside. Some one must have furnished him with keys as he undid two locks that held his door, opened the door leading to the stairway, and made his way from this to the dining room, which has an exit. All these doors were double locked, but the keys that undid his room would fit them.

LET TAGGART OUT.

"Moir probably unlocked Taggart's room and let him out. Moir got his own clothes from a closet opening from the corridor, but Taggart was fitted out with a coat from one of the other inmates, taking the rest of his own clothes."

Remember that Zam-Buk is altogether different to the ordinary ointments. Most of these consists of animal fats. Zam-Buk contains no trace of any animal fat, or any mineral matter. It is absolutely herbal.

Remember that Zam-Buk is at the same time healing, soothing, and antiseptic. Kills poison instantly, and all harmful germs. It is suitable alike for recent injuries and diseases, and chronic sores, ulcers, etc. Test how different and superior Zam-Buk really is. All druggists and stores at 50c. box. Fifty Men Entombed Foundation Gave Way Ogdensburg, N.Y., Aug. 15.—Despatches received here today state that fifty men have been entombed by a cave-in at Massena. Relief has been sent from nearby points. It appears the foundations of a power house gave way.

Massena is a town of 2,000, thirty-eight miles northeast of here in St. Lawrence county. It has many paper pulp and saw mills, whose power is furnished by the St. Lawrence river on the northwest of the town and the Grass and Racquette rivers, which run through it.

Later—It is reported that four of the men were killed.

A FORMER LOCAL CITIZEN STATES HIS OPINION OF RACE PROBLEM

Mr. Rufus Stevenson of Brazil, Ind., who for the past week has been the guest of his father Mr. James Stevenson, ex-M.P., Water street, with his little daughter left by the early C.P.R. train yesterday for home. During his visit to his old home Mr. Stevenson, who is manager of the Brazil Gas and Electric Light plant, in answer to questions put by The Times as to local option in Indiana, remarked practically, "Well you know I'm, and have been for years a strong opponent of the excessive, or, in most cases, moderate use of intoxicants. Still in our State local option is, generally speaking, a rank failure. In my part of the State there are supposed to be no places licensed to sell liquor. Our part of the State is "dry." Still, while the consumption of ale and lager has diminished during the past two years, whiskey is sold as much, in fact more than ever. This is proven by the government reports which show an actual increase in the whiskey revenue of over half a million over what it was under license, whilst the counties lose scores of dollars in revenue." In response to a question arising from the fact developed in conversation that Peterborough was the only city of its size on the continent without any resident "niggers," Mr. Stevenson said "Peterborough is lucky. Keep them out. My town is right above a huge bed of soft coal, in fact, you can often hear beneath you the muffled explosion of a blast going off. Many niggers, members of the Miners' Union, live in Brazil. Still at ——— (the name forgotten), a town about twelve miles away from Brazil, if a nigger happens into that place, he is met by a committee, which politely, but firmly, very firmly intimates that his allotted term of years on this mundane sphere, will be greatly influenced by the celerity, in which he jumps, and keeps on, the first eastward bound train. Don't let them (the ethiopians) get a foothold in Peterborough."

ACUTE DYSPEPSIA.

Restoration of Stomach Power Comes Quickly With the Right Medicine.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmons, of Newbridge P.O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvellous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon glowed within me. I can now eat, sleep and live like a live man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are sure to do you good. 25c. per box at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

LAWYER SENT OUT SOME LITERATURE ON DIVORCE.

And Now Brooklyn Hubbies are Having Trouble Squaring It With Their Wives.

New York, Aug. 15.—If several thousand heads of Brooklyn households could get their hands on a certain Herman Druck, once a New York lawyer, but now a Nevada divorce expert, today there would sure be "something doing." For throughout the erstwhile peaceful confines of the transriver borough wives are still questioning their erst while trusted husbands as to the meaning of a divorce pamphlet with which Druck flooded Brooklyn.

The pamphlet sets forth the ease with which martial mis-mates can sever the conjugal tie in Nevada, whose laws are so broad and humane as to recognize that "where no harmony exists between a married couple, they are entitled to relief by a decree of divorce."

In vain have scores of Brooklyn hubbies pleaded not guilty to the charge of soliciting the literature. If Druck should happen to saunter down a Brooklyn street today and be recognized he wouldn't saunter far.

LIVELY BATTLE OVER A CAR LOAD OF WHISKEY.

Gang Forcibly Took Possession of Wet Goods After They Had Been Seized by the Police.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—Further reports received here are to the effect that a pitched battle occurred between policemen employed by the Trans-Continental Railway Commissioners and whiskey sellers at La Tuque. A whole load of whiskey came in assigned to the people engaged in the traffic and the officers promptly seized it.

A few hours afterwards the liquor men got together a band of about forty people, made an attack on the officers and forcibly took possession of what had been seized. It was at this point that the commission was communicated with, and it is true sent down a squad of Dominion police fully armed and with full instructions to rout out the whiskey gang.

In the crowd which re-captured the seized liquor, five men were particularly aggressive, and warrants for their arrest were issued. It had been reported here that two of them had been apprehended, and three have skipped. Since the Dominion police went there no disorder has occurred. A magistrate has gone up from Quebec to try the offenders.

HANDLE GRAIN FROM EDMONTON TO HALIFAX.

Grand Trunk Pacific By Its Rail and Boat Lines Will Be Able to do so Next Season.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The Transcontinental railway from Lepis to Moncton, will be open for traffic in the spring of next year, according to reports received at the office of the commission here. The completion of this section will put into operation one of the most important links of the whole line. Arrangements are already being made in a preliminary way for car ferries across the St. Lawrence pending the construction of the Quebec bridge.

From Quebec to a point 195 miles west, the line is about completed now, but from the latter point to Lake Superior Junction it will not be done for two years. On this interior section the work has been held back until supplies and plant could be taken in from the other ends by rail. The distance as well as the character of the country made it practically impossible to haul in a construction plant. The section from Lake Superior Junction to Winnipeg will be ready for regular operation this fall.

On the strength of the reports above indicated it was stated today at the transcontinental commission offices, that next season the G.T.P. will by connection with its existing rail and boat lines, be able to handle grain from Edmonton to Halifax and St. John.

CHEST INFLAMMATION.

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Nerviline" Cured Quickly.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chester and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strength pletely built up and strethened. Since using Nerviline I have had no more colds and pleurisy and enjoy perfect health.

NERVILINE CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures, lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large 25c. bottles, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX.

It is the easiest thing in the world in any community, to make a list of "shining marks," or wealthy mfrs. who do not schedule for taxation all their intangible personal property—their mortgages, bonds, stocks, etc. But, if we are concerned with the question of real justice and equality in taxation, we must bear in mind that the tax law applies to others besides millionaires, presidents and directors of corporations. The great need is of laws that can be uniformly and efficiently enforced against all—the possessor of millions, the well-to-do citizen, the man whose personal property is represented by a modest figure, as contemporary estimates go.

The requirements of equity are plain. He who has $10,000 in stocks and bonds and savings accounts should pay his share as cheerful,y as the possessor of ten and fifty times that amount, or as the millionaire. How are thos requirements to be enforced? How is the sequestration of intangible property to be prevented? Legislative commissions, economists, reformers have wrestled with the problem, and no agreement is yet in sight. Some would abolish all personality taxes; some would tax only tangible personalty—horses, motor cars, furniture, jewelry, books, etc.—and expressly exempt cash, stocks, bonds, etc.; others would levy on puntia, and very low tax on the latter varieties of property, as, in-years, and have found the practice fixed, some states have done for profitable.

In addition to these major suggestions a host of minor ones is known to students of the problems, and there are political scientists who favor substitutes for personalty taxes that would appear extremely strange to Canadians—like a tax measure by [illegible] rent.

THE HUDSON ROUTE

Earl Grey's journey by canoe to Port Nelson and Fort Churchill, and thence across Hudson Bay and through Hudson Straits, is an undertaking that should direct the eyes of both the Old Country and Canada to the commercial possibilities of a much discussed route. What Western Canada will need to ensure its steady growth and wealth is increased transportation facilities. The rate at which the agricultural and industrial population is growing makes evident the fact that there is little use of growing ten million bushels more of grain if it cannot be marketed and speedily carried to market. And the market for most of the output of the west now is Europe. To-day, a railroad from the great prairie belt to Hudson Bay would be kept busy for four or five months of the year, at least, a short and cheap route to British ports. The rail haul from the prairies to tidal wave would be reduced hundreds of miles. Instead of having to ship over a long route via Port William and Port Arthur to New York or Montreal the farmers of the west would be able to consign the cheap carrier at much less expense. Whether the short season of navigation would seriously interfere with the development of this route will have to be determined before enormous sums are spent in connection or and and putting on vessels, but it is well all the merits and defects of the northern course should be known and discussed. In going over the ground and across the Bay the Governor General will do a public service in calling public attention to the opportunities for vast hinterland expansion.

Misses Hagarty of Bay City are the guests of the Misses Daly, Weller street.

PORCUPINE CITY

THE PORCUPINE BOOM has started. The district is proven It is today the greatest Gold Camp in the world.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

The Townsite has already the "Porcupine Post Office," two Banks, one 75-room Hotel, general stores, hardware stores, hospital, a drug store, bakery, theatre inn, laundry, several office buildings, and numerous boarding houses and dwellings.

Townsite lots worth today from $60.00 to $300.00 should treble in value by Christmas, and be worth many times this amount within the next year or two.

SUDBURY, COBALT, HAILEYBURY and NORTH BAY have returned fortunes to the original investors in their real estate when these towns were young. They thrived on the returns from the baser metals—copper and silver.

Indians Trim the Park Players.

Last Saturday the Chemong Indian Village ball tossers went up against Chemong Cottagers' Baseball team. Of late the cottagers have won many games, defeating the Bridgenorth team three times this season and no later than Wednesday they trimmed the Lakefield nine, but the descendants of Canada's former rulers trimmed them in a good game by the close score of 11—10.

Intelligence has been received in the city that the body of Abraham Goldberg, the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. J. Goldberg, 452 George street, who was drowned near Hoshelaga, last Sunday has been found at De Lavaltrie village. The young man's father, well known in this city, was in Montreal at the time of the accident.

VOL. XXXI NO. 183 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO WEDNESDAY AUGUST 17 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

MOIR HIDING IN THE VICINITY OF BUFFALO

Auto in Which Murderers Escaped Traced Across Line

POLICE OF NEW YORK STATE HAVE BEEN CALLED UPON TO MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO LOCATE PRISONERS.

Guards Had the Keys—Two Men Allowed to Keep Them for Two Days After Leaving the Asylum—Expect to Recapture the Prisoners.

Hamilton, Aug. 16.—The theory that Moir and Taggart are safe across the border was confirmed beyond the shadow of a doubt today. The automobile in which they made their escape from the asylum grounds has been traced as far as Buffalo, and the police of New York State have been called upon to use every effort to round up the fugitives.

The first trace of the automobile came yesterday in a report from Stoney Creek. It was a big touring car, all closed in, with the lights extinguished and the number hidden. It sped through the village at terrific speed, was traced through Grimsby, Beamsville, and on as far as Bridgeburg, where it stopped for half an hour about 5.30 in the morning, the time the escape of the pair was discovered here. The authorities have positive proof that the car passed over the International Bridge. They traced it through Niagara Falls, N.Y., and lost track of it at Buffalo. With this clue pointing clearly to the course the fugitives have taken the authorities are satisfied that it will not be long before the men are rounded up. With the general alarm that is spread it is believed that Moir and his companion will not attempt to travel for a time, but will remain in hiding in Buffalo. Chief Regan of that city, has been furnished with full details and every avenue of escape from Buffalo will be closely guarded.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

Picked Belleville Team to Go Up Against the Conquering T.A.S.

Since the defeat of the West Ends by the T.A.S. ball team, active interest seems to have taken somewhat of a drop. However the news that a picked team from the five City League teams of Belleville will be here for Saturday afternoon, each with a clip on his belt whereon to hang the scalps of their opponents, it is expected that Riverside Park will be crowded to the gates.

Hopkins, the famous pitcher of the Belleville team, will be in the box. It will be remembered that this twirler delivered the goods for Lindsay when they played the T.A.S. here recently. If the T.A.S. hand out the same brand of baseball as they did on the day of the defeat of the West Ends, it will certainly take some very fast work on the part of the visitors to win out.

COURT OF REVISION.

Several Citizens Protest Against Their Respective Assessments.

Once more the Court of Revision, that court of last appeal to the citizen thinking himself or herself overcharged, has again met, with Mr. W. Langford presiding. Messrs. B. Morrow and W. F. Johnston were also in attendance.

The official assessment for a proposed sewer on Benson street, from Benson avenue northeast to the end of Benson street was taken up in accordance with the notices given.

Mr. Touchbourne protested against the assessment of William Staunton the ground that it was overcharged. The assessment was reduced to 98 feet, 49 chargeable to property and 49 frontage.

John Matheson appealed his assessment on the ground that he was assessed erroneously for lot 4, plan 16, which should be assessed to T. H. G. Deane.—Laid over till Monday Aug. 22nd.

Samuel Clegg asked that he be allowed an exemption on account of the irregular shape of his lot. — Allowed exemption of 40 feet 3 inches, making frontage chargeable to property 30 feet.

Robert J. Kidd, who appealed his assessment on account of the irregular shape of his lot, was allowed an exemption of 23 feet, making frontage charged to his property 57 feet.

The court adjourned until Monday, August 22nd.

SPECIAL CREW ON LAURIER TRAIN

CONDUCTED THE PREMIER SAFELY THROUGH DIZZIEST PART OF THE ROCKIES.

Engineer an Old Tory—At First Refused to Carry Sir Wilfrid — A Bitter Humor.

Yale, B.C., Aug. 16.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's special train this morning arrived at this place after a day and a night spent traversing the Rockies. The most dangerous part of the run was that which was passed in the night after leaving Revelstoke, and a special crew under special superintendent was put on board. This crew for years conducted all important specials through, including that of the Prince of Wales, now King George.

Engineer Tom Sweeney of Kamloops, is a particularly bitter Tory, and at first refused to take the premier through, but at length was persuaded.

"Well," he said as he swung into the cab of his engine. "I've never had an accident yet, but if I've got to have one, I'd just as lief have it tonight."

Whereupon he picked up his signal and his train orders and shoved the throttle open so fully that you could scarcely tell that the train had started.

Emperor Nears 80th Milestone.

Vienna, Aug. 17.—Emperor Francis Joseph, the oldest of the European monarchs, will to-morrow reach his eightieth birthday anniversary. In accordance with his custom the Emperor will pass the day in retirement in the imperial summer villa at Ischl. Elaborate preparations are being made, however, for a general celebration of the anniversary throughout the empire.

SPANISH STEAMER WRECKED THIRTY-NINE LIVES LOST

A DENSE FOG PREVAILED AT THE TIME OF THE DISASTER THIRTY-NINE LOST.

The Survivors Were Picked up in Small Boats and Taken to Gibraltar—One Vessel Went Down in a Short Time.

Gibraltar, Aug. 16.—The Spanish steamer Martos foundered this morning off Tarafa, on the African coast, at the entrance of the Straits of Gibraltar after a collission with the German steamer Elsa.

Thirty-nine were drowned, of whom 32 were passengers. The survivors were landed here.

A dense fog prevailed at the time of the collision.

CLINGING TO WRECKAGE.

The German boat stood by and put out small boats, which picked up the survivors, many of whom were found clinging to wreckage.

The Spaniard went down in a short time. After cruising about the spot, the Elsa took the survivors to Gibraltar where they were succored by the British garrison.

ENGAGED IN COASTING TRADE.

The Martos was a steamer of 1,048 tons net, engaged in coasting trade.

The Elsa, a German tramp steamer, registers 494 tons. She sailed from Abo, a river port on the Niger in Africa, on July 20, for Valencia and was last reported passing Gibraltar on August 3.

ANOTHER BOAT IN TROUBLE.

London, Aug. 16.—A Lloyd's despatch says that the German East African liner Khedive, has run ashore on Cape Morgan, with three of her holds filled with water. Tugs have been sent from Durban, Natal.

"Can be depended upon," is an expression we all like to hear, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

CLARK CONSCIOUS.

Man Who Fell From Train and Now in Hospital Here May Recover.

Yesterday the elderly man, S. Clarke of Ottawa, in Nicholls' Hospital, was reported as being slightly improved. He recovered consciousness at times. Dr. Young found that no bones were broken, but it will take a few hours yet to ascertain whether Clarke has sustained internal injuries. During the afternoon he was quite conscious. It seems that Clarke, on Monday evening was picked up near The C.P.R. tracks close to Cavanville. When found he was quite unconscious, and his head was swathed in bandages. Yesterday morning he was brought to the city on a hand car and taken to the hospital in Comstock's ambulance. Dr. Young, medical officer here for the C.P.R., attended to his injuries. It is thought that whilst standing on the platform between two cars, as the train was in motion Clarke fell from the cars.

NEW INQUEST

Necessary Over Remains Believed to Be Those of Mrs. Crippen.

London, Aug. 16.—An entirely new inquest will be necessary over the remains believed to be those of Belle Elmore, for whose murder Dr. H.H. Crippen and Ethel Clare LeNeve are under arrest in Quebec, was announced today by Coroner Schroder Wilkenson when the first inquest was resumed. The recent death of Coroner Danforth Thomas necessitates the retracing of all ground.

A great crowd was gathered at Islington this afternoon for the resumption of the inquest which was put off on July 16 after meagre testimony had been given.

Superintendent Froest of Scotland Yard was on hand, with Solicitor Newton and Watts representing respectively Crippen and Miss LeNeve.

A BIG SCHEME IS BEHIND TRIP

IF HE CAN MAKE TRIP BY THE WATER, HUDSON BAY LINE WILL BE BUILT.

English Syndicate is In—Ready to Construct Railway and Ocean Liners Suitable for Route.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—It has become known here that Earl Grey's trip to Hudson Bay has a big scheme behind it, in connection with the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. In other words, the governor-general is the envoy of a great British syndicate which is ready to put millions not only into the building of the railway to Hudson Bay, but also to undertake the building of specially designed ships for the northern waters, and at the same time provide the harbor terminals necessary.

Earl Grey is fully convinced of the necessity of opening up the route to Britain via the Hudson Straits, and during his recent visit to England, which may have been taken for the purpose, talked the matter over with a number of leading financiers in London, who, it is understood, have agreed to provide the capital required if his excellency is able to prove that the trip is feasible without any special preparation in advance.

It is felt that with the advertisement which the route will get if the vice-regal trip is a success there will be no difficulty in floating a company in London. It is the sort of practical imperialism which appeals to the English imagination, and it would not be surprising if Lord Grey were to desire to go down to history as the successor of dashing Prince Rupert, the first gentleman adventurer to exploit the Hudson Bay route.

IN MEMORY OF KING EDWARD

SIR ERNEST CASSEL'S PROJECT TO HONOR HIS FRIEND, HIS LATE MAJESTY.

To Aid the Work Seekers—Poor Germans in England and Poor English in Germany to Get Help.

Berlin, Aug. 16.—Sir Ernest Cassel, the English financier, has arranged, according to an announcement made here today, to establish a foundation of $1,000,000, the income from which is to be used for the benefit of poor Germans seeking employment in England, and poor British subjects seeking work in Germany, who are without money for their support.

The new foundation will be in memory of the late King Edward of Great Britain, who was a friend of Sir Ernest, and with whom the financier had been closely associated for many years.

Sir Ernest Cassel, though a British subject has retained his interest in his native land, Germany. He was born in Cologne, the son of a German banker, in 1852, and, in addition to the English knighthood, he wears the Order of the Crown of Prussia of first-class, one of the highest German decorations.

NOTED CRIMINAL ARRESTED.

Russian ex-Soldier Wanted by Police of the World Captured in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—After having eluded the police of the world for two years on charges of murder, arson and robbery, Sava Fedoranko, a Russian ex-soldier, was arrested in Winnipeg last night at a boarding house on Dufferin avenue.

The capture was made quietly and the fugitive did not have a chance to put up a struggle or offer any resistance.

Full details of the crime against the prisoner are not known to the local police, but he is wanted in Russia, principally on a charge of murder. Two years ago in a Russian town, Fedoranko and some accomplices entered a house for the purpose of looting it and, to cover up the trace of their crime set the place on fire. The house had three occupants, a man and a woman and another resident, and all were burned to death.

The police of the world were hunting for the culprits.

CHILD BIT AT ITS MOTHER.

Case of Rabies Developed on Dorchester—Little One Brought to Toronto.

Wood stock, Aug. 16.—A bad case of rabies in a child occurred in Dorchester. A child two and a half years old, was bitten by a dog eleven weeks ago, but as no symptoms showed the little one was not sent away.

On Thursday the disease broke out and medical help was escaped. The doctors ordered the child to be taken to Toronto. The seven o'clock flyer was stopped at Dorchester station and the child, its mother and a doctor boarded it. When on the train the child bit at its mother and clothes like a dog.

WAS BEATING HIS WIFE TO DEATH

WINNIPEG MAN PURCHASED STRYCHNINE IN STORE WHILE ON WAY TO JAIL.

Officers Were With Him When He Took It and He Died in Hospital—Beating Ale Wife When Stopped.

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—F. H. Knight, formerly of Rosewood, Man., was engaged this morning in beating his wife to death when the hired man interrupted him. Knight then ran to the barn and set it on fire. He then hid. The hired man and Mrs. Knight despite her terrible injuries, succeeded in getting the stock out and then a warrant having been issued. Constable Claydon arrested Knight. The latter claimed to have drunk carbolic acid, but seemingly did not suffer much. He was brought to Winnipeg this afternoon. A hundred yards from the depot the prisoner decided to enter a drug store to telephone a lawyer. Entering, one officer remained at the door, and Constable Claydon going to the telephone, made arrangements for a meeting with a lawyer. Meanwhile Knight asked for strychnine to poison gophers. The clerk knowing Knight, but not knowing he was in custody as the constables were in plain clothes gave him the poison, making him sign the poison slip in front of the unsuspecting constables. A block from the drug store Knight wanted to go to the lavatory and was taken into the Occidental Hotel. Unnoticed he took the poison and shortly after falling in a fit was rushed to the General Hospital, where he died three hours later.

DO YOU VALUE HEALTH.

Regulate and Cleanse Your System.

Spring cleaning does not answer the body. The prime element in the maintenance or in the recovery of health is activity of liver, kidneys and skin. Not occasionally but only by weekly stimulations of these functions can poisons, waste matter and accumulations within the body be drawn out so that the blood and inward parts be purified and kept wholesome. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the mildest laxative medicine known they purify the blood, fortify the activity of liver and kidneys, increase the eliminating power of the skin and create a general feeling of well being—the outcome of wholesome conditions within. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a general tonic to the digestive system: they restore functional effectiveness to all the organs of secretion and contribute in this way enormously to the stability of health.

For general family use in all cases of biliousness, bad blood, indigestion and disorders to the stomach, Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal. Sold in yellow boxes, 25c. all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

VIENNA WOMEN PLAYERS.

Tourists Search in Vain for Lady Orchestras.

Vienna, Aug. 16.—Tourists visiting here search in vain for the Vienna lady orchestra—there are none. Vienna has gipsy bands and lady gipsy bands, and tamburitza orchestras, but none composed of Vienna ladies. Such are for export only, it seems. In the Orient, in India, China, Japan, in North and South America, Vienna lady orchestras received pay and treatment, but in Austria and other German countries very few of them are engaged on salary. The proprietor of the place where they give concerts, furnishes them with food and lodging, but for compensation they have to look to the audience. After each piece the most engaging member goes around with a plate collecting.

Worse still are engagements in Russia. Members of the ladies' orchestras learn upon their arrival that they are expected to stay in the concert hall after the concert and help entertain the gentlemen present by drinking champagne with them, the ladies receiving percentage on the stuff consumed. This makes drunkards out of most of the women.

BODY DISCOVERED IN A SHALLOW GRAVE.

Wealthy Ranch-Woman's Remains Uncovered by Her Pet Dog—Murder With Robbery Suspected.

Lancaster, Cal., Aug. 16.—In a shallow grave sunk in the sand of her front yard, a pet dog has uncovered the body of Mrs. Frieda Schultze, a wealthy ranch owner.

Murder, with robbery as the probable motive, is suspected, and telegrams have been sent to ports and border cities between Galveston and San Francisco to arrest the woman's brother-in-law, Otto Schultze, who left her Saturday after saying he was bound for Germany.

Mrs. Castine was seen last Friday, when she came here from her ranch, four miles east, to receive a remittance of $6,000 from relatives in San Francisco.

Investigations tend to show that the woman was attacked as she drove into her yard, and was thrown into the shallow hole while yet alive.

An examination by an autopsy surgeon disclosed the presence of sand in the lungs and bronchial tubes, drawn there by the victim's dying gasps.

ROMANCE ENDS IN MARRIAGE

ATLANTIC CITY GIRL, WHO INHERITS BILLIONS, MARRIES RUSSIAN MUSICIAN.

Kingston, Aug. 16.—The marriage of Miss Lola Baldwin, Atlantic City, and George Roquboy, Russia, at Thousand Island Park, closed a romance begun seven years ago.

In 1903 the lady heard Roquboy play the violin in Berlin, and both were fascinated. Her parents intervened and Miss Baldwin was hurried away. Three years later Miss Baldwin found the musician who, devoted to his art, won fame and money, becoming the favorite musician of the court of the Czar of Russia. The monarch decorated him with a diamond studded badge, bearing the imperial coat of arms. But enemies threatened his life, and he fled to the United States. For two years he has been leader of the orchestra at the Frontenac Hotel. Last Thursday the couple accidentally met, and on Friday Miss Baldwin said, "You marry me now or never," Saturday they were married.

Miss Baldwin is a granddaughter of Major Herbeycht, Heidelberg, Germany, who died recently and left her sole heir to an estate reputed to be worth millions. A few weeks ago Miss Baldwin received $40,000 from the estate of her mother.

The wedding is the sensation of the Islands. The groom will not break his contract with the Frontenac Hotel Company. When the season ends, however, they expect to go abroad and view again the scene of their childhood romance.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

PROGRAM FOR THE GREAT CONGRESS

Details of the Monster Gathering of Catholics in Montreal

WILL SURPASS ALL FORMER CLERICAL CONGRESSES EVEN THOSE HELD IN ROME.

Big Procession Will Be Marked by Solemn Dignity and Grandeur, and Every Precaution Against Outside Interference Has Been Made.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—In gorgeous display of vestments and uniforms, wealth of decoration, and solemnity of ceremony, the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Montreal, in three weeks' time will surpass all former clerical congresses, even those occasionally held in Rome, according to the official announcement of the program which reached Toronto yesterday. Fully five thousand Catholics from Toronto are expected to attend, and most of these will take part in the monster street demonstration, a procession of 100,000 people, at the front of which the host will be carried.

TORONTO SOCIETIES.

This will be the culminating event of the congress. It will be marked by solemn dignity and grandeur, and every precaution against outside interference has been made. The route the order of the procession, every little detail has been carefully arranged. Toronto will be represented in it byt be local lodges of the Knights of St. John, the Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society. Owing to the strength this latter society has gained in Toronto since its organization a few years ago, it has been honored with a special place in the parade near the front.

Each mission or parish will take up its place in the parade without the least hitch and every parish represented, will be known by a banner bearing the name in gold letters. A guard of honor of men and boys wearing yellow and white armlets have voluteered to stand in close array all along the line, while representatives of the congregations to which each detachment belongs will be passed behind.

Besides the procession, one of the most imposing events will be the solemn reception in honor of his eminence the papal legate, Cardinal Vannutelli, which will take place on Tuesday, September 6, in St. James' Cathedral. Wednesday the grand civic reception of the cardinal legate will be held, and on Thursday midnight mass will be celebrated in Notre Dame church where holy communion will be given to men on WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1910.

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

San Francisca is determined to be the city in which the completion of the Panama Canal will be celebrated 1915 is fixed for the event. Already, five years ahead, Chas. S. Fee, Cahir man Committee on Publicity and Exploitation, is urging all friends of San Francisco to request their representatives in Congress to select San Francisco as the celebration city. New Orleans and Washington are also aspirants, the City of the Golden Gate appears to have a long lead.

Among the interesting claims now advanced by Mr. Fee are that the citizens of San Francisco have subscribed $6,300,000, and will make it $7,500,000—and that the City and State of California will add as much or more; that 90 per cent. of the people who take vacations do so in the summer, and one of the factors influencing their destination is cool climate; that (contrary, possibly, to general belief in the East) cool summer climate is San Francisco's strongest card, temperature averaging 50 degrees, which is only 7 degrees higher than winter; that the new San Francisco built in the past four years at a cost of $300,000,000, is the last word in great cities, and in itself a magnificent exposition of in structure and the things that stan everything modern and beautiful in structure and the things that stand for a clean, healthy place to live in and do business; that it is best equipped in hotels, and finally that the success, financially and otherwise of the exposition, is sure from the fact that experience has shown that 75 per cent. of the attendance at previous great expositions came from within a radius of 250 miles, and as San Francisco and the cities around its bay within 30 minutes' ride have a population of 900,000, within 50 miles of San Francisco 1,000,000, and within 250 miles 1,400,000, the people nearby can be depended upon to make it go as well as to give sufficient life and snap to insure a pleasant reception to those coming from a distance.

By its enterprise at this early date San Francisco sets an example worth folling to all cities ambitious to hold great international expositions, which usually are slow in commencing their preparations and incomplete and disappointing at their opening, thus resulting in unfavorable impressions being widely circulated that cannot be fully corrected by the best of later efforts.

GETS SIX MONTHS.

Edward Carpenter Was Time to Decide Not to Rob Yachts Again.

The somewhat memorable case of Edward Carpenter, who on information given by R. E. Wilson some months ago, was arrested by P. C. Newball, was before the cadi yesterday morning. It will be remembered that Carpenter was accused of stealing goods of considerable va:ue from launches along the Otonabee. The officer mentioned, searched Carpenter's house and found articles of considerable value. At first Carpenter claimed that the goods came from Chemong but afterwards admitted taking them.

Mr. Wilson, loser of the most expensive articles, gave evidence which coincided with that of the constable.

Yesterday morning Carpenter plead ed guilty to the charge of stealing Mr. Quinn's skiff, and not guilty to the charge of taking the goods of Alfred Jackson. In a recent case he pleaded guilty to have taken an engine and having sunk the hull of Mr. Wilson's launch.

Mr. Gordon, counsel for the prisoner, made a strong plea for him, asking that the prisoner be given a chance. His worship was asked if it was possible to permit the prisoner to make good the losses he would do so and report to the chief of police every week until complete atonement was made.

The magistrate, after explaining that the people of this city must receive protection and it was his duty to see that they received such, imposed a penalty of six months in the Central Prison.

Human Life.

A colored man was brought before a police judge charged with stealing chickens. He pleaded guilty and received sentence, when the judge asked how it was he managed to hit those chickens right under the window of the owner's house when there was a dog in the yard.

"Hit wouldn't be no use, judge," said the man, "to try to 'splain dis thing to yo' all. If you was to try it you like as not would get your kids full of shot an' get no chickens, neither. If yo' want to engage in any conversation, judge, yo' better stick to de bench where you am familiar."

PRISON LABOR.

The Province of Ontario has just abolished the last of its prison labor contracts. Henceforth the majority of the inmates will be employed at outside work, on the farm and at road-building in accordance with the admirable policy adopted at Guelph and upon road work in the North.

There will, however, be a minority of prisoners whose health or physical infirmity prevent them from joining in the strenuous outdoor employment. Mr. Hanna states that they will manufacture hospital supplies—bed, blankets, etc., which will be offered to the hospital receiving support or aid from the government and if the quality and price are found favorable these hospitals will be expected to buy the broad arrow products. Mr. Hanna congratulates himself on the abolition of the competition of prison labor, but it is difficult to see how the competition is abolished in the case of the hospital supplies. He makes a point out of the fact that the government good do not come on the free market against free labor goods, but that is a very unimportant point. The employes of the firms which are now selling bedding to the hospitals will find that prison-made bedding is entering into competition with their products just as effectively as if they were sold together in the stores.

There is very little reason for an objection to this state of affairs, but it should not be represented as abolishing the problem of prison labor. On farms and at road making the hated element of competition with free labor is eliminated, it is true, because the country has not enough road makers or farm laborers, and the convicts are doing the work which otherwise would not be done at all. But as soon as the convict touches work which is being done to the requisite extent by private initiative, that minute he enters into competition with free labor. No matter what he makes is sold to the government alone or to the public.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Hooper's Wagon and Car Collide.

"It looked like a man who might have called John L. Sullivan a liar a few years ago," was the description given The Times last night of Mr. Thos. Hooper's delivery rig after it had disputed the right of way with a street car. It seems that the wagon in question was standing between Dublin and Antrim streets, near Hooper's bakery on George St., about five o'clock yesterday. A south bound car came along. It could not be ascertained whether the horse attached to the wagon became frightened and ran the rig on to the tracks or whether the quadruped had been sleeping, and in a fit of somnambulism backed the vechile into the car. In either or other case, the car struck the rig and put it summarily out of commission. The driver was not severely hurt, but the rig is laid up for repairs.

Local Labourers Leave for the West.

The "Call of the West" was yesterday answered by about thirty-five local men, who left, per C.P.R. harvesters' excursion" to Western points in the North-West. While Peterborough is sorry to see any of her citizens leave, she cannot but remember that cheap flour (should such a calamity ever happen) can only be attained by cheap wheat. Cheap wheat can only be procured by Western farmers gathering in their crops that well and attention produce so abundantly. The crops cannot be garnered without labor from the Eastern Provinces. The laborers going West to assist in getting in the crops get good wages and cheap transportation by the C.P.R., so presently we have no cause for regret over losing the sturdy men who go out to help the Western farmer.

Good Maid Wanted.

For small family, $12 to $15 per month wages, according to experience, and four to six evenings a week allowed out. Apply at Times' Bookstore for address.

Three Fined, One Let Go.

Yesterday in the police court, the Goddess of Justice, as represented by his worship, had a well filled cornucopia of fines, which were handed out freely. Two young men, who trespassed on the Peterborough Lumber Company's premises, on Sunday, were each fined $5 and costs, amounting to $7.00. The two men didn't have the cash, but were allowed ten days to make good. One young man with an eye in mourning pleaded guilty to having been the aggressor in a fight with a hackman at the C.P.R. station. The fight promoter, in addition to an eye that looked like a Rembrandt picture of "night," was handed out a $2 fine. He also was allowed ten days in which to dig up the coin. An English immigrant, who had been found taking a sleep in the cartern' stand the preceding night was allowed to melt away into the outside atmosphere, which judging by that of the court room was putting a bonus on such offences.

Interesting Meet of Charlotte Street Epworth League.

At the meeting of the Charlotte street church Epworth League, with a fairly good attendance, a literary treat was enjoyed. The life of Fanny Crosby, the hymn composer, was discussed. Miss Pethick read a well composed and finely presented paper on the famous writer's work. Mr. H. Sandiford also read a paper anent the history of the same composer. Miss Letitia Elliott read a paper of great interest dealing with the life of Helen Keller, the famous blind, deaf and dumb woman, who did such heroic work.

Mr. Calverwell Cleans Up Big Profit.

The name of Calverwell will linger in the minds of those interested in Midland power, for many a year. This enterprising gentleman at a profit of about a fifth of a million dollars, is said to have disposed of his interest in power along the Trent waterway, excepting that great waterhead at Burleigh Falls and Buckhorn. It is understood that the total amount realized was in the neighborhood of $200,000 a fairly reasonable investment. Some of the properties included had originally to be purchased to attain the general result finally looked for and now attained.

The weather, whilst somewhat oppressively hot, in no way interfered with the attendance at the park or the enjoyment of the music. The Salvation Army corp of Peterborough has a band that, by its performance last night at Victoria Park establishes itself on a high pedestal among Canada's leading musical organizations.

The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

SIR WILFRID

The Premier's Eloquence Carried Away the People of B. C.

HIS AUDIENCE APPEARED SATISFIED WITH THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

Higher Poll Tax Asked—Sir Wilfrid Sympathetic Towards the Delegation Which Urged It on Him.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 17.— Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after arriving here yesterday at noon, and addressing ten thousand people in a mass-meeting last night, received this morning a deputation representing labor unions of British Columbia, and asking that the Chinese poll tax be raised from $500 to $1,000, and that all legislation should tend towards the ultimate exclusion of all Asiatics.

Sir Wilfrid gave a sympathetic hearing, but said that the government was forced to bear in mind the diplomatic phase of our relations with the Orient and the general welfare of Canada, as well as the peculiar labor conditions of British Columbia.

His meeting last night was very successful. He explained the policy of the government concerning Asiatic immigration as a policy of diplomacy. The question did not affect British Columbia alone, but it affected all Canada, all England, and the whole empire. The address was well received and at the conclusion he was tendered an ovation.

It is apparent that the Oriental immigration policy is for the present at least a dead issue in this Province. Very few Asiatics are now coming into the country.

Large Excursion in Town.

Peterborough yesterday was invaded by two train loads of excursionists from Belleville, Napanee and other points. The visitors were a well dressed and well behaved lot of people, such as this city is always delighted to welcome. Napanee sent about 75 of the visitors. A large number of the excursionists took in the lift lock sights, some the moving pictures, whilst others spent the day at the parks. The excursion was run under the auspices of the Holloway street church Sunday school of Belleville.

Mr. Stratton's Horse Won Honors.

Hon. J. R. Stratton seems to be as good a judge of horses as he is of political matters. At the Cobourg horse show his entries won much attention and many ribbons. Among the Peterborough people attending the horse show are Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., and Mrs. Stratton, and Miss Olive Gooding, Judge Huycke and Mrs. Huycke, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Graham, and Miss Madge Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Leary and Miss Katie Leary. In the first event (district runabout) Mr. Wm. Reed, of Peterborough, obtained second prize. In the second event (harness pairs over 15. 2), Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., of Peterborough, won first prize with "My Pride" and "Premier." In the seventh event, (single harness 15.2 and under), Hon. Mr. Stratton's horses were the features. He had four entries in this event, namely "Latest News," "Loch Ryan Princess," "Lady of Navarere," and "Shawbill Princess." The first honors were carried off by Loch Ryan Princess.

THE WEATHER.

Fine and warm today.

OIL IS KING.

Rare Opportunity to Secure Stock in California Oil Company Cheap.

California, the Golden State, has become a strong competitor with the Eastern States in production of petroleum. The California oil is a strong competitor by reason of the heavy freight rates paid on refined oil shipped from the east and on account of the growing demand for crude oil for fuel on steamships and railway engines. The Atlanta Oil Co., has secured proven property, adjacent to other properties daily producing thousands of barrels. The company has 100 acres of oil land on Sulphur Mountain, within ten miles of Santa Paula, Ventura Co.

The Atlanta Oil Company, whose adv. appears in this issue is offering a limited number of shares, par value $1 for 15c. per share. Those seeking investment should investigate this proposition, and read the advertisement.

Hunter Street, East, to Be Oiled.

Hunter street east from the bridge to Mark street, will be the next section to receive the oil experiment. The Board of Works decided to oil this portion of the road. Ald. Morgan introduced the matter, pointing out that the street has just been renovated, and that it would be a good thoroughfare to try the effect of the oil on. Ald. Hicks, chairman of the Board of Works, thought likewise, and other aldermen had the same opinion. On motion of Aldermen Metheral and Gillespie the work was authorized to be done. The experiment on two blocks of Rubidge street, will of course, be continued.

WESTERN HARVEST IS IN FULL SWING

C.N.R. CROP REPORTS SHOW THE YIELD IS MUCH BETTER THAN WAS EXPECTED.

Men are Badly Needed to Help in the Harvesting—Another Thousand Could Be Easily Placed.

Winnipeg, Aug. 17.—The C.N.R. crop report for the past week announces that the harvesting is in full swing all along their lines, and that the crops are very much better than expected. Crops in Northern Manitoba and Saskatchewan are declared to be unusually good, and in Southern Manitoba lighter.

Other reports from Saskatchewan indicate that the crops between Regina and Saskatoon will be lighter than last year's bumper crop, but by no means a failure, appearances having steadily improved since early in July, and many fields that did not promise to be worth cutting will give fair yields. The southern part of this district has by far the better crop, which is partly due to the earlier settlement of the Long Lake, Lumsden and Regina districts, with consequently greater area followed and better cultivated land.

The scarcity of harvest laborers is by no means at an end. Besides those recently arrived from the east, some four hundred men from Winnipeg have been placed and sent out at a special one cent a mile rate, , and the immigration officers could immediately place another thousand.

The latest reports from the Grand Trunk Pacific headquarters in Montreal are very encouraging as to the crop prospects.

Rivers—Expects wheat to yield 12 to 15 bushels oats 25, barley 25.

About Ingelow crops have been greatly revived by recent rains.

Lazare—Reports that wheat will average 30 bushels per acre, oats 60, barley 40.

Portage La Prairie—Farmers expect 16 bushels of wheat per acre.

Uno—Looks for 20 bushels.

Cayo—25 bushels to the acre.

Ituna—Reports say that the harvest in that section will be as good as last year.

Cumora—Is looking for 30 bushels of oats to the acre, despite the dry season.

Coblex—Reports wheat probably 15 bushels to 20 acres.

Kingsley—Because of the draught will not reap more than 12 bushels per acre.

Kelliher—Is most fortunate. In that district there is every indication of 25 bushels of wheat to the acre.

Biggar—Reports that in this district about 20 bushels per acre.

Balgarres—Looks for 30 bushels.

Regina—16 to 20.

Melville—23.

Yorkton—26.

Punniehy—20.

Landis—Half a crop.

Chamberlain—12 bushels.

Scott—16.

And this is about the way the report averages except in Wainwright and also about Tramping Lake. In the latter district the yield will be from 25 to 30 bushels per acre.

THE POLICE IN HOT CHASE AFTER SUSPECTED BURGLAR

ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN MAN WHO WAS IMPLICATED IN RECENT BURGLARIES.

And Was Wearing Clothes, Similar to Those That Were Stolen from the Evan's Clothing House.

"He made a good get away." was the remark heard yesterday at noon by a young man, with a cigar in his mouth at the angle of 45 degrees, and whose face and nimble cue are notoriously familiar in local pool rooms. The young man with the aggressively pointed 2 for 5, combination of cabbage leaves in his mouth was right. He got away, but it was no fault of the police. The gentle, who "got away" is the man suspected of having had a hand in some if not all, the six burglaries committed in this city since Friday last.

Our readers will remember that in Tuesday's issue of The Times, we printed an account of the various midnight calls made on six of our local merchants by uninvited guests, who carried away valuable souvenirs of their respective visits. Among those who contributed to this enterprising midnight marauders were, Messrs. Bruce Patterson's barber shop, where the burglars took cash and razors, the latter evidently to improve sartorial conditions; Hickey's shoe shop, where his neither extremities were attended to, and a few pairs of shoes over for sale; Mr. George Evans, the Hunter street tailor, with whom the caller exchanged a suit of worn out togs for a brand new fashionable suit. Mr. J. R. Bell, Hunter street, who, in the evening's program of the burglar's events, put the supper, a choice menu, including everything from cakes to olives and imported sardines; and one or two other merchants were honored by a call from this enterprising disciple of Arsene Lupin.

THE CHASE.

Well, yesterday morning, Mr. Geo. Evans, the Hunter street tailor, having occasion to go out to the alley back of his shop, saw a man making towards the rear of the American Hotel. The man, who might be possibly about 23 to 25 years of age, had clothes on. This since the days of Adam and Eve, was not unnatural However, what caught the trained eye of the tailor was that the man he saw wore a suit, a kind of greenish blue faint check, that resembled one of those stolen from him, as closely as does one seed resemble another in the same cucumber. The cut, the style, the pattern and the color were exactly corroborative. Mr. Evans at once communicated with the police station. Chief Thompson and Constable Meharry were on the spot as quickly as though word had arrived that a maiden aunt worth millions, was dying in Patagonia and would leave her money to the relative answering a call the quickest. To get back to sense and facts, the officers held a ten-second parley and a plan was arranged. Chief Thompson went to the front of the American House, to prevent egress by the suspected man on Hunter street, whilst P. C. Meharry commanded the rear guard in the alley. The suspected man must, to use a slang expression, have "got wise," and beat a hasty retreat east wards towards Chambers street. P. C. Meharry seeing him pass, put on a spurt after the man in the new suit that would make an athlete sit up and take notice. The suspect, avoiding Officer Meharry at the rear of Lynch's drug store took a ten-cylinder automobile gait north up Chambers street, crossed Brock St, and fled up the narrow private lane, just to the west of J. W. Craig's furniture shop. The officer, in full notice to him made a good spurt but before he got across Brock St., the supposed criminal was out of sight. Chief Thompson and Meharry followed up the alley referred to and searched every available hiding place between Brock and Murray streets. The officer even climbed to the hay loft of an intervening barn, looking for his prey. On arrival at Murray street, the chief made enquiries from people living or working at either side of the lane opening on that thoroughfare. Here the replies were somewhat contradictory, and consequently unsatisfactory. One lady assured The Times' representative who, with about 50 small boys and almost as many men, followed the chase, that she had seen a man "wearing a blue suit and a big felt hat" leave the alley, but she could not remember which way he went. The policemen, after making all possible enquires, in the neighborhood, returned to the station. From the quick work done by Chief Thompson and P. C. Meharry during the chase, or possibly more, previous to it, there is little doubt but what the escaping man will soon be behind the bars. Officer Meharry certainly put in all the speed he could attain during the chase, as the sweat rolled from his face in minature torrents..

Cold Storage for Fruit from Canada to Britain

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Mr. J. A. Ruddick of Ottawa, Dominion Cold storage commissioner, has come to Toronto with an announcement which will greatly encourage and facilitate the export trade in early apples and tender fruits from Canada to Great Britain.

Arrangements have been made for the reservation of cold storage fruit on the steamers leaving Montreal Glasgow, London, Liverpool and Bristol on September 17th and 24th and October 1st, and one for Glasgow on September 8th.

Each steamer is provided with one cold storage chamber available for the fruit at the regular freight rates. It is possible that the government will arrange with the railways to run one or more cold storage cars weekly to Montreal to convoy the export fruit to the steamers.

Prospective exporters will be required to apply for reservations specifying the kind of fruit, not later than the morning previous to the date of sailing.

Mr. Ruddick has arranged to conduct Hon. Lady Egerton and several other members of Lord Brassey's party, which is expected to reach Toronto tomorrow, on a motor tour through the Niagara fruit district.

Daring Young Spaniard Crossed the Channel

London, Aug. 17.—For the first time in the history of aviation the English channel was crossed today by two men in one aeroplane. This made the fourth time the channel has been flown over in a little more than a year. Aviator John Moissant, a young Spaniard, who left Paris last night headed for London, arrived near Deal this morning. With him was his mechanician, who had accompanied him from Amiens, whence he departed early this morning.

PITCHED IN THE CLOUDS.

Though Mo machine pitched terrifically in stiff blows over the channel, and the cold was so intense that the men were almost frozen, they covered 26 miles in 36 minutes coming from Calais.

After warming himself, Moissant said he would hasten on, aiming at the Crystal Palace, London.

CROWDS GATHERING.

When word that the daring youth was starting for the Crystal Palace reached London, crowds began to assemble at that place. The afternoon papers put out extras and the public snapped them up as fast as they could be printed. Within a sort time taxicabs, hansoms and two wheelers were racing for Crystal Palace, and every bus headed in that direction was jammed.

Is Alfonso's Stand Due to Spain's Queen?

Rome, Aug. 17.—An English woman is responsible for the growing religious liberalism in Spain and the rupture between the Spanish Government and the vatican, in the opinion of many clerical dignitaries. The woman is Queen Victoria of Spain, formerly Princess Ena of Battenberg.

To the foreign influence that the Queen and her English family have exerted over Alfonso is attributed the present acute situation. Unconsciously, it is pointed out, Alfonso's views have been changed by association with members of his wife's family, who have frequently visited his own court, and with whom he has visited, and is visiting in England.

Alfonso's decree extending a larger measure of liberty to Protestant churches in Spain to please the Anglicans, who have been allowed to open twenty-five chapels and eighty schools there since Alfonso and Ena were married, is proof of this foreign influence in the opinion of Vatican officials.

ARREST IN MIDLAND CHARGE OF ARSON

After Special Investigation by Superintendent Rogers and Inspector Greer, Percy Barry, Aged 19, is Charged With Crime.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—As a result of the investigations of Superintendent Rogers and Inspector Greer, two arrests have been made in the Midland arson cases, Percy Barry, charged with the crime, and Howard Payette, as accessory after the fact. The preliminary hearing will take place this afternoon before the local magistrate.

Messrs. Rogers and Greer returned this morning from Midland, where they spent yesterday on the case. Additional information was secured from Payette implicating Barry in the crime, and it was on the strength of this that his arrest followed. Barry had been employed on Mr. James Playfair's yacht for a week, but had not received his meals, as the yacht was not in commission. In an action afterwards to recover he failed, and according to Payette he made threats to burn down the house. Mr. Playfair found a fire started and oil soaked rags at the back of his house.

There had been a series of fires in Midland, but only one charge is laid against Barry. He is only 19 years of age. The arrest of Barry terminates the fire inquest.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S IMMIGRATION EFFORTS.

The province of New Brunswick has established an office in London, chiefly for immigration purposes. These offices were formally opened last week by Lord Strathcona. For many years New Brunswick was represented by an agent-general, who performed the ceremonial and social functions of the position, and transacted any financial business that might be required. The late Hon. Jas. I. Fellows and Mr. Duff Miller, who held these positions, carried on private business in London and attended in their offices to such affairs of the province as required their attention.

Previous to the advent of the Hazen administration little attempt had been made in late years to encourage immigration to New Brunswick, but the present minister took up seriously the work of obtaining farm settlers from the United Kingdom. The Western movements from the Eastern provinces has made room for many new settlers in the older districts, while New Brunswick has vast quantities of uncleared land. Everywhere in the East, as in the West, there is a demand for farm laborers and for domestic servants. Mr. Hazen has not filled the office of agent-general, but has opened immigration offices, and finding as English farmer who had moved to New Brunswick and succeeded well on the land, he sent him to his native country to persuade others. Nova Scotia a few years ago began aggressive immigration work, laying special stress on the capacity of the province for fruit growing. While the movement of population toward the Maritime Provinces is small compared with that to this province and the prairie region, it goes some way to compensate the Acadian country for the farmers they are constantly giving to the Canadian West and the movement to United States, which never wholly ceases. Unless something is done to make good this loss the Eastern provinces will not only fail to increase in population, but cannot hold their own.

Mr. "Pat" Cunningham, Guelph, Ont., with headquarters at Berlin, socialist organizer, spoke on the market square last evening to a large audience.

FAUX UNDER ARREST

At a late hour last night Chief Thompson, together with P. C.'s Newhall and Meharry, captured the alleged burglar Faux, who eluded P. C. Meharry earlier in the afternoon in the lane in the rear of the American House. Faux was arrested in his home in Ashburnham, and is now behind the bars. The chief and P. C. Newhall entered the house, while Meharry remained on gaurd outside.

Chief Thompson was confident of capturing his man before morning. After he had cleverly blocked every means of him getting out of the city he set his men to work on the "Faux hunt," searching every likely place the prisoner might drop in at to be under cover from the officers, and it was only a matter of time until the Faux was captured.

A RARE CHANCE.

Remember That Asbestos is Daily Increasing in Use in Electrical Work.

Any intelligent man of business, or busy manufacturer knows that asbestos is, of all mineral substances, greatly in demand. Asbestos is essential to makers of electrical apparatus of all kinds, and is used freely in the manufacture of paints and many other commodities. The Province of Quebec has in the past supplied the great majority of the asbestos used throughout the world. Now however, rich asbestos lands have been discovered in the State of Wyoming. This mineral as found there is of a better grade than most of the Quebec product. Fortunately also the Wyoming asbestos lands are within easy access of cheap transportation. The Rochester and Wyoming Asbestos Co., whose advertisement appears in this issue, have secured a rich asbestos property in Wyoming, and are as noticed in the adv. offering a limited number of shares at $1 per share. The proposition is well worth investigation.

CRIPPEN SUES DAILY CHRONICLE

EDITOR WHO PUBLISHED INTIMATION THAT HE WAS GUILTY IS PROSECUTED.

Contempt of Court Case—Prisoner Denies Making Confession or Admission of Guilt.

London, Aug. 17.—An attempt was made today to have the editor and proprietors of the London Chronicle cited for contempt on account of the paper's intimation that Dr. H. H. Crippen, the supposed wife murderer, poisoned his wife.

Barrister Huntley Jenkins, who will assist Solicitor Arthur Newton, in Crippen's defence, appeared before Judge Sir Samuel Evans with the request that the editor and proprietors be summoned to court.

Jenkins also complained of the Chronicle's assertion that the Canadians believed that the denials of Crippen's alleged confession were based on the distinction between an admission and a confession. Jenkins showed the judge a cablegram that Crippen had sent to Newton, in which he denied making either a confession or an admission.

Judge Evans decided that he lacked authority to issue the summons owing to the fact that two judges were on vacation and there was not a full appeal bench sitting. Jenkins accordingly arranged to take up the matter in the Criminal Appeal Court on Friday.

Carlists Call for a Holy War on Accursed and Impious Government

ARE ENGAGED IN ACTIVE PREPARATIONS FOR SERIES OF OPEN AIR DEMONSTRATIONS.

The Blessing of Pontiff—Roman Catholics Urged to Be Ready to Sacrifice Their Lives.

Barcelona, Aug. 17.—The Catholic Carlists of Catalonia are engaged in active preparations for a series of open air demonstrations throughout Catalonia, August 28. The proclamations issued by them, summon the faithful to come to the defence of "holy religion and the Mother church. They refer to the "accursed government," and abjure the people to come armed all ready to sacrifice their lives for the pope, who has sent his blessing from Rome. The proclamations terminate in these words:

"Exterminate the incendiaries of convents and the violators of nuns. May God help us to overthrow this impious government."

LIBERALS UNITED.

San Sebastian, Aug. 17.—A semi-official note, issued here today, characterizes as utterly misleading the intimations published recently in the "Observatore Romano," in connection with the demand of the vatican for the withdrawal of the bill interdicting the presence in Spain of religious organizations not now in the country, until such time as the law permitting non-Catholic bodies to display insignia of worship is passed.

This note says:

Cardinal Merry Del Val's demand for the withdrawal of this bill was presented only a few hours before the cortes adjourned; it was therefore his design to humiliate the civic power and provoke a rupture under the delusion that such rupture would mean the fall of the government; and that the Liberal groups in Spain are now more united than ever, while the vatican impassively awaits the reopening of the cortes.

In conclusion this note says the government now intends to rely on its own resources, and that the measures necessary to put an end to the conflict will be voted with enthusiasm.

Madrid, Aug. 17.—The government today decided to forbid the Carlist Republican meetings, which were being arranged to be held throughout Catalonia, Aug. 28. The tone of the announcements of the intended demonstration was such that disorder was feared.

CHEST INFLAMMATION.

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.

"Nerviline" Cured Quickly.

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold. I rubbed it on my chest till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chester and shoulders, morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have had no more colds and pleurisy and enjoy perfect health.

NERVILINE CURES CHEST COLDS

It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures, lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica and rheumatism. Refuse any substitute your dealer may suggest—insist on Nerviline only. Large 25c. bottles, five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

SOUR MILK AS CURE OR ELIXIR.

Some two or three years ago we seemed to be threatened with a sour milk craze, Dr. Metchnikoff and others having named "lactic acid" as a means of prolonging life or staving off old age. Now the question is treated soberly and scientifically by the medical profession, and the intelligent layman is able to learn what the real virtue of the curdled milk cure is, and to what extent it may be healthfully used.

At one of the sections of the British Medical Association several speakers presented the results of their experiments with sour milk cures. In some instances the treatment has done more harm than good; excessive or indiscriminate consumption of sour milk leads to rheumatism in some form or other; but moderate consumption of the article is good for everybody. It is an excellent nutrient where it is not much of a therapeutic agent.

The cases which are materially improved by the sour milk treatment fall under three heads—those suffering from toxins and are unable easily to eliminate them; those who suffer from irritation of the intestinal mucosa caused by certain microorganisms which cannot live in an acid medium, and those who have imaginary maladies and need a little faith healing or suggestion.

There are bacilli in curdled milk which wage successful war on pathogenic germs that invade the intestinal tract and commit ravages there. To introduce proper quantities of sour milk into the tract in such cases is to manufacture an antiseptic exactly where it is needed. Hence the vague feeling that curdled milk saves and prolongs life. It does—but not always and necessarily. It is no elixir of life, no panacea. It is well for all of us, apparently, to take it moderately, but only physicians know where it should be prescribed as a "cure." Do not, however, take "tabloids" unless they are fresh, and remember that the fluid is to be preferred to any tabloid.

106 acres of absolutely proven oil land on Sulphur Mountain, adjoining and between the Liberty and Puritan Oil Companies' property. Ten miles from Santa Paula, Ventura Co., Calif.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, lying as it does with the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the south, the LIBERTY OIL CO. producing on the west, the RAMS HILL OIL CO. producing on the north, which each pumping 50 barrels per day, and Puritan Oil Co. is commencing drilling on the east. Also it is located in a district of BIG PRODUCING COMPANIES, such as Gird Petroleum, Primrose Oil Co., Caledonia Consolidated Oil Co., Rehill Oil Co., and many others. THERE IS NO QUESTION ABOUT THIS COMPANY GETTING OIL. It is possible that the first well may be a dry hole, but the next will be a gusher, which would make the ATLANTA OIL COMPANY worth $20 per share. Our engineers have investigated every foot of the ground and know the exact location of the property, which enables us, at a minimum cost, to LAY OUT OUR DRILLING PROGRAM to the best advantage. VENTURA CO., CAL., possesses the oil fields of the future. It is the home of HIGH GRAVITY OIL. VENTURA COUNTY OIL is sold at a premium of 25 cents per barrel to the producer. THE GREAT SHELL OIL CO. pay the owner in VENTURA CO. and has paid over $700,000 in royalties to date. These GREAT AGENCIES had a small beginning in the WILD CATS. SUCCESS WILL ATTEND THE EFFORT OF ATLANTA OIL CO. properly. The demand for OIL AND GAS PRODUCTS NEVER EXCEEDED THE SUPPLY as it continues to do. THE OIL PRICE IS ENHANCED upon the higher gravity fuels are discovered. The OIL PRICE IS ENHANCED upon the higher gravity fuels are discovered. The demand is caused by the increased market for gasoline. Throughout the world the number of automobiles and internal combustion engines are now being installed in the place of high priced steam machinery. Gasoline users are now looking to VENTURA COUNTY, which are said to be the most productive sources. THIS IS THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of ground floor shares of ATLANTA OIL CO., and may be withdrawn at any time. Only 60,000 shares are on sale. ACT NOW. WRITE FOR LATEST NEWS OF VENTURA OIL FIELDS.

SHE CLAIMS TO BE THE OLDEST WOMAN ALIVE.

Born in May, 1764. She is Now Entering on Her 147th Year.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—The claim of Frau Dutkiewitz of Posen, born on February 21st, 1765, to be the oldest woman in the world, is now contested by Mme. Baba Vanilka, who was born in May, 1764, in the little Bulgarian village Bayelsko, where she has lived ever since. The record of her birth is preserved in a neighboring monastry of the Orthodox Greek faith.

She is the daughter of a peasant, and has worked herself as a peasant up till a comparatively recent date. For more than 100 years she regularly worked in the fields, according to the custom of her country, where women are employed in all sorts of manual labor.

The events of her life up to the time when she attained the age of 80 are far more distinctly impressed on her mind than the happenings of the last 46 years.

Her son, Todor, following the family tradition, has also worked in the fields as a peasant nearly all his life, but he has also taken part in various wars and rebellions in the Balkan peninsula. He is not quite so fresh and vigorous as his mother although he is still capable of doing a good day's work, and enjoying such small luxuries of life as a pipe and the strong spirits drank by the Bulgarian populace.

The oldest woman in the world is said to enjoy fairly good eyesight and good hearing, and she is able to walk without support. She lives on a pension paid to her by many of her descendants, who number more than 100.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

No pains have been spared in placing exact and reliable information at the command of everyone interested. All the facts may be obtained by everyone who writes or calls upon the home office of the company.

Highest Possible Endorsements

Remember that INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS has the highest possible endorsements. Henry C. Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

Write to-day. Get the information that will be furnished and study the facts. Make your subscription as large as you can carry.

Use the attached coupons, and if you are not satisfied after investigating and considering the statements that will be supplied you, your money will be returned without question.

PORCUPINE CITY

THE PORCUPINE BOOM has started. The district is proven. It is today the greatest Gold Camp in the world.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

The Townsite has already the "Porcupine Post Office," two Banks, one 75-room Hotel, general stores, hardware stores, hospital, a drug store, bakery, theatorium, laundry, several office buildings, and numerous boarding houses and dwellings.

Townsite lots worth today from $60.00 to $300.00 should treble in value by Christmas, and be worth many times this amount within the next year or two.

SUDBURY, COBALT, HAILEYBURY and NORTH BAY have returned fortunes to the original investors in their real estate when those towns were young. They thrived on the returns from the baser metals—copper and silver.

Another Death Under Christian Science.

A Lindsay despatch says that: The death took place at Bobcaygeon on Tuesday of Robert Orr, a well known resident of the village, who resided with his sister, Both were Christian Scientists, and when Mr. Orr took ill some months ago, no physicians were called in. A request was made to Dr. Wallace for a burial certificate, but that gentleman refused to issue one. Dr. Wallace, accordingly notified Dr. Blanchard, coroner, of the circumstances, and acting on the suggestion of Mr. A. P. Devlin, county Crown attorney, he went to Bobcaygeon, to look into the case. He decided that an inquest was unnecessary and the burial certificate was accordidly issued. It is supposed Mr. Orr's death was due to anaemia.

XXXI NO. 185 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO FRIDAY AUGUST 19 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

TWO TRAINS RAN OVER THE TRAMP

MAN CAME FROM THE STATES AND SUCCUMBED TO HIS INJURIES.

Heartless Clergyman—One Man Left Tramp on Track to Be Run Over a Second Time.

Emo, Ont., Aug. 18.—Strange reports are in circulation with regard to the circumstances regarding the death of a tramp here a few days ago. The man's name is unknown, but he was stealing a ride from Fort Frances on a C.N.R. freight. He was under the influence of liquor, and fell from the car to the track, the train severing both legs and one arm.

It is asserted that a local clergyman was passing at the time, and saw the man, but did not go to his assistance. He contented himself with informing a passing boy about it. The boy informed a doctor, but before the man was given any attention another train passed over him. He was still alive, and a number of men carried him to the doctor's office but he died in two hours.

The authorities decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The deceased had come from the United States, and difficulty was experienced in making arrangements to bury him. The remains were finally interred in the Potter's field. No minister could be secured to take charge of the services.

BETRAYED BY ALARM CLOCK.

Gave Off in Pocket of Shoplifter and She is Arrested.

Paris, Aug. 17.—A woman named Charlotte Berdulli was arrested yesterday morning outside a shop on the Place de la Bastile, and charged by one of the shop's private detectives with stealing cheap jewelry.

She denied the theft indignantly, and refused even more indignantly to allow herself to be searched. "I am the wife of a magistrate," she declared, "and will have you punished for the indignity to which I am being subjected."

Unfortunately for her, an alarm clock which she had stolen, went off at this moment. Mme. Berdulli was searched, and three alarm clocks of small size, two watches and eight brooches of small value were found in a specially made pocket inside her skirt.

KILLED BY A HORSE.

Allan Elmhirst Meets Tragic Death at Havelock.

Allan Elmhirst, a farmer residing a couple of miles east of Havelock, was kicked by a horse yesterday morning and died an hour after. He was 45 years of age, and leaves a wife and four young children. It appears that while driving, something went wrong with the harness, and Elmhirst got out of the rig to fix it, when one of the horses kicked him in the throat, making a wound that caused his death.

The Electricians will have a meeting in a short time to make the necessary arrangements and in the meantime the players will waste no time in getting into shape at once. Although several of the champions have left the city since the last game there are capable substitutes available and the team will be as strong if not stronger than before.

A CRAZY MAN SHOT DOCTOR

DISTRICT AROUND VARS WAS MUCH EXCITED BY THE SHOOTING YESTERDAY.

Blondin Defies Arrest—House is Surrounded, But Besiegers Will Wait for Reinforcements.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—A report is current here that a crazy man is running amuck at Vars, a village on the Grand Trunk, about 16 miles southeast of Ottawa. The news was telephoned in by an excited person. As a result a special train with doctors and police is being prepared. It is understood that at least one person has been badly wounded.

Later reports declare the man who was shot was Dr. Empey, who was shot in his house. A man named Blondin, who is supposed to be out of his head, did the shooting, and defied arrest. He is still in the house which is surrounded. No firing has occurred, the besiegers awaiting reinforcements.

Dr. Empey is still living, but is likely to die.

It appears Blondin, whose Christian name is Arthur, sent his daughter to summon the physician. As the doctor turned his back, it is alleged Blondin fired. The bullet found what is regarded as a vital spot. Blondin rushed out, stark mad, and defied the whole village. The residents fled in terror, but watch was kept on the man while police aid was summoned from South Indian and Ottawa, Dr. Webster, a prominent surgeon of this city, has gone out in a special train.

Brains Rule This World

Not muscle, but brains governing muscle.

The quality of brains can be changed by certain selection of food.

A food expert perfected a brain-building food by preparing certain elements in wheat and barley in a way that nature would make use of. That food is

Grape-Nuts

In it the Potassium Phosphate, obtained from nature's grains (not from the drug shop) is retained in minute particles. This has an affinity for Albumen, and these two with water make the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve centres.

ROME NO LONGER TO RULE THE PEOPLE OF SPAIN

THE SPANISH PREMIER TAKES A BOLD STAND AGAINST THE VATICAN.

The So-Called Religious Agitation Has Not Subsided—A Manifesto Issued to the Country Contains Bitter Attacks on Government.

Propaganda Among the Illiterate Peasants is Very Dangerous—Predicts Republic in Spain.

San Sebastian, Aug. 17.—The so-called religious agitation has not subsided. A manifesto issued to the country by the Bilbao junta contains bitter attacks on the government for the suppression of the San Sebastian parade. The directors of this agitation undoubtedly are Carlists. But they assume the defence of the pope without mentioning their true aim, because the Carlists, besides being weaker numerically than the republicans or monarchists, are divided into two groups irreconcilable each with the other.

There are also other elements here called Biscayitarras, who are unfavorable to the Carlists and perhaps stronger than the latter, who aim at the separation of the northern provinces from Spain. They reject Carlism because its triumph would mean a united Spanish monarchy, but they agree with it on the question of the church. The Biscayitarras are staunchly in favor of the vatican. Moreover, the country priests, whose influence in the small villages and among the ignorant peasants is as strong today as it was in the sixteenth century, and the friars and the religious orders back up the juntas with great enthusiasm.

Peril in Propaganda.

Their propaganda among the illiterate peasants is very dangerous. They are said to be spreading a report that the government intends to charge a fee for all attending mass; that the churches are going to be pulled down and replaced by circuses and houses of ill-repute; that Catholics will be forbidden to bury their dead in Catholic cemeteries and other similar inventions which greatly influence the minds of the country residents.

Such are the programs which confront the Canalejas government. His energy commands much praise from all sides, but everybody here knows that while the king earnestly congratulated the premier for having prevented bloodshed at San Sebastian and public opinion supports him, the moment a serious armed conflict takes place a cabinet crisis will be the result.

Predicts Republic in Spain.

Paris, Aug. 17.—In an interview with the Madrid correspondent of the Temps, Alejandro Lerroux, chief of the republicans at Barcelona, says that while the republicans support Premier Canalejas, it would be impossible for him to accomplish more than a modus vivendi with the vatican, as the senate will block the way to a constitutional reform.

Senor Lerroux is of the opinion that Captain General Weyler, who was sent to San Sebastian in anticipation of trouble there will succeed in preventing disorders, pending the return of the conservatives, but his victory will be only temporary. Spain, he declares is heading straight for a revolution and a republic.

"THE OTHER DOMINION."

Lord Plunket, the retiring Governor of New Zealand, is almost as enthusiastic concerning the future of that Dominion as Earl Grey is about the future of Canada. He is returning to England by way of Australia, and while there has expressed the hope of closer co-operation between the Dominion and the Commonwealth. Both are enthusiastic in their assistance to Imperial defence. New Zealand accepts the Military College of Australia as a place of training for her own officers. But New Zealand is especially a Maritime country. She has large fishing interests, good harbors, and a plentiful coal supply. "I look to New Zealand as the Britain of the South," says Lord Plunket. He believes that she has already the largest shipping organization south of the equator, and her fleet is rapidly growing. Of course, New Zealand is a small colony compared with Canada or Australia. She has only a million white people. They have accomplished a great deal in the last few years, and Lord Plunket says that they will do a great deal more when the population is two millions, which number could easily be maintained by agriculture alone.

Arnst Holds World's Sculling Championship

Livingstone, Rhodesia, Aug. 16.—The sculling match for the championship of the world between Richard Arnst of New Zealand, and Ernest Barry of London, was won today by Arnst, the champion, by two lengths. The race was rowed upon the Zambesi river, a short distance from the famous Victoria Falls over a course of three and a half miles. The stakes were $2,500 a side.

A FINE COURSE.

The men met upon an ideal course, a fine stretch of river, half a mile in width, within sight of the island from which Dr. Livingston 55 years ago caught his first view of the Victoria Falls.

Until a time within the memory of living men the scene of the race lay in an unexplored part of the dark continent, never looked upon by white men, but the river banks where not long ago the crocodile and hippopotamus held unchallenged away were today thickly lined with holiday makers brought here by the railway completed in 1904.

MOVING PICTURES OF RACE.

Tugs with cinematographs darted about the river, taking pictures of the race, and other usual accompaniments of racing contests in the olders countries were not lacking.

The Zambesi was selected as a compromise location for the race. Arnst, who has held the championship for three years, objecting to to the expense of the trip to England, while Barry, who is a Thames veteran, and the holder of the English sculling championship, opposed the long journey to New Zealand.

Triple Lynching Certain to Follow the Capture of Negroes

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 16.—With a triple lynching almost certain to follow their capture, armed citizens of Bay Minnette, Alta., are today pursuing three negroes, who last night shot and killed Marshal Joseph Smith. Bloodhounds and officers were sent from Mobile to assist in the search.

On the request of a white woman in front of whose home three negroes were loitering, Marshal Smith went to arrest the negroes. Two of the negroes opened fire when the officer approached, killing Smith instantly.

Druggist Gave Young Lady Poison and Mistake Proves Fatal

Lucknow, Ont., Aug. 16.—Margaret Murray of Detroit, who has been visiting here at the home of her uncle, D. Murray, died yesterday as the result of taking a poisonious medicine dispensed in error by a local druggist.

An inquest is being held today.

Miss Murray was 19 years old, and the daughter of a prominent dry goods merchant in Detroit, who survives her as does her mother and sister. She had asked for Rochelle salts and was given a preparation taken from a jar labelled to be such, but which had been wrongly filled with another powder. Apparently she was the first and only person to get the wrong preparation.

The unfortunate druggist is J. D. Armstrong, a young man, who has been here for five or six years, and who has always enjoyed the best of reputations.

Teething children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels more than natural and then castor oil to cleanse the system. It is safe and sure. Sold by all dealers.

Taft and Roosevelt Have Fallen Out

New York, Aug. 16.—Staff correspondents of the World, Sun, and Herald unite today in their despatches from Oyster Bay in declaring that an open rupture exists between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt.

The Herald says:

"Theodore Roosevelt will not endorse the Taft administration. The final break between the president and his predecessor came with the selection by the Republican State Committee of Vice-President James S. Sherman as temporary chairman of the Saratoga convention. These assurances came tonight from an absolutely authentic source. There will be no peace truce between Sagamore Hill and Beverley.

"Those close to Mr. Roosevelt make the startling charge that a political deal was entered into between Mr. Woodruff, William Ward, Republican national committeeman, and Vice-President Sherman, on one hand and the close political advisers of President Taft on the other, whereby Mr. Woodruff was to be re-elected state chairman and Mr. Sherman temporary chairman of the State convention. Mr. Woodruff has pledged to President Taft the New York delegation to the national convention in 1912, in return for the president's support.

"The ex-president will have no word of criticism for the man whom he chose as his successor in the White House. It will not be a surprise, however, to those who are close to Mr. Roosevelt if he finds himself placed in such a position that he will be forced to become an avowed candidate for the presidential nomination in 1912."

MADE A BARTER.

The Sun story says:

"It can be positively stated that Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt have broken. From Trustworthy sources it can be stated tonight that the turning down of Roosevelt is taken by Roosevelt men to be a deal between the administration and members of the New York State Committee, whereby the old guard is to hand over its delegates to Taft in 1912 in return for the administration's backing in the forthcoming campaign. Conferences between the president and Woodruff, Ward and Sherman followed the defeat of the Direct Nominations Bill, which Roosevelt endorsed."

TAFT WANTS SECOND TERM.

The World's story says:

"Between President Taft and Col. Roosevelt, who made President Taft there is a complete break that appears so wide that no bridge can be thrown across it.

"With his eyes open, Col. Roosevelt is said by his friends to have let Griscom lead him to the slaughter."

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gently stimulate the liver and bowels to expel poisonious matter, cleanse the system, cure constipation and sick headache. Sold by all dealers.

QUEBEC RIVALLED.

Wyoming is Producing Asbestos That in Quantity and Quality is the Best.

The Quebec Asbestos mines which for years have had a practical monopoly of the output of asbestos, are now compelled to meet a serious competition. The State of Wyoming is now producing asbestos that, in quantity and quality, equal, and in many instances excels that of the lower province. It is needless to say that this mineral is in immense and daily growing demand.

The International Asbestos Mills & Power Co., 232 St. James St., Montreal, or 612 Gemmel Building, Kansas City, Mo., U.S.A., has a magnificent asbestos property in Wyoming, with a mill erected which will soon turn out 200 tons of asbestos rock. This company is offering a limited amount of stock at 15c per share. For full information see large adv. in this issue.

THE LATE ALEXANDER BROWN.

Demise of a Former Resident of the County.

Mr. Alexander Brown, a former resident of Apsley, passed away at the family residence, 230 Perry Street, on Wednesday last, 17th inst., at the age of 75 years. Mr. Brown had been a resident of Burleigh for 37 years, where he filled the position of Reeve and Councellor of that township. Ten years ago he removed to Hymers, west of Port Arthur, where he very successfully conducted a general store, up to a short time ago, when he disposed of the business and moved to this city, arriving here on July 1st. Following an attack of grip, his health became poor, and notwithstanding the efforts of his physician and the loving kindness of his wife and daughter, he gradually sank until the end came as above.

Mr. Brown leaves a devoted wife and family, as follows: Miss Brown, at home; Mrs. Lindsay, Port Arthur; Mrs. Welsh and Mrs. Parker, Hymers; Alex. and Malcom, Hymers, and Mr. Duncan Brown, Apsley. He was a Liberal in politics and a staunch Presbyterian in religion. In his public and business life, he was a man among men, and was much respected. A model husband and an indulgent father, he will be sadly missed by those nearest and dearest to him.

The funeral will leave the family residence this Friday afternoon at two o'clock, 230 Perry Street, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

JEALOUS MAN MURDERS HIS WIFE

JOHN O'KEEFE SHOT HIS WIFE DURING A QUARREL LASTING SEVERAL DAYS.

A Montreal Tragedy—He Called His Six Children, Told Them What He Did, and Shot Himself.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—John O'Keefe, a foreman in the Dominion Cotton Mills, who lived at 135 Logan street woke up his six children at three o'clock this morning and called them around him.

"I have killed your mother," he said, "and I am going to kill myself."

Five minutes later a report was heard, and the man was found lying dead on the kitchen floor, with a bullet hole in his temple.

The younger children had gone back to bed, too frightened to take any action. Winnifred, the eldest, 16 years of age, saw a terrible tragedy in her father's words. She rushed out of the house and made her way to the police station.

"A man has shot a woman, and is going to shoot himself," she cried to the sergeant in charge.

A constable was sent to 135 Logan street. He found O'Keefe lying in a pool of blood in the kitchen. His wife was found lying on a blood-soaked bed. She had been dead for some time from a gaping bullet wound in her head.

The neighbors declare that O'Keefe and his wife used to quarrel frequently, and he was madly jealous of her. For the past two weeks they had been living at peace, however.

An inquest was held this morning, and a verdict of murder and suicide given by the jury after hearing the story told by the children.

Winnifred O'Keefe said that her father and mother had had a quarrel which began about nine o'clock Tuesday night. The quarrel continued till last night, and her three brothers, sisters, and herself went to bed. About three in the morning there was a shot fired, and her father called them all around him, and after kissing them all, he said that he had shot their mother. Then he went out into the kitchen, and there was another shot, and they found that he had shot himself. Then the police came in and they took their father and mother away.

The little girl, who is the eldest of the family, but is only 16 years of age, was overcome with emotion when she was telling her story.

An Ideal Sunday Newspaper.

Recent issues of the Sunday Record-Herald remind one that Chicago may fairly lay claim to producing the best newspapers in the world, not excepting those of New York. The Sunday Record-Herald, in foreign news alone, has its own special cable service, in addition to those of the New York Herald, World, Journal of Commerce and Associated Press. This is a fair example of the completeness of the paper in every department.

Aside from the regular news features, there is something in the Sunday Record Herald for every member of the family. The special articles by William E. Curtis and Walter Wellman, are always interesting. The sporting section offers four whole pages of fresh and authentic news in every line of sport. The women's section is filled with well illustrated articles on the latest wrinkles in fashion and domestic science, with Marion Harland and Mme. Qui Vive as regular contributors, and Dame Curtsey's "Novelties in Entertainment" as a valued feature. The dramatic page written by James O'Donnell Bennett, is admittedly without an equal in the West. The array of splendid special articles by skilled writers, finely illustrated, also is typical of the high literary quality of the Record-Herald. In the way of humor there is the comic colored supplement for children, besides H. Little's laughable articles for adults and S. E. Kiser's delightful "Alternating Currents" for everybody.

But the thing that lifts the Sunday Record-Herald most emphatically above all its rivals is its magazine section. There is nothing else that can touch this in American journalism. The Sunday magazine of the Record-Herald is a real magazine, full of stories and articles by the most famous writers of our day, illustrated by celebrated artists. In quality and beauty it compares favorably with the best monthlies. No wonder the Record-Herald is regarded as the ideal Sunday newspaper.

NO GROG TUB ON CANADA'S NAVY

THE RAINBOW, THE FIRST WARSHIP PURCHASED, HAS SAILED FROM PORTSMOUTH.

The Immigration Figures—127,295 People Came to Canada in Seven Months—Other Cable Despatches.

London, Aug. 16.—Rear Admiral Kingsmill, director of the Canadian Naval Service, yesterday inspected the Rainbow, the first warship purchased by Canada, which sails from Portsmouth today.

She is the first war vessel to sail for a long time without a grog tub, as practically all the crew are teetotalers. Liberal messing arrangements have been made, however. Lord Strathcona presented the officers with a service of plate.

IMMIGRATION FIGURES.

London, Aug. 16.—During the seven months ending July 172,590 persons sailed to the United States, 127,295 to Canada, 21,168 to Australia, and 14,467 to South Africa. T. H. Williamson, head of the emigration committee of the central unemployed body, who is now in Australia, states that Australia offers better inducements to immigrants, and that the satisfactory reports made by emigrants have brought the Commonwealth into great prominence.

DROWNED AT WANAPITAE.

Brother of Messrs. Isaac and Thos. Eastwood Loses His Life.

Yesterday word was received in the city of the drowning at Wanapitae, of Mr. R. M. Eastwood, brother of Mr. Isaac Eastwood, of the Palace Hotel, Hunter street, and Mr. Thomas Eastwood, of Buckhorn Hotel. The former, left at once for Wanapitae. The remains were recovered yesterday morning.

The deceased was well and favorably known by many in Peterborough and surrounding country, who will exceedingly regret his death.

ACUTE DYSPEPSIA.

Restoration of Stomach Power Comes Quickly With the Right Medicine.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmons, of Newbridge P.O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvellous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon glowed within me. I can now eat, sleep and live like a live man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They are sure to do you good. 25c. per box at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

WHAT IT COSTS TO FLY.

The cost of aviation in terms of human life, has been widely considered. Its cost in dollars and cents has received less attention, but it is considerable.

The initial cost of an aeroplane may be anywhere between $1,000 and $5,000. An unlucky accident may make the machine a total loss before it has been two minutes in the air. Even if it survives its earliest experiences, every flight reduces its value and affects its stability.

A large force of auxiliary hands must be employed. The aeroplane is a queen bee that requires the attendance of the whole hive. A swarm of mechanicians and helpers must always be on hand. Fifteen or twenty are employed by the most conscienceless aeronauts, and their wages amount to a large sum. Add the charges for the transportation of the unwieldy apparatus, the airman's expenses for board and lodgings and the by no means negligible cost of gasoline. The minimum charges in connection with a first-class meet can scarcely be brought below $500.

The professional flyer recoups himself by charging passengers for short flights, but the price falls as the novelty wanes. There is also the competition of wealthy amateurs who rent only "blankets" the professional in the public eye but also carry their friends for nothing.

Clearly the professional airman — particularly when the risk to life and limb is considered—earns his fee. In the case of exceptionally skillful and noted professionals, the fee may go as high as $10,000, it is still well earned.

A Colorado farmer has gathered 125 bushels of grasshoppers which he intends to dry, so that they may be used for chicken feed next winter. Since a use has been found for grasshoppers we may expect future crops of them to be failures.

Eggs are selling for $2 a dozen in Alaska; but it is hard to carry eggs to Alaska without breaking a good many.

"Independence Centennial of Mexico" September, 1910.

Through the Grand Trunk we have received a copy of a very handsome folder descriptive of Independence Centennial of Mexico, to be held in the city of Mexico during September 1910, and it will afford a good opportunity for business men, manufacturers, etc., as well as tourists to pay a visit to this delightful country and see what has been accomplished in the past one hundred years.

The Grand Trunk offer round trip tickets at low rates, and full information may be had by calling on W. Benton, City Agent in Peterborough, Ont.

SAYS GERMANY WANTS A MUCH BIGGER NAVY.

Socialist Organ Warns Country That Government Intends to Push New Naval Bill.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—The German Socialist newspaper, Vorwarts, warns its readers in the most positive terms that the government intends to introduce another navy bill in 1912, after the next elections for the reichstag.

After pointing out that the shipbuilding industry may be counted on to do its utmost to secure the passage of a new navy law, the Vorwarts declares that a mighty agitation must be set on foot in order to induce the government and the reichstag to adopt the alternative policy of an understanding with Great Britain on the subject of naval armaments. If this fails, the journal says, the competition in armaments will continue.

The well-known writer on naval affairs, the retired Captain von Persius, in an article in the journal Tag on the British and German dreadnoughts, take the German press to task for disputing the accuracy of Mr. Asquith's statements in reference to the German fleet in what the writer calls a spirit of petty fault-finding.

For instance, it was denied here that Germany has five Dreadnoughts ready for war. Captain von Persius points out that though only the first couple of German dreadnoughts—the Nassau and Westfalen—are actually in commission, and the second pair—the Rheinland and Posen—and the cruiser Von der Tann are still engaged in trials, the three later vessels completed their first trials satisfactorily in April and May, and would undoubtedly be commissioned in case of mobilization, and that Mr. Asquith's statements in regard to the ordering of four dreadnoughts for the 1910 program are correct. He finally contends that the hotly controverted assertion of Mr. Asquith that Germany could conceivably build dreadnoughts in 32 or 33 months, instead of the official 36, or even longer period, is also correct.

YOU CAN BUY
INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS
Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be running 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The products we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share in Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

Becker, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Cooper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

(STILL IN QUEBEC.)

FOR CRIPPEN

There is No Hitch at Ottawa Over the Warrants

NO EXCUSE NOW FOR THE NON-REMOVAL OF THE FAMOUS PRISONERS.

Judge Girouard Signed It—Scotland Yard Men Can Remove Both Prisoners When They are Ready.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—There is no hitch at Ottawa, so far as the warrants for the departure of Dr. Crippen and Ethel Leneve are concerned.

These warrants have been signed by Hon. Desire Girouard, the administrator of the government, and have been forwarded to Quebec.

If there is any delay in departure it is probably due to the fact that Detective Dew has not yet got his plans matured for the safe conveying of his charges.

QUEBEC DENIES IT.

Quebec, Aug. 19.—The breach has widened between the English and Provincial authorities in the Crippen affair. Apparently the officers at Parliament House have sided with the Scotland Yard men, and the county officers are being kept utterly in the dark as to developments. The fact remains, however, that until special authority arrives the county officials will not permit the removal of Crippen or Miss Leneve from the jail. This authority has not yet come, and there is reason to expect that it may be delayed for some days yet.

Justice Girouard is at Tadousac, and communication with him is difficult. His order is necessary before Acting Sheriff Begin will permit the removal of the prisoners. Inspector Dew and Sergeant Mitchell are beginning to show the strain they are under. Gleaning any information whatever is a more difficult task than it has been at any time.

CRIPPEN HAS NOT LEFT JAIL.

Quebec, Aug. 19.—Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve are still in Quebec jail. Contrary to confident expectations they did not sail on either the Lake Manitoba or the Royal Edward yesterday. Despite heavy rain a large crowd assembled on the wharf anticipating their departure, but were doomed to disappointment.

Papers for their departure have not yet arrived from Ottawa, and at latest accounts no date has been fixed for their sailing. The rumor is current that they may go by the Megantic, which sails tomorrow afternoon, but this cannot be verified.

AN UNTRUE REPORT.

The Grand Trunk Contradicts a False Rumor.

About the time the report was sent out from St. Paul, that Americans were returning from the Canadian West, there went out from Chicago a wild story to the effect that the Grand Trunk would build or acquire a line from Winnipeg to Chicago for the purpose of diverting the traffic from the National Transcontinental line. The report said "there is good authority for the statement."

Enquiry at the Grand Trunk headquarters brings the answer that no such move is contemplated or even dreamed of. It was, however, hinted that this was only a follow-up by those who tried to construe the extension of the Central Vermont to mean the abandonment of Halifax. The Grand Trunk, it was stated, is eager, and will be ready to operate the Transcontinental the moment it is completed.

BELIEVES WHALE SANK STEAMER

GERMAN CAPTAIN THINKS HE HAS SOLVED FATE OF HALIFAX SAILORS.

Old Mystery Cleared Up—Whaler Duncan Left Canadian Port Seven Years Ago Never to Return.

Philadelphia, Aug. 19.—A seven years' mystery of the sea may be solved through a mishap to the German steamer Pallanza, which struck a whale at sea, nearly cutting the animal in two, and disclosing a harpoon believed to have been used by the little whaler, James T. Duncan, which was lost in 1903. The Duncan sailed from Halifax, N.S., with a crew of seven men in the spring of that year, and has not since been heard from.

Capt. Feudt, of the Pallanza, which has arrived here from Hamburg, reports that he ran into the whale on Aug. 11. The monster was firmly impaled on the prow of the steamer, and died after a terrific struggle. Nine members of the crew were let down to chop away the car cass, and one of the sailors found the harpoon imbedded in the whale.

Upon the end of the harpoon was an iron band stamped "J.T.D., 1902," Capt. Feudt keeps a close record of wrecks, and he came to the conclusion that the whale may have been responsible for the loss of the Duncan.

"I think it perfectly safe to say that the Duncan drove this weapon into the whale, and in the struggle which followed, was sunk by a blow from the infuriated monster's tail," he said. "You'd think so, too, if you had seen that whale die."

GREAT BRITAIN ALARMED OVER RAPID SPREAD OF CHOLERA

IT IS BECOMING EPIDEMIC OVER A LARGE PART OF THE CONTINENT.

Great Britain is Concerned—Seventy five Per Cent of the Cases Fatal in Southern Russia.

London, Aug. 19.—With a cholera epidemic throughout Russia and Southern Italy, and with scattered cases in Austria, Germany Holland, Finalnd and Asia, from Southern India to the Chinese frontier, British health authorities today view the situation with evident alarm.

In Russia the disease is spreading rapidly, and its ravages are daily growing more terrible. It is officially admitted that eighty deaths have so far occurred in the Apulia district of Italy. In the other affected countries the disease is becoming more menacing, despite heroic efforts to stamp it out.

Seventy-five per cent. of the cases in Southern Russia are now proving fatal and hundreds are dying daily. In the northern part of Russia, cholera is just as prevalent, but the mortality rate is much lower. Owing to Russia's indifference regarding health statistics it is impossible to give an accurate estimate of the number of cases, or the deaths. It is known, however, that there are numerous localities where there is a scarcely a household that is not affected.

Medical attention in most of the Russian cholera spots is wholly inadequate, and scores of cases have been reported of families deserting their stricken members and fleeing for safety.

Fear has seized upon the population of the affected South Italian cities, according to today's despatches, and the people are deserting the cities for the mountains.

TEN THOUSAND DEATHS.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 19.— One week's cholera record for Russia shows 23,944 new cases of cholera, and 10,726 deaths, bringing the total number of cases in Russia this year to 112,985. Of these 50,267 or nearly half, have died, the exact percentage of mortality being 44.5.

The figures are those furnished by the Sanitary Bureau, covering the week from Aug. 7 to Aug. 13 inclusive, and are therefore fully official. Reports from Red Cross sources indicate that the actual fires are somewhat greater, as it is impossible to register every case in an epidemic of such proportions.

Deportation Officer Misses His Man.

Mr. P. Devlin, Kingston, Dominion Government immigration inspector, was in the city yesterday, a guest at the Snowdon House. It is understood that this government officer was in Peterborough in connection with the deportation to England of an undesirable immigrant to Canada. It seems, however, that the man Mr. Devlin was after, has left Peterborough, and gone to parts, as yet unknown.

NOTED EVANGELIST DEAD.

Rev. Edward P. Hammond Passes Away After an Eventful Career.

Rev. Edward Payson Hammond, the noted evangelist, whose death occurred a few days ago at his home in Hartford, Conn., had a remarkably eventful life, with the whole world as his field of work. A graduate of Williams College in 1856, he began evangelistic work in Scotland, and after touring Europe he returned to this country in 1861. At Newark in 1864, upwards of 1,300 persons were converted through the hymn, "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By," written for him by Miss Campbell.

Mr. Hammond joined Mr. Moody at Chicago, and thereafter nearly every state in the union and many countries were visited by Mr. Hammond. In 1866 Gen. Ballington Booth credited Mr. Hammond with the influence which induced him to enter into his great career.

Mr. Hammond held a series of meetings in Peterborough many years ago. He was a pleasing speaker and was very successful in his ministrations.

Seven and a Half Millions in Canada

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—The Census and Statistics Branch estimates that on March 31, when the fiscal year closed Canada had a population of 7,469,-791, it being estimated that there was a growth of 305,000 over the year previous. In detail the department estimates the population as follows:

Maritime Provinces, 1,009,078
Quebec, 2,124,834.
Ontario, 2,676,661.
Manitoba, 496,111.
Saskatchewan, 377,590.
Alberta, 361,862.
British Columbia, 321,733.
Unorganized territories, 50,050.
Immigration not shown by Provinces, 10,902.

These calculations indicate that the census, which will be taken June next, will show Canada to have a population of between eight and nine million.

Cousin of Late Cecil Rhodes is Here on a Business Trip

The people on this continent claim to have a patent on "hustling" with a capital "H." Now the Britisher is, in this country, at least, supposed to be a phlegmatic slow going individual. In Peterborough yesterday was a gentleman whose history for the past fortnight, emphatically contradicts such a slur on English hustlers. Mr. E. Rhodes of Bradford, Yorkshire, England, who operates woolen warehouses in that city, was a guest at the Snowdon House yesterday. In conversation with a Times representative, Mr. Rhodes, who by the way is a cousin of Cecil Rhodes, of South African fame, noted that he left the Mersey River, Liverpool, two weeks ago today on business. Since the day of his sailing and arrival in Canada he has done business, in the woolen trade in Brockville, Warkworth, Hespler, Paris, Preston, Berlin, Aylmer, Toronto, Cobourg, and is now in Peterborough.

Yesterday he interviewed Mr. Jas. Kandry of the Auburn Woolen Co., on business. When one considers that in two weeks ago today, this relative of Cecil Rhodes, has crossed the Atlantic ocean and visited the cities and town so remote from the seaboard, as mentioned, there is no use in anyone trying to cast a stone against the hustling abilities of an English business man.

Man Suicides, as Did His Two Wives

New York, Aug. 19.—On hearing that her husband, Louis C. B. Bauduy, a real estate agent, formerly of St. Louis, had shot and killed himself in a hotel at Mamaroneck, Mrs. Leonie Violet Bauduy, his third wife, from whom he was separated, attempted suicide early today by drinking carbolic acid.

This was the third attempted suicide of Mrs. Bauduy. Last Friday she tried to leap in front of an elevated train, but was restrained. Later, when arrested for attempted suicide, she tried to kill herself by jumping from a window in the police station. She declared she was driven to attempting suicide by her husband's cruel treatment, and the fact that two of his former wives, who had committed suicide, had been haunting her day and night.

A friend of Bauduy's, declares the dead man was "out of money, out of employment, and out of his mind."

On February 18, 1904, the first Mrs. Bauduy shot herself, leaving this note, "The only person in the world who made life worth living for is dead. I do not care to live longer." The day she shot herself Ralph Tilton, son of the man who sued Henry Ward Beecher, on charges that created world-wide scandal, was buried. He was known to have been friendly to Mrs. Bauduy.

The second Mrs. Bauduy was killed by gas on December 10, 1908. Bauduy, unconscious, was found at her side. He was saved only because his brother gave up a large amount of blood to him. The death of the woman was declared to be accidental.

A Chance to Test Asphalt Block Paving

Yesterday a Times' reporter had occasion to visit our nearby suburb of Lindsay. Lindsay, although not possessing more than half the population of Peterboro, has, in one instance, beaten the "Electric City." Lindsay Council, in their wisdom, duly considered the proposed idea of paving the streets. As many of our citizens know, Kent street, in Lindsay's main thoroughfare. Property owners along Kent street turned down the idea of paving there. Property owners along Williams street voted for the pavement, which is now being laid. Yesterday The Times saw the work in progress on William street. From Kent street, Williams street is paved already for about the length of an ordinary block and a half, whilst for several blocks further, the street has been ploughed up in readiness for the work to continue. All along both sides of the street are piles of bricks made of imported asphalt from the island of Trinidad, W.E.I. These blocks are 12 inches long, 5 broad, and 2½ thick. They are laid on a bed of cement about 3 inches deep and they are placed side by side and jointed.

The local interest in this article possibly, is that several leading citizens, in conversation with The Times practically agreed in all unanimity, in advising that Peterboro, before using such a kind of pavement, should such be under consideration wait for a year to see how the Williams street pavement wears and stands the frost. There seems to be considerable argument in this suggestion.

Hayloft Took Fire, While Children Played

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 19.—A fatal burning accident occurred here yesterday afternoon, when a young girl named Stock, died from the effects of burns. She with other children were in the hayloft of their grandfather's, playing with matches, when the hay was set on fire. P. Pothier and Chas. Presby saw the fire and rushed up the loft and succeeded in saving the children, but the little Stock girl was burned so badly that she lived only an hour.

Pothier and Presby are suffering from burns to their hands and faces. Presby lies in a serious condition in the hospital. His eyes are badly burned and he cannot see. The doctors cannot tell whether his sight has been permantly injured or not. Pothier will be laid up for some time as both hands are badly scorched.

BLONDIN CARRYUL OF WEAPONS.

Has Bruises on His Abdomen Where He Says the Gun Kicked.

Vars, Ont., Aug. 19.—The inquest was the chief feature this morning of the aftermath of yesterday's tragedy in which Dr. Empey lost his life through a shot fired by Albert Blondin.

It was discovered today that only one barrel of the shotgun had been fired. Blondin still sticks to his story that the shooting was accidental, and exhibits the bruises on his abdomen, where he says the gun kicked him. There is a feeling in the village that his story may be correct, this being given color by the entire absence of any motive for murder.

Crown Attorney Maxwell of L'Orignal took charge.

Larry Groebonis was the first witness examined. Beyond showing the old man's fondness for firearms, and his great care of the weapons he possessed, his evidence brought out nothing new. He was followed by Rev. J. Cormac, who told of taking the dying man's ante-mortem statement, and by the sister of the deceased, who related the incidents leading up to the sending of her brother to the Blondin home. The inquiry is proceeding this afternoon.

A BIG SAVING IN COST.

Local Company to Manufacture an Electrical Economizer Device.

The Canadian Economical Electric Light Company have recently taken possession of their new premises at 237 Charlotte Street. The room to the west is being made ready as a private office. A hard-wood floor is being laid and the ceiling and walls are covered by ornamental embossed sheet iron. The company have installed a factory in the rear of the offices where the "Economizer" appliances will be manufactured. Already nearly a carload of machinery has been placed. To avoid any misunderstanding on the part of the public, it might be noticed that the "Economizer" is attached to the electric wires between the meter and the lamp, or in other words, is applied on the private part of the wires, so that no objection can be raised by any company supplying power. The Economizer is only used after the lighting current has passed through the meter, and it is anticipated by the company that the result will be a saving of two thirds of the expense for light. This firm is comprised of Mr. Geo. Mather, president, and R. G. Sturgeon, manager. The firm will save the electric light burners of Peterboro about two-thirds of the money formerly paid by those on meter service, by the attachment of a devise they control and will handle in the future. The public in general are possibly not aware that the charge made for electric light service is dependent upon the number of watts used. By this devise, controlled by this company, an attachment applicable to any ordinary incandescent service, will permit of exactly the same results, as far as light is concerned, but at the expense of only one-third the number of watts used, or, in other words, at a third of the old expense.

IF YOU ARE FAT AND NOT READ THIS ARTICLE.

There is no necessity of fat people suffering as they do. Most fat people are so good-natured they do not care how they look or how they get along during the hot weather. As a matter of fact there is a natural fat reducer that in the past several years has been demonstrating that it will reduce fat and not wear down the body or leave big flabby rolls of skin and wrinkles. This method is the famous Marmola prescription, which is now prepared in tablet form to meet the demands of fat people in the summer and to enable them at all times to take their fat reducer after each meal. One of these little tablets taken after a meal turns that meal into good food for the blood and stops all fat-producing elements from going into the system. Marmola tablets has an army of men and women who testify to its success, and you would tire reading what they say of its triumphs. Marmola Tablets not only stop producing fat in the body but they reduce flesh at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day. They are harmless and do nothing but assist nature to give to the body the nourishment it requires. They are sold at all drug stores, price 75 cents, or you may write the Marmola Company, 1192 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

Won't Make Fight Now But Let Republicans Go on the Rock

FEELING THAT NEW YORK REPUBLICANS ARE RIDING FOR A FALL.

Democrats to Win State.—Expects Things Go So Bad He Will Be Called to Help.

New York, Aug. 19.—The contributing editor of the Outlook did very little contributing today, for politics long distance and otherwise, erupted intermittently about the magazine office.

Following yesterday's war council of the "Roosevelt wing" of the New York State Republicans at Sagamore Hill, friends of Col. Roosevelt are convinced today that there is no chance that Roosevelt will make a fight in the State campaign this fall. And the colonel is really thankful that he will be able to escape responsibility for the conduct of the campaign. He is said to feel that New York Republicans are riding for a fall—that defeat is almost certain in the State election—and he is glad to be out of it. It is even hinted that he believes he would be strengthened by the election of Democrats throughout the State, as he would then be able to take an "I told you so" attitude.

Then, if the party shows signs of drifting on the rocks of destruction, will come Roosevelt. He will board the vessel, take the helm, and attempt to bring her to a Roosevelt port, safe and sound. When the Roosevelt adherents say "take command," they will mean "take the Republican nomination for president in 1912." And in his present state of mind Roosevelt is not averse to such an out come.

But yesterday's conference with Loeb, Griscom, Congressman Cocks, and Calder, and Naval Officer Krake the Brooklyn leader, just about decided him against making say fight in the State convention. Griscom wants to make a fight, just to avenge his unceremonious throwdown by the State committee, but Roosevelt's other advisers are opposed to it. They know they would have the utmost difficulty in controlling the convention, and even if they won there, they would have to confront an almost certain bolt by the old guard on election day. They calculate that a defeat at the polls would be more disastrous to Roosevelt and the Roosevelt politics than anything that a convention could do. So it is extremely likely that there will be no Roosevelt faction in evidence at Saratoga on September 27.

Col. Roosevelt's feelings are that if he refuses to enter any factional troubles this fall he will be much stronger two years hence, to make a real fight. Those close to the colonel have no doubt that he means by this a fight for the control of the national organization, with a campaign for the presidency. Many agencies are at work to defeat any ambition Taft may have for a second term, and these agencies, Col. Roosevelt thinks, may place the national situation in such an involved condition that he will be unable to refuse a nomination in 1912.

This culmination may be assisted by Roosevelt's travels about the country between now and the next presidential campaign.

FLYING TO BEAT THE BIRDS.

A decree was issued at the creation that man should have dominion over the fowl of the air, and now he is flying to beat the carrier pigeons. Perhaps he may extend his dominion later not by the use of guns and traps but by an aeroplane patrol that will enable him to catch geese in their flight and to regulate the migrations of all the birds, great and small.

But what he has already accomplished is good enough for a fairy tale. Le Blanc, who is a bird by virtue of his Farman biplane, was released at Douai with forty-seven of the pigeons. The objective point of the man-bird and his forty-seven competitors was Amiens, fifty miles away. Le Blanc took the lead early in the contest and arrived at Amiens six minutes and twenty seconds ahead of the first pigeon. Another man-bird, Legagneux, was nine minutes behind Le Blanc, but beat the best of the pigeons by twelve minutes.

There have been greater flights with aeroplanes, but no greater thrillers. Add to the conquest of the air the conquest of the air dwellers at their own game, and their own life's business. That is a trick that is difficult to imagine. The traveller watching the winning flight of birds from his car window on the express train has wondered at the performance and wished that he too could go on the wing, but it was all a vague dream with him—he never expected that anyone would show him. He is not even now half prepared for Le Blanc's victory.

AUSTRALIAN IDEAS.

Former Editor of Bendigo Mail, Talks of Canadian Investments.

Mr. R. Bentley Young, now living in Toronto, but for some years editor of the Bendigo, Australia "Evening Mail," passed through Lindsay to Fenelon Falls yesterday on a sketching trip. Mr. Bentley was the original founder of the Bendigo Mail, one of Australia's leading papers. He was Hon. Secretary of the Victorian Artists' Society of Melbourne. In conversation with the Lindsay correspondent of The Times yesterday, Mr. Young, in response to a question, "What do you think of Canada?" said, "What Canada needs and must have to develope her wonderful opportunities, is capital from England. Hundreds of thousands of pounds are invested in England and only bringing in from 2½ to 3 per cent. to the owner. Here such money would easily earn 5 to 6 per cent. in safe investments." Mr. Young further said, "Why don't you newspapers, like the Peterboro Times advocate strongly the government sending plausible and honest men to England to explain the great opportunities for investment of capital in Canada?" Lawrence Barrett, the celebrated actor, some years ago enabled to Mr. Young to go from New Zealand to London to act as his press agent. However, six months after Mr. Young's arrival in New Zealand, Mr. Barrett died suddenly after an operation in London England.

Speaking of hard luck. The new proprietor of the Lindsay Brewery, seems to be "It." The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CHRONIC CATARRH RELIEVED BY PE-RU-NA.

MRS. F. CARR.

MRS. F. CARR, Vineland, Ont., Can., writes:

"For several years I was afflicted with catarrh, which made life a burden. The coughing and hawking which accompanied the disease was terrible.

"The complaint finally extended to the stomach and I was in a wretched condition.

"I tried different remedies and the best professional treatment all in vain.

"Finally, as a last effort, I tried Peruna upon the recommendation of my sister in Hamilton.

"I could see steady improvement and after using four bottles of that precious medicine I was feeling well again, my old trouble being completely a thing of the past.

"To-day I would not take one thousand dollars for what this grand medicine has done for me."

Peruna is a universally recognized catarrh remedy. It will relieve catarrh in the most obstinate form.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment [illegible] you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, all complete free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it calls for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

No pains have been spared in placing exact and reliable information at the command of everyone interested. All the facts may be obtained by everyone who writes or calls upon the home office of the company.

Highest Possible Endorsements

Remember that INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS has the highest possible endorsements. Henry C. Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

YOUNG MAN (HANGED HIMSELF.) ENDS LIFE

Hugh McFayden Hanged Himself in Father's Barn

DESPONDENT YOUNG MAN ENDS HIS LIFE AFTER WORKING IN THE FIELD.

A Distressing Fatality Occurred in the Village of Glendarm, a Small Village, North of the Town of Lindsay.

Lindsay, Aug. 20.—A distressing fatality occurred last evening in the village of Glenarm, sixteen miles north of Lindsay, when Hugh McFadyen, Jr., took his own life by hanging himself in his father's barn. The young man had been in a despondent mood for some time and after working in the harvest field all day, left for the house to secure a drink of water, but instead went to the barn, where he secured a leather driving line and committed the rash deed. He was found hanging from a beam in the barn by his two sisters shortly after six o'clock.

An inquest is being held today by Coroner Dr. Wood of Lindsay. He was a young man, 26 years of age, and unmarried.

LOCAL GALTITES.

Mr. R. M. Glover Describes Meeting of Canadian Press Association.

Mr. Rolly Glover, managing director of the Examiner, has returned home from Galt, whence he attended the session of the Canadian Press Association. He speaks in high terms of that flourishing little manufacturing town and especially of the intense loyalty of the Galtites towards their city. He says that the Press Association were given a great reception in Galt Thursday, and they were entertained at a banquet at the splendid club house of the Waterloo County Golf and Country Club. The club has most beautiful grounds and the banquet was a great success. Mr. Martin Todd was chairman.

On Friday the visiting newspapermen were the guests of the management of the Galt, Preston and Hespler Electric Company on a trip over the lines of the company.

New Athletic Club Rooms.

The whole of the third floor of the building containing the Royal Theater, has been rented to a local athletic club, to be used as club rooms. Mr. Pappas, lessee of the building, is having metal ceilings and hard wood floors put in, as well as having other extensive improvements made. The club now located in the Bank of Commerce Building will have commodious and handsome rooms. They will probably occupy the premises sometime next month.

It is now up to the citizens to do their share, and by liberal and frequent attendance, show their appreciation of what the directors are doing to make the fair a success financially.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

New Free Methodist Church Now Opened for Regular Service.

The fine new church on Aylmer St. near Charlotte street, the Free Methodist, recently completed, was dedicated yesterday. Rev. M. B. Miller, of Oil City, preached the dedicatory sermon, an eloquent stirring address. The first service in connection with the opening was held on Friday with a large attendance present. Rev. A. Sims, Toronto, preached at the opening service, his text being taken from the second verse of the third chapter of Exodus, "And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush, and he looked and behold the bush burned with fire and was not consumed." The reverend gentleman said, "The burning bush illustrates the pentecostal spirit. While the flame filled the bush it did not destroy it. So we could all be aflame. The flame of the Holy Ghost man destroys the taste for alcohol and other manifestations of sin. The only thing that will ever preserve the church is holy fire."

Rev. W. A. Reynolds will be the pastor of this most recent addition to Peterborough's places of worship.

ONE CENTRAL LICENSE BOARD

LEGISLATURE TO ABOLISH ALL THE OTHERS AT THE NEXT SESSION.

No More Politics in It—System of Inspection Is Also Likely to Be Radically Reformed Soon.

Hamilton, Aug. 20.—Temperance leaders here have received from a semi-official source information to the effect that at the next session of the Ontario Legislature, Premier Whitney will carry into effect his promise to put the administration of the Liquor License Law out of politics. It is reported that the present system, by which each municipality has an independent board, will be abolished, and that one central board will administer the law of the Province from Toronto. The scheme is also to do away with the present system of inspectors, and have six or eight inspectors who will work all over Ontario. The police will be called upon to co-operate more than they have in the past in seeing that this bylaw is enforced.

There is great dissatisfaction here over the way hotel men transgress and the temperance people do not hesitate to say that the law is administered by the License Board in the interests of the Conservative party.

DISASTROUS EARLY MORNING FIRE—TWO HORSES BURNED

MR. FOSTER'S BARN AND CONTENTS DESTROYED BY FIRE—TWO HORSES SUFFOCATED BY SMOKE.

Firemen Did Good Work and Made Heroic Effort to Save the Horses—Fire Discovered by Man on Watch at Firehall.

At 2.10 a.m. Sunday morning a fire was discovered in the rear of the fire station by Captain Thomas, who was doing watch duty. On going into the stable to feed the horses hay he noticed the yard all lighted up, which is an uncommon sight. On opening the stable door he found that Foster's stables and Mr. Parrington's hen house were a mass of flames, he immediately returned to the watch room and rang in the alarm, sending in box 33. A quick response was made by the brigade and Acting Chief Grange soon had his men working like Trojans, playing several streams on the burning buildings.

Acting Chief Grange handled the fire with commendable ability and it was not long before it was under control. It was a difficult fire to fight owing to the great volumes of smoke that belched forth from the burning hay and straw in the stable.

Mr. Foster had about 34 tons of hay in the barn, and when this caught fire it was almost impossible for the fire fighters to breathe or see so dense was the smoke. But the men worked hard. A desperate effort was made to save the two horses that were in the barn. One of the firemen entered the stable and got one horse as far as the door, but it fell there, being suffocated by the smoke.

Mr. Foster valued the horses at $75 each.

Mr. Parrington is very grateful for the saving of his fowl as they were highly prized birds.

The barn was valued at about $200 and the contents $300. Mr. Foster had insurance to the amount of about $300. After the fire Acting Chief Grange ordered the hay thrown out of the barn so as to prevent it from igniting again.

MILKMAN SCOLDED.

Cows Killed by Overeating in a Clover Field in Otonabee.

Residents in a certain section of the city who last week got milk from a man who is usually noted for the richness and sweetness of the lacteal fluid he sells, made complaints loud and long. "Are you feeding your cows on onions?" one would ask. "Did you upset the swill pail into your milk cans?" another person enquired. It was however explained that his cows turned into a clover field, were forgotten and left to feed on the sweet smelling clover for about half an hour. Now clover, with all its sweet scent, and honey producing qualities, has, in large amounts, the peculiarity of making a most ill-tasting quality of milk.

Mr. Jack Burnham of Otonabee, who is not the owner of the cows described above, which are in the township of Smith last week had worse luck than the milkman. The latter only got one day's bad milk and several hours of these. Mr. Burnham's cows broke into a clover field during the night and eat ravenously of the clover. As a consequence two of them swelled up and died and the third was only saved with difficulty. Had the cows not been discovered in the clover, when they were, it is likely that the whole herd would have died.

NEGRO ASSAILANT IS LYNCHED.

Mob Hangs and Shoots Black Who Entered Girls' Bedroom in Night.

Helena, Ga., Aug. 20.—Jim Toler, a negro, was lynched at 1 o'clock this morning at Alamo, seven miles from here, by a mob of over 100 men for having entered the room of two daughters of a prominent planter of Montgomery County, Tuesday night while the girls were in bed asleep. The negro was caught, confessed his guilt, was tied to a tree and shot to death.

Wise Picnickers

Take Along

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

Ready-Cooked, Delicious and Nourishing.

In making up lunch for picnickers, some form of substantial food that can not easily be injured in transit, should be supplied, and the most ideal article for that purpose is Grape-Nuts. This food comes in a 15 cent package, is already thoroughly cooked and can be used either dry or with the addition of some milk or cream.

Grape-Nuts food is used by some epicures in frying fish, for it adds a delightful flavour and is naturally superior to the ordinary crumbed crackers or corn meal for this purpose.

In addition to the convenience of Grape-Nuts food, its highly concentrated food value should not be lost sight of.

NO ULTIMATUM TO TAFT, SAYS EX-PRESIDENT THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Oyster Bay, N.Y., Aug. 20.—Theodore Roosevelt denied emphatically today that he had sent an ultimatum to President Taft, demanding that he break with Vice-President Sherman.

Col. Roosevelt's attention was called to a report to the effect that Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York Republican Committee, was to go to the summer capital next week to "carry the terms of peace between Beverly and Sagamore Hill."

The report had it that Mr. Sherman was chiefly responsible for the action of the State Committee in refusing to select Col. Roosevelt as temporary chairman of the New York State Republican Convention, and in recommending the vice-president instead.

"I have sent no ultimatum to President Taft," Col. Roosevelt said. "The report is a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end, and has no warrant in fact."

The colonel added that he had not sent Mr. Griscom or any one else to Beverly on any mission. He made it clear that he had no intention of doing so, and recognized no situation which called for such a step.

Republican leaders here today heard the report that Vice-President Sherman might announce in the interest of harmony, that he did not fully understand the position in which he was placed when he let his name go before the New York State Committee.

RICHARD BAKER HAS PASSED AWAY

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Richard Baker, the well known trainer of athletes, died here last night. "Dick" was one of the most popular men connected with athletics in the City of Toronto. He has had in his charge many of Canada's most prominent track and field men, besides several of the city hockey teams. Appendicitis was the cause of death. During the present summer Mr. Baker has had charge of the Central Y.M.C.A. track and field men. He has at former times been trainer for the West End Harriers. Last winter he was trainer of the Toronto Canoe Club Hockey team, and two years ago he handled the Canadian Kodak Company's seven. He was employed with the latter firm. Mr. Baker was recently in England with Eddie Cotter, who was to have run in the English Marathon, called off owing to the death of King Edward. His home is in the Old Country and a cable has been sent to his relatives. "Dick" Baker was a quiet, reliable, kindly man, who will be seriously missed by many athletes and a large circle of friends.

"Dick" Baker, as he was familiarly known in Peterborough, was a very popular young man in this city, honest, upright, and as a lover of clean sport he was deeply interested in everything that was conducive to athletics. For many years Dick was connected with the local Y.M.C.A. He had charge of Fred Simpson on the trip to England, when he took part in the Marathon race there. A host of Peterborough citizens will mourn his untimely death.

DR. COUGHLIN COMMENDED BY THE PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH

Belleville, Aug. 20.—The following resolution of the Provincial Board of Health has been received by Dr. Coughlin, superintendent of the Institution for the Deaf:

"Moved by Dr. McCullough, seconded by Dr Hosman, and resolved that this board having heard the report of our inspector re scarlet fever at St. Thomas, alleged to have been carried from the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville, are of the opinion that the authorities of the Deaf and Dumb Institute in the matter of the outbreak of scarlet fever at said institute, took every possible precaution to prevent the spread of the disease, and we desire to commend the superintendent of the institution for his care of the pupils under his charge, and that copies of the report be sent with this resolution to the health authorities at St. Thomas to the authorities at Chatham, to Dr. Coughlin, superintendent of the institute, and to the acting minister of education.

THE MURDERER OF LAUSHWAY SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

Morrisburg, Aug. 20.— Although they refuse to make any definite statement, the authorities of northern Dundas practically confirm a report current throughout the country side that they are in a position to lay their hands on the murderer of James Laushway, of Mountain.

Laushway was murdered in bed during the night of June 1, 1907. His murder aroused the whole country and some of the most astute detectives worked on the case, but no clue to the identity of the murderer was not forthcoming. After a time the murder was placed on the list of unsolved crimes.

Just how the present clue was furnished is difficult to say. It is said that the man who killed Laushway has confessed, and that the reason the authorities are reluctent to make known his name is that it involves others whom he declares paid him to commit the crime. The authorities, it is understood, believe they will be able to catch those implicated in a short time.

The Laushway murder is still fresh in the memory of Dundas residents. With a bullet wound in his head the dead man was discovered on a Sunday morning by Mrs. Alex. Morey of Mountain, who frequently acted as his housekeeper.

Laushway had been seen the previous evening by Alpheus Crown, neighbor. The suicide theory was propounded, but dismissed as the result of evidence given at the inquest. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict that James Laushway came to his death by a bullet in the hands of some person or persons unknown."

There was a good deal of speculation regarding the location of Laushway's money which was supposed to be buried. A week after the murder on Saturday, Constable Johnston Boyd found a glass jar containing $3,110 in bank bills and four promissory notes amounting to $440, hidden beneath the stairway in the little house where James Laushway had come to his mysterious death. The money was in six 100-dollar bills, 121 twenties, seven tens and four fives. The green backs were mouldy and damp, as if they had been packed away a long time.

OVER SIX THOUSAND PEOPLE ATTEND COBOURG HORSE SHOW ON FINAL DAY

Over 6000 people attended the last day of the Cobourg Horse Show on Friday. The weather was the best that the promoters have been favored with and some of the events were unusually interesting.

The Red Coat race was closely contested, Waterbridge, Mr. McCabe up, winning from Uncle Toby, ridden by Mr. Sifton, with Murray Hendrie on J. G. C., third, Wilfrid Davies on Beware, fourth.

The high jump was won by Mrf Sifton's Confidence. The Albertini Cup, for best ladies' turn-outs, was won by Mr. McCabe's Duchess, beautifully driven by Miss Davies.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

Interesting Ceremony by Local Woodmen of the World at Little Lake Cemetery.

Yesterday afternoon a large concourse of citizens gathered at L. Lake cemetery to witness the interesting and impressive ceremony of the unveiling of a monument erected by the Woodmen of the World over the grave of a departed member. The local members of the order gathered, over one hundred strong at their lodge room on Hunter street. A procession was formed with a hundred Woodmen decorated with appropriate badges and emblems. The parade down George street to the cemetery, attracted much attention from the pedestrians. In the line of march were Dr. Harrison, Toronto, supreme head counsel, and Mr. Lou Taylor, Brantford, chairman of the Board of Management. Arriving at the cemetery, the Woodmen, in regular order, surrounded the grave of the late M. Elizabeth Martin, and the impressive ceremony, used on such occasions by the order were carried out to perfection.

It is interesting to note that the local branch of the Woodmen of the World is increasing its membership by leaps and bounds. About one hundred new members have been admitted to the local lodge within the past six months. The Woodmen of Peterborough are possibly adding faster proportionately to their membership than any other order in the city.

TO VISIT CHINA.

Roosevelt Accepts Invitation From Chinese Prince.

Peking, Aug. 20.—Colonel Roosevelt will visit China, probably next year. Prince Tsai Tao, when he met him in London, extended a cordial invitation and Mr. Roosevelt promised to come. The prince, with Lord Li Ching Mai and others of his suite to-day called at the respective legations to express his appreciation of the reception accorded him in America and Europe. Lord Li Ching Mai, speaking for the prince, said that he enjoyed his visit to America most, and was deeply impressed with the cordiality of his American reception its frank democracy and the demonstration of its perfect sincerity.

MOST FORMIDABLE OF ALL WARSHIPS

BRITAIN HAS LAUNCHED THE MOST DEADLY OF ALL BATTLESHIPS.

Has Ten 13.5-inch Guns—Can Hurl Torpedoes at 40-Knot Clip for 250 Pounds of Guncotton.

Portsmouth, Eng., Aug. 20.— The Orion, Great Britain's newest and greatest battleship, was launched here today in the presence of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain and a distinguished gathering of naval officers and representatives from public life.

Compared with the armored cruiser Lion, of 26,350 tons, just launched, the Orion will display only 22,000 tons, but her ten 13.5 inch guns and her new, deadly equipment of torpedoes, render her by far the most powerful battleship afloat.

The new torpedo to be carried by the Orion weighs nearly a ton, and its range will exceed 17,000 yards, at a speed of forty knots. The torpedo carries a charge of gun cotton weighing 250 pounds.

The Orion will have a speed of 21 knots, and will carry 4,000 tons of fuel, giving her an unusually wide radius of action.

MARTIAL SPIRIT DECLINING?

American Finds Military Uniforms Less Numerous in Berlin.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—S. Burns Weston, leader of the Philadelphia Ethical Culture Society, is in Berlin, renewing his acquaintance with the city after 30 years' absence. He was educated at the university here and left about 1881. Mr. Weston notices many remarkable changes in the Prussian capital, although to his delight he found the historic avenue Unter den Linden unchanged.

What has struck him most is the indication that the German martial spirit is becoming less conspicuous. The number of gorgeous military uniforms seen in the streets seem to have decreased to a surprising extent.

At the same time the diminished number of university students parading the streets with bandaged, slashed faces, suggests a distinct decline in the national dueling practice that was so common in his day.

He is tremendously impressed with the growth of the resident section of the city, both in beauty and extent. In reality, however, the apparent increased size of residential Berlin is somewhat deceptive to the passing tourist, as more than 4,000 dwellings are at present untenanted. The number of empty houses is unprecedented.

Inspector Dew and Mitchell and the two matrons from Scotland Yard had the prisoners in charge, and were accompanied by three Provincial police.

The Megantic is due to arrive here at noon, and will sail at seven p.m. The Megantic is the same vessel on which the Queen's Own Regiment embarked this afternoon for England.

MRS. OSTROM'S DEATH.

Ardent Member of Charlotte Street Church Dies at Advanced Age.

On Saturday morning Catherine Archer Ostrom, died at her residence at the corner of Charlotte and Downie streets. The deceased, who was seventy-six years of age, had been ill for a considerable time. She was the daughter of Mr. Thos. Archer of Belleville. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. The deceased was a consistent member of the Methodist church, and had been a worker in Charlotte street church for sometwentyfive years.

There are left to mourn her loss a family of four, two daughters and two sons, namely, Mrs. H. E. Holly of this city; Mrs. A. D. Thompson of Duluth, Minnesota; M. T. Ostrom of Toronto, and C. A. Ostrom of Indiana.

The funeral will likely be held this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Dr. Langford of Charlotte street church, will conduct the funeral services.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

Fishing is reported as being excellent at Jubilee Point. One lady Mrs. (Dr.) Armstrong, last week landed five bass whose combined weight amounted to forty-four and one-half pounds. On Friday the maskinonge seemed to be particularly voracious and many splendid catches were made.

ROYALTY IS POPULAR.

Two or three days ago a journal published in the adjoining republic editorially discussed the course of Queen Alexandra in declining to give place to her daughter-in-law on state occasions, or to surrender the palace which the late king occupied. The editor went on to say that these royal jealousies would soon cause the British people to dismiss royalty and become democrats. It has been generally understood throughout the empire that Queen Mary and his majesty had been most anxious that the queen mother should as far as possible enjoy all the dignities and consideration to which she had been accustomed and the people are said to have been touched by the sympathy and tenderness which exists between the two royal ladies.

The attitude of the nation toward the monarchy may be judged by the vote on the royal allowance measure In spite of the opposition of Mr. Barnes and Mr. Keir Hardie, claiming to represent the laboring people, only twenty-six members were found to vote for the amendment of Mr. Barnes, and only twenty for Mr. Hardie's motion. As there are over forty labor members, and twice that number of Nationalists, it does not appear that the objection to royalty is strongly represented in parliament.

A LOGICAL VIEW.

Too much power is always dangerous because of the difficulty of directing it. Mr. Sam Berry, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors, appreciates this fact apparently in his disfavor towards the proposed federation of all the railway organizations. In some ways such a federation might be good, he is reported as having said, but there would be a serious danger that it would give the men so much power that eventually it would work for their own destruction.

Mr. Berry's meaning is further explained. "Of course, if we had had such an organization in the recent strike we would not only have crippled the Grand Trunk while the strike lasted, but we would have put it completely out of business. It is not the desire of the leaders of the unions to drive the railways any further than is necessary, for the more business we drive away from the roads which employ our men, the less will they be able to get employment when the trouble is at an end. As the situation with the Grand Trunk stands now the strike will have deprived a number of our men of their positions. The railway lost so much business that they have not now the need for so many hands and this is a condition of affairs which we are not anxious to see existing."

This is logic, and sounds well from the labor leader who delivered it, inasmuch as that while the strike was a powerful lever in the hands of men it is not always wise to ruin the business that produces the salaries and keeps families. Too often labor men forget that were it not for men who risk their money and who build up such great systems as the Grand Trunk thousands of men would not have the employment that helps feed them and their babes.

FACTS—The property is absolutely proven territory, being as it does with the option on the ground, the LIBERTY OIL CO. proposing on the west to drill 3,000 ft. on property on the north, which only recently struck its big oil producer, and the PURITAN OIL CO. on the south, which is bringing in its second 1,000 barrel producer. LOCAL TRADE SECRETS.

Did you ever hear two or three commercial travellers talking in the smoking compartment of a railway train, during the early hours of the evening? Last night a member of the Times staff happening to be in such a part of a train for Peterborough heard, with no effort on his part to do so, a conversation between two grocery drummers. Their talk was loud and, seemingly intended to impress all in the compartment with their respective importance in the business world. The Times man openly pulled out a note book, got his pencil busy with the dots and dashes of shorthand and took down the following: "Say Jimmy I've sold more tea in Peterborough than any man on the road in the past three months. Last trip I sold three chests of No. 13 to a Peterborough merchant at 28 cents. Mr. (the local merchant) says "Here, I want a tea that will satisfy the high class trade if I sell it at a $1 a pound. Now, I had a few chests of 28 cent tea and I unloaded it at 68 cents a pund, and there was no kick coming either."

This exchange of ideas may be interesting, but it is certainly an instance of the fact that commercial men should not talk too loud before a man with a note book and a busily moving pencil. One of the commercial men referred to, remarked to the other dispenser of groceries, "Say do you know the difference between a Ceylon and an Indian tea?" "No, I do not," was the reply. "Well thank the Lord neither do the customers of the people I sell to."

Be sure and take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with you when starting on your trip this summer. It cannot be obtained on board the trains or steamers. Changes of water and climate often cause sudden attacks of diarrhoea, and it is best to be prepared. Sold by all dealers.

Wild Ducks Race a G.T.R. Train.

Passengers on the G.T.R. Peterboro-Toronto, via Lindsay saw a somewhat unique sight yesterday morning. As the Lindsay bound train was passing a woodland creek, a few miles past Jackson Park, a large flock of wild ducks arose with a loud whirr of wings and noisy quacking. Instead of winging their way at once from the direction of the disturbing roar of the train, these fifteen or twenty black ducks, at a distance of about 30 yards from it, raced parallel with the train for a distance fully half to three-quarters of a mile. The engineer must have seen these ambitious acquatic birds as they raced the train. As the whistle shrieked out a vicious challenge and the birds then gave up their competition against steam, flew suddenly at right angles to their former course and were quickly lost to sight.

The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Rain Injures the Crops.

Passengers on the various trains entering Peterborough on Saturday report that great damage has been done to crops cut and lying in the fields, by the heavy rains of last week. It seems that the farmers, depending on the weather prophet's prognostications had cut grain freely and then could not get it to their barns or threshing machines in time to save it from the wet. Hundreds of fields between Toronto and this city are covered by piles of sodden grain.

VOL. XXXIII NO. 188 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO TUESDAY AUGUST 23 1910 PRICE TWO CENTS

THE CITY RUNNING STRAIGHT ON ROCKS

To the Editor of The Times,

Sir,—The Court of Revision in this city has commenced its heavy work for the present year. The air is filled with the complaints and the execrations of the taxpayer. The rate this year is 22 mills on the dollar. The taxes are an oppressive burden on the poor, and never before, within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been such a general outcry among the people, against the stupid management of the civic affairs of Peterboro; and the general opinion is, that all our civic officers are smitten with a senseless craze of reckless extravagance in handling the peoples' money. For instance, seven members of the city council troked as far west as Buffalo and Detroit to have a look at the streets of those cities, and to enjoy the picnic. Now, if these gentlemen were managing their own business, they would send two responsible men to make the report, and thereby save a few hundred dollars on the job. Another very black mark against the council is that they have employed an "Industrial Commissioner" at four thousand dollars a year and expenses, including an office and typewriter. The year is more than half gone and no new industry has yet appeared—not even the perenial organ-grinder and the monkey—but the mania for extravagance is infectious, and the water commissioners have taken the disease in a dangerous form. They have bought a laboratory for $500, for testing milk and water. Now this laboratory means an annual expenditure for testing material and breakage, and also a big salary for someone to do the work. This senseless freak of the Water Commissioners, is a barefaced outrage against the taxpayers of the city. This will be clearly seen when it is known that Dr. Amyot, of Toronto, is paid by the government for doing this work, and it costs the city nothing except the postage on the samples which is sent for analysis. It is well known also that Dr. Amyot is an accomplished analyst, and his opinion would be good in any court, and would safeguard the city in case of a lawsuit for damages. Much more might be said to show that the civic authorities of Peterboro have lost their bearings, and unless suddenly checked by the ratepayers, are driving straight for the rocks.

TAKE PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CHOLERA

GREAT PRECAUTIONS ARE BEING TAKEN BY THE WASHINGTON AUTHORITIES.

Details All the Russians—Special Attention Being Given to the Situation in Italy.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Without attempting to make any predictions regarding the introduction of cholera into this country from Europe, the officials of the Public Health Service are exerting themselves to the utmost in the maintenance of precautions. For the past year a medical officer of the bureau has been stationed at Libau, the only Russian port from which Russian immigrants embark direct for the United States and for the past month, especially vigilance has been exercised in the prevention of infected immigrants from coming through ports in other countries.

The State Department has been requested to require the detention for five days of all Russian immigrants bound for the United States, and also to require a thorough inspection of their baggage.

The American quarantine authorities have been made aware of the situation, and are on their guard. So far no cases have been developed in this country. Special attention is now being given to the situation in Italy. There are two officers from the Bureau at Naples.

French-Canadian Physicians.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 23.—Several noted medical men of France are the guests of honor at the first annual convention of the Association of French-Canadian Physicians which meets in this city to-day. The sessions will continue until Friday.

CORONATION GIFT.

Beautiful Coronation Fan to Be Presented to Queen Mary.

London, Aug. 21.—A beautiful coronation fan is to be presented to Queen Mary by the Fanmakers' Company. In connection with the gift the master of the company, Sir Homewood Crawford has received a letter from her majesty's private secretary, who wrote: "I have to say the majesty is much touched by the proposal, and will accept the fan with pleasure and gratitude, more especially as you mention that it will be of British manufacture." It may be mentioned that Queen Victoria accepted a fan from the company on the occasion of her jubilee and Queen Alexandra a fan for her coronation.

Possibly the most enthusiastic local Woodman of the World is Mr. W. T. Collins, district organizer, who resides at 109 Smith street. This local organizer spares neither time, trouble nor tongue to advance the interests of the Woodmen.

Local Men Enjoy Outing.

Messrs. Charles Banks, Hammond Lee, F. McGibbon and Arthur Rogers motored to Oak Orchard and were the guests of Mr. Perry Alexander, proprietor of "Islanda," the Buckhorn Lake summer resort. Mr. Alexander entertained his guests in a most hospitable manner, taking them for a launch ride. "Islanda" has had a most prosperous season and the accommodation is still taxed to the utmost.

The seven men were at a table eating their noon meal when the bolt came.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY FIRE FIGHTERS PERISH

COLD WAVE WILL SWEEP ACROSS THE COUNTRY FRIDAY OR SATURDAY

Washington, Aug. 22.— Colder weather is on its way according to the general forecast for the coming week, issued by Professor Willis L. Moore, chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau. The cold wave will begin its sweep across the country about the middle of the week, starting from the north-western States and reaching the Atlantic coast by Friday or Saturday.

Its appearance will be rendered the more disagreeable by reason of the fact that it will be preceded by moderately warm weather, so that the drop in temperature will be the more severely felt. As a result of the sudden change there will be almost continuous showers in the south-eastern States.

During the last week temperatures slightly below the normal ruled throughout the country and there were light frosts in the extreme North-West.

PRIVATE MOIR, THE LUNATIC-MURDERER, CAUGHT—GUARDS ARE UNDER ARREST

Hamilton, Aug. 22.—Private Moir, the lunatic-murderer, who killed Sergt. Lloyd in Wolseley Barracks, London, and who escaped early last Monday morning, is again in his cell in the Hamilton Asylum, and the two men who were his guards, Fred McCullough and Monteith Trapnell, are both under arrest, charged with abetting his escape. Taggart, the Toronto wife-murderer, who escaped with him, is still at liberty, but his capture is expected.

The asylum authorities have already taken measures to see that Moir does not escape again. The window of his cell will be bricked up to within six inches of the top, and his cell will be gloomy from now on. Double guards will be placed in charge and there is little chance of him making another successful break for liberty.

He appeared unconcerned when informed that two of the guards were under arrest for aiding him to escape.

18 LIVES WERE LOST

When British Cruiser Went Ashore---Was Going at Full Speed

London, Aug. 22.—Eighteen lives were lost when the British cruiser Bedford, ran ashore on the south-west coast of Quelpart Island in the Yellow Sea, off Korea yesterday. The extent of the disaster was announced today by the admiralty.

HAVING SPEED TRIALS.

The Bedford was undergoing speed trials when the accident occurred. She crashed on the Samarang rocks when going full speed, according to the official cablegram received in London.

Japanese war vessels today reached her, but adverse weather made any attempt to aid her hazardous.

The meager details given out here indicate that the vessel was held up by the rocks.

WAS LARGEST OF HER CLASS.

The Bedford's displacement is 9,800 tons, and she is 440 feet along her water line, with a beam of 66 and a draft of 24½. Her armament consists of fourteen six-inch guns, ten 12-pounders, and smaller guns. She also has two submerged torpedo tubes, and is heavily armored.

The largest vessel of her class in the British navy she was built at Fairfield in 1900-03, being one of the seven cruisers of the "county" type, being named after English counties.

She has been remarkable for her speed, her Belleville boilers, giving her a speed of 24.3 knots.

WILL BE TOTAL LOSS.

A despatch received this afternoon says that all the surviving officers and men have been taken off. There is no chance to save the vessel, which is water-logged.

Most of the victims were stokers who were trapped far below the water level, when the sea rushed into the stokehold of the Bedford.

BRITISH BOWLERS ARE WINNING, WILL PLAY IN PETERBORO' TODAY

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—The British Lawn Bowlers won another game here this morning, defeating a combination of Civil Service and Victoria Bowlers in a four-rink match by 61 to 53, thus gaining a majority of eight shots. The visitors played a high quality of bowling through out, and while defeated on two rinks secured majorities on the others large enough to tide them through successfully. This afternoon they play the Ottawa, Prescott and Brockville rinks, leaving for Peterborough this evening.

THE WORLD'S CHAMPION MILK AND BUTTER COW.

It may possibly encourage and enlighten in some measure, the owners of cattle in Peterboro county, to learn the wonderful milk and butter producing capability and history of a cow in Missouri. The cow referred to is Missouri Chief Josephine, owned by the agricultural department of Missouri University. This is undoubtedly the world's champion cow. In a six month's test recently completed she produced 17,008 lbs. of milk, and 529 lbs. of butter. On the last day of the test she gave 96 lbs. of milk and her highest production during any one day was 116 1-5 lbs.; the best showing for a months was 2,900 lbs. She is milked four times a day, and at five and eleven in the morning, 4.30 in the afternoon and ten at night. She is fed at each milking six lbs. of grain feed, including cotton seed meal, and two lbs. of beat pulp, besides 40 lbs. of green hay and ten lbs. of dry alfalfa.

Missouri Chief Josephine is a pure bred Holstein, was eight years old on the 26th June last and has produced five calves, three of them being males. She weighed recently 1,350 lbs., or considerably less than half the weight of milk produced by her in a month.

Missouri Chief Josephine is not a beauty.

Would Not Be No Hero.

The official dog catcher of Chatham Ont., whilst in pursuit of his duties, was assaulted by an Italian fruit vender, presumably because the D.C. had captured the Dago's canine. The magistrate imposed a fine aggregating $5.75, but remarked that the dog catcher should be dressed in a uniform or wear a distinctive badge. Now judging by conditions in Peterboro, and her Constantinople like swarms of dogs, the man who assaulted a dog catcher would arouse ideas of Judge Lynch, whilst the dog catcher would get the sympathy of the community and possibly a commemoration medal.

NEW LOCAL CHURCH.

Description of Proposed Murray St. Baptist Church Building.

Peterborough, whilst generally known as the "Electric City" deserves to share the old appelation of Toronto, viz., "The City of Churches." This remark is called forth by the information that tenders are to be let, in the immediate future for a new church on Murray street. The proposed sacred edifice will be finished plain inside with plaster, stucco style. The timbers and beams will be exposed. There will be a balcony across the entrance and one end of the church. The Sunday school room and church will be two seperate buildings, but will be joined by an entrance at the rear of the church. The church will be a stone structure and elaborately finished outside. The seating capacity will be eight hundred for the church, and six hundred for the Sunday school. Both buildings will be lighted with electric lights, and will be heated by steam. There will be a complete lavatory equipment in both church and school.

The dimensions of the church are 126 ft. by 64 ft. and the Sunday school 60 ft. by 77 ft. The choir will be situated at the rear of the pulpit. The seats will be arranged in semi-circular order and the floor will be given due slant. The basement of the Sunday School will be divided into different departments by folding doors.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery. It has never been known to fail. It is equally valuable for children and adults, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Sold by all dealers.

ON CHARGE OF HELPING MOIR AND TAGGERT TO MAKE THEIR ESCAPE.

Asked for Speedy Trial—McCullough Did Not Want to Stay in Place Like Police Station—Trapnell Says He is Not Guilty.

Ellensburg, Wash., Aug. 22.—One hundred and thirty-eight fire fighters are reported burned to death at Avery, Idaho, by the forest fires, which destroyed the town last night. Details of the Avery fire are meager, and the report of these fatalities has not yet been verified.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 22.—With two-thirds of the city of Wallace, Idaho, a mass of smoking ruins, Taft, St. Regis, and Avery destroyed, and upwards of seventy persons dead, the forest fire situation throughout Idaho, Montana, and Washington, today assumed a graver aspect than ever.

Thousand of refugees from the stricken States, some of them burned and blackened, crowd all the hotels and rooming houses of Spokane and Missoula, and hundreds more are arriving hourly.

The hospitals of the two cities are crowded and private homes are being thrown open to care for the sick and injured.

The horror of the fire which swept through Wallace like a whirlwind on Saturday night and Sunday was increased when telephone communication with that city was re-established today. The fire fighters there say at least fifty persons perished in the fires around Wallace, that seven blackened corpses already have been recovered and a number of persons are missing.

Other sections of the fire zone report a total of thirty bodies recovered, while scores of persons are said to be in imminent danger of death. Near Wallace eighteen persons are said to be missing, but their fate is unknown, and in the chaos which has followed the destruction of the city it will probably be, many days before it can be ascertained whether they are living or dead.

The 160 forest rangers who were encircled by flames near St. Joe, Idaho, in the St. Croix country, have not yet been heard from. The rescuing party of several hundred men have been battling with the flames for nearly 18 hours, endeavoring to reach the imperiled men, but thus far have failed.

LOSS IN THE MILLIONS.

The total property loss, it is believed, will amount high into the millions. Property has been forgotten in the general anxiety to save the imperilled, succor the injured, and remove the homeless from the zone of the fire. Three thousand refugees from Idaho and Montana arrived here this morning, on special trains which ran so slowly that it required the entire night to travel short distances. Railroad operation is exceedingly perilsious, owing to the number of bridges and trestles that have been burned away, and because of the fact that in many places the intense heat of the fires have destroyed the tracks, twisting the rails into all imaginable shapes. With the arrival of the refugees today the same special trains kept the steam up, and several scores of doctors and nurses started back at once to the scene of forest fires. Hundreds of fire victims are reported ill in the refugee camps in Idaho and Montana, and the medical men hope to arrive in time to save many lives.

Appeals are constantly reaching Spokane for more fire fighters, and special appeals are being sent to the government to hurry several regiments to the scene, even if they have to be transported from as far away as California and Wyoming. It is believed that only a heavy rainfall or a vast increase in the fire fighting forces can save many small settlements from destruction.

200 IN DANGER.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 22.—"The need now is to save lives not timber—more than two hundred rangers and fire fighters are in peril on the Idaho side of the divide, and have not been heard from," declared Associate Forester Wilcox today.

"We need army pack trains, equipped with field hospital supplies. The high wind today is driving the fires at greater velocity than ever before. It is time we turned our attention from the saving of property to the saving of lives.

"The people have been taken out of the St. Regis Valley by special trains. The fires are advancing on Burke and Mullan. The whole west end of the town of Lolo is blazing.

"The ranches are being destroyed in the valleys. The towns of Libby and Troy are in great danger.

"In addition to the loss of life at Wallace, it is reported that two cooks were killed at St. Regis. No one can tell the situation of the men on the fire lines."

The fire yesterday approached the camp so rapidly that the chief of the rangers, ordered one of his men to ride to a nearby camp and hurry rescuers. The ranger rode the horse until it dropped dead, and then managered to the nearest camp with the news. A rescue party is reported to have found eighteen of the rangers standing in the bed of a small creek, but at last reports had not located the others. Fights against the flames around Mullan, Elk City, and Coeur D'Alene City, Idaho, are progressing today, but the fighters are discouraged, and have not succeeded in preventing the fires from spreading.

There are not one-third enough available men to fight the fires, and unless fire fighters, or more soldiers are imported from more distant points, it is feared the threatened towns will have to be left to their fate, and the hope of the settlers will have to be pinned on the prospect of rain. Even a rainfall, unless it is unprecedentedly heavy, will hardly check the flames it is feared, because of the headway they have already gained.

Throughout Montana the situation is still more critical. The entire western part of that State is enveloped in a pall of dense smoke, and the inhabitants are panic-stricken. Taft has been abandoned to its fate, and at last reports not enough of the town was left standing to show that it once had been a promising settlement. De Borgia and St. Regis are both in great danger, with little prospect of saving them. Several persons are reported missing from both of these towns and from Taft, and their fate will probably not be known until the fires abate.

From the Idaho line more than fifty miles eastward the country is one sea of fire, and in the path of the flames are Thompson Falls, Heron, White Pine and Belknap.

FACILITIES INADEQUATE.

Washington, Aug. 22. — Associate Forester Potter, in charge of the Forestry Bureau here, issued a statement today declaring that the facilities for fighting forest fires are pitifully inadequate.

"It is like trying to handle a San Francisco or Baltimore fire with a bucket brigade:" he said. "On the Clearwater reservation in Northern Idaho, there are thirty-seven rangers and guards to protect two and one-half million acres.

"The present situation is like that great city wh in a great city when a fire has gotten beyond control, and is leaping from block to block with a fierce wind behind it. We are summoning aid from every possible source, and will continue to make the best fight we can, but unless a turn in the weather favors us, some of the fires will burn until they go out for lack of more fuel."

Chief Forester Graves, who was on his way east turned back at Rochester, N.Y., today, and will go directly to Missoula, Mont.

OIL IS KING.

California, the Golden State, has become a strong competitor with the Eastern States in production of petroleum. The California oil is a strong competitor by reason of the heavy freight rates paid on refined oil shipped from the east and on account of the growing demand for crude oil for fuel on steamships and railway engines. The Atlanta Oil Co., has secured proven property, adjacent to other properties daily producing thousands of barrels. The company has 106 acres of oil land on Sulphur Mountain, within ten miles of Santa Paula, Ventura Co.

The Atlanta Oil Company, whose adv. appears in this issue is offering a limited number of shares, par value $1 for 15c. per share. Those seeking investment should investigate this proposition, and read the advertisement.

DROWNED AT GODERICH.

Sad Death of Englishman Who Spent Some Years in Peterborough.

A sad accident occurred at Goderich on Sunday afternoon when a former Peterborough resident lost his life by drowning. It seems that on Sunday afternoon, William Offord a carpenter employed by the Canadian Stewart Co., was bathing with four or five other companions at the beach. Offord could not swim, and for a time contented himself watching his companions. Then he said he was going to jump off the top of the pier. At the place where he jumped in there is about twenty feet of water. He came up about six feet away from the pier, but was evidently in trouble. One of his companions, who was in swimming, put on full speed and attempted to save Offord. Offord, as customary with a drowning man, grabbed his rescuer by the leg and pulled him beneath the surface of the water. The would-be saviour of the young man, was not an experienced swimmer, and breaking away from Offord's grasp, saved himself. Offord sank in about 20 feet of water and was drowned. The deceased was an Englishman, who resided some years in Peterborough, previous to going to Goderich. The body was recovered about an hour after death.

ONE ATTENDANT PLEADS GUILTY

Hamilton, Aug. 22.—Frederick McCullough and Monteith Trapnell, the asylum attendants, who are detained on a charge of aiding William Moir and Robert F. Taggert, the two insane murderers, to escape from the Hamilton Asylum early last Monday morning were arraigned before Magistrate Jelfs this morning.

McCullough pleaded guilty and Trapnell not guilty. They both elected to be tried by the magistrate.

READY FOR TRIAL.

"Are you ready for trial?" His worship asked.

"I want to be tried right away. I don't want to stay in a place like that," said McCullough, referring to the police station.

Chief Smith asked for a week's remand. Trapnell, when he was being taken out of court, called to a police sergeant, and made a request for a speedy trial. He also objected to being kept at the police station.

PORTUGAL WILL PUT FOOT DOWN

Lisbon, via frontier, Aug. 22. — Secret orders were today issued to Mathias Nunes, minister of war, by Senor Beirao, the premier, after a conference with King Manuel. It was reported semi-officially that the orders related to suppression of the present unrest and preparations to put down any uprising by the Clericals or by the Republicans. With both sides armed, the situation in Portugal is as serious as it has been in the Spanish crisis, and blood shed is feared.

A report was circulated today that the ministry had decided to introduce into Parliament radical electoral reforms, which have been expected since the cabinet, composed of Progressives, was formed last fall combes.

GENERAL ELECTIONS.

The outlook for the general elections to be held Sunday is not assuring in view of the government's secrecy and measures to preserve order. It is believed the rumored plans for a Clerical uprising will come a head then. A three-cornered fight will inevitably follow any attempt of the Clericals to overthrow the government, and establish a dictorate. The Republicans and more extreme Radicals will fight bitterly any Clerical demonstration.

FIFTY-ONE PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 22.—A special to the Chronicle from Wallace says, nine sisters and forty-two patients from the Province Hospital at Wallace, who were en route to Missoula on a special train on the Northern Pacific last night have been burned to death.

The Northern Pacific at Wallace announce that the train is lost and that all on board probably have perished. The train is supposed to have become ignited from forest fires.

LOCAL MAN GETS APPOINTMENT

Mr. Norman Spears Recommended for Job of Toronto Paymaster.

Referring to a former resident of Ashburnham, who moved to Toronto about ten years ago, and who is a son of the late Dr. Speers, the Toronto Globe says:

"Norman Spears will be permanently appointed city paymaster," said City Treasurer Coady Saturday. "I have been waiting to see how he would handle the heavy work of the paymaster, and he has made good. The reason I have not reported to the Board of Control in favor of appointing Mr. Spears is because I have been making some rearrangement of the work. However, I shall report soon, recommending Mr. Spears for the position of paymaster."

Mr. Spear's new position is worth $1500 per annum, with a raise in the near future.

CONFIDENCE IN CANADA.

At least $77,889,650 of foreign capital, other than British and American, has been invested in Canada, according to the information obtained by Mr. Fred W. Field, managing editor of the Monetary Times, and which appears in an extended article in this week's issue. This will come as a mild surprise to many who are inclined to think that the industrial and commercial possibilities of the Dominion are not known as well as they should be. France is found to be interested in lands, manufacturing, municipal and school bonds, loans on mortgages, railroads and other securities to the extent of $49,250,000. Russia has $950,000; Turkey, represented by one bank's investment in Canadian railroad and government bonds, is interested to the extent of $3,000,000. Our western lands have attracted the attention of Holland, and the response has been no less than $1,000,000. Germany, next to France seems to have the greatest confidence in our future, and has invested $16,500,000. Belgium also is a heavy holder of mortgages and bonds, her interest reaching $6,750,000. In addition to these, the foreign holdings of Canadian Bank shares exceed $1,-000,000.

This heavy investment, according to Mr. Field, has not ceased. French capitalists are expected to come out soon at the instance of Montreal financiers and their visit will likely result in more millions flowing this way. Other investors are likewise watching our development with keen eyes, and the next two or three years will witness a notable increase in the figures above. These facts, secured at considerable expense and labor, should be of value to all financial interests. Mr. Field is a painstaking writer and in this instance he has served a splendid purpose.

USE FIGHT PICTURES.

Judge Says They May Be Shown in Quebec.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—While prize-fights are permitted in the environs of Montreal, there seems little prospect that the moving pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight will be forbidden. Wednesday night a fifteen round bout was given at Maisonneuve, which ended in a knockout. There was no legal difficulty about this, but yesterday under instructions from the attorney-general of the Province, Mr. J. C. Walsh, Crown prosecutor for Montreal, applied for warrants against people who had given animated moving pictures of the affair in which Jeffries was beaten. The application was promptly refused by Judge Lanctot, who declared that, in his opinion no legal case could be made out against those who had shown the pictures.

Launch of the Orion.

Portsmouth, Eng., Aug. 20.—The Orion, one of the largest and most powerful battleships ever built for the British Navy, was successfully launched here this morning in the presence of a large crowd of spectators. She was christened by the Marchioness of Winchester, wife of the Lord-Lieutenant of Hants.

WAITED TEN YEARS.

Wedded After Lover Had Come Back From Transportation.

Among aged folk who remember the Young Ireland movement of 1848 memories of a romance of the time will be awakened when they read of the death in Brisbane, Queensland, of Mrs. Kevin Izod O'Doherty, who in that troublous period was popular by reason of her poetic contributions under the pseudonym of "Eva" to Gavan Duffy's "Nation."

Mrs. O'Doherty, who was then Miss Eva Mary Kelly, had as a fellow contributor "Speranza," the title chosen by Lady Wilde, mother of the late Oscar Wilde.

Among the admirers of "Eva's" poetry was Kevin Izod O'Doherty, a young medical student who was also engaged in the patriotic movement. From a literary admirer, O'Doherty advanced to the position of "Eva's" lover.

As registered proprietor of the "Tribune," another Dublin paper of rebellious tendencies, he was arrested for seditious writing, and had as his prison companion the late Sir Charles Gavan Duffy. The jury disagreed twice, and on the eve of his third trial he was offered what was virtually a pardon if he pleaded guilty—he had certainly written the article which was the basis of the charge. He then went for "Eva."

"I don't like this idea of pleading guilty," O'Doherty said; "what shall I do?"

"Do?" asked "Eva"; "why be a man and face the worst; I'll wait for you, however long the sentence may be."

The third trial day came off, O'Doherty was found guilty, and was sentenced to ten years' transportation. Before his deportation to Australia "Eva" was allowed to see him in his cell.

"Be you faithful," she said to O'Doherty; "I'll wait."

O'Doherty was transported, but, being allowed out on parole in Australia, he was able to finish his medical studies and take out his degree. Years passed, and he returned to Ireland, where "Eva," true to her word in the prison cell, awaited him. Two days after his return to Dublin they were married, and O'Doherty, with his bride, returned to Australia as a voluntary exile.

In 1885 O'Doherty came back and entered the British House of Commons as member for North Meath. He quickly tired of Parliamentary life, however, and once more returned to Australia, where he died a few years ago.

Romantic Story of Poor.

The death at Llandaff House, Weybridge, Wales, recently, of the Earl of Stamford recalls one of the most romantic histories of the peerage.

The family is a very old one, dating from the time of Richard Coeur de Lion. Lady Jane Grey, who occupied the throne of England for a few days, was perhaps its most notable member.

Lord Stamford's earldom was created for a Grey who led a Roundhead host in the field against his sovereign. Royalist historians write him down as a bad general and a cowardly soldier, while his Puritan compatriots found his life scandalous and unseemly. But when the tide turned he had the sense to tack about, and so, in spite of the doings of a one whose name is on King Charles' death warrant, the new earldom was saved to his descendants.

The seventh earl died in 1888, and his heir was discovered in South Africa, an unfrocked missionary, who, after two marriages he, humble life, had lately legalized his union with a half-breed Kaffir woman, the sister of a Dutch vine-grower's slave boy. English society did not call back the new earl. He was content to live on in his corrugated iron shanty at Wynberg, adding to his seats a stone-built house, which he called "Stamford Hall."

He lived happily with his colored wife for several years, and had one daughter, who married Mr. Pieter Pieterse, of the Transvaal. There were no children of the two previous marriages.

When the late earl succeeded to the peerage he was professor of Classics and Philosophy at Codrington College, Barbados.

Duke's Interest in Horses.

The Duke of Teck, who is to be president of the forthcoming Richmond Horse Show, has been devoted all his life to horses. Horses in general attract him, and horses for polo-playing in particular. His Serene Highness has signalled his presidency of the Richmond Show by presenting a magnificent trophy, the Teck Cup, to be won outright in a jumping competition for officers in uniform. The duke has apartments in Henry III.'s tower, Windsor Castle, where is gathered one of the most interesting collections of curios ever gleaned from the corners of the globe. The duke was military attache in Vienna for some time, and has seen service in most foreign countries.

G. B. S.'s Suspicions.

Mr. G. B. Shaw has a way of his own, even on post cards. A second-hand book-seller secured, in the ordinary way of business, a manuscript of his story, "Love Among the Artists." The book-seller told Mr. Shaw that he held it, thinking, perhaps, that the author would be as keen a purchaser as anybody. "Excuse me, where did you get it? . . . Are you a book-seller by day and a burglar by night?" wrote "G.B.S." The book-seller is still asking one hundred guineas for his "find"; the post card he will not part with.

The Reason.

"Talking about women," observed the peach to the potato, "I can't bear those so called notable housewives with their energy in providing for their families."

"Why not? What effect do they produce on you?" asked the potato.

"They jar me," answered the peach.—Baltimore American.

A Proper Name.

"You have christened your baby Halley's Comet?"

"Yes. It's unusual, but appropriate. He's a bright spot in one existence that gets us up at all sorts of unearthly hours."—Washington Star.

The Real Job.

Him—I—I don't know how to tell you how I love you.

Her—Don't worry about that. I'll take it as it comes. What you want to get nervous about is how to tell papa about it.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Point of View.

He—I understand Miss Warbler is going to sing for charity tomorrow evening.

She indeed: I think it would be more charitable on her part if she didn't sing!—Houston Post.

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

San Francisco is determined to be the city in which the completion of the Panama Canal will be celebrated 1915 is fixed for the event. Already, five years ahead, Chas. S. Fee, Chairman Committee on Publicity and Exploitation, is urging all friends of San Francisco to request their representatives in Congress to select San Francisco as the celebration city. New Orleans and Washington are also aspirants, the City of the Golden Gate appears to have a long lead.

Among the interesting claims now advanced by Mr. Fee are that the citizens of San Francisco have subscribed $6,300,000, and will make it $7,500,000—and that the City and State of California will add as much or more; that 90 per cent. of the people who take vacations do so in the summer, and one of the factors influencing their destination is cool climate; that (contrary, possibly, to general belief in the East) cool summer climate is San Francisco's strongest card, temperature averaging 59 degrees, which is only 7 degrees higher than winter; that the new San Francisco built in the past four years at a cost of $300,000,000, is the last word in great cities, and in itself a magnificent exposition of in structure and the things that stan everything modern and beautiful in structure and the things that stand for a clean, healthy place to live in and do business; that it is best equipped in hotels, and finally that the success, financially and otherwise of the exposition, is sure from the fact that experience has shown that 75 per cent. of the attendance at previous great expositions came from within a radius of 250 miles, and as San Francisco and the cities around its bay within 30 minutes' ride have a population of 900,000, within 50 miles of San Francisco 1,000,000, and within 250 miles 1,400,000, the people nearby can be depended upon to make it go as well as to give sufficient life and snap to insure a pleasant reception to those coming from a distance.

By its enterprise at this early date San Francisco sets an example worth follwing to all cities ambitious to hold great international expositions, which usually are slow in commencing their preparations and incomplete and disappointing at their opening, thus resulting in unfavorable impressions being widely circulated that cannot be fully corrected by the best of later efforts.

BURIED PLUNDER.

Recovered by Thieves After Serving Out Their Jail Terms.

It is well known to the police that there are a number of ex-convicts who are literally rolling in riches and driving about London and the provinces to-day in their own motor-cars and carriages, said a detective to the writer the other day. The majority of these men are old embezzlers, and there seems to be little doubt that they are able to live well and keep going lavishly furnished residences because the money they stole was hidden by them before being arrested and sent to prison.

There are thousands of pounds' worth of valuable property looted by thieves from various sources that lies buried in odd corners of Britain, and will probably only be recovered by the men themselves on their release. Cases are constantly occurring where an embezzler after running off with a large sum in gold refuses to divulge the hiding place of his ill-gotten gains. He is sent to prison, and the loot remains unrecovered. In nine cases out of ten the embezzler, finding arrest imminent, buries his stolen property and digs it up again when he comes out of prison.

A man who was for many years an inmate of one of our prisons is now living in affluence in a town up north. He was imprisoned for embezzling $350,000 from his employers, and he declared at the trial that he had spent every penny of it. For some time after his release from jail he lived in a cheap lodging house at Hoxton, and then one day he declared that he had come into a fortune, a brother in Australia having died and left him some thousands. As a matter of fact, although the police had no proof, he had recovered the money which he had embezzled years before.

A man of considerable means now living in the United States served a term of imprisonment for forgery, having obtained $75,000 by means of false checks. Not a penny of the money was recovered by the police. During the forced confinement of the thief his wife, in pursuance of a previously agreed plan, went out to service in a gentleman's family. As soon as the husband was liberated, however, his wife resigned her position, and the pair sailed immediately for the colonies. It ultimately came to light that the money which had been stolen by means of the forged checks had been buried under the flooring in a Soho house.

Some fifteen years ago a Hindu merchant who had come to London to make purchases of gems was robbed of many thousands of pounds. The thieves carried their ill-gotten wealth to a cheap tenement in Whitechapel; but, finding the police hot on their track, they carried the loot one dark night to a remote spot on the Essex marshes and secretly buried it. They then disappeared and have not been seen since. It is believed that the money remains to this day where it was buried—London Tit-Bits.

Thousands Would Do the Same.

A pretty story concerning Mr. W. H. Lever, of Sunlight soap fame, is going the rounds. At an outing of the children of Port Sunlight two little girls invited Mr. Lever to go with them on the switchback railway. Like a jovial schoolboy he consented. As they were going along one little girl said, "I've been in one of these before at New Brighton. I've got a rich aunt there." "Oh, indeed!" said Mr. Lever. "Yes," went on the little one, "she has got £300 saved up." "But you've got more than that, haven't you, Mr. Lever?" inquired the other child. "Well, you know," replied Mr. Lever, seriously, "I keep spending my money, and you can't have money if you spend it, can you?" "And are you very poor now?" asked the first tiny girl, anxiously. "Well," said Mr. Lever, "I keep spending, and whatever shall I do when all my money is gone?" Almost simultaneously his small companions shouted, "Come and live with us!" "I have received a large number of invitations in my lifetime," says Mr Lever, "but none so dear and so sweet to me as that."

A Saving Scheme.

"Co-education is a good thing. The boy gets his study and her courting finished simultaneously and is then ready for work."

"I'm so. While the girl can save a good lot of money by marrying in her graduation gown."

PORCUPINE CITY

THE PORCUPINE BOOM has started. The district is proven. It is today the greatest Gold Camp in the world.

With a present population of over 5,000 in the district, which will increase to 15,000 or 20,000 before the snow falls, the opportunities for rapid growth of the Camp's business center are self-apparent.

PORCUPINE CITY

The Townsite has already the "Porcupine Post Office," two Banks, one 75-room Hotel, general stores, hardware stores, hospital, a drug store, bakery, theatorium, laundry, several office buildings, and numerous boarding houses and dwellings.

Townsite lots worth today from $50.00 to $300.00 should treble in value by Christmas, and be worth many times this amount within the next year or two.

SUDBURY, COBALT, HAILEYBURY and NORTH BAY have returned fortunes to the original investors in their real estate when these towns were young. They thrived on the returns from the lower metals—copper and silver.

DIGGING THE BIG DITCH.

How the Steam Shovels Make the Dirt Fly at Panama.

The steam shovels stand on terraced levels and in fifty minutes load a train of eighteen flat cars, which are unloaded in fifteen minutes more amid a shower of dust. The line of cars is followed by "spreaders." All through the cut puffs of steam here and there indicate where the shovels are burrowing their way and pushing the work forward. Watching shovel 221, I stood on engine No. 256 when she was at work. Engineer Harrison, his hand on the lever, was pushing the cars up in due course as the steam shovels filled them, while the conductor, raising and lowering a flag, directed a "shove-up," so that even while loading it is sometimes necessary for an engineer to keep his hand on the throttle. One shovel accomplished probably as much work in a day as could be done by 600 men, and there is a great deal of rivalry among the operators to make the best record.

The record of steam shovel 222 for one hot day shows how the dirt flies on the Isthmus. Three hundred and thirteen cars were loaded in 470 minutes. In the language of Larry O'Grady, this was "going some," almost an average of a car a minute, with eleven seconds grace, or a rate of a cubic yard of earth every seven seconds. A remark was made by a sad eyed man of unknown nationality, "It looks as though the dirt had wings, doesn't it?" Over 80,933 cubic yards of rock have been taken out in twenty-five working days by one shovel, and a completed tunnel through the cut is excavated within every month.—Joe Mitchell Chappie in National Magazine.

A FOREST GIANT.

Monster Tree Trunk That Rivals the Famous Fallen Monarch.

A rival of the giant tree, the Fallen Monarch, familiar in pictures with a stagecoach on top of its trunk, has been found on the slopes of Bald mountain, in northern Tulare county.

It is in a region little visited and was first noted by R. H. Gallagher, an old Yosemite stage driver, two years ago When Gallagher tried to return to it he lost the trail and did not find the great tree again for months.

The great trunk lies in the forest, the lower two or three feet of it buried in the soil which has been accumulating for ages. It is believed that hundreds of years have passed since the great tree fell, and the fires of ages have rolled over it through the forest. Much of the bark has been burned away, yet originally it was from twenty to forty inches thick. The trunk now is more than 100 feet in circumference, and it is a hard climb to get on top of it.

Bald peak is midway between the Sequoia National park and the General Grant National park. Near by is Redwood mountain, on which there are said to be 10,000 giant trees. The region, which is northeast of Visalia, is reached by stage to Exeter valley, twenty-one miles, where Gallagher has a camp called Jesalita camp.—Los Angeles Express.

German Acuteness.

The egg cups imported into India at one time all came from Great Britain. The Indian eggs are, however, very small, and the egg cups did not fit. A German traveler noticed this small item and got his firm to make smaller egg cups and export them there. All the trade is now in German hands. In Africa the scissors imported from Sheffield were found to be rather dangerous weapons to place in the hands of the natives, owing to their sharp points. The Solingen Steel works sent a lot of round pointed scissors out, which found favor, and now Germany has captured the whole market.—From "Germany of the Germans."

Saving the Edelweiss.

The edelweiss, responsible for so many deaths, is becoming rare. The plant when it is culled is not of particular beauty, but the fascination of picking it is in an inverse ratio. Natives of the poorer class gather the flower, and tourists buy it for the same reason as certain anglers buy trout. The Bavarian government is so alarmed at the threatened destruction of the mountain "orchid" that a law has been passed to penalize the gathering without a permit. The measure is somewhat drastic, for even a proprietor who wishes to gather the flower must first obtain a permit.—London Globe.

Bacteria.

Modern investigations as to the origin of diseases have brought the little organisms called bacteria into so much prominence that search has been made to ascertain whether they existed during the early geological periods. Not long since the fact was announced that Regnault had discovered bacteria in coal. Continuing his researches, he found evidence that bacteria were probably coeval with the first appearance of organic life on the earth. They attacked vegetable tissues as well as the bones and teeth of animals; but, as a rule, they belonged to species distinct from those of today.

MOOSE HUNT TO ORDER

HOW VAN HORNE FURNISHED SPORT TO TWO WRITERS.

He Didn't Know Where to Find a Moose, But He Warned Them Not to Make a Slaughter — Turned Them Over to Pat Murphy and Patrick Did the Rest—Five Moose Just Off the Railway Track!

Sir William Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, once told Mr. J. E. Barrett how he furnished Julian Ralph and the late Frederick Remington a complete moose hunt, which was duly described and depicted in Harper's Magazine, a few years ago. True the moose were there, were shot, and photographed, but how they happened to be there is another story. Mr. Barrett quotes Sir William as follows in The Bellman, (Minneapolis):

I was sitting in my office one day when two cards were brought in bearing the names of Julian Ralph and Frederick Remington. I knew the names and told my secretary to show the gentlemen in. They came, and presented a letter from Harper's Magazine, from which it appeared that they had been sent, the one to write and the other to illustrate a Canadian moose hunt. The editor of Harper's Magazine asked me to show them any courtesies which would assist them in their object.

Now I hadn't a notion whether there was a single blast moose along the whole line of the Canadian Pacific, but I wasn't going to say so to two men from New York. So—

"I understand, gentlemen," I said, "that you have come here to shoot moose." They said that was the case.

"Well, now," I continued, "I suppose that I can take it for granted that you are gentlemen and have the proper sporting instinct. If I turn you loose you are not going to go slaughtering our moose and filling the woods with blood?"

No, no, no; they wouldn't think of such a thing.

"You don't propose to decimate our herds of these noble animals?"

"Why certainly not."

"I presume that one good bull moose apiece would satisfy you?" And their eyes glistened as they said that indeed it would. "On that understanding," I said, "I'll give you a letter to our agent at Mattawa."

The reason why I chose him was because if there was a moose to be found in Canada Pat Murphy was the man to find it when told to. If there wasn't a moose in the country, I knew he could take a joke. So I wrote:

Dear Murphy.—This will introduce to you Frederick Remington, the well-known artist, and Julian Ralph, the equally well-known writer, who have come in the interest of Harper's Magazine to describe and illustrate a moose hunt. They have promised not to kill too many of the noble animals, but will be content with getting one good bull moose apiece. I trust to you to see that they get them. Yours, etc.

Now it was up to Murphy.

I had forgotten all about the matter in the press of business, when a couple of weeks or so later, the same two cards were brought to me again and once more I met Mr. Ralph and Mr. Remington. They were delighted. Had they got their mooses, or meese, or whatever it is? Of course they had. They had had a simply glorious time, and couldn't say enough in thanks to me or in praise of Murphy. In due course, the article appeared in Harper's. One of them sent me a copy, and a rattling good article it was, pictures and all. But what puzzled me was how it had all happened. Murphy told me some time later.

When they arrived with my letter he didn't know whether there was a moose within five hundred miles. He hadn't heard of one for ten years, but he wasn't going to give us away to any New Yorkers any more than I was. Besides, I had said that he was to see that these men got their moose, and he proposed to do it.

He made excuse that his best hunters happened to be away for a few days and it would be necessary to wait till they came back. Then he sent out runners. He sent them to every point of the compass to start the Indians beating the woods towards Mattawa. I don't know how many Indians and others he got to work, but they beat for all that was in them. From somewhere up in the Arctic regions, from east to west, the entire population of the country came converging toward Mattawa, with a distinct understanding all along the line that any man who let a moose through would be shot out of hand.

It took six days, but they got 'em. By the evening of the sixth day, men came in and told Murphy that they had five mooses, two bulls and three cows, safely cornered ten miles off in the woods. So Murphy announced that his hunters had come back, and would be ready to go out next day.

They went. The skill those men showed in reading the moose signs impressed Ralph and Remington as simply marvellous. Within a few hours they were on the track of a herd of five, and early next morning one of the ambitions of the lives of both was realised, for each had shot with his own rifle a good Canadian bull moose.

Within a few miles of the line of the railroad, to strike off at random into the woods and pick up moose as if they were prairie-chickens—what a paradise for hunters!

A Link of Empire.

Another link in the bonds of Empire was forged the other day when the Tasmanian Government presented a gold watch, suitably inscribed to Constable Walter Lygo, who, while on duty in London, some months ago found a young Tasmanian seaman named George Johansen in a starving condition and assisted him with both food and money. The people on the West Coast of Tasmania, where Johansen's parents lived, desired to make some recognition of Constable Lygo's kindness and opened a subscription for the purchase of a testimonial.

Why He Was Gallant.

A stout woman entered a crowded car and took hold of a strap directly in front of a man seated in the corner. As the car started she lunged against his newspaper and trod heavily on his toes. As soon as he could extricate himself he arose and offered her his seat.

"You are very kind, sir," she said, panting for breath.

"Not at all, madam," he replied. "It's not kindness; it's simply self defense."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

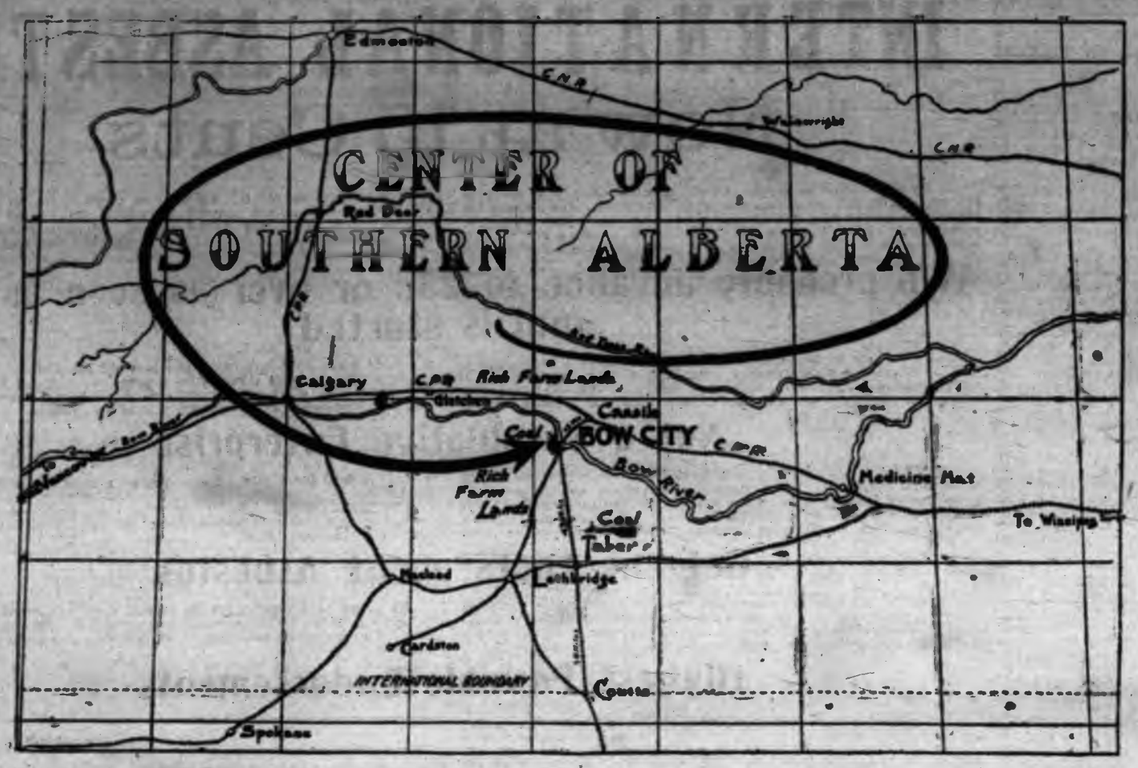
"GIVE YOUR SON A DEED"



If, by way of illustration, you will review the history of the men in your town who have made money out of real estate, you will find that in each and every instance their profits were made from real estate acquired at ground floor prices.

More money can be made by those who acquire a realty interest in a town at its inception per dollar invested than from investments made after a period of years.

Do you know that you can purchase with $5 cash a full sized residential lot in Bow City, Alberta

the logical location for a great city, a city which is destined to be known, the world over, as a market place annually for hundreds of thousands of bushels of grain, grown on the vast irrigated fields surrounding Bow City, a shipping point for coal from the great Bow Centre Collieries, and a purchasing depot for hundreds of prosperous farmers resident throughout Southern Alberta.

To-day is your opportunity to acquire an interest in Bow City at the ground floor price.

It will be too late six months hence, to apply for a lot in Bow City at the present prices and on such easy terms as are offered you in this advertisement.

Why not follow Russell Sage's advice given in a letter published some years ago to the fathers in the Western States:—

"Buy your son a lot in a town being the "centre of a great agricultural country—when "he comes of age that lot will be worth consid-"erable money and will provide a handsome "stake for him in life; it is at least most sub-"stantial life insurance—sure and certain."

Buy your son a $50 lot in Bow City, the coming metropolis of the western prairies. In a very short time he can re-sell the same at a big increase, which money he will find advantageous in business pursuits or in a college course.

Bow City, the centre of the great granary of Southern Albert has a future concerning which no sane business man or banker has any doubt.

When you are assured of the success of the city, when you have proven to you beyond the shadow of a doubt that Bow City will, in the very near future, be one of the most active, one of the most progressive towns on the Western prairies, you should not hesitate to acquire at least one $50 residential lot, when same is on sale on such easy terms as 10 per cent cash and the balance 10 per cent per month until paid—a deed at any time.

Bow City is in the heart of a famous irrigated farming belt whose farmers are assured of a crop every year. They are prosperous and their prosperity will naturally enhance the value of Bow City real estate.

The great coal mines of Bow City will furnish work for 1,000 to 1,500 miners daily, these miners will constitute a substantial basis for a successful city.

The present owners of Bow City have decided that no licenses shall be issued for the sale of spirituous liquors; they intend that this great mining and agricultural centre shall be free from any traffic in intoxicating drinks—it will be a clean city.

Bow City is the headquarters of a railway which taps a territory unparalleled for richness in crops and natural resources.

The Sale of Bow City lots opened but a few days ago

If you are desirous of acquiring a $50 residential lot close in you should lose no time in making application by wire direct to the General Agents of the townsite, or to the nearest sub-agent.

Do not delay by sending your apulication by mail.

Wire at once your reservation for one or more lots On receipt of wire your name will be placed on the closest-in unsold lot or lots and same will be held in your name, allowing you sufficient time for your cash payment, mailed same day you wire, to travel from your home to the head office.

You may find it to your advantage, if you are desirous of securing a business opening, or a business lot, to write for copy of the plans, booklets and descriptive matter concerning Bow City, all of which may be had on application, free of charge.

PREMIER AND THE NEWCOMERS

One of the Conservative correspondents in the West comments, upon the non-partisan character of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speeches, and also on the reception accorded him.

From the time that Sir Wilfrid Laurier entered Saskatchewan, at least, he endeavored more and more to make his speeches non-partisan in character, and refrained from saying anything bitter or offensive to members of the Conservative party. At Welburn he exhorted the settlers from the United States to take an active part in Canadian politics, municipal, Provincial and Dominion. He explained that the British system of government depended upon the existence of two great political parties, and told them that he would much prefer to see them join the Conservative party than to see them abstain from taking any part in the political life of the country. The crowds at the various cities were almost altogether devoid of political significance. The premier was received in Saskatchewan very much like the president of the United States would be received in North Dakota.

This correspondent says that the tour may not be a success from a party standpoint, but is a success from the standpoint of the interest taken in Canada and in Canada's highest officer. With this we ought all to be well satisfied. Opinions will of course differ as to the political effect of the tour, and we must expect Conservatives and Liberals to take different views. But in a country which is in the formative stage, which contains many newcomers who are acquiring knowledge of our political institutions, the visit of the prime minister must be important and beneficial. Personality gives color and reality to the exposition of political principles. The newcomer who hears Sir Wilfrid Laurier naturally inquires what power he holds, what duties he discharges, what relation he has with other parts of the constitutional machinery of the country. Passages in Sir Wilfrid's speeches are criticised adversely as elementary and obvious, but they are not so elementary and obvious to the stranger. Serious misapprehensions may exist for lack of a simple explanation.

Miss Edith Powell of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frost, Gilmour street.

THE BEST MEDICINE.

Pure Air Cures Many Ills and Means the Prolongation of Life.

"Pure air is more precious than gold," said the venerable physician. "It is the best medicine in the world and means the prolongation of life and the cure for many ills which make my calling necessary and profitable. Don't tarry too long in crowded, ill-ventilated places and beware of 'stuffy' rooms. Now, the dangerous element in a stuffy place, like a rush hour subway train is, strictly speaking, not due to carbonic acid gas. That in its pure condition would speedily cause death, but it has been established that the chief danger in breathing vitiated air is not entirely or even chiefly due to carbonic acid gas, but rather to organic impurities which are invariably present in vitiated air.

"And here it may be pointed out that the other chief constituent of breath is water, and an amount varying from six to twenty-seven ounces, it has been calculated, may be given off in the course of twenty-four hours. Dr. De Chaumont, a well-known authority on this subject, has estimated that an assembly of 2,000 people during a period of two hours—that is, the duration of an ordinary meeting—may exhale in respiration and give off in perspiration about seventeen gallons of water.

"The amount of carbonic acid given off by a man amounts to about three-quarters of a cubic foot an hour, or nineteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. Each individual, therefore, may be said to destroy about fifteen cubic feet in twenty-four hours. And the man who occupies a hall bedroom and keeps his window down while he reads by gaslight far into the night should know that the burning jet gives off as much carbonic acid as he does himself. Then he may let in a little air."

Bismarck on Women in Politics.

Some interesting observations of Prince Bismarck on female suffrage have come to light. Of women in politics he said: "We men are all clumsy. We Germans especially are always ungainly—bears, even diplomatists. Moreover, much less would be made public, for a sensible woman's mouth can keep silence. On the other hand, it can draw from an opponent in a tone of harmless chatter many a secret that he would not give up to us men. Woman's mouth chats so ingratiatingly on most subjects that we never notice, old donkeys that we are, that we have told them more than we intended to, for everything that is feminine beats us in cunning."—London Telegraph.

The Crucial Test.

At an adjourned town council meeting in the north a member casually mentioned that a person could not enjoy or even distinguish between drinks in the dark. A worthy bailie denied this and offered to bet that, blindfolded, he could name any drink given him. The bet being accepted and the bailie blindfolded, the test commenced. The bailie drank everything submitted, smacked his lips and correctly named the drink until the taken was in despair. Then "try him wi' water," whispered a councillor, and the hint was taken. Sip—smack—sip—a shake of the head—"I canna just mind the name o' this, but I mind o' tastin' it when I was a wee laddie."—London Standard.

Japan's Police Force.

Japan's police force was originally the most aristocratic body of the kind in the world. Its establishment was almost coincident with the Emperor's decree forbidding the wearing of swords. By a stroke of the imperial pen the samurai were deprived of cherished weapons by which the gentlemen of Japan had been accustomed from immemorial times to advertise their rank. So they went into the police, where it was still possible to carry a sword. And a very formidable weapon it was then, being of the two-handed variety.

How Do You Take Your Defeat.

The way a man takes his defeat is a pretty good test of his caliber. The strong man uses his failures for stepping stones instead of stumbling blocks. I know a very successful young man who has made it a rule of his life to turn every misfortune that comes to him as a point of departure for something better. He has had losses and misfortunes which would have crushed most men, but they only stiffen his resolution, nerve him up for a new start. They only make him more determined to conquer the next time.—Success.

The Worst Drink.

"But chi-chi, the chi-chi of Patagonia! That is the worst drink in the world," said a naval man. "The Patagonians gather wild apples. They dig pits and line them with horse hides, and in those pits they leave the apples to rot and ferment. When the pits are full of foamy, hissing juices the Patagonian warriors gather for their annual jag, and the women and children go off and hide in the woods. No wonder, for chi-chi is a terrible drink. It is a thick gray foam that hisses. It seems to be alive. It is like drinking snakes."

Getting Even.

Some retaliations are too clever to be resented. They seem to be almost a logical part of the circumstances that evoked them. Dr. Wilmes was formerly the principal of a boys' school. One day he had occasion to trounce a lad, who naturally resented the punishment. On the doctor's front door was a plate bearing the one word "Wilmes." That night a bold and clever hand added three words to the inscription, so that in the morning the doorplate read this way: "Wilmes and Other Lickers."

Receding Chins.

The minority who have square chins and big lower jaws say that we of the receding chins have neither will nor strength of character, which is absurd, as anyone may know who remembers that Gen. Wolfe and Mr. Pitt had practically no chins at all, to say nothing of living soldiers and statesmen. To judge a man by his chin is no less foolish than to judge him by the bumps of his skull.

NOT TOO SHALLOW BUT PLENTY OF ICE.

Government Vessel Returns From Hudson Bay—Could Go Near Shore

Halifax, Aug. 19.—The Canadian Government steamer Stanley has returned from Hudson Bay. From the reports of the Stanley's officers, it cannot be said that the outlook is very promising for the proposed ocean route from Nelson River or Port Churchill.

The Stanley arrived at Churchill on July 27, and left to return on the 29th. On the way to Nelson she encountered much ice—miles of it—and all the time the thermometer was at the freezing point and lower. The schooner Chrissie G. Thomsey, which was part of the government expedition, was towed to within fifteen miles of Nelson, and so heavy was the ice that a twelve-inch hawser had to be used, and this snapped once. The Stanley had no difficulty in making Port Churchill, getting as close as a quarter of a mile from the shore.

The schooner Thomey reports six fathoms of water sixteen miles off Nelson. Mr. Parrisau, the engineer in charge of the Thomey's party will remain at the bay until the ice is hard, and will then travel overland to Winnipeg. He will report on the feasibility of Nelson River as a port for ocean-going steamers.

SUFFERED FROM VIOLENT CATHARTICS.

The Warning of Mr. George C. Fox is One That Should Be Heeded By All.

Few men on the road are better known than genial George Fox, whose friends throughout the west are legion. In the following letter he expresses gratitude for signal service rendered by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. He goes on to say: "Until I used Dr Hamilton's Pills and experienced their wonderful mildness and curative power, I estimated every pill by its activity. Talking about this the other day to a well known physician I met on the train, he explained there are different kinds of drugs that act upon the bowels, the most active being known as drastic. Except in extreme cases where the life of the patient depends upon speedy evacuation of the bowels, pills should never be drastic. Purgatives cause catarrh of the bowels and inflammation; their dose must be increased, causing even more harm. With such a clear explanation I could see why Dr. Hamilton's Pills are curative and not irritating, why they are mild, yet most searching.

"From my experience I recommend everyone that takes pills to give up the old-fashioned harsh, purging pill, and instead, to use Dr. Hamilton's. They cure headache, biliousness constipation, bad stomach and keep the system in perfect condition."

CREDIT TO COLORED RACE.

Col. Roosevelt's Address to the Colored People of the South.

New York, Aug. 21.—In his address here yesterday before the National Negro League, Colonel Roosevelt went into the subject of colored men holding office, saying:

"I am to see here certain of those whom I appointed to office, and who have reflected great credit upon the colored race in the only way in which men appointed to public office can reflect credit—and that is by doing his duty.

"Mr. Charles W. Anderson (who is connected with the custim house of this port) has so borne himself in office that hereafter it will always be easier to appoint good colored men to office. I am particularly glad also to see here on this platform Rev. Dr. W. P. Dupose, of the University of the South. (Dr. Duboise is a white man). Rev. Dr. Dubose has rendered great assistance to the colored man.

"This National Negro Business League, teaches you not to whine or cry about privileges you haven't got but to turn your attention to making the best of opportunities that lie at your door. An ounce of performance of good work, of good citizenship, is worth a ton of complaints about what you haven't got.

"I am the last man to slight the injustices that good colored men have to contend with. I feel that the really substantial way of working to remedy that injustice is by teaching your people so to carry themselves that the white man—willy nilly will be forced to recognize in his colored neighbor a desirable neighbor and an honest man in all his business dealings.

NO TUMBLE-DOWN CABINS.

Every down-in-the-heels slatternly tumble-down negro cabin is not only bad for the people who live in it but it is a reflection upon the colored race. Make the slatternly negro feel the sense of race obligation that will force him, not only for his own sake, but for the sake of his people, to better his condition.

"There has been great progress in the relations between the colored and the white races.

"It is the duty of the white man to render aid to the colored man. The doctrine of all good men should be all men up, and not some men down. I think that that would be a safe motto in this world!"

TO VISIT CHINA.

Roosevelt Accepts Invitation From Chinese Prince.

Peking, Aug. 20.—Colonel Roosevelt will visit China, probably next year. Prince Tsai Tao, when he met him in London, extended a cordial invitation and Mr. Roosevelt promised to come. The prince, with Lord Li Ching Mai and others of his suite to-day called at the respective legations to express his appreciation of the reception accorded him in America and Europe. Lord Li Ching Mai, speaking for the prince, said that he enjoyed his visit to America most, and was deeply impressed with the cordiality of his American reception, its frank democracy and the demonstration of its perfect sincerity.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Many a man in Peterborough learned yesterday that "Dick" Baker, the well-known Canadian trainer, had passed away, and everyone expressed sincere regret.

Mr. Walter McKee of Smith, has taken home a beautiful black colt from the stables of Mr. Jas. Herron, of Springville, and judging from the appearance of the filly, the price must have been high.

Considerable excitement was caused here yesterday when The Times noted that the Ontario Government thought of cutting off all the local license inspectors. Possibly the coolest man, though most closely affected by the intelligence, was Inspector Stewart.

Today the S.O.E.B.S., of Lindsay, are running an excursion via Kawartha Lakes to Peterborough. It is expected that a large crowd will arrive in the city.

As a sample of the enterprise and celerity of action of the Otonabee Navigation Co., it might be noted that the steamer "Stony Lake" on Saturday met with an unavoidable accident in her steering gear in Stony Lake. The "Maida Vale" rendered a sisterly act in towing the Stony Lake to Mount Julian. Here repairs were quickly made and the O.N. Co steamer was able to proceed to Peterborough without any appreciable delay.

The "Real Quartette" is well named. These colored vocalists are certainly the "Real" thing. Yesterday afternoon when this quartette put on their imitation of a circus calliope at the Royal Theater, the audience would simply not let them leave the stage without a repeator. "Encore! encore!" was repeatedly called.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be treating 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Casper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The product we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Experts from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Casper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thedford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

The Sudden Termination of Ceremony in Windsor

WHITE MAN AND COLORED DEAF MUTE ABOUT TO BE MADE MAN AND WIFE.

When Woman's Husband Appears and They Were Escorted to the Police Station.

Windsor, Aug. 23.—Wedding arrangements of Albert Yates, a white man, 28 years old, and Mrs. Lula Campbell Boyer, a colored deaf mute were interrupted when Charles Boyer claiming to be the husband of the woman, burst into the home of Rev. Mr. Jackson, pastor of the colored Methodist Church, while the ceremony was in progress last night.

Instead of being married Yates spent the night at Windsor police headquarters. The man and woman claimed they had a perfect right to be married, and in order to settle the dispute they started for police headquarters accompanied by Boyer. To the police the woman declared she was never married to Boyer,but, after conversing with Boyer in the sign language for a few minutes, she walked out of the station, leaving Yates to be locked up.

YOUNG GIRL TOOK CHLORIDE OF MERCURY---WAS DESPONDENT

Yesterday an almost tragedy was enacted at 108 Aylmer street, when fourteen-year-old Mary Cowan, who lives at that address with her brother, took that deadly drug, chloride of mercury. Mary had been in ill-health for some time and had evidently become despondent.

That the foolish girl did not accomplish her fell purpose, was due to the fortunate arrival on the scene of Rev. W. E. Riddiford, pastor of the Park street Baptist church, who, no doubt, averted a tragedy, and through prompt action on his part the girl was soon out of danger. When the unfortunate girl was discovered, suffering from the effects of the drug she had taken, the household was pro tem, demoralized. The rev. gentleman was passing, and was hailed. He advised an emetic of sweet milk and grease and this was given with most satisfactory results. Dr. Marshall was summonsed and the little girl was soon out of danger. The girl, who came here some time ago from Kingston, has since boarded with her brother and father. The following note written by Mary Cowan, was found on the premises:

"My Dear Father,—As I have taken poison, and when you discover this on me, when I am dead. I hope you will forgive your daughter for what she has done. Am feeling sick now. If I live till morning, take me back to Kingston, but lay me beside mother."

On the reverse side of the paper was the following:

Peterborough, Aug. 1910.

"My Dear Friend, — As I am not well I think I will go home, for I am boarding at a place where the Mrs. nearly sets me crazy. I will tell you all when I come home. There is no place—"

This shows clearly that her first intention of leaving was replaced by the more serious plan of solving "life's mystery." The point for consideration now, is, how and where did, or could, a 14-year-old child procure chloride of mercury.

ILLEGAL FISHING.

Fishery Patrol Steamer Seizes Nets in Emily Creek.

The fishery patrol steamer Naiad made a very important capture on Friday last at Emily Creek. They found a net 200 feet long extending across the creek a short distance above the second bridge. The net was seized and destroyed, and we understand the inspector is in possession of such information that may make it unpleasant for the law breakers.

There has been a strong suspicion that these conditions were existing in this locality for some time, and the inspector is determined to put a stop to it.

A word of warning is also sounded for those who are indulging in dark shooting before the opening of the season (Sept. 15th.). The waters in this section of the country will be carefully patrolled this year, and those who evade the law will pay dearly.—Lindsay Post.

LOCAL PEOPLE WORRIED.

Miss Jeanette Rubidge in Hamilton, Mon., Threatened by Fire.

The many friends in this city of Miss Jeanette Rubidge, daughter of the late Mr. Harry Rubidge, formerly auditor of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railway, Chicago, are in a state of anxiety concerning this young lady, who is one of the most beautiful of Chicago's rising generation. Miss Rubidge, it will be remembered, was a year or two ago, the guest here of her aunt, Mrs. Archer, Rubidge street. Miss Rubidge is at present in Hamilton, Montana, one of the cities now threatened by the horrible forest fires devastating that State. The current press notes that Hamilton is not only threatened by the forest fires, but is a center, to which hundreds of fire frightened refugees are daily flying. Telegrams were sent yesterday to Chicago by local relatives of Miss Rubidge, enquiring as to conditions in Hamilton, Mon., and as to the girl's safety.

A NEW FACTORY.

Answer to Criticism of Peterborough's Industrial Commissioner.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir.—In your issue of yesterday under the title "The City Running Straight on the Rocks," is a letter signed by "Taxpayer," in which very well put fault is found with the extravagant management of the city's affairs. However, any comment or fault finding is weakened when facts are exaggerated or suppressed. In the letter, Taxpayer, in referring to our $4,000 a year, and typewriter adjunct extra, industrial commissioner, says, "The year is more than half gone, and no new industry has yet appeared." In fairness to the commissioner I would call Taxpayer's attention to the fact that one new industry has appeared. On George street a few days ago a basket factory employing two hands, has been established. I must admit that the two hands belong to the one man, but still the factory has appeared.

300 FIRE FIGHTERS ARE DEAD, SAYS GOVERNMENT SUPERVISOR

Wallace, Idaho, Aug. 23.—The appalling statement was made today by Supervisor Weigle, that he believed that three hundred of the government fire fighters in the Coeur d'Alene have perished.

Weigle declares that half of his force of six hundred is missing, and that he fears hopes of rescuing the men alive will have to be abandoned.

"Out of my total force of six hundred men, I have received word of the safety of only three hundred," said the supervisor. "The others, when last heard from, where working in the districts where the flames have been fiercest, along the head waters of the Coeur d'Alene and the St. Joe. I am forced to the appalling conclusion that nearly all of these men have lost their lives."

DELIBERATE ATTEMPT TO BURN A WOMAN

St. Thomas, Aug. 23.—What appears to be a deliberate attempt at arson and murder was discovered at the house of Matthew Doyle, 7th concession, Yarmouth, at three o'clock this morning. The discovery was made by a lad named Leo Fox, who was awakened by sickness. Going from his room he saw on the landing a light which he found to come from some burning material fixed on the door knob of the room in which Miss Margaret Doyle, and her niece, Miss Josephine Doyle were sleeping. He routed the women who tried to get out of the room but the handle of the door was too hot to hold. The younger woman went to the window and screamed for help. Mr. Leslie, a neighbor, responded, and investigation showed that an entry had been made into the house through a window into Mr. Doyle's bedroom, and the man must have pushed through the room without rousing Mr. Doyle, who is 70 years of age. The window had been reached by climbing over a lean-to roof.

The city police were notified, and were able to track the man in the early morning dew for some distance only to lose the track on the dusty road. The burning material was apparently waste, soaked in some dark oil, such as axle grease.

That robbery was not purposed was evidenced by the fact that a pocket book hanging in Mr. Doyle's vest pocket, in full view of anyone entering his room and other valuables were left within touch. The attack was apparently intended for the older Miss Doyle, this being the second time within a month that she has been in danger. A month ago she was nearly choked to death, but her assailants got away!

The police have no clue at present.

NEGRO TROOPERS KILLED TWO LOOTERS AT WALLACE, IDAHO

Butte, Mont., Aug. 23.—Two looters, caught in the ruins of a burned portion of Wallace, Idaho, have been shot to death by negro troopers of the 15th United States Infantry, policing the town, according to reports received here today. The robbers were attempting to get into a safe when surprised and were captured after a struggle. Several other looters have been chased from the devasted district of the town, and bands of looters who have attempted to steal from the ruins have been run from the town by civilians.

Efforts are being made to find a man accused of having set fire to the town. According to a statement made to the authorities by a citizen, he saw a man whom he described fairly accurately, set fire to the Wheelan building, where the blaze started.

DR. CRIPPEN AS PEACEMAKER

ONE GOOD ACT THAT STANDS TO HIS CREDIT WITHIN THE LAST YEAR.

Other Women in Case—Brought About Reconciliation at a Pleasant Little Dinner and Brighter Day Dawned on Them.

London, Aug. 23.—It is humane to reason from a psychological point of view that all deeds of cruelty emanate from the complexities of human passions creating secret havoc within weak and unbalanced brains.

When a fellow-being is accused of crime, the sleuth-hounds of publicity eagerly seek out every detail of the past. The good is rejected as unpalatable for the public taste, and the bad exaggerated, and held up in lurid colors. In these days of intellectual advancement these half-methods are primitive and crude.

There is nothing more fascinating puzzling, mystifying, and enthralling than the study of character.

The good is so mixed up with the evil that the two should be placed side by side to arrive at the deductive solution of a human problem.

In vivid contrast to the black shadows that have been cast upon the home life of the Crippens, the following beautiful and tender story (authentic in every detail) has come to light.

It shows how Crippen and his wife ("Belle Elmore") within the last year were instrumental in bringing about the happiness and reconciliation of an estranged couple.

It must be remembered that Crippen never by word, deed or action showed outwardly to those who knew him for years that he was otherwise than a kindly, gentle and inoffensive man, devoted to his wife.

GOOD ADVICE.

The young couple in question had been married some few years. They were united and happy until the inevitable "other woman" came on the scene. The wife, distraught and worried, met Crippen accidentally in Regent street. He noticed how ill she looked, and questioned her. He listened attentively, said some kindly words, and advised her to go straight away, and see his wife, as he was of opinion that it would relieve her mind to talk it over with a woman friend.

The wife took his advice and called on Mrs. Crippen, who entered into the story with every feeling of sympathy. She advised her to be very careful not to show her jealousy, by complaining, nagging or making a scene, as men were strange creatures, and required careful handling. She told her to pull herself together, wipe alll traces of tears away, and make herself look as pretty as possible.

The wife was hesitating about attending a social function in company with her husband that night. Mrs. Crippen urged her to go. She offered to lend her some addition to her toilette, so that she would appear extra attractive. The wife carried out her instructions, and was a great success that evening, singing better strange to say, than she had ever done before.

A KINDLY PLAN.

The next day Crippen called and asked the couple to join them at a little dinner en famille at their house. This was part of a kindly plan arranged at Crippen's instigation. The invitation was accepted, although somewhat reluctantly by the husband. That evening both host and hostess, with the utmost tact, tried to make things easy for the couple. Crippen put himself out to chat more than he had ever done before.

After a dainty little dinner, Mrs. Crippen, at a sign from her husband took the office from the dining room and Crippen had a chat with the husband. It appeared he started the subject in a very manly and gentle manner, as one man of the world to another. He expressed himself as pained to think that two people whom he had known to be so devoted to each other should be estranged. He reminded the man of his wife's tenderness to him for years past, and that there could be no possible happiness for them in the future if they parted.

Then, somehow, as Crippen spoke to him, he realized that the greater love was for his wife. Crippen said no more, but just pressed the man's hand silently and left the room, and brought back the man's wife. He joined their hands. The husband took his wife in his arms, and, as Crippen left them together, and closed the door, a brighter day dawned for them.

LIST OF PERSONS WHO MET DEATH IN BLAZING FORESTS OR TOWNS IS GROWING.

Still Uncertainty About Fate of One Large Party—People are Recovering From the Shock of Their Narrow Escapes—Many Bridges Were Consumed.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 23.—The forest fires have swept past Wallace. The towns of the Coeur d'Alene district, have passed the first stage of wild, unreasoning panic, and have settled down with more or less composure to wait for the list of the dead. The list is constantly growing as the forest rangers, with red eyes, and blackened faces, penetrate the trails, now choked with fallen logs and bring word of fire fighting crews cut off, camps wiped out, ranches and homesteaders caught in the path of the flames, and mountain towns left in ashes.

Since the report of the Bullion mine tragedy no new deaths have been recorded. Forest Supervisor Weigl has heard from practically all of his foresters, and expresses no alarm except for the isolated gangs of fire fighter cut off from communication.

He is also worried about Ranger Melville, fighting with a large crew on Independence Creek, from whom he has not heard for several days.

Notices have been posted that mines at Burke, and along the Canyon will start tomorrow, and miners are being called back to work. Before the week is over, work will have been started on the reconstruction of many buildings wiped out Saturday night. As fast as they can be assembled, bridge building crews will be rushed to work.

Hardly a bridge in the whole country around Wallace is left, and the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Northern Pacific and Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound lines are crippled to some extent. The burned district, generally speaking, extends east to Missoula, north to the head waters of the St. Joe, and in other directions, nobody knows how far. From the top of the hills, everything as far as the eye can see, is swept bare.

WOMEN SAVED TOWN.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 23.—That Elk City is still on the map and out of reach of the forest fires ravaging the surrounding country, which is ablaze for miles, is due solely to the heroism of the women of the town, who, while the male population was fighting the advance of the conflagration, guarded their homes and the business houses, extinguishing a number of incipient blazes started by brands carried from the burning forests. Many of them stayed on the roofs of buildings all Saturday night and but for their bravery the town would have been a mass of smouldering embers.

PETERBOROUGH BOWLERS WIN THE FIRST ROUND.

Peterborough bowlers yesterday excelled the performances of their Montreal and Ottawa confreres in that game by defeating the celebrated British team, which, as noted in another part of the issue came to Canada, evidently bent on conquest. During the afternoon the score, at the Peterborough lawn, at the finish stood two in favor of Peterborough bowlers. An exciting match at the finish was played between a Peterborough rink and their opponents from across the sea. The score of this rink stood 19—17. At this particular part of the game the score was a tie. With the rink mentioned, had they taken Peterborough's nearest bowl out they would have won the round by one shot, but this rink placed Peterborough's pennant of victory above that of the British bowlers.

Still Peterborough, whether from her bowlers or others, extends a hand open welcome to the visiting bowlers who are a whole-souled and sportsmanlike aggregation of the best the Mother Country is want to send abroad to show England's interest in amateur clean sports.

MOTHER-IN-LAW'S JAWS.

Works Sewing Machine, Churns and Does All Sorts of Useful Work.

"By a system of different pulleys and strings I have devised a scheme to make my wife's jaws do useful work when she chews gum," said a man who averred he was J. Montgomery Gubbins, of Omaha, Neb., yesterday to the New York World.

"With this device attached to her jaws," he continued, "my wife runs her sewing machine and thoroughly enjoy herself while doing so. I invented this simple machine because my wife has rheumatism in both ankles, and has a stiff wrist. With a similar machine I have set my mother-in-law to work running a churn. It takes more power to run a churn than it does a sewing machine. I came east to look over the field with the view of trying my invention on the New York public if I found gum chewing popular.

"I am highly pleased with what I found, and I know I'll have tremendous sales of this machine when I return to New York. I found the biggest number of gum chewers among the subway travelers. I'm sure they will jump at the chance to buy my invention when they find I've got an attachment that will provide fresh air as the traveler works his jaws."

Coming to Study American Navy.

Shanghai, Aug. 24.—The delegation of Chinese imperial navy commissioners, who are going to the United States to study naval affairs, sailed on the steamship Manchuria to-day for San Francisco. The delegation, which is one of the most distinguished that China has ever sent abroad, is headed by Admiral Sah and Prince Tsai Hsun. The latter is an uncle of the Chinese Emperor and a brother of Prince Tsai Tao, commander-in-chief of the Chinese army, who visited the United States last year.

Capture of Washington.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 24.—Ninety-six years ago to-day a British army, under the command of after having defeated an American General Ross, entered Washington, force of superior numbers. The capital was abandoned to the invaders, who applied the torch to the congressional library, the treasury and the war and state departments, destroying altogether over $2 000,000 in property before they retired from the city.

DR. CRIPPEN HAD MANY PAINFUL DISPUTES

Interesting light is shed upon life at Hilldrop crescent, London, by a Frenchman, named M. Richard, who once boarded with the Crippens, says the News of the World. To M. Richard Mrs. Crippen declared that she loved the stage above everything else, and one afternoon when she was showing him photographs of herself in various costumes, she told him of the profound regret she had in enforced idleness. He adds that he afterwards knew that her husband had made her swear when she married him that she would give up the theatrical career for ever. Her home, which was well kept, seemed to her, nevertheless, to be sad, without any attraction or pleasure. Mrs. Crippen, M. Richard could see, was lonely and worried, M. Richard thinks that Crippen was incapable of committing a premeditated murder. He seemed to be always so attentive to his wife, and so good-natured, even to her whims, that M. Richard could not believe him capable of a deliberate crime. Mrs. Crippen frequently gave way to fits of ill-humor, which caused painful disputes. Her husband, on the contrary, rarely lost his equable temper, even when he was unjustly taken to task. He tried says the Daily Telegraph, to smooth things over, speaking gently, and let the storm blow over. He must have had great self-control, for at certain times his lips were white with anger, and he shook. He clenched his fist, but he did not raise it. "I never heard him use a word of abuse, or sawhim make a threat."

OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS, SWALLOWED NUMEROUS ARTICLES

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 23.—Before Frank Wilson, an advertising solicitor of St. Louis died here in an hospital, he told the police he had swallowed several articles of a foreign nature, and that they had better put the X-ray at work. He was operated on on Sunday night on the theory that he was afflicted with appendicitis.

Three incisions were made in the man's abdomen and according to the physicians, the following articles were removed: One shoe button hook ladies' hat pin, three keys, one lead pencil, one belt buckle, one tiny toy pistol, three small nails, one needle, one thermometer.

Wilson, according to his physicians had been in a depressed mental state for some time, during which he swallowed anything he could get down his throat.

INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION.

The despatches announce that the proposal made by Col. Roosevelt, as president of the United States, to establish an international organization for the conservation of natural resources was not accepted by other nations and has been abandoned.

This does not mean that other countries are determined to cut down their forests or allow their rivers to be polluted, or abandon their people to plague and famine. As a matter of fact, the conservation of natural resources has been the object of most solicitous care by many governments, especially those of European countries, for years. Millions have been spent to conserve and regulate the waterflow, to reclaim land flooded by mountain torrents, to utilize water powers, to keep fire out of the forests, and to reforest denuded lands. Recent statistics given with some source of authority go to prove that, while in most European countries the loss by forest fires is so small as to be quite negligible in the United States the annual burning amounts to fourteen times the annual growth. And it may be noted in passing that Canada is said to lose by fire eight times as much as is grown. The plan of having a national or international conservation policy is the remedy that struck Col. Roosevelt as the best to meet the condition. This plan may be carried out in time. But, for the present, every country has the problem more or less definitely in hand, and each is working out its own solution.

The outcome of the Roosevelt policy is better seen in Canada than anywhere else. As the result of suggestions made from the executive mansion at Washington conferences were held at which Canada was represented and the outcome for Canada of the principles then laid down is Conservation composed of the ablest the appointment of a Commission of and most suitable men of the Dominion, which commission is now earnestly and effectively at work. In the meantime, owing to factional quarrels, the similar commission appointed for the United States is without supplies, and therefore idle. This is not an unmixed evil, for the situation concentrates public attention up the education of the people on the conservation problem, and subject goes on with great rapidity and effectiveness.

We in Canada have always had a saner policy on this subject of conservation than the United States, as proven by the fact that, even in the older provinces, so much of the natural wealth of the country is still in public hands. But the idea of a national commission to take stock and keep track of natural resources and advise the government and the people as to the best means of protecting the public interest in these matters is an idea for which we are indebted to leaders of thought in United States. Col. Roosevelt and his friends may feel hurt that their very businesslike plan has not been better received by the leaders in other lands, but it should be some satisfaction to reflect that they found a ready convert in their nearest neighbor, a country which controls the natural resources of half a continent.

FIGHTING SOCIALISM.

There are statesmen, financiers and merchants in England who believe that "socialism is the enemy," rather than Germany, and they have organized a society for the special purpose of combatting and opposing that enemy. There will be thorough organization for campaigning on platforms, in books and papers, and on street corners. Hundreds of orators are to be employed and trained for their tasks; arguments and data will be carefully prepared for them.

There are those who doubt whether public opinion will be perceptibly affected by such methods, for socialist orators serve without pay and need no coaching. But this, we imagine, will be the least of the troubles of the society. Its leading spirits are aware that not all that is socialism is so labelled and stamped; much that is socialistic is espoused by liberals, tories, unionists, laborites, aristocratic radicals. Mr. Balfour is as willing to promise "socialistic" measures as Mr. Asquith; he is just as insensible before elections. After the last campaign the most socialistic of the party platforms was advocated in an extreme tory organ in the name of "sane social reform."

How will the union fight these tendencies in and by the great parties. If it doesn't fight them the movement, according to all intelligent English observers, will amount to nothing effective. The regular socialist party is weak and negligible in England; the legislation that is objectionable to the apprehensive society is the work of nominal conservatives or nominal liberals.

Machine Telephone Co. May Now Charge.

It is said that the Machine Telephone Co., which for the past few years has been giving a free telephone service to its local subscribers, will soon begin to make a charge for such services. This is presumably due to the fact that Peterborough was an exhibition point, wherein to demonstrate the system. We have had the Ontario Telephone Co., in Peterborough, which with 400 phones gave service for $15 or two for $25. The Ontario Company had to get out. It will now be interesting to watch how many of the phones will be retained when a charge is made.

YOU CAN BUY INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS Now at 15 Cents

Every dollar invested in this stock now should pay as much as $10 invested in any other manufacturing enterprise. The demand for asbestos is greater than the supply. Our new mill, just completed, according to our mill contractor, will soon be crushing 200 tons of asbestos rock per day. The mines of Quebec and the mines of Cooper, Wyoming, which we control, are the two great sources of the supply. The profits we turn out can sell for twenty times what it costs to produce. Can you find a better paying enterprise? We want you to join us and share in the profits. The limited amount of stock to be sold at 15c per share is Treasury stock, fully paid and non-assessable

Will probably advance to 25c or over as soon as the mill is started

Don't hesitate to secure a portion of this stock. Your money will be returned if all statements cannot be verified. Another mill is under construction. Others will be built on various properties which the company owns and controls. This will increase the income and make your investment the best you can find.

It won't cost you anything to investigate. If you do not want to reserve your stock at once, fill out the free information blank and full particulars and literature will be sent to you.

Not a Speculative Enterprise

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS is an industrial enterprise of the most solid character. The monopoly of the supply and the constantly increasing demand make the market for the product absolutely certain. There is no substitute for asbestos. It is one of the prime necessities of modern industry and construction. And, as already stated, it sells for a price many times greater than the cost of production.

INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS affords an unequalled opportunity for safety and permanent income out of all proportion to the amount of the investment.

Get the Facts about Asbestos

Complete information about the asbestos industry, its past and its wonderful future, will be furnished on request. It is the greatest investment opportunity of the present day, and it is one within the reach of every investor who reads this announcement.

No pains have been spared in placing exact and reliable information at the command of everyone interested. All the facts may be obtained by everyone who writes or calls upon the home office of the company.

Highest Possible Endorsements

Remember that INTERNATIONAL ASBESTOS has the highest possible endorsements. Henry C. Beeler, State Geologist of Wyoming for eight years, and now consulting engineer for the company will verify every statement that we are making. Reports from the Quebec mines, and from Germany, have examined the Cooper properties of the company and found them in every way what we have represented. Our mill was designed by C. H. Parker, an expert asbestos mill man from Quebec, who is superintendent of the Johnson mines, Thetford, Que., one of the largest in the world. All operations have been conducted in accordance with the advice of the most capable engineers.

Write to-day. Get the information that will be furnished and study the facts. Make your subscription as large as you can carry.

Use the attached coupons, and if you are not satisfied after investigating and considering the statements that will be supplied you, your money will be returned without question.

HATS NOW

The Big Hats are to be Bigger and the Small Hats Smaller

SOME THE SIZE OF UMBRELLAS ARE DICTATED BY THE MILLINERS.

Small Ones Yet Smaller—None of Medium Size, But One Extreme or the Other.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—There is no relief in sight for women who have accepted the dictates of fashion and struggled under the unwieldiness of hats of the size of an umbrella. This is the edict of the National Association of Retail Milliners, which is holding its annual convention here.

Bigger hats are to be bigger, and small hats smaller than ever before. There are to be no medium-sized hats.

The desires for extremes extends even to the coloring, according to Miss Maerie, president of the association. The more brilliant the coloring the more nearly to the ideal effect will the new hat conform.

New shades will include magnolia, a shade of orange, daualk, a coral red; pompeiian, a dead rose; heroe, a light mahogany, and acajou, a raisin color.

GERMANY HAS TO GET FOREIGNERS

AN ARMY OF 250,000 MORE MEN IMPERATIVELY NEEDED IN AGRICULTURAL DISTRICTS.

No Lack of Employment—Fields are White With Harvest, and Factories Idle for Want of Hired Help.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—The remarkable prosperity of Germany is once more revealed by the embarrassing scarcity of labor in all the agricultural districts of the country. The different trades and occupations are giving so much employment that there is a serious dearth of workers in the rural districts, and many hundreds of farmers will be unable to [illegible] their harvest without the aid of foreign laborers imported for this purpose, from other countries.

German agents are now busily engaged in recruiting such laborers, principally in the Eastern Provinces of Austria, primarily Galicia, and large number of foreign workers, who are for the most part Poles, are already crossing the frontier to act as temporary farmhands in all parts of Germany.

It is estimated that fully a quarter of a million foreign laborers will be required to reap Germany's harvests, and after the work of the summer has been done they will return to their homes in adjacent countries. In crossing the German frontiers temporary immigrants are subjected to a severe sanitary inspection in order to prevent the introduction of cholera or other diseases, and the police keep them under close supervision in their respective districts as to a large extent there are many lawless elements about them.

SAYS ROOSEVELT IS VIOLENT AND UNCOUTH.

Ex-Governor Odell of New York, Voices His Opinion—Will Not Supplant President Taft.

Paris, Aug. 24. — Characterizing Col Theodore Roosevelt as "violent and uncouth," and a man whose popularity is already on the wane, ex-Governor Benjamin B. O'Dell, jr. of New York, in an interview today in Gil Blas, makes a vigorous attack on the ex-President.

"Not only is Roosevelt violent and uncouth and possessed of Rough Rider mannerisms," O'Dell says, "but he is the bitter enemy of trusts and of the American protective tariff policy. He would tear both of these down if he could. President Taft on the other hand, is a prudent defender of both the trusts and the tariff, and is thus offering security to men of affairs in America.

"Taft is a sure winner in the next election. All talk of Roosevelt supplanting Taft is foolish. Taft is growing in popularity steadily, while Roosevelt is losing his popularity."

O'Dell is in Europe for his health. He has long been a political enemy of Roosevelt, although today he waxed a little warmer than heretofore.

Murder Case Trumped Up—Just to Advertise Parties, Including Mrs. Crippen, for Theatrical Purposes.

London, Aug. 24.—A rumor that made the rounds of the newspaper offices, but which was considered so fantastical that it was not published, was that the "Crippen case" is a theatrical advertising scheme, and that as soon as the fiasco is exposed all those concerned in it will go on the variety stage.

Dr. Crippen's wife, Belle Elmore, is now in hiding, according to the rumor, waiting the psychological moment to out in an appearance. The body supposed to be that of Mrs. Crippen was an unrecognizable mass of material, that Crippen "planted" in the cellar of his house in such a manner as to give the appearance of murder.

Incidentally, it is said, that those involved in the alleged hoax are laying the basis of an avalanche ol libel suits.

DOUBLE DROWNING AT WOLFE STREET WHARF LAST NIGHT

WERE OUT ON A RAFT WHEN IT WAS OVERTURNED AND THREW BOYS INTO WATER.

One of the Boys Was Rescued—The Steamer Lintonia Cancelled Her Moonlight Excursion Owing to the Sad Fatality.

A sad drowning accident occurred about eight o'clock last night at Wolfe street wharf, whereby two boys succumbed to the greedy grasp of the Otonabee river. The steamer Lintonia was billed to leave on a moonlight excursion down the river under auspices of the local order of Chosen Friends, and the Piccolo Band of Downer's Corners at eight o'clock. A large number of citizens gathered at Wolfe street wharf, intent upon taking in the advertised outing. Just before the steamer threw off her cables from the dock, down the bosom of the river floated a hastily constructed raft, on which were three boys, full of fun and love of amusement that characterizes boys. As far as could be learned last night, the boys were Harold Saunders, 179 Sherbrooke street, Arthur Hunt, and another whose name could not be ascertained. The boys on the raft, as boys, at all times, and under all similar conditions, created the excitement on the wharf, previous to the Lintonia leaving, naturally propelled their shaky craft towards the scene of fun.

The steamer's propeller, as the boat started with her crowd on pleasure bent, turned and, in consequence a wave was raised astern. Those in the stern of the boat, saw the raft with its human freight stagger under impulse of the steamer's waves, and the raft then upset. The three boys were thrown into the river. Harold Saunders managed, with difficulty to swim to the wharf, to which he was dragged, in a half-fainting condition, whilst the other two were drowned. The boy was in no condition when rescued, to give information, but it was learned that Arthur Hunt, a young boy, was one of his companions. Young Saunders lives at 179 Sherbrooke street. Word was quickly sent to his father, who hastened to the dock. After his son had been sent home safely, Mr. Saunders picked up a hat belonging to one of the boys who had fallen victims to the Otonabee's hungry maw. On his way home with the cap Mr. Saunders was advised, in the circumstances to take the cap to the police station, and it is believed he did this.

The steamer Lintonia, owing to the sad fatality, cancelled her trip.

The passengers of the Lintonia were transferred to the steamer Otonabee, which took the excursionists on the moonlight down the river.

NOT THE JOBE WANTED.

Officer Meharry Identifies Man Arrested as a Mistake.

According to the teachings of the Good Book, Job had his share of troubles. Now it seems that a young man in Rochester, N.Y., has, involuntarily to take on his own shoulders the troubles alleged to belong to Jobe. It will be remembered that the local press noted, on good authority seemingly, that Edward Jobe, of this city had been arrested in the Flower City, lor having been implicated in the recent burglaries here. It seems that P. C. Meharry, who went to Rochester to bring back the prisoner arrested by Acting Chief Zimmerman of that city, had the intelligence to recognize that the young man under arrest, was not the Jobe wanted here. The local police officer, by this display of knowledge will undoubtedly save the city some expenses.

A WRIT ISSUED.

Mr. G. N. Gordon Claims $5000 Damages for Mrs. Isadore Vinette.

Readers of The Times will remember the detailed reports we gave of the death, and subsequent inquest, of Mr. Isadore Vinette, who, as shown at the coroner's inquest, came to his death by contact with a live wire of the Otonabee Power Co., whilst doing his work in the south part of the city. Mr. G. N. Gordon, acting on behalf of the widow of the deceased, issued a writ against the company. The plaintiff's claim is for $5,000, for damages for the loss of her husband, caused by the negligence of the defendant.

Another Chimney Fire Alarm.

The local fire brigade turned out in quick time yesterday morning to find that the alarm was caused by a chimney fire at the residence of Col. Miller, 166 McDonnel street.

THE C. P. R. MAY BUILD LINE FROM TORONTO TO BELLEVILLE

Toronto, Aug. 24.—It in rumored that the Canadian Pacific is to build a new line from Smith's Falls to Toronto, and that the survey has already been made from Bellville to this city. The new road will branch off the present Smith's Falls-Peterborough route at either Perth or Bathurst. It will then run southwest across the country to Belleville, through a territory as yet untouched by rr way. From Belleville it will come into Toronto along the lake front, parallel with the Grand Trunk.

No official confirmation of the report could be secured in Toronto. One official said that he had not heardof it, but that is not unnatural, for all such plans and surveys are made from the Montreal end of the line.

"I do know, however," said the official, "that the road is to be double tracked from Perth to Bathurst."

Bathurst is a short distance west of Perth, and this double tracking leads support to the new lime theory, and to the rumor that it is going to branch off at Bathurst.

The towns along the lake front would be delighted to hear that they were to have a competitive line. Several years ago the C.P.R. were considering the project of building along the shore but the scheme was abandoned.

For the last few months it has been current that the C.P.R. was going to double its line from here to Peterborough, but it is more probable now that it will build an entirely new line.

A TORONTO BROKER SUICIDED, GRIEVED OVER HIS WIFE'S DEATH

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Seated in his chair before his office desk in room 30 on the third floor of the Canada Permanent Building, the body of Mr. Alexander D. Leslie, insurance broker, was found this morning about nine o'clock. He had shot himself through the head, and the revolver with which he had done so was still held in the right hand.

Mr. Leslie's body was discovered by Mr. John Creighton, a solicitor in the office of Mr. R. G. Smythe, from whom Mr. Leslie sublet one room. When Mr. Creighton arrived there were two letters lying on the desk for Mr. Leslie, which had arrived by the morning mail, and he opened the door of Mr. Leslie's room to deliver them. The body was lying back in the arm chair, leaning to the right side. Death must have been instantaneous, for there were no evidence of any struggle, and the right hand still clutched a 32-caliber revolver. There were no marks of powder burning on the face, which the police point out as evidence that the muzzle of the revolver must have been placed inside the mouth.

LIVED IN MADISON AVENUE.

But little was known of the late Mr. Leslie around his business address. He had been a subtenant of Mr. Smythe's for about a year, and the latter spoke highly of him, although he knew him but little. He was greatly shocked by the tragic event, and did not wish to discuss it.

Mr. Leslie lived at 138 Madison avenue, with Mr. W. M. Douglas, K. C., who was a very close personal friend of his.

Mr. Leslie was a nephew by marriage of the late Mr. John L. Davidson and a brother of Mrs. R. O. McCulloch o. Galt, and also of Mrs. J. F. McGregor of the same place. He did a fair business as an insurance broker. He was an unusually handsome man, over six feet tall, and paid considerable attention to hais personal appearance. His age is given as 44 years, but he looked a little older than that. He was a Scotchman, and a widower, his wife having died three years ago.

GRIEVED OVER WIFE'S DEATH.

"It would not surprise me at all to learn that Mr. Leslie had fretted himself to the verge of suicide over the death of his wife," said a man who knew him, this morning. Since her death about three years ago, he has never seemed quite the same."

THE SPANISH QUEEN IS NOT POPULAR

Madrid, Aug. 23.—So bitter is the feeling at court between the Clericals and Queen Victoria, to whom many Catholics lay the blame for the break with the vatican, that several of the leading members of the royal household contemplate resigning when the crisis is formally recognized by the withdrawal of the papal nuncio. This became known today, as the queen, with King Alfonso whose stand is opposed to that of the Clericals, is returning from England via Paris.

QUEEN NOT POPULAR.

The Queen and her mother, Princess Henry of Battenberg, have been regarded with small favor by the Spanish aristocracy, and their known bias toward the Church of England has increased the strain.

Although the government ostentatiously attaches no importance to the Carlist assemblies planned for the Basque Provinces on August 28th military precautions against an uprising have been taken in Catalonia and Navarre, as well as in the Provinces on the Bay of Biscay.

The Biscayan Clericals have petitioned to be allowed to hold the demonstration originally planned for San Sebastian, but abandoned when the government showed troops in force, at Bilbao, October 2nd being the new date chosen.

The belief is current here that the demonstration will again be prohibited.

OWENSOUND HOTELMAN SENTENCED TO JAIL FOR SECOND TIME

Owen Sound, Aug. 24.—Andrew Fogarty, proprietor of the Albion Hotel, was sentenced to four months in jail by Magistrate Creasor in the police court yesterday. This will be the second term he has spent in jail for the same offence.

Mr. Fogarty was charged with illegal selling of liquor under the local option law, but was not present when the case was called. Two witnesses were called who swore that Fogarty had sold them something that, if it was not whisky, at any rate had whisky in it.

One witness said he got something He had not asked for anything in particular, merely quering Fogarty if he "had anything." The other witness at first didn't know what he had got, but knew it tasted like whiskey and looked like whiskey. Finally he "guessed it was whiskey." Fogarty was found guilty, and as he had been convicted twice before, on the 4th of September, 1906, and the 22nd of August, 1908, he was sentenced to four months in jail. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

PROF. WM. OSLER WILL STUDY IT

FAMOUS CANADIAN PHYSICIAN WILL MAKE A STUDY OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

Two Deaths in Ontario—Medical Fraternity Divided as to Infectious Nature of the Disease.

Washington, Aug. 24.—Dr. William Osler, the famous scientist of Baltimore and Oxford, was in Washington today for the purpose, it is said, of investigating the cause of infantile paralysis, which is epidemic here, and in Ontario, Canada, particularly in Hamilton.

The medical association here has undertaken an extensive study of the infantile malady, which so far has baffled physicians of this country. The medical fraternity is divided on the elementary question as to whether infantile paralysis is contagious or infectious.

ILL ONLY A FEW DAYS.

Hamilton, Aug. 24.— Walter J. Haygarth, the six-year-old son of Robert Haygarth, 294 King street west, died yesterday of poliomyelitis, the disease more commonly known as infantile paralysis. The child had been ill only a few days. The doctors are hoping for cooler weather as a means of checking the disease. This is said to be the only thing that will prevent its spread. The extreme heat and humidity of the last few days has assisted in its attacks.

WAS BURIED QUICKLY.

Windsor, Aug. 24.—The death of Albertine Marcotte, a five-year-old Sandwich child, after a few days' illness, and the interment of the body a few hours later has created consternation in the country town. The physician in charge diagnosed the case as infantile paralysis, and the belief has become general that the disease is highly contagious. No other cases are reported, but those exposed have been ordered to disinfect immediately.

A SWIFT TRIAL FOR CRIPPEN

HE WILL BE GIVEN AS SPEEDY JUSTICE AS ENGLISH LAW WILL PERMIT.

A Mysterious Landing—Dew Will Take His Prisoners to Ireland and Will Then Bring Them to London Secretely.

London, Aug. 24.—Preparations of the evidence for the preliminary hearing of Dr. H. H. Crippen, accused of murdering his wife, Belle Elmore, will be complete today, and it was decided to arraign him in the Bow Street Court. This was announced by Assistant Public Prosecutor Stephenson.

All arrangements for expeditinr the case of Crippen's arrival from Canada have been made. He will be given as swift justice as the English law permits.

It was learned today that Inspector Dew will make his landing as mysterious as his arrival in and departure from Canada, having chartered a tug to meet the Megantic, and take him and his prisoners to Ireland. From there they will be brought to London secretly.

A NEW CHARGE.

Ethel Clare LeNeve, Crippen's companion, will be arraigned at the same time and in the same place as the physician. It is understood, however, that the authorities have prepared to prefer a new charge against her, less serious than that of accessory to murder on which she was arrested. This may be made public, it was said today, on the arrival of the steamer Megantic, with the prisoners.

THE LINE OF DEFENCE.

Arthur Newton, the solicitor retained to conduct Crippen's defence, has prepared the line of his fight. The defence will be largely a fight to establish that the charge is not proven. As a last resort, it is under stood that Crippen may plead that his wife died as the result of an operation. The penalty for illegal operations in England, however, is very severe.

DEATH DUE TO OPERATION.

It is more than likely that the prosecution, with little hope of proving a straight charge of murder, may attempt to prove that death was due to an operation. The plans of the prosecution have been kept secret, however. Much depends, it is said, on what Inspector Dew has to say to his superiors, when he reaches the Metropolis, with Crippen and Miss LeNeve.

EAT HORSEFLESH.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The consumption of horse flesh in France, according to figures gathered, is constantly on the increase. In Paris alone there are 600 meat shops mainly in the poorer quarter, where horse flesh alone is sold. The consumption now exceeds 200,000 animals a year.

The butchers report that the increase is due quite as much to the growing in favor of horse flesh for food, as to its cheapness, compared with beef, the price of from ten to thirteen cents per pound being a powerful argument to the poor under the constantly increased cost of living in France.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers.

RAIN FALL GIVES HOPE

(PRAYERS FOR MORE.)

The Fire Fighters Have Been Given Help by Rain

MANY NEW FATALITIES ADD TO HORRORS OF FIRE SWEPT STATES.

Dead Number 300 to 900—Forestry Officials Say 1,000 Persons are Missing—Lights Burn All Day in Spokane Owing to Darkness.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 24.— While new fatalities add to the horror of the forest fires, in which the dead are now estimated at from 300 to 900, the first hopeful news that has reached here in seventy-two hours came out of the furnace-like districts today.

The army of fire fighters in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon have been given help by a rainfall that at many places has checked the spread of the flames. Snow has aided the weary foresters, who have been waging a fight that looked almost hopeless.

RESCUE OF THE LIVING.

A great part of the work is now given up to the rescue of the living. Besides the forest rangers and their special helpers, the missing include United States troopers, four members of the 25th Infantry (colored), stationed in and about Wallace, being reported among those for whom hope has been almost abandoned.

The situation in Western Montana was relieved last night by two slight falls of snow, which fell along the route of the Great Northern through the Sierras, east of Cutbank, Mont., but this was only in a very small section compared with that in which the fires hold full sway.

A party of sixteen refugees from Burke, Idaho, arrived in Spokane early this morning and applied to the police for shelter. These were homesteaders in the timber tracks, and the tale told by them regarding the sheets of flames which destroyed their savings of years beggared description. Five of the party saved their lives by immersing themselves in a small lake, battling with the flames. Four men at Burke were killed by the falling timber, and probably treble this number perished in the flames.

It is admitted by all that for months to come charred remains of victims will be picked up in every section of the reserve.

One of the most dreadful sights that is possible is presented in the hospital at Wallace, Idaho, where many of the most serious cases are being attended. In one ward, lighted only by the faint glow of a kerosene lamp, lie sixteen victims. At most everyone of these men will lose his eyesight, many of them will lose hands and arms, and some will probable never recover.

SCENE IS GHASTLY ONE.

The dim glimmer of the lamp serves only to accentuate the ghastliness of the scene. The sun is hidden by smoke, and lights are necessary all day. Every face is swathed in bandages, openings only being left for breathing, every man lies still as death, while bandaged arms are raised as if in heartrending prayer to the Almighty lor mercy and compassion. For three days these doctors have worked, worked until outraged nature refused to work any longer. They slep last night in turns, an hour or so each, and with their clothes on. And all the time the endless string ol patients came, with bandaged eyes and arms.

TWENTY BODIES FOUND.

Avery, Idaho, Aug. 24.- The bodies of 20 forest service men have been found.

THE MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—The Laurier influence appears to have triumphed in the struggle with Bourassa and the Bourassa-Langevin wing of the Roman Catholic Hierarchy to convent the coming Eucharistic congress at Montreal into a political weapon.

Archbishop Bruchesi was here yesterday, and it is reported that he gave assurances that nothing of the sort should take place. In fact, he changed his program to such a degree that both Sir Wilfrid and Hon. L. P. Brodeur have now been invited to go to Montreal, and extend a formal welcome to the visiting prelates on September 7, at a reception which will be held in the Windsor Hotel.

It is also rumored that his grace gave a distinct pledge that the Manitoba school question would not be brought up, or, at least, it will be presented in such a way as to prove to the people of Quebec that if there is any room for remedial legislation that remedy must be sought from the Roblin Government not from Ottawa, which has already done all that lies in its power by the compact of 1897. Bourassa's guns have been apparently spiked in advance.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. L. P. Brodeur will be on hand, and they will prevent the exploitation of this sacred gathering in the form which was contemplated by Bourassa, Prevost, Monk and Lavergne, the group of Quebec politicians, who hoped to play their game against Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with the aid of a certain wing of the Church.

Miss Margaret Lynch is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. R. Baker, Lindsay.

WHITE SLAVE CHILDREN.

Sterling Revelations Cause Pittsburg Police to Threaten Parents.

Pittsburg, Aug. 24.—More than 100 girls under 18 years of age are now known to have been placed in dives here by those financially interested in the white slave traffic. About one-fifth that number have already been taken from the resorts by the police, and there were stirring scenes in the police station today when parents of young girls came to reclaim them.

The police threatened to have the parents sent to prison on the next complaint that they did not watch their daughters carefully enough and keep them at home.

"The fact that so many young girls far under age have been and are being found in dives here is shameful, and must not be endured if we are compelled to fill every cell in the jail," said Chief of Detectives Elmore today.

"I have found that these mere children have been coached in untruth telling. I never saw so many girls at one time who claim to have been born in 1893. This would make them 28 years of age. Many of them look five years of that age."

STEERS ON A RAMPAGE KILL MAN AND A HORSE.

The Man Was Partly Blind and Did Not See the Animal Coming.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Two steers from the Western range went on a rampage yesterday, and before they were shot down they had gored to death one man and a horse.

Michael Burns, employed at the Chicago stock yards, was engaged in herding a drove of steers, when one of the animals broke from the drove and charged wildly through the alleys dividing the pens.

Burns, who has one blind eye, did not see the onrushing animal until it was within a few feet of him. He tried to frighten it away, but the steer charged with full force, striking Burns in the stomach with its horn and carrying him several feet. Burns died shortly after reaching the hospital. Another steer, after escaping from a north side amusement park, plunged through several fences chased pedestrians, terrified inmates of the Martha Washington Home, and killed a horse before it was shot to death.

HALL'S BRIDGE.

Last week's rain was quite a drawback to the harvesters.

A few in this vicinity have threshed and report a very fair crop.

Miss Pope of Hamilton and Misses Lizzie and Winnie Higgins of Peterboro, are at present visiting in the village.

A number from here attended the garden party at Lakehurst under the auspices of the Methodist church on Friday evening. An enjoyable time was spent by all.

On Thursday the Maid-a-Vale happened with an accident which has kept her from running her daily trips.

Mr. J. Blewett's gasoline launch of Lakefield, has been lifting the Maid-a-Vale's place.

Miss Bertha Haines entertained company on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Blewett spent Sunday at Evergreen Hill.

Miss Gladys Pearson, who has been very ill, is at present, slowly recovering.

THE TRIP OF THE SEASON.

The steamer "Otonabee" will leave Wolfe street wharf at 9 a.m. on Saturday, August 27th, for Lindsay, arriving there in ample time to connect with the afternoon train for Peterborough. Meals served on board Return tickets, including railroad, $1.25. This will probably be the last trip of the season to Lindsay.

CESAR BEATEN.

British Bowlers Conquer All They Meet in Friendship, But Not the Local Bowlers.

Students of ancient history will remember the well-known message sent by the Roman general, Cesar, the most laconic and comprehensive report ever penned. Cesar's report to Rome read "Veni, vidi, vici," "I came, I looked round me, and I conquered." Now the British contingent of bowlers came to Peterborough, after using the word "Vici," "I conquered," at Montreal and Ottawa And, by the way, the greater part of the British bowlers were Scotchmen, with an unmistakeable Scotch burrh. Should these British bowlers, and may their respective shadows never grow less, resort to Cesar's words, when referring to their visit to Peterborough, the word "Vici," correct, as far as the favorable impression they made on all who met them here. Still, as far as results of their bowling competition against the Peterborough built rollers are concerned, should they have cabled the outcome of the game here, their message home (to resume Cesar's language) would not unlikely be "Non busti," i.e., we are bust or beaten.

SURE CURE FOR NEURASTHENIA

Health is the most interesting of all themes, and we are glad to borrow from the literature of the subject from time to time for the edification of our readers. This time it is another knock at drugs by one who writes to an eastern newspaper and signs his letters with impressive signature "Truth." He declares not only that drugs are futile but that diet is the secret of health. In some respects he agrees with Dr. Woods Hutchinson, whom he quoted recently, but he has no use for meats. As a cure for that dread disease neurasthenia he prescribes from his personal experience as follows:

For a week eat nothing but fruit—oranges, grape fruit, and any of the good fruits that can now be found in the markets. Drink before eating in the morning a couple of glasses of hot water with the juice of half a lemon in each. During the day drink at least six or eight glasses of pure water. After the week wholly devoted to fruit add a slice or two of whole wheat bread. Later add vegetables, lettuce and tomatoes, but never any meat, coffee, tea or alcohol. Eat moderately and take no solid food until the middle of the day.

With exercise properly interspersed between meals this treatment is guaranteed to produce permanent and satisfactory results after a year's trial. It seems easy, and it has the merit of doing away with both drugs and doctor's bills. But the melancholy thought obtrudes that the average man has no stomach for such a diet. He craves a variety that is not to be obtained from grape fruit, whole wheat bread, lettuce, tomatoes and hot and cold water. And the novelty introduced by an occasional vegetable surprise still leaves much to be desired. It is a fact also that special diets are a horror to the housekeeper, who makes the unfortunate victim feel that he is an intolerable nuisance.

The oppressive reflections drive us into the arms of that other authority who went into ecstasies over the virtues of a fried pork. The real authority, after all, is the authority who lets you have what you like.

DESPICABLE TACTICS.

The Commissioners of immigration at Winnipeg, J. Bruce Walker, in reporting to the Interior Department, has made a complete and crushing answer to the statement widely circulated in the American press and accredited to Mr. Blanchard, of the United States reclamation service, in Montana, that 15,000 dissatisfied American farmers had recrossed the line to the United States, during the past nine months. Commissioner Walker's report says:—
